It has been learned that to see Miss Loquacia was announced.

one of the men tried to get some of his companions to go out with him on a robbing expedition, saying he was in the "business" before and that it was a paying one. Two of the suspects admit having disposed of a silver watch answering the description of that tolen from Schluter. Mr. Schluter was up to the Fort yesteriay afternoon and saw the prisoners but was unable to identify any of them. Two of the prisoners have established the fact that they were at the post on the night of the as-sault and robbery, and they will no doubt he released at once.
