EDITORIAL NOTES.

The sneak dogs don't like to be exposed. They are howling over the warnings of the NEWS. Let the canines bark, but keep them away from your doors.

Another case of cruelty to wives. Mrs. Frank Cole, of the city of Chicago, is compelled to ask the courts to grant her a divorce owing to the inhumanity of her husband. Her story is piteous, but Cole himself says that she left him because he objected to her resting her feet on the breakfast table while he was enjoying his frugal meal.

The Pittsburg Post says Mr. Randall's prospects of re-election as Speaker of the House are bright and improving every week. His support from the South will be larger than his friends had counted on; and the same is true as to the Western members. It would not surprise us in the least if his nomination will be so certainly assured before Congress meets that there will be no serious contest in the Congressional caucus.

MINGLED FOLLY, LIBEL AND CREDULITY.

WE have been expecting to see in the columns of the Chicago News something in relation to Utah from the pen of its managing editor, a live journalist, who recently visited this city in company with Mr. Curtis, of the Inter-Ocean. We have not seen anything as yet from him on that subject, but we find in a recent issue of the bright and meaty News a letter written from this city on "Mormon" affairs, over the signature of Edwards Roberts. The writer communicates for facts a great deal of fiction, which he, no doubt, believes to be true. It is evident to the informed reader that he has just taken in the stories that have been told him by wilful deceivers, and has then repeated them as well as his memory permitted. The consequence is that he has made a sad mess of his story, and those readers of the Chicago News who take his remarks for information on Utah affairs will be greatly led astray.

We shall not reproduce any of his statements about the early settlement of this Territory, intended doubtless to be fair, though containing many inaccuracies, but will pass to his conclusions concerning the workings of the latest piece of anti-"Mormon" legislation. He says:

As to the Edmunds law, there is a great diversity of opinion. Many say it has done no practical good. I think it has accomplished nothing of importance, for it has done nothing but disfranchise a handful of men and women, leaving the Mormons still largely in the majority. It is difficult to convict a Mormon of polygamy. In the many cases which have been tried before the Edmunds commission, there were a great many times when it was impossible to prove against a man that he had more than one wife, because his wives, ordered by the church, thought no more of committing perjury than the small boy does of stoning a stray dog. One man was on trial for polygamy, and it was a well known fact in Salt Lake City that he had, and long had had, several wives. In order to convict him, wife No. 1 swore that she was lawfully married to him, but the other women swore that they were not. Here was an instance when women, simply to please their church, declared themselves mistresses and their children bastards. They seemed to lose all shame, and though occupying good positions in the society of the city, they swore on their oath, and for Mormonism, they were not wives but concubines. With this readiness then to swear falsely, simply when commanded, in order to support the man who is being tried and to help him to escape, the commission can, of course, make but little headway, and can never disfranchise enough Mormons to bring the elections of Utah into the hands of the Gentiles."

The folly and falsehood in the foregoing paragraph would be laughable if it were not so detestably libellous and abominably malicious. The idea of trials before the Utah Commission is ludicrous, seeing that they have no judicial functions and have never attempted to try a case of polygamy. Mr. Edwards Roberts has taken little pains to inform himself on the subject about which he attempts to enlighten his fellows. He has been told a lot of falsehoods about "Mormon" perjury and has not been able to repeat them correctly. The wags and rascals, clerical and lay, who enjoy cramming strangers plumb full of romantic and sensational fibs about the "Mormons," surely never told such a stupid story about polygamists being tried by the Utah Commission.

But supposing that the gentleman has made a mistake as to the tribunal and is densely ignorant of the functions of the Utah Commission, the story is not true in any particular. There has been no such case as that he attempts to describe before any of the Courts of the Territory. If there has been any it will be easy to prove it. We challenge Mr. Roberts to cite the case. Does he not know enough of law to understand that a wife cannot be brought into court to testify against her husband? And if such a thing were permissible, and she testified that she was the lawful wife, where would be the perjury if the plural wives testified they were not lawful wives? Does not the law declare that a man can have but one legal wife at a time? If that is true in law, how can it be false in law to abide by the legal truth?

But apart from these considerations the story is a fabrication, and such an event never occurred in any trial for polygamy in Utah. Mr. Roberts has been badly sold, and he has made the story worse by his ridiculous blunders. All his imputations of perjury against the "Mormons" are based upon this absurd untruth, and they simply prove the readiness of travelers to swallow nonsense and believe any absurdity about the "Mormons," and the propensity of some people to bear false witness against their neighbors.

The statement that either "Mormon" men or women are ready to commit perjury "when ordered by the Church" is a double headed and infamous falsehood, akin to the crime which he is so ready to charge against others. For in the first place the Church does not order or permit the perjury of its members, and they are not so base and credulous as to commit such a crime or to receive as binding or proper any such orders if they were issued.

The stories of "Mormon" perjury that are current have no foundation in fact, unless the answer, "I do not know," which has been frequently given in reply to questions as to men's family relations, be considered untrue. But when called upon to give evidence in a court of justice the opinions of witnesses are not wanted. It is that which they can swear to that is demanded. And as it is claimed by way of censure that "Mormon" marriages are secret, can Mr. Edwards Roberts, or the Chicago News, explain to us how any witness can truthfully swear to that of which he has no knowledge? Those who accuse the "Mormons" of perjury are liars themselves, and are filled with wrath because they cannot induce others to swear to things of which they cannot possibly have any knowledge.

The closing sentence of the paragraph we have quoted is worthy of a little comment. It seems to be Mr. Roberts' idea that the Edmunds law empowers the Commissioners to disfranchise "Mormons," and that the object of the law is to bring the elections of Utah into the hands of the "Gentiles." He is just as much mistaken in both these notions as in the matter of "Mormon" perjury. If he would only read the law carefully he would find out his errors. The law aims at the disfranchisement of polygamists but not of "Mormons" who are monogamists. And if its object were to put the elections into the hands of the Gentiles, whose vote, when the polygamists, male and female, were all shut out from the polls, amounted to less than a fifth of the whole number, what kind of republican legislation would that be? And what kind of an American is the writer for the Chicago News who laments over the unlikelihood of the political supremacy in Utah of an exceedingly small minority, filled with prejudice and bitterness towards the great majority?

If the Chicago News has no better source of information about Utah and the Mormons than the correspondent whose lucubrations we have briefly reviewed, its readers will remain, like the majority of the great public, sadly in the dark on questions that attract a great deal of general interest.

Ways that are Dark.

CHICAGO, 6.—Washington special: The Star route about which Senator Van Wyck has just been enlightening the Postoffice Department is one that he called the Senate's attention to last winter. Deadwood is already supplied with daily mails from Pierre, on the Chicago and Northwestern, and Sidney, on the Union Pacific. A year ago Congress passed an act creating two more routes to Deadwood, one from Chamberlain on the Milwaukee & St. Paul road and the Missouri River and the other from Niobrara on the Sioux City & Pacific road. In the winter the Postoffice Department advertised for proposals for carrying mails over these routes, thereupon Van Wyck got a resolution of inquiry adopted, and in connection with it he showed the absurdity of the route. He wished to get an act creating the routes repealed, but was told by the post-office committee that that was unnecessary, as after the exposure had been made the Postmaster-General would not think of letting contracts for those routes. The matter dropped there and the Senator supposed it had dropped for good. In the meantime there had been a change in the postmaster-generalship, but none in the contract office. Two days ago Van Wyck learned that the contract for conveying the mail on the route from Niobrara to Deadwood had been let at $13,000 a year to Miner, one of the defendants in the present Star route trials, and he promptly had a warm interview with Chief Clerk Lyman, of the contract office, and a very satisfactory interview with Postmaster General Gresham, who the Senator believes will suspend the contract as stated above. The Deadwood people have daily mails from two points already. The aggregate postal revenue arising within 50 miles of Niobrara does not amount to $200 a year, and there are no white settlers between, and for most of the way there can not be until the Indian title is extinguished. Senator Manderson and Representative Valentine asked that the service be put on.

Nominated.

COLUMBUS, O., 6.—The republicans in State convention were called to order at 10 o'clock. The great crowd in attendance when the name of Senator Sherman was announced as permanent chairman of the convention, burst into a wild enthusiasm and long continued applause. In returning thanks he reviewed the work and history of the republican party. The republican party, he said, believed in the protection of American labor and in the taxation of the liquor traffic, one question was national the other a State question. The convention proceeded to the nomination of a State ticket. Gen. Butterworth presenting J. B. Foraker of Cincinnati. Private Dalzell proposed Sherman and the convention again broke into wild cheering and was only quieted by Sherman rapping order violently. When he said he had not been insensible to the preference of the large majority of delegates, but he would say frankly and firmly that he could not be a candidate, he could not surrender the duties in the Senate in justice to the people of Ohio and the country. Aside from this he could not accept the nomination without feelings of personal dishonor. Judge Foraker was then nominated by acclamation. Foraker appeared later and made quite a lengthy speech of thanks, pledging his best efforts to the cause and outlining the importance of the campaign.

Collapse of the Union.

CHICAGO, 6.—Six hundred Union bricklayers had a session last night and, after a long discussion, it was decided that men could go to work wherever they chose at four dollars a day, provided they refuse work under non-Union foremen. This practically ends the strike, and is regarded as a collapse of the Union.

BROOKLYN, 6.—Adelaide S. Smith brought suit under the civil damage act in Brooklyn, against Patrick Dempsy and Cornelius Clark, liquor dealers, for $10,000, for selling her husband liquor, and causing him to become a drunkard. To-day the jury gave her a verdict for $2,500.

What the Nihilists Feared.

London, 6.—The Times correspondent at Paris says: The Nihilist Commune has been issued which states that while the force of the Russian government and its most important spies have been concentrated at Moscow during the festivities the Nihilists took advantage of it to spread documents and enroll supporter in St. Petersburg and other cities. It says the strength of the party in St. Petersburg is greatly increasing, and asserts that there were at the coronation officials and others under orders of the Nihilists near enough to the Czar to have struck him on the brow if the word had been given. It was even feared that some too zealous parties might throw a grenade at the Czar.

LONDON, 6.—It has been officially asserted this afternoon that there is no foundation for any alarm in rumors that may have been recently put in circulation in regard to the state of the health of the Queen. Her Majesty is said to be progressing slowly towards complete recovery of health, and she is pronounced decidedly better since she has been at Balmoral. The court circular issued this afternoon, states that she drove out twice on Monday in company with Princess Beatrice.

LOG ROLLING.

While Wrestling with a Fallen Tree a Lumberman Receives Consequential Damages.

While on a hunting excursion in the great coal and wood region near Carbondale, Pa., the writer met William Coil, a lumberman. Accustomed to life and labor in the forest from early manhood, he was a true Knight of the Axe. Many a tree had fallen before his ringing strokes, and fleets of rafts had borne away to market the sawed products. Coil is a character, and if Oscar Wilde is right in saying that all movements in unhindered labor are graceful, our friend William, stripped for his work, as I attending a tree as Richard I. assaulted the heavy doors of Front de Boeuf's Castle, must have presented an admirable picture.

One day, however,—but let him tell the story himself, as he told it to me:

"I was out in the woods, you know, trying to start a log down a hill. Thinking I could get a better purchase on it from the lower side, I tackled it there with my log-rolling hook and threw my weight on the lever. She started, she did, but as luck would have it, before I could get out of the way, she rolled right over me. If it hadn't been for a lot of small limbs and brush lying in the road, which lifted her up, she'd a' crushed me flat. As it was I got up without a broken bone, but with some mighty bad bruises."

"Then you were all right," said his auditor.

"Not by a blamed sight, stranger. I took cold, rheumatism set in, and, if I hadn't heard of BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS and used 'em, it's my opinion I should never have made another chip fly. But the Capcine took hold quick, and I'm 'bout as good as new. But there's one thing you kin calkilate on—I shall never wrestle with another log unless I have the advantage of the ground. For, as I told you before, if it hadn't been for them brushes I'd been smashed so, you could 'a sold me for a door mat."

The Capcine is the thing for rheumatism. It doesn't keep you waiting. The word CAPCINE is cut in the center of the genuine. Price 25 cents.
