Dutch Taking Sides with Boers-Gen. Methuen's Protest - British Plans of Advance.

London, Nov. 25 .- The news of the death of the khalifa and the final defeat of the dervishes has been received here with great joy as a welcome set off to the serious situation in South Africa. A dispatch from Queenstown, Cape Colony, Gen. Gatacre's headquarters, announces that four hundred colonial rebels, including an ex-magistrate of Barkly-East, have jointed the enemy at the latter place and that the whole force is reported to be marching in Dordecht, whence it can operate, to intercept Gen. The sentence was pronounced, it will be remembered, a considerable the ago, and Bacon took an appeal. Pending a final decision he rebained at liberty under bonds. Recently, the case was finally passed the by the circuit court at St. Paul, the judgment being affirmed. It was hen supposed that Bacon's last hope of escaping imprisonment was gone, and as the ex-banker had expressed his determination to die rather than to to jail, a good many people woul not have been surprised had he athed out the threat at once. The general belief was, however, that the st-banker would suffer a short term in the penitentiary, and then secure t pardon from the penitentiary.

However, Mr. Bacon had other ideas on the subject. The execution of e sentence could not be carried out until the papers were received from It Paul, and taking advantage of this, Mr. Bacon hurried on to Washingbe to present his petition for a pardon. In this, it appears, he is secaded by Pormer Comptroller Eckels, who is represented as having preinted the matter strongly. "Got any loot?" asked a soldier.

"Yes," was the grim reply from the maimed man, "in my blooming leg." There is much discussion now as to whether Gen. Methuen intends to march direct to Kimberley or double around and cut off the Free Staters, who have invaded the Colesburg and Burghers-drop district, and, driving them on Gens. Gatacre and French, inflict a crushing defeat on them. The general opinion, however, is that he will proceed north and attack the Boers at Modder river, thus relieving Kimberley. There is much anxiety now as to the fate of Mafeking, in view of the latest and somewhat despondent advices. It was rumored in the Glasgow stock ex-change today that Mafeking has surrendered, but the war office officials de-clare they have nothing confirmatory or otherwise In the meanwhile the news from Natal is not encouraging. Esteourt and the Mooi river camp are both hard pressed and it seems almost a joke to regard the garrison as form-ing part of the relief force for Ladysmith

A dispatch from Pretoria, dated Thursday, gives a dispatch from south of Ladysmith, to the effect that Gen. Joubert that morning shelled Estcourt camp but without response. The in-habitants of the town were reported to be leaving. A dispatch from Pretoria also indicates that news of the battle of Bel-mont had reached Pretoria, as it says mont had reached Fretoria, as it says "heavy fighting is reported south of Kimberley today between the Free Staters and a supposed British relief force from the Orange river."

The foregoing dispatch also refers to the British attack on the Boer position at Willow Grange, outside of Estcourt, the previous day, which was reported by the English newspaper correspondents. The attack is said to have been a surprise, and although the British re-tired on Estcourt, they did not do so until they had bayonetted eighty Boers and captured all their equipment and a number of horses. A big gun posted in position, the capture of which ap-pears to have been the British objective, was found to have been removed. The story is thus circumstantial. No fficial confirmation is yet forthcoming. An official statement was issued at Boers south of the Mool river. Upon the affidavit of Judge O. W. Powers the trial of John H. Benbrook, set for December 18th, was continued by Judge Norrell today until Monday, January 15th. 1900,

In his affidavit Judge Powers sets forth that he is one of the attorneys for Benbrook, having main charge of the case, and that for more than three weeks past he has been attending court in Nephi, which prevented his being present in the city when his client's case was set for trial. He further says that in his judgment Benbrook should be allowed more time for a proper prep-aration of a defense. To confer with witnesses and to ascertain their where-abouts consumes time, and Judge Pow-ers says it will take at least sixty days to properly attend to these matters. There being no objection on the part of the prosecution, Judge Norrall con-tinued the case and reset Benbrook's trial for January 15th, of next year.

The reasons for his silence Mr. Stephens has no means of knowing, but he will probably telegraph him within the next two or three days. SALT LAKE HAS A MILK COMBINE Regular Organization Perfected --- Price Will be Raised and Quantity Reduced After December 1-Nearly all the Daries Included.

Salt Lake City now has a milk combine and after December 1st every consumer in the community who does not own a cow, but who uses milk. will have to pay more for it than at present.

The raise in price and decrease in quantity is the direct result of an association regularly formed by the dairymen of the city. Definite plans to this end were first laid one week ago yesterday when the initial meeting was held and concluded yesterday afternoon when the final session toek place. The proceedings were secret, and not until today were they given to the public

The articles have been drawn up and agreed to. Fourteen dairymen and firms have signed the instrument and it is stated that others will do so immediately, though the organization now embraces practically all the dealers of consequence in the city. C. J. O. Irwin is president; O. I. Shugren, vice president; W. S. McDonnell, secretary and treasurer,

Heretofore milk has been selling at the rate of twenty quarts for a dollar. Under the rules of the combine sixteen quarts only will be given and the business put on a strictly cash basis as soon as possible. In explanation of the raise the milkmen take the same ground as the coal dealers when their stock in trade went up, that is it is costing them more money to conduct their business now than formerly. They explain that the price of hay and grain has advanced materially over that of last year, and that they are thus compelled to organize for mutual protection, and that there is not the slightest desire to mulct the public. On the contrary, they expect to give better milk and cream and enforce stricter sanitary regulations than heretofore. They also pledge their faith to taboo the use of all milk and food preservatives.
