I may sum up my observations as follows: Very few actual outrages have follows: Very few actual outrages have been committed so far as I could learn; there had been much marching, accom-panied by more or les disorder, with some discharging of firearms under cir-cumstances which suggest that it was intended for intimidation; there was the burning of a railroad car at Sun-nysde, which was believed to be caused through incendiarism, as two men werce seen to run away from the spot as the flames began to leap over the wool-work,but in the darkness they could not be recognized or apprehended; there work, but in the darkness they could not be recognized or apprehended; there has been a vast amount of actual threatening and thoroughly successful intimidation; and there exists beyond question a feeling of great fear for per-sonal safety in the minds of hundreds of men who wish to work, but dare not do so. The situation, all in all, I regard as extremely strained. I believe it will grow worse unless promptly relieved; and I submit that confidence would be much strengthened and the feeling of safety and stability restored if the re-quest of the sheriff, which I found to be backed up very generally by almost all the English-speaking people that I met, namely, the sending of troops into some portions of the county, could be complied with. Gov. Wells wired this message to Soofield yesterday afternoon: Gen. John Q. Cannon, Scofield, Utahi Have received no report from you today and I am extremely anxious for infor-mation. I approve of your action of yes-terday in furnishing militia to resist interfering with the law upon the appli-cation of the sheriff. I am anxious to make a record in the suppression of this strike, and I have absolute confi-dence in your ability to deal with the situation. Through Mr. Harriman, whom I met at a club dinner last night, I have secured a reduction in the price of coal. Public sentiment will there-fore be with me, I think, but whether it is or not, believing that I am right, I syant you to give absolute assurance to the men who are contented, and who desire to work, that no harm will come desire to work, that no harm will come to them or their families while they are at work. Disseminate this information throughout the camps, so that there may be no reluctance on the part of the contented miners to go to work, With kind regards and Thanksgivizg greetings to all the men, and assurance that the power and authority of the state are behind them, and hoping the difficulties will be speedily adjusted, HEBER M. WELLS, Commander-in-Chief. "Committee's" Warning.

This notice was posted last night or elegraph poles near the Rio Grande depot.

"Falt Lake, Nov. 27, 1963. "To Whom It May Concern: If yo If you are seeking employment, keep away from Sunnyside. "By Orders of the Committee."

The notice was torn down by railroad men. The local coal officials report that 82 men were at work at Winter Quarters yesterday, as against 25 on Wednesday. At Sunnyside the output was 523 tons, an increase over the previous day, although the normal output is 1,500 ton. In reply to the statement of Organize Kelliher that the men demand an in crease in wages, semi-monthly pay days and better ventilation, as well as recognition of the union, a representa-tive of the company said that the only demands received by the company had inority of the miners at Sunnyside.

WHERE GUNS COME FROM.

Those Used by Strikers Bought From Fuel Company.

(Special to the "News.") (special to the "News.") Castle Gate, Nov. 28.—It has come to light that unwittingly the Utah Fuel company has been arming the strikers. The "News" is informed by an em-ploye of the company that all the shot guns, rifles and revolvers, together with all the ammunition that has been car-ried in stock for years at the company store here, have been bought and taken away by the Italian strikers. away by the Italian strikers.

TEMPORARY RELIEF.

Thirty Cars of Coal to be Shipped Into Salt Lake.

(Special to the "News.") Scofield, Nov. 28.-An order came to-lay from headquarters in Salt Lake which will temporarily relieve the do-nestic coal situation in Salt Lake. In ddition to the cut in the price of coal 20 context a too which here are a solution. addition to the cut in the price of coal of 30 cents a ton, which move was made by the Union Pacific Coal company, and not by the Utah producers, who were forced to meet the reduction, 30 cars of coal are to be forwarded to Sait Lake today from Colton for re-tail purposes. This coal, which has been held on the cars in the yards at Colton for 10 days past, is what is known as commercial coal and was mined at Winter Quarters.
