THEY REFUSE TO SEE.

NOTWITHSTANDING the rapid fulfilment of prophecy, developing the signs of the times, showing the time of ine end, the wise and great, together with the mass of the people, decline to sec it. Occasionally men foreshadow something that is striking which they claim will shortly come to pass, but they reason from causes, forgetting that God the Eternal Father has proclaimed through His servants the things that should transpire in the last days, preparatory for the coming of the Son of Man.

When Uhrist came in the meridian of time, His birth was anticipated and looked for by some, and His second coming has been looked for and is tilked about by the whole Christian world, and many extremists have at elivers times prematurely set the period when He would make His second ad-Went. They have even gone so far as to prepare themselves, according to their own ideas, to meet him, and in all these instances they, as a matter of course, mave been disappointed.

illis coming must be looked for in the manner he has prescribed. If the signs are observed and discerned there will be no disappointment. Before the great -ity of the Lord comes, many wonder Id. things will take place. Nations will be thrown down, kingdoms will be rent, and the slain of the Lord; will be ILLEDY.

In regard to our own nation, it has the seeds of dissolution in itself. Only a little time is needed for its entire overthrow unless the people repent o those having power to discern the designs of God, the causes of the downfall of nations are easily perceived. When grain is fully ripe it must be harvested, or it will go back into the earth. So it is when a nation is ripeaed in sin, it is thrown down Can any historian tell of a nation on the earth to-day that is more steeped is sig than our own? Where is there a government claiming to be based on free institutions that is more corrupt? Where is there a land of professed enlightenment and liberty where justice is more trainpled under foot than this? Men of wealth and position are seldom punished for crime; corruption stands forth unblushingly in the acts of legislators, scheming for power and wealth; they stoop to acts unworthy the name of men; the purity of the ballot box-

red legacy left us by our honorable sires, is, as a rule, a thing of the past, When will the end be? Men of Influence dare not stand up for evenhanded justice; many ministers who should be exemplary, as teachers of men, stoop to acts beneath the dignity of manhood and wallow in corruption and all for the sake of popularity, The downward road to destruction is trodden by the feet of millions, hurrying on to the great abyss, prepared for the fatal leap, and there is no warning to which they will give heed. They spurn with contempt the man who dares attempt to arrest their downward footsteps. Many men say: "It is impossible for our nation to fall." Mmisters say: "God could not send a famine to sorely vex this nation, for our resources are too great."

We are not printing a mere gloomy pen-picture for the sake of effect. The whole truth is not told, for corruption will increase, anarchy will reign and life and property will be valueless.
