

THE SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS

THE GREAT COUNTRY PAPER OF THE WEST.

Is Issued Mondays and Thursdays and Contains All the Cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Major Frank A. Westcott has returned from a business trip to Los Angeles. There was no quorum last night, of the committee appointed to locate the proposed experimental station, so the committee will have to try it again.

An examination of city teachers will be conducted by the city board of education in the Lafayette school one week from next Thursday and Friday, Aug. 22 and 23.

Until the opening of school the office hours of City Supd. of Schools Christensen will be from 2 to 4 p. m., excepting Saturdays, when it will be from 10 to 12 a. m.

Orders for the election of a captain of the First light battery, U. S. G., have been countermanded, and no election will be held until the tangle is straightened out.

John A. Lenzi, deputy internal revenue collector, has tendered his resignation to Revenue collector Chatter, to take effect on Sept. 1, and Alexander Villagie has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

The Utah Light & Railway company has ordered an extra lot of heavy steel rails so as to be prepared in case the city council should order the extension of the asphalt paving from Seventh East on Brigham street to Tenth East street.

The state board of equalization left last evening for Milford, and today is meeting with the assessors of Beaver, Millard, Iron, and Garfield counties. The board meets at Monticello Saturday, with the assessors of Sanpete, Juab, Sevier, Piute and Wayne counties.

The rush of couriers still continues, and local hotel men say that it is likely to continue for another month anyway. The fair at Portland is doing the business, and eastern people who never saw Salt Lake before are now enjoying a trip to this city.

A sale of property was made yesterday in the Scheitler estate, which nets the creditors $14,000. The property is located at 22 Fourth street, the lot being 2 1/2 by 5 rods. The price received is $10 over the appraised value, and is conceded to be a good sum for the land.

The Progress company has been granted a franchise by the county commissioners to string electric light wires from Murray to Hingham Junction for the purpose of furnishing electric lights to the latter place. The company has a franchise for furnishing Murray with electric lights.

People from Vernal say that prospective settlers would do well to select lands near Vernal on account of the proximity of water, and that unless settlers pool themselves as to the location of the best lands in general, they will get left. It is claimed that the best lands are on the benches.

Prof. Levi E. Young of the history department of the University of Utah, is in receipt of an original Calvin Bible. It was sent to him by a friend in Geneva, Switzerland, and contains in an excellent state of preservation, the Calvin preface to the Bible, printed in the first edition with the Calvin text.

What will you give me for my recreation drawing? is a question now heard on the street. Citizens who have drawn "down the line" are expressing the belief that not one-half of the drawings will make any attempt to locate their claim on account of the stringent requirements of the interior department.

Mrs. W. W. Wheeler of 46 Green street struck a match last evening, to look under a couch for a toy lost by a child at a birthday party. The fringe on the couch cushion and tossed up, amid the cries of the children. The flames were extinguished when the fireman arrived, and no damage to speak of was done.

Contractor Moran began yesterday laying the asphalt on the last South Temple street stretch, between Sixth and Seventh East streets, and by tomorrow evening the stretch will be completed. There will then remain only to put up the poles in the center of the street and fill in the holes and cover the places with asphalt.

The convicts at the state prison who raised such a rumpus a month ago, and landed the prison atmosphere with their howling, shouting and bawling, have been completely subdued, and are back at work without saying anything about the heat, or being troubled with ennui. They are now a very quiet group, and the warden is not having any trouble.

Complaint was made yesterday to the humane society of a man said to be named Pickett, residing at 741 Eighth East street, whose horse was alleged to be in a shamefully neglected condition. The head of the poor beast was said to be covered with sores, and he was more than half starved. One of the society inspectors was ordered to look up the case immediately.

Edward Alexander, a laborer 27 years of age, is at the Groves L. D. S. hospital suffering from the effects of an operation performed seven years ago. The man was found Sunday night on the Oregon Short Line yards on Sixth North street in company with a 15-year-old lad, the two having traveled together from Council Bluffs. The boy was given lodgings at the city jail.

Walter Sims, the clarinet player of this city, has found steady work for the season at Venice in southern California, and writes to Manager Zimmerman of Held's band an interesting letter of musical conditions there. Mr. Sims says the Utah delegation in the big hotel band of 40 men are all giving a good account of themselves, and include besides himself, Messrs. Baker, Boushey, Boushey and Savin. He says Salt Lake has good reason to be proud of its band musicians, who would be able to hold their own in good shape against the crack eastern musicians brought to Venice. Mr. Sims is receiving many compliments from the bandmaster for his excellent work.

FAMILY FEUD HEARD IN COURT.

The Beer-Ramseyer Difficulties Aired Before Justice Bishop.

MEN FINED TEN DOLLARS EACH

Mrs. Beer Bound Over to Keep the Peace, While Son's Sentence is Suspended.

The Beer-Ramseyer family feud was investigated before Justice of the Peace Bishop of Farmers ward yesterday afternoon and resulted in the head of each household being fined $10 and also in Mrs. Beer being bound over to keep the peace under bonds in the sum of $200. The family reside on Ashton avenue in Forest Dale and for some months past there has been more or less friction between them.

The crisis was reached about 10 days ago when young Frank Beer entered upon the premises of Mr. Ramseyer and broke a tub off his head and his younger brother broke some pickets off the Ramseyer fence. Mr. Ramseyer came to the conclusion that he could stand the depredations of his neighbor's boys no longer so he caught Frank Beer and, as he stated to Justice Bishop yesterday, he "kicked him in the seat." When the boy's father, Ephraim Beer, learned of the action of Ramseyer, he and his wife rose up in arms and called upon their neighbors and drove him a thrashing.

Then the docket ended: Bill Leary descended from his comfortable perch, and posted up the books.

A Warning to Mothers. Too much care cannot be given to small children during the hot weather of summer. They are liable to get into all sorts of trouble.

ARMED WITH PITCHFORK. Mrs. Beer was armed with a pitchfork so Ramseyer took up and shot hands and went to meet the foe. Mr. Beer got the first blow in, however, and landed on Ramseyer's jaw and felled him to the ground. When he was down Mrs. Beer was trying to jab him with the pitchfork, but Mrs. Ramseyer stepped in between them and prevented the woman from reaching him and also prevented Beer from striking her husband. Neighbors heard the row and came in and succeeded in separating the belligerents.

DESTROYED PROPERTY. Frank Beer, the boy in the case, was arrested at the instance of Ramseyer, for destroying his property. Mrs. Beer then swore to a complaint charging Ramseyer with assaulting the boy and Ramseyer again retaliated by having Beer and his wife both arrested on the charge of assault. Mr. Ramseyer pleaded guilty and mitigation of his offense he said that the Beer boys had repeatedly skinned his trees, broken his windows and pickets, stolen his chickens and eggs and thrown rocks at himself and children, and he could stand it no longer, hence he punished the oldest one. He was fined $10.

BEERS STOOD TRIAL. Mr. Beer and his family pleaded not guilty and stood trial and were found guilty. Mr. Beer was fined $10. Mrs. Beer was placed under bonds to keep the peace, as she had threatened to kill Ramseyer, and sentence on the boy was suspended. Whether or not this will be the end of the troubles remains to be seen. The trial was conducted in Judge Rittcher's courtroom at the city and county building.

ALLEGED NEGLIGENCE. Dr. Keogh Seeks to Recover the Value of a Gray Mare. Dr. P. S. Keogh has filed suit in the civil division of the city court against Mrs. G. D. Lowe to recover $150 alleged to be the value of a gray mare named "Molly" which was seriously injured through the alleged negligence of defendant and also to recover $30 damages for being deprived of the use of the animal. The complaint alleges that plaintiff hired defendant to winter Molly last winter and that through negligence the animal was allowed to come in contact with a barbed wire fence and was seriously cut, rendered unable for further use. Judgment is accordingly asked for the total sum of $200.

Breach of Contract Alleged. Suit has been filed in the district court by Mudgett Brothers against the Campbell Building company to recover $2,000 damages for breach of contract. The defendant company had the contract for the construction of a new Federal building and sublet the plumbing and gas fitting to Mudgett Brothers. The latter alleged that defendant stopped them from working on the job without just cause or provocation and prevented them from completing the job to their damage in the sum of $2,000.

Cases in Bankruptcy. Yesterday afternoon in the Federal court Judge Marshall considered a large number of bankruptcy cases. He discharged in bankruptcy Edward Senall of Kaneville, W. A. Nelson of St. George, James Mettler of Payette. The petitions in the following were rejected and referred: Walter Westerman, Thomas Bobb, Joe P. Stone, Marian M. McDonald, George Beck, and Geo. G. Hurdley. New cases were filed and adjudicated as follows: J. A. Tibberty, Salt Lake, liabilities $160.25 and assets $24.63; Thomas G. Walker, Ogden, liabilities $74.48 and assets $29; and James A. Browning, Salt Lake, liabilities $524.38, assets, $38.

COURT NOTES. Monday, Sept. 1, will be the next regular day in the federal court. On Sunday, Sept. 10, Judge Marshall leaves for Kansas City to hold a session of the circuit and district courts at that place.

Elizabeth J. W. Piergrass et al. have filed suit in the district court against Lorin P. Walker et al. for the partition of certain real estate in Big Cottonwood in which the parties to the action are interested.

Nothing on the Market Equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This fact is well known to druggists everywhere, and it is well known to the customers of this preparation when the best is asked for. Mr. C. W. Wimmer, a resident of the district court, writes to his customers as follows: "There is nothing on the market in the way of a potent medicine which cures Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. We sell and recommend this preparation." For sale by all druggists.

STIFF SENTENCES. Judge Whitaker Hands Out Several Bunches in Police Court. Judge Whitaker, sitting for Judge Diehl, in the criminal division of the city court, is becoming known as the Judge Armstrong of the said city court. Yesterday he had a number of stiff sentences, some unusual; bunch of offenders before him, and those who were unfortunate enough to be convicted were handed stiff sentences that they will not soon forget. For instance, Richard Anderson, a man whose face strongly resembled a worn yard-factory house, was forced to admit that he was a vagrant. The attorney for the city explained that Anderson had a habit of begging in the streets, and that he had refused to "cough up" were routinely abused. The later started to explain what a good man he had been, but the court cut him off with the statement that a vagrant in the city jail at the expense of, and during the period of 60 days, would be just about right.

Arbelle Brown, a maiden of dusky hue, with a penchant for absorbing stimulants of an alcoholic nature, blushing admitted that she had been indulging in drinking, and that her last offense was committed yesterday. Arbell only needed a brief sentence, but she will be quiet for a period of 20 days.

Bob Macroft was unfortunate in the fact that he had been there before many, many times. It was the same old charge—drunkenness—and Bob will be quiet only for a period of 20 days, but she will be quiet for a period of 20 days.

Tim Higgins admitted that he could not read. The reputation to sell that amber fluid with froth in it, on Sunday. "It will cost you just $75," Mr. Higgins, remarked his honor.

J. C. Coffey denied that he was a vagrant. The city claimed that he was a vagrant because he had been a "trot" and in around the turf exchange for several months past. Coffey admitted that he was a "trot," and that was all there was to it. He was represented by Judge Burton, who made a plea for leniency, but Judge Whitaker did not agree with the defense that there was any virtue in the vacation of the accused, and accordingly he fined Coffey 100 shillings.

Then the docket ended: Bill Leary descended from his comfortable perch, and posted up the books.
