FRAGMENTS.

AN overcast sky.
 CONFERENCE cometh apace.
 "RIGOLETTO" at the Opera House to-night.
 "OUR STRATEGISTS" at the Theatre this evening.
 See Jennings & Sons' new "ad" in another column.
 Dr. E. R. Shipp has removed to the new building nearly opposite Z. C. M. I. See advt.

JOSEPH BIDDLECOMBE will be sentenced on Monday morning, for the murder of Charles Jensen.

An overcoat belonging to Duncan S. Casper was stolen from the Federal Court Room on Friday last.

ELDER HARVEY H. PERKINS, of West Bountiful, Davis County, returned from the Southern States yesterday morning.

Religious services of the Latter-day Saints in the Assembly Hall to-morrow afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock.

PRESIDENT GEORGE Q. CANNON will preach at the 18th Ward chapel to-morrow evening. Meeting convenes at 6 o'clock.

The law lectures at the University will resume next Monday at 7:30 p. m., Professor J. L. Rawlins having returned from Washington.

The members of the 30th Quorum of Seventies will meet in the 19th Ward meeting house on Monday evening, March 17th, at 7 o'clock.

We are requested by Bishop Brimley, of the Fifth Ward, to announce that Elder John Morgan will preach there to-morrow evening at 6:30 o'clock.

The Third Ward next meeting-house will be used for services the first time to-morrow evening. It will not be dedicated for a little while, however.

A MINUTE in Tuesday's proceedings of the City Council, in relation to A. Robinson and others petitioning for a certain street to be improved, was incorrect as to the name of the street. It should have been Fifth East between Seventh and Eighth South.

The Ogden Herald says that a few days ago, two Danish women from Brigham City were canvassing for money to aid a relation of theirs in the old country to emigrate to America. They were in Harville, last Tuesday, and while going into the house of one of the residents, one of the women fell on the doorstep and broke her leg.

The Enquirer says that the Provost-marshal has been telling the people every day that the marshal and a portion of the United States army would be coming to compel submission, but they have not arrived yet, neither have the citizens felt in the least alarmed. The land is still there, the citizens are inside and the jumpers outside. But for all that the air is filled with rumors and fierce threats.

Two Weavers Wanted.—Two power loom silk weavers can find employment by applying immediately at the Silk Factory, City Creek Cañon. One of them must be a man.

Primary Conference.—The Primary Conference of this Stake will be held in the 18th Ward Assembly Rooms, on Saturday next, at 10 o'clock. Services will please send in their reports immediately to President E. C. Clawson, this city.

For Unlawful Voting.—The only case before the District Court to-day was that of the People vs. Andrew Peterson, for unlawful voting. The offense is alleged to have taken place in Summit County in the year 1882. The only thing done in the case to-day was an attempt to empanel the jury.

Lecture.—On Monday evening, under the auspices of the Young People's Association, Elder Arthur Stayer will deliver his lecture announced for last Tuesday, at the Fortieth Ward Assembly Rooms, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Subject: "The History of the Reformation and Establishment of the Church of England." All are invited free.

From Marsh Valley.—A pleasant call from Brother W. C. Hawkins, our former agent at Marsh Valley, Idaho, County, Idaho, was duly appreciated this morning. He reports affairs as quiet and peaceable at home, the people of the good and all feeling well. The winter had been hard, but the snow was virtually gone and spring was beginning to manifest itself. Stock was doing well, no losses had been experienced. The worst need at present was a market for grain. Not one death had occurred in the Valley during the winter that he knew of. He reached here yesterday, and returns north to-morrow all the better for it.

Fatal Fall.—We learn from our Ogden contemporary, the Herald, that on Thursday last Martillo Williams and Alma Clifford, two young men of North Ogden, went out of the settlement to a log cabin some distance north on the slope of the mountain. While there, they seem to have become intoxicated. On their way home they started their horses on a run down the rocky hill.

Clifford's horse stumbled and fell, throwing him head foremost on a large rock. He received a severe cut on the head, from which the blood came running out. Williams went for aid, after trying in vain to assist his partner on the horse, and the young man was taken to his home in North Ogden where he died, early Friday morning, from the effects of the mountain. Alma Clifford was the son of Frank Clifford and was 19 years old. This terrible tragedy should be an impressive warning.

Manning Released.—Jas. Manning the fellow arrested a week ago to-night and subsequently fined $25 and costs for disturbing the peace and resisting the officers on day-release, has been paid by an officer from the Fort. Manning is a soldier, but was dressed in citizen's clothes at the time he and his two comrades assaulted the police. He is a young man, and perhaps the bravest of the three, the others having run away and left him in the clutches of the officers.

We cannot give any of them much credit for courage though. Men who will creep up behind a person and pelt him with rocks, as they did Marshall Phillips and Officer Smith, are certainly not the bravest of the brave, and if our country had no better defenders than they—for they were all soldiers—it would be poorly defended indeed. Manning fought desperately, and got a sore head to remember him by, but his comrades proved the better part of their valor by discretion, and escaped by taking to their heels.

INTERESTING FOR SUNDAY EVENING.

Some singular questions in relation to "Mormon" doctrine having been propounded by a literary celebrity, at my request, they will be replied to in detail by Elder C. W. Penrose at the Tenth Ward Hall to-morrow, Sunday, evening at 6:30 o'clock. At the subject treated upon will be of interest to non-"Mormons" as well as Latter-day Saints, the public generally are respectfully invited to attend. Additional seating accommodations will be provided. Services will commence promptly at 6:30 p. m.

H. B. CLAWSON, Bishop.

"LINDA."

LAST NIGHT'S PERFORMANCE AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

It is evident from what has transpired at the Opera House this week, that the management of the Abbott Company, acting upon the plan of the scriptural rule, have "kept the good wine until last," thus creating an upward sliding scale in their list of attractions.

As "Mignon" surpassed "King for a Day," "Bohemian Girl" "Mignon," and "Lucia" the whole of them, only to be eclipsed in its turn by "Faust," so this was at least equalled by the performance of last evening, and with "La Sonnambula" and "Rigoletto" to follow, the chances are good for a continuous graduation to the final stroke of the climax.

There was a perceptible falling off in the audience, last night, due perhaps to limited acquaintance with the opera and the presumable fact that many who have been constant attendants during the week were almost weary of enjoyment, and wished to save themselves for "Rigoletto," but it is safe to say there was no diminution in the pleasure and appreciation of those present, who were loud in their praises of the performance.

Miss Abbott has not appeared to better advantage during the engagement. Her acting was strong, forceful and thrilling, and her singing, especially of "Home Sweet Home," was tenderness and sweetness itself. It is not too much to assert that as "Linda," she won more hearts and homage than in any other character she has yet impersonated.

Quite her equal, both for intrinsic merit and popularity with the public, was Signor Tagliapietra in the part of the aged father. The more this gentleman is seen and heard the better he seems to become, a proof positive of the genuineness of his claim as one of the most accomplished artists on the lyric stage.

Signor Fabiani, as "Carlo," had the best opportunity given him thus far, and right well he took advantage of it. The interpolation of "Alice Where Art Thou," with the alteration of the first word to "Linda," was a pleasing effort musically, but like all parodies of its kind, contained an element of the absurd in a verbal view. We remember a similar attempt in a play entitled the "Red Pocket-book," where the beautiful "Linda" was a pleasing effort musically, but like all parodies of its kind, contained an element of the absurd in a verbal view.

The misère scene from "Il Trovatore," gave Miss Rosewald her only chance and Signor Fabiani his second, to be heard during the evening. Both acquitted themselves to the general satisfaction.

To-night "Rigoletto," with the following line cast, will close the successful season of the Abbott Opera Company: "Gilda," Abbott; "Rigoletto," Tagliapietra; "Madama," Segula; "Sparafucile," Broderick; "Monte-rone," Allen; "Hippolyte," Marzulli; "Ward," "Cepreno," "Orion," "Duke," Fabiani.

The matinee performance of "La Sonnambula" is in progress, as we go to press.

A PLEASANT CHAT WITH ONE OF ITS DENIZERS.

Brother William G. Kimball, of Paris, Bear Lake County, Idaho, is down from home on his way to Arizona, to "spy out the land." He will leave here next Monday and will probably be accompanied by his brother Moroni, of this city. He states that there is more snow in the region he comes from than has been known in the last seven years. It is from 24 to 4 feet on the level and drifts in places as high as ten or twelve feet, covering fences, etc., and rendering locomotion very difficult.

Snow plows are in active demand on the railroad. To see them plunging through drifts of two or three feet in the rear, with the snow whirling about in a blinding cloud, completely obstructing the vision and giving a glorious halo of uncertainty to the outcome of the work in hand, he says is a picture an artist's brush or writer's pen could do justice to.

One day as the snow-plow was coming into Montpelier, it caught up a horse and buried it some fifteen or twenty feet from the track. Thinking the animal was certainly killed and its mangled remains either lying about in patches on the snow or being shoveled up by the plow, the men stopped the engines long enough to ascertain the facts, when to their astonishment they saw, through a rift in the snow-cloud, the irrepressible equine quietly trotting on the track ahead, apparently waiting for the second act of the grand bounding feat to begin.

The deep snow had saved its life. The surface upon which the animal trod was two or three inches above the edge of the plow, while the snow-bank into which he was so unceremoniously projected, received him with all the tenderness of a mother or a featherbed. All the trains have two locomotives back of them, and even then they are often blocked. The weather had been very cold, but was milder when our informant left. He arrived here yesterday night, via McCammon, and heard on the cars that a man had been shot at Granger.

Brother Kimball does not believe in the Bear Lake monster, and sternly repels the insinuation that it is fear of this as yet invisible horror that impels him southward. He felt perfectly safe in leaving his family in Paris. He may possibly settle in the south, if the country there is all it is "cracked up to be." Lots of people from the East are en route to the Coast d'Alene. This region is in the most beautiful part of Idaho, some 700 miles from hereabouts.

Daynes and Coates.—The above firm have just received a fine set of nickel-plated instruments for the Sixth Ward Brass Band. It is the finest set of instruments ever imported to this country and is a credit to the band and to the makers, Messrs. Daynes, of Paris, for whom Messrs. Daynes and Coates are agents.

Bishop Welles' Birthday.—Yesterday our esteemed and veteran friend, Bishop Jacob Welles, of the Third Ward, attained his 70th year. Last evening he was made the recipient of a surprise party by fifty members of his ward, members of the Relief Society and others, led by Counsellors John Y. Smith and Thomas Marcock.

The aged Bishop was presented by them in behalf of the party, with a large sitting chair and a cane. They had brought along their picnic, and with festive songs, speeches and recitations, whiled away the evening very happily. One prominent object among the many dainties covering the well-spread table, was a large and handsome birthday cake, inscribed with the Bishop's name and age. We tender our sincere congratulations to our veteran friend, and wish him an added lease of life for many years.

HOW TO SHORTEN LIFE.

The receipt is simple: You have only to take a violent cold, and neglect it. Alas, the great English surgeon, who told me she told me she only had a cough: "What would you have? The plague? Beware of 'only coughs.' The worst cases can, however, be cured by Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. In Whooping Cough and Croup, it is the only remedy, and is sure to prevent a fatal termination of the disease. Sold by druggists.

WIDE AWAKE DRUGGISTS.

The Z. C. M. I. Drug Store are always alive to their business, and spare no pains to secure the best of every article in their line. They have secured the agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Hay Fever, Bronchitis, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs. Sold on a positive guarantee. Trial bottle free. Regular size $1.00.

A Cure at Last. Ely's Cream Balm does more directly than any other remedy, to the seat of the disease, and has resulted in more cures here than all others. —Wilkesbarre, Pa.

For Throat Diseases and Coughs.

Brown's Bronchial Troches, like all really good things, are frequently imitated. The genuine are sold only in boxes.

A MAGIC POWER.

A Secret Agent at Work.

We were surprised the other day to learn that certain individuals in this city, who had for many years yielded to what was apparently an inevitable fate, were started from their torpid condition of semi-stupidity, into asserting their right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." These parties had been bound by an influence as powerful as it was incomprehensible. They knew not the cause, nor any victims to the result. They were enchained, but they could not discern by what means they had been manacled. They had long sought deliverance in vain. Their appeals to science and to the knowledge of the laws were equally unavailing. At last, relief came! It was not through any action of their own, but through the action of the new Legislature, for it was out of their power, and foreign to their just claims, that they were suddenly and effectually released from the bondage they suffered, and placed on an equal scale of rights with the rest of the community. "What was their trouble?" is what our readers will ask. They had been rendered helpless by a peculiar and peculiarly incurable disease, called "rheumatism." They had not walked or even moved without pain for years, and the chronic condition of their friends "who had been there," was what it is. It acted like a magic power. This secret agent quickly cured them of their ailment, removed the cause of the trouble, liberated the captive from their doleful condition, and now they congratulate each other on the accomplishment of such a triumph, and the acquisition of the knowledge by which they are enabled to resist the encroachments of that common foe, the "rheumatism," but will wait a future time.

Clergymen, lawyers, public speakers, and singers, confirm the opinion of the general public in regard to Ayer's Cherry Balm for the Throat. It is the best remedy that can be procured for all affections of the vocal organs, throat and lungs.

VARIOUS QUACKS

Who-Each with his own Pet Scheme—Calibrate the Field of Human Nature.

There have always been quacks—legal quacks, theological quacks, scientific quacks and medical quacks. Some of them are blind, oily fellows who argue and smile the world into believing in their favorite system of humbug. Others are pompous and pretentious parasites. But they make it pay. Men seem to love to be swindled, stipulating only that it shall be neatly done.

The dear public are equally liberal to the electric and magnetic fraud. This fellow is a genius in his line. He will put a magnetic belt around your waist, a magnetic necktie under your chin, or fit you with an entire suit of magnetic clothes, warranted to serve the purpose of ordinary garments, and at the same time to cure all diseases, from whooping-cough to hysterical consumption.

Most of these have no more electric or magnetic power about them than resides in woolen blankets or in girdles of sackcloth. Only when applied by an expert is electricity of the slightest use as a medicinal agent, and even then its value is grossly overestimated. What is the strongest possible presumptive evidence in favor of a particular remedy? Clearly that it should have been prepared by responsible persons of acknowledged skill in the treatment of disease. Squaring up on this foundation stands BEN-SO'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTER. Endorsed by 5,000 physicians, pharmacists, druggists and chemists, it needs no further apology or introduction. It is the one and only true and tried external application. Quacks of all kinds pay the Capsine the compliment of their dislike, as Satan is said to hate holy water.

Look in the middle of the plaster for the word "CAPSINE." Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York.
