BEAR LAKE HAPPENINGS. LAKE TOWN, March 15, 1887.

Editor Deseret News: C. Southworth & Co., of Paris, Ida-ho, took it into their heads to make a tour of all the settlements in our Stake south of that burg, by way of displaying their histrionic abilities displaying their histrionic abilities and earning an honest penny. They held forth here a week ago this p. m. and presented "The Last Loai" and the soul-reviving farce entitled "Mr. and Mrs. Peter White," and wound up with a brief but number-one social ball. Leaving us they regaled Woodreff and Randolph, the latter for two evenings, by the special invitation of its leading and best citizens. Returning here to day, they entertained us this evening with a select bill of stump speeches, songs, recitations, violin solos, etc.; also with "Crossing the speeches, songs, recitations, vieling solos, etc.; also with "Crossing the Line," an enlivening farce of the most irrepressible laughter-producing character. These took the company will 10 o'clock to concisde. From theme was well spent in an extra social dance. The musicians of the company, which, indeed, comprise them all, are very proficient. The pieces were excellently rendered and there was nothing "nommon or unclean" about them; but, to the contrary, while being highly amusing and entertaining, were none the less elevating and instructive. Considering the high class of the entertainments and the manner of their performance, the price of admission was consistently moderate. Hear Lake tertaluments and the manner of their performance, the price of admission was consistently moderate. Hear Lake Stake may well appreciate this company, composed as it is of our brethern and sisters, and naught but the most purescrived praise is bestowed upon them by their auditors in Lake-

Like all good public and private servants, I feel safe in saying of them that they can come where they have been with confidence in the people's patronage. Were such entertainments more frequent with us, I think it would be a vast improvement on our dancing-and-naught-else for winter recreations "worlds without end."

Our weather has been delightful for several weeks past. The snow is fast departing, and our prudent men are now sowing dirt on the drifts, thus facilitating their collapse. The hills to the east of us are getting pretty bare, and the young and tender grass is sprouting up on all sides. The cattle are gradually being turned out to graze during the daytime. Although the past winter has been unusually breezy, yet it has been withal what we Bear Lakeers i consistently call a warm one, zero it has been withal what we Bear Lakers (consistently call a warm one, zero having been scarcely reached, except perhaps on one or two occasions. We have not had an east wind—our special terror—this winter. During several winters aince the "Mormon" settlement, the thermometer has registered down to 40 to 50 degrees below zero; hence your readers may judge of the mildness of our present nearly expired season.

mildness of Our present nearly expired season.

While our stockmen rejoice, our farmers are not sad. Nearly all the snow has disappeared from Bear river valley, and prospects are now good for early piewing and sowing in this and the other Utah towns of this valley. Our greatest present drawback is the state of the roads. They will be measurably impassable for a month from date and till the snow is fcompletely gone and they get thoroughly dried. Now they are neither good for travel by steigh nor wagen, notably so in our canon. Car county court has appropriated $500 to be applied on improving the cofion road this summer. This, connected with the poil tax, will effect a great public benefit. It has also had the roads well surveyed and will soon have the several public thoroughfares defined, by directions, etc., posted on cross-ways, etc., sof that "the wayfaring man, though a fool, need not err therein." Respectfully Yours,

St. Jacobs Oll cures toothache, ache and every other ache.

THE MODERN PLOW. REVERSIBLE SHARE.

DEAR FRIEND:-Our object in addressing you is to arouse your interest in our new plow, as we know if you but see it, that its advantages will be but see it, that its advantages will be clear to you.

No amount of description of this series can adequately convey all the points of excellence and superiority over all other plows now on the market. They are not made for any particular section of the country, or class of work, but will give perfect satisfaction in any locality, as all parts are interchangeable—either chilled metal or high grade steel. This makes

A PERFECT COMBINATION PLOW and the desire of the farmer who wishes to have a Plow that can be adapted to different soils or classes of plowing were after a bath and a good dinner, he spent about three hours with us, visiting the most important points of interest in the city. The next day we were assigned to our different fields of labor. I was sent to Wilks County, North Carolina, where I labored with Eider Beard for about three months, after that we labored in Burke County, until our conference, at which time I was appointed to labor in Alexander and Wilks counties in company with Eider Condie. I only remained there as nort time, when I received a notice from President Morgan, informing me that I was wasted in another place, so on the 31st of December, I landed in this section in company with Eider Markley. This is a new field, there are no Saints here at present, but we have many good friends, and also some very bitter foes. Some of our friends are the condition of the body of the Prow, to catch on obtaining the amount of work that can be done with the small outlay for repairs, is based on the peculiar share used, which is virtually Two Shares in One, apparently laid together, as it has two points, the wing being hollow, having a post or pin around which a hook boil passes to draw it onto the standard. A nut on the end of the hook boil, behind the standard. The share has two taces; the one not up doing duty, is down below out of the way. There is no boil head in the surface of tue share, nor nut under it; neither is there any projection under the time and place for the learning of the way. There is no boil head in the surface of tue share, nor nut under it; neither is there any projection under the time and place for the learning of the way. There is no boil head in the surface of tue share, nor nut under it; neither is there any projection under the time and place for the learning of the way. There is no boil head in the surface of tue share, nor nut under it; neither is there any projection under the time and place for the learning to the double of the propose to the propose to the propose to the propose to propose to the propose to the propose to with a tew changes, and slight addi-tional expense, is thus gratified. Our claim regarding the amount of work that can be done with the small outlay up doing duty, is down below out of the admission to probate of a certain document the way. There is no bolt head in the surface of the share, nor nut under it; neither is there any projection under the body of the Prow, to catch on obstructions, or accumulate dirt. We show herewith, sketches of the appropriate of said will, or the granting of letters testamentary to George H. Taylor, as prayed for in said petition. bitter foes. Some of our friends are very much interested in the principles of the Gospel, and I hope soon to see some of them come forward and take npon them the name of Christ. Not long since, we made a trip to Brans Creek, Mitchell County, N. C., for the purpose of trying to open up a new field. While there we met a gentleman (?) who beemed to be very friendly, he asked lus to hold wears off the underside of the cutting edge, so that after plowing awhile the edge is beveled below, something like shown in cut B. This tends to unake the plow run out of the ground, and in ordinary plows it would end the life of the share. Now the nut is loosened, the share litted away from the plow, turned upside down, put back and the nut screwed tight. The cutting edge of the share is now, as shown in cut No. C, with bevel downward, and the share virtually resharpened. The reversing process can be carried on till the metal in the share is worn back to the metal in the share is worn back to where it is too flick to cut, and always have a sharp edge. The hollow wing and the two points will certainly plow as long as two ordinary shares, without taking into consideration the peculiar fact that while one point is in front plowing the other is the heel of the share, being worn to a sharp edge so that when the worn to a sharp edge, so that when the front nose has rounded off, the share can be reversed and the blunt end put on the heel of the wing, and the point on the heel of the wing, and the point that was on the heel, brought to the front, sharp. When the share has been reversed a number of times, and in consequence of the metal being worn away, partly less its section and will not hold the ground as well as at first, then another improvement for, getting still more acquire out will fare as you do. You are lying round saying you are preaching to the people, but you never tell them a man shall eat bread by the sweat of his face. Go, and go now, for if you are found in these parts again in six months, your aides or necks will pay the debt. Old man Williams take warning by this for your fate will be ba!."

The old man spoken of, is the gentleman with whom we were sleeping, and who has been a good friend to us. On February 4th, I went to hear the "Mormon" question debated, but it was a complete fizzle on both sides. At the side has an adjustable shoe on its under and inner side, as shown on the opposite page, which is moved down or up at the heel, to adapt the Piew to ground is hard and stony.

We make deep suck shares, with short noses, very strong for unasually hard soil, and can plow in a satisfac-

close of the arguments, the chairman (who was a Methodist minist-r) arose to speak. I have visited fulte a number of places since I left home, among them the state lunatic asylum at Morganton, N. C., where all kinds of crazy people are confined, but I don't remember seeing one that could compare with that minister. In fact, if St. Mark had not told us that the legion when cast out entered the swine, might have thought the minister had caught some, or all of them. He was no sooner upon his feet than he began to the cast out, and he turned all colers, from a blueish white to a lunatic state of the cast out of the construction of the share admits of making it stronger than the old style, and there is no limit to the strength that can be put in it. The plows are set up with a general-purpose share, that combines lightness with strength. The adjustable land-can be replaced at a slight cost, saving the expense of an entire new landstide. A very novel feature of this Plew is the NEW PATENTED SHIN JOINTER, which as shown in the cut, rises from the shin, standing out at right angles to the course of the Plow and shearing off itsislice from the angle of the mov with sod or trash and manure that may be on the ground, to the bottom of the The jointer being so close to the plow, it cuts ground that has already been lifted and partly broken, so that brought the evening's entertainment to a close. There have been a great many threats made against us, but we are on our Father's business; ife has sent us out to preach the gospel of the kingdom, and to warn mankind of the judgments that God has decreed shall be poured out upon the nations of the earth in the last days, and with His help we hope to be able to clear our garments of the blood of this generation. The health of the Elders in these parts is good. Ever plow, as in all old styles. It is always in line; the changing of the beam for two or three horses not affecting it. It is adjustable, vertically, to adapt it to the amount of work required. It is impossible to choke it, and stones can plow. It dispenses with a rolling coulter in mammoth clover, and, in fact, it can be used to advantage in all kinds of plowing.

The difficulty of the Plow mould-board not scouring back of the jointer, as sometimes experienced with other styles, is entirely obviated. The jointer on the No. 185, attaches to the knee cutter, bringing it exactly to the place where it meets the rising furrow slice at the right angle, and at the right time, to effect a beautiful job. It is a triumph of inventive ingenuity and no triumph of inventive ingenuity, and no other plow maker can imitate it, on account of our having the exclusive right to make jointers on this principle. In no case where the jointer has been tried has tigiven any but the most unqualified satisfaction.

The jointen as before stated, fastens on a shin, on the Nos. 103, 104, 110 and 115, which is especially made to receive it, and on No. 185 the jointer fastens to the knee cutter. We furnish regular plain shins for Nos. 108, 104, 110 and 115, to use without jointer, also cutter shins, which run out sharp and perpendicular in front, taking the place of a cutter share. The 185 is furnished with plain knee cutters, both steel and cast.
