GIRL DROWNED IN WEBER RIVER

Miss Laura May Garner of Hooper Meets Sad Death While Bathing Sunday.

STATE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Many Improvements Mark the Year—Sunday School Union Meeting—Made at State Institution.

Ogden, Utah, Aug. 12.—Laura May Garner, the 15-year-old daughter of Joseph and Martha McGreggor Garner of Hooper, was accidentally drowned in the Weber river near that place about noon Sunday.

The young lady went to the river Sunday morning, with Messrs. Wilson, Rigby and families, on a picnic. A crowd of the young folks went in bathing and were in the height of their sport when Miss Garner got out beyond safety, and sank. Mr. Wilson made a heroic effort to save the girl, but on reaching her she gripped her fingers around his throat and he also would have been drowned had not his son, Carlton, seen out to his rescue. The girl having lost her grip on Wilson's throat, sank. Help was summoned from Hooper, and a party went out to rescue the body. After a long search the body was found under a heavy snag, in water 10 feet deep. It was recovered by Wm. Benham, who went down several times before he found the body.

The parents of the deceased are heartbroken over the terrible end which came to their much loved daughter. An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental drowning rendered by the jury.

When Mrs. Wilson learned of her husband's narrow escape from death it caused her such a nervous shock that for hours her condition was critical. Miss Garner was a bright young lady, and her sad, untimely death has caused a gloom over the entire Hooper ward.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Many Permanent Improvements Being Made at State Institution.

Ogden, Aug. 12.—Many long needed improvements are being made at the State Industrial school, under the direction of Supt. H. H. Thomas, which when completed, will make the main building a credit to the state, and much more pleasant for the inmates. The furnishings of the school were badly worn and were in great need of replacement, and though it has taken considerable money to change many of the apartments and to buy new furniture and other furnishings, the money has been wisely and economically expended. The furnishings for the superintendent's apartments, the office, parlor and dining room are very elegant, but will last for many years to come, and will be much more serviceable and cheaper in the long run than would inferior furnishings have been. The school room has been enlarged, and what was formerly the play room, is being entirely changed, adding large windows giving plenty of light and fresh air, and when completed it will be used for the boys dining room. The large addition makes a fine apartment for the boys to play in and have their drill work in the winter time. A visit to the school will convince the public that it is one of the most important institutions in the state, and that it is doing a vast amount of good to many boys and girls. Several boys who were paroled last Friday left the school last evening for their homes, and while they were glad to return home again, yet they stated that the Industrial school has been a blessing to them.

The establishment of the military drill at the school has greatly interested the boys, who three times a week spend an hour or more in drill work. Not alone is it a pleasure to most of the boys, but it is a physical benefit. Last week Supt. Thomas with the board decided to organize a band, composed of some of the students, and engaged Prof. Nichols, leader of the Ogden band, to instruct them. It is wonderful what they have accomplished in these few months. They play a number of march tunes for the drill work, which has helped to enthuse the boys. In a short time Supt. Thomas is going to arrange to bring the band and boys on Saturday evenings into town and give exhibition drills on Washington avenue and Twenty-fifth street. The girls are also doing some very good work, and all in all the school is making a very creditable showing.

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

Large Attendance of Weber Stake Workers—Secret of Success.

Ogden, Aug. 12.—An unusually large number of Sunday school workers attended the monthly Sunday School Union meeting yesterday afternoon at the Weber Stake academy auditorium. Supt. T. B. Evans gave a very instructive paper on "Duties of Sunday School Officers and Teachers." Many of the qualities that go to make a good Sunday school teacher were dwelt on. His address was broad in its character, showing how to make a success in any avocation of life. He argued that one must adapt his or herself to whatever duty they are called upon to perform, and to enter into the same with enthusiasm. A Sunday school teacher must first prepare himself for the duty imposed, so as to be able to impart, in humbleness, the knowledge he possesses in a comprehensive manner. Prof. Bullantyne gave the teachers in the kindergarten, primary and first intermediate B departments a very instructive talk on music, which will be continued for several months. Next Wednesday evening, at 6:30 o'clock Prof. W. M. McKendrick will deliver an address before the Sunday school workers of the stake on "Discipline," a subject which he handles in a very interesting and instructive manner.

GRAND REUNION OF SCANDINAVIANS

Fifty-Sixth Anniversary of First Baptisms in Norse Land In This Dispensation.

INTERESTING REMINISCENCES.

Recanted by Pres. A. H. Lund, Apostle Smoot and Other Prominent Speakers.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah county, Aug. 12.—The Scandinavian reunion held here yesterday was attended by about 2,000 people from various parts of the state and from Idaho.

The tabernacle was decorated with bunting and with the American, Swedish, Norwegian and Danish flags, and on the speakers' stand were tastefully arranged potted plants and flowers. On the stand were seated President A. H. Lund, Apostle R. B. Smoot, Elders J. M. Sjodahl, Andrew Jensen, Martin Christoffersen, A. W. Winberg, H. J. Christensen of Salt Lake, K. H. Brown of Nephi; C. A. Christensen of Ephraim, L. A. Skankey of Logan, A. K. Hansen of Fairview, Bishop O. H. Berg, Elders Peter Madsen, J. P. R. Johnson of Provo, Presidents John, Kester and Holbrook, of the Utah stake, President Fred S. L. Chipman of the Alpine stake, James Jensen, Elsinore, Pres. C. N. Lund of Mount Pleasant, President Peter Sundval of Fairview, C. J. Christensen of Pountain Green, J. M. Peterson of Richfield and many others.

Elder A. F. Ahlander, president of the Scandinavian meetings in Provo, presided. After singing by the Scandinavian choir of Provo, under the direction of Thomas Larsen, and prayer by Elder A. K. Hansen, Bishop O. H. Berg welcomed the people and spoke appreciatively of the work of Apostle Erastus Snow, and the early missionaries to Scandinavia, calling attention to the fact that the day was the fifty-sixth anniversary of the first baptism in Denmark by representatives of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

President David John spoke in very complimentary terms of the Scandinavian people, and of their work in the Church, and felt pleased to see this large gathering.

Elder A. W. Winberg, who organized the first branch in Sweden, Elder K. H. Brown and Martin Lundval of Montana, spoke briefly of their early experiences. Elder J. M. Sjodahl, after expressing his appreciation of the testimony of the aged veterans of the Church, spoke of some of the inestimable blessings bestowed upon us by the gospel. Every age, he said, has had its peculiar questions to discuss. The first centuries of our era were busy with the questions relating to the Godhead. These were finally settled more in accordance with pagan philosophies than divine revelations. The age of the reformation, the speaker said, discussed the question of justification by faith, or works. That was the great issue of that age. The last century was concerned about questions relating to the Millennium and the final consummation of all things. Lately the question of the authority of the Scriptures has come up and seems to be a burning issue. To all these mysteries the gospel has given us the key. We need not be in ignorance, but can go on to life eternal. The speaker dwelt especially upon the doctrine of faith and explained the position of the children of God, as children and not servants, having the rights and privileges of heirs, and not day laborers, merely. His remarks were listened to with marked attention.

Elder H. J. Christensen spoke of the courage and faith of the early members of the Church, whom he always felt to honor, and expressed the hope and belief that many would yet become members of the Church in the Scandinavian countries.

AFTERNOON.

In the afternoon services, after singing and prayer, President C. N. Lund of Mount Pleasant, was the first speaker, followed by Elder H. A. Peterson of Ephraim, who each gave interesting incidents of the introduction of the gospel in Scandinavia and testified to its truthfulness, and to the blessings of God to them. Apostle Smoot spoke of the passing of time, and urged those who had the opportunity to listen to the testimonies of the veterans to do so and treasure their words. He spoke feelingly of the acceptance of the gospel by his mother in Norway, and his immigration to this country, and expressed pride in his partial descent from the Scandinavian race.

Mrs. Anna Snow of Salt Lake City, one of the first 15 baptized in Copenhagen, 36 years ago, spoke briefly, expressing gratitude to God for His goodness to her, and testified to the truth of the gospel.

President A. H. Lund spoke of the great pleasure it afforded him to listen to the testimonies of the veterans, and referred to the great work accomplished through the labors of the late Apostle Erastus Snow. He related a prophesy by the Prophet Joseph that many would become members of the Church from the northern countries, which had been fulfilled. He related interesting incidents in the early history of the Church in Denmark, and admonished the Scandinavians to merit the good repute they enjoyed, closing by reference to the important part played by the Scandinavians in the world's history.

Elder Andrew Jensen spoke of the history of the Scandinavians in the Church and the creditable part they had taken. He spoke of the early connection of representatives of the Scandinavians with the Church in America, and the result that followed the introduction of the gospel in Scandinavia by Apostle Snow. Vocal selections were rendered by the Provo Scandinavian choir, assisted by members of the Spring City choir, and the Provo male chorus and solos were rendered by Miss M. J. Peterson of Logan, Miss Lena Jensen of Salt Lake and Mr. Hagbert Anderson of Ogden.

In the evening a fine concert was given in which Prof. A. C. Lund and other local singers and some of the talented visitors appeared and brief speeches were made by several prominent speakers who were attending the reunion.

Dinner and luncheon was provided for the visitors in the basement of the old tabernacle by the Provo sixth ward, and Prof. Saur's band played on the lawn during the noon recess and after the afternoon meeting. Most of the excursionists returned to their homes on the evening trains.

The speakers were Elder Charles W. Penrose, Elders George Reynolds, Abel J. Evans, and Jesse Bean, the latter having accompanied the remains from Albany to Lindou. The deceased was 19 years of age. He was an orphan and had been raised by his uncle, C. J. Johnson, of Lindou. He was on a mission in New York at the time of his death. Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Emma R. McLeod were held yesterday at Pleasant Grove at the residence of A. D. Otin.
