Affairs at Camp Floyd.—Camp Floyd, April 21, 1890. Hon. E. Smith, Dear Sir—The weather here during the past few days has been quite pleasant, thus affording every facility for advancing with the preparatory arrangements for the removal of the troops, which are being vigorously pushed forward.

The order and discipline enforced are truly gratifying and speak in high terms in favor of the commanding officer, Brevet Colonel C. P. Smith, and his associates. There is, I believe, a general feeling of congratulation among the troops composing the companies ordered from Utah, at the prospect of leaving, as they call it, "this God-forsaken country." Their stay here is esteemed by them as though it were a term of banishment.

Fairfield, adjoining Camp Floyd, presents an unusually business-like appearance. Trade is brisk and speculation on a small scale is carried on extensively. Money is somewhat scarce, as is usual about the expiration of the month, and just before payday arrived.

In consequence of the projected removal of the troops, the theater, which has afforded them much amusement during the past winter, and all its fixtures, being principally owned by the soldiers belonging to companies ordered to march, will be either disposed of at a great sacrifice, or left as a bonus to those remaining.

The performances have been very creditable, considered the disadvantages under which they have labored. The actors, though soldiers and required to perform their regular camp duties, will compare favorably with those of other parts and some of them would unquestionably rank as stars in the best theaters.

The scenes daily occurring in Fairfield are quite in contrast with the order and quietness of the camp. While at the latter place you will seldom hear of a row or of a shooting affair, in Fairfield such things are of daily and frequent occurrence. Probably in London or New York, even in their worst "points," could not be found a more revolting state of affairs than now exists at the town called Fairfield; and, if not so far as praiseworthy, are given to designate or imply some property or quality of a town or other thing, it must be conceded that Fairfield is altogether out of taste.

The past two weeks have been most prolific in their record of casualty, outrage and crime—the most notable instances of which I will give you in order of their occurrence.

On the 4th inst., in a dispute at a gambling table, Frank Garvey drew a pistol and fired two shots at one "Curley," the bartender, neither of which took effect; upon which "Curley" returned the fire, mortally wounding his assailant in the left breast.

On or about the night of the same day, a passage was cut through the clothes into the stable of M. C. Runney and a valuable horse stolen.

A day or two afterwards, while under the influence and depression of spirits, a clerk in a company of the Seventh infantry committed suicide by blowing off the top of his head with his musket.

On Sunday, 18th, four soldiers were publicly whipped for desertion.

During the cavalry drill and while making a grand charge, a horse ran off and, coming in collision with a heavy freight wagon, was knocked down, throwing his rider some distance and so injuring him that his life was despaired of. The horse died two or three days afterwards. Another man was thrown and broke his leg.

At daylight, one day last week, a wagon arrived from Provo and stopped at a house, kept by a man named D— of Springville, a notorious. The wagon contained a woman, her two children and a girl about eighteen years of age, who had been induced, by flattering promises, to come to his place. Upon learning the character of the house, she refused to leave the wagon, venting her outraged feelings in bitter cries, which excited the sympathy of many bystanders. The wretched perpetrators of the abduction escaped coats of tar and feathers, which some had threatened, by taking themselves off.

The women were taken care of by Esq. Wells, who doubtless will do them justice.

An assault was made upon one Stevens, from Cedar Fort, a night or two since, by some dozen fellows, who, having dragged him from his bed, beat him with clubs in a most unmerciful manner and left him for dead. He had just returned from California, and if reports are true there were things transpired during his absence which were the immediate cause of this brutal assault.

In a quarrel between two Mexicans, one of them stabbed the other several times, inflicting mortal wounds and, when in the act of fleeing, was shot dead by a person standing near by.

Such are a few rough jottings from memory of incidents transpiring in this sink of drunkenness, gambling and every species of pollution.

I may write you again, should anything of interest occur.

Respectfully, etc.

OCCASIONAL.

Daring Outrage.—A correspondent at Brigham City informs us that, on the 29th of February, two persons in disguise went to the camp of Mr. Hunsaker, on his herd ground in Boxelder county, and ordered a lad about 14 years old, who was there alone in charge at the time, to leave.

From their menacing language and demeanor, the young man considered it unsafe to resist the ruffians and left. The camp equipment was then overhauled by the villains, who took a revolver and some other things that could carry away and put off.

Suspicious resting upon two men named Armenius Miller and Marion Scott, residing at Brigham City, Mr. Hunsaker obtained a search warrant and proceeded with Sheriff Cutler to search the premises of the suspected persons. While the sheriff was performing his duty he was violently resisted by Miller and a colleague by the name of Van Vleet, who subsequently mounted their horses and put off with four others of their clan, whereupon the sheriff summoned a posse and gave them chase and overtook them near the south line of Boxelder county, on their way southward. On coming up with the refugees, Cutler ordered them to stop. They immediately assumed a hostile attitude, and bid defiance to the officer and his posse, Van Vleet appearing to be the chief of the gang. After a short parley, in which the sheriff tried to dissuade them from the course they were pursuing, Miller started off again at full speed, Cutler giving him chase, soon came near enough to fire, ordering the fleeing man to stop, to which he paid no attention, and thereupon he fired upon him. Miller returned the compliment, and four or five shots were fired by each as they were under full speed, neither taking effect; but Cutler succeeded in capturing the scoundrel and his colleagues, and took them back to Brigham City, where they have been tried and convicted. Miller was fined $100 and Van Vleet $100, with costs—a light punishment indeed for an offense of that magnitude, but it may answer if the judgment of the court is fully executed.

The Latest News.—The latest dates from Washington are to Feb. 20. On the 15th Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, introduced a bill to punish and prevent the practice of polygamy in the territories of the United States and other places, and disapproving and annulling certain acts of the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Utah; which was read a first and second time, and referred to the committee on judiciary.

The same day Mr. Stevens offered the following resolution which was agreed to:

Resolved, That the committee on the judiciary be instructed to inquire into the expediency of prohibiting polygamy in the territories, and so to modify the laws of Utah, as to make future commission of that offense penal in that territory.

A correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Washington under date of the 16th, says:

"Among the good things projected in the way of practical legislation, we are glad to hear that Mr. Green, chairman on territories in the senate, has hit upon a plan which will bring the Mormons to a positive settlement. His plan is to establish a new territorial government for Carson valley (west side of Utah) and to create a judicial district of said Territory of Utah, and so organized as to bring all Mormon capital offenders against the laws before a Carson territory or district jury.

An arrangement of this sort, reduced to practice in two or three Mormon cases, to the extent of hanging, will, it is thought, effect a Mormon exodus that will astonish all mankind. We have no doubt of it, and we hope that Senator Green will push forward his bill.

Such a magnificent scheme cannot fail to attract the admiration of the world.

FALL BLINDS GIRL

New York American: Miss Clara L. Runyun, a teacher in the Franklin school, Rahway, N. J., living at Metuchen, who lost her eyesight by a fall in the schoolroom Friday, when her head struck the door casing, is blind still.

Dr. W. E. Cladek of Rahway said last night:

"I never have heard of such a case. I believe it is unprecedented in the history of medical science." Miss Runyun was opening a door when her foot slipped and she fell, striking her head on the door casing. "I cannot see; bring me some water," she screamed. Later she said: "I struck my right temple on the door sill, a sharp pain shot through my head, and then I noticed my sight had gone." She was then taken to the home of E. C. Potter, at Metuchen. Everything still remains dark to her, but last night she could distinguish a light when placed before her. It is doubtful if she ever will regain her sight.

If Miss Runyun's condition does not improve within the next few days she probably will be brought to New York and examined by the foremost experts in the country, who will attempt to ascertain the exact nerves that were injured by the fall.

Miss Runyun is optimistic, and says she will recover and return to her school.

Gives Health, Vigor and Tone.

Herbina is a boon for sufferers from anemia. By its use the blood is quickly regenerated and the color becomes normal. The drooping strength is revived. The languor is diminished. Health, vigor and tone predominate. New life and happy activity results. Mrs. Belle H. Shirel, Middleborough, Mass., writes: "I have been troubled with liver complaint and poor blood, and have found nothing to benefit me like Herbina. I hope never to be without it. I have wished that I had known of it in my husband's lifetime." Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

Women's Kidneys.

Women are more often afflicted with kidney disorders than men, but attribute the symptoms to diseases peculiar to their sex, while in reality the kidneys are diseased. Nervousness, headache, puffiness of the face, dark circles under the eyes, pain in the back, are signs of kidney trouble that must not be ignored, or a serious malady will result. Foley's Kidney Cure has restored the health of thousands of weak, nervous, broken-down women. It stops irregularities and strengthens the urinary organs. It purifies the blood and benefits the whole system. Sold by E. J. Hill Drug Co.

Hated Colds.

People whose blood is pure are not nearly so likely to take hard colds as are others. Physiology goes into the reason. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure, causing healthy action of the mucous membrane and giving strength and tone to all the organs and functions. This great medicine recovers the system after a cold, as no other does.
