LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, JULY 17.

Emigration.—The next (fourth) company of this season's emigration which will leave Liverpool August 29th, is expected to number about 600 British. The last company of the season will leave Liverpool in October.

Fatal Termination.—A short time since we stated that a boy named J. T. Burt, son of James Burt, of Eden, Weber County, was accidentally shot on Monday, July 9th. We now learn from the Ogden Herald that he died of his injuries on the 11th.

Lost Trunk.—There remains in the Custom House, New York City, a yellow tin trunk, no marks. Any one having lost such a trunk will please forward the key to Bishop Edward Hunter's office, describe contents, and it will be forwarded to him.

Their Old Tricks.—Tom Lawson, a notorious thief, is in limbo again. This time he is charged with stealing a quantity of horse shoes, weighing fifty pounds, from a shop on Commercial Street. The stolen property was recovered by the police, and Tom acknowledged having purloined it. He also asserted that his old companion in crime, Sam Newton, was his accomplice in the concern.

Water Supply.—Yesterday, Councilor Smith and Aldermen A. H. Raleigh and C. H. Crow, accompanied by Watermaster Wilcken, visited the proposed source of water supply for the residents of the North Bench now in process of development. Thus far, by digging and fluming, the quantity now concentrated at a given point is 180,000 gallons in the 24 hours, which can be largely increased by further labor.

City Creek Quantity.—Yesterday Mr. Ottinger, Superintendent of Water Works, measured the amount of water that was flowing down City Creek, immediately above the works but below the point where the 20th Ward ditch is taken out. He found the quantity to be 8,092 gallons per minute. By the simple process of multiplication this will be found to be 485,520 gallons an hour; 5,826,240 in twelve hours, and 11,652,480 every full day of 24 hours.

A Dyer Wants Work.—David Govan, who recently arrived from the "Old Country," is out of employment and anxious to get work. He is a dyer by trade, and although his specialty is in manipulating cotton fabrics, he can also do dyeing in almost any kind of goods. He carries certificates from establishments in which he was employed in Scotland, having been under-foreman in one institution for a number of years, by the proprietors of which he is recommended as a steady and intelligent workman. He can be heard of at this office.

Suicide at Camp.—On Sunday, James Robinson, Company A, Sixth Infantry, entered the barber shop at Fort Douglas, seized a razor and cut his throat. Lieut. Stevens and others tied up the severed arteries pending the arrival of the surgeon, who soon appeared and attended to him surgically. Robinson being subsequently left for a short time unguarded, he tore away the dressing and re-opened the wound, the consequence being that he shortly afterwards died. It was evident that he had been rendered temporarily insane by hard drinking, to which he was addicted.

Obtained Bail.—Yesterday O. F.

Due, who was committed to jail about three months since on a charge of polygamy, obtained his release by giving the required security. On the representation of an attorney the court consented to reduce the amount of bail from $2,500 to $1,500, and yesterday Mr. Due being allowed to leave the penitentiary to attend to some matter connected with a civil suit, went around among his friends, accompanied by a guard, and obtained the required bondsmen. He has resumed business, which, during his incarceration, has necessarily fallen off considerably. Under the circumstances it would be the handsomest thing for his friends to rally, throw patronage in his way, and thus aid in placing him on his feet financially. He is an able horticulturist.

Base Ball Matters.—The excursion to Ogden on the 24th, managed by Messrs. Dunbar and Whitney, promises to be a big affair, and numbers of Salt Lakeers will doubtless avail themselves of the cheap rates, to join in the celebration exercises in Ogden. The principal item of interest, will be the return game of base ball between Salt Lake and Ogden, the Olympics, going up to play the third game in the championship series, on the Athletic new grounds. The Olympics will be strengthened by the addition of Mr. Duke and Mr. Reed of the Old Deserets, and the Ogdenites will have their regular pitcher Allen, who was not here on the 4th. The fare is $2.00 for the round trip, and includes admission to the Grand Stand to witness the match. Tickets will be sold at Daynes', Leviberg's, Daynes & Coalter's, and by either of the managers.

New Class in Midwifery.—Dr. Roumania B. Pratt announces by advertisement that she will commence a new class in midwifery on October 8th, at 1 o'clock p. m., at her office, over Goodie, Pitts and Co's drug store. Her school in this important branch of medicine, was established in 1878, and has been eminently successful, she having instructed two classes a year from that time. Dr. Pratt is not only conversant with the theory of the subject in its details, but her active practical experience adds an important feature to her power to communicate correctly all necessary information to her pupils. The office is pleasant and central, and as the whole time is spent upon the subject in hand, the student is enabled to go to work at once. Students from a distance can, by taking rooms and boarding themselves, get along on comparatively limited expenses. For terms, see the advertisement.

Zion's Benefit Building Society.—Last evening, at a meeting of the directors of Zion's Benefit Building Society, it was decided, in view of the present demand for loans being necessarily, on the start, beyond the funds on hand, to offer an inducement for stockholders to pay up their dues for one year. After a close calculation it was concluded that it would be safe for the society to make a discount of three percent, upon all payments for one year, and then place the parties thus advancing their dues on the same footing, at the end of the fiscal year when the dividend is declared, with the stockholders making their regular monthly payments. It is not intended, however, to take payments for any longer time ahead than one year, for which period the payment would amount to $6 upon each share.

The society requires a good start, and it can be aided in its incipency by those who elect to make yearly advance payments. Its prospects are excellent, and in connection with it, in the opinion of those familiar with its details, there is "no such word as fail." The good ship is cautiously moving out of the comparatively contracted harbor, soon to sail upon the sea of thrift on her voyage to the haven of prosperity.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, JULY 18.

Arrival and Appointment.—Ezra F. Martin, who was called at the late General Conference in Salt Lake City to fill a mission to England, but who was unable to come when the other missionaries did en-account of sickness, arrived here on the 23d ult. per S. S. Wyoming. He has been assigned to the Nottingham Conference.—Millennial Star, July 2d.

The Horse-Shoe Case.—This morning Tom Lawson was fined $25 and $7.25 costs for stealing horse-shoes from Mr. Rideout. Yesterday he stated that Sam Newton was his accomplice in the theft, but in court to-day he exculpated him from any connection with the affair, and Sam was, as a matter of course, discharged.

At the Court House.—Of late, in consequence of the effects of an accident, Judge Elias Smith has been unable for some time, until recently, to go to the Court House, and has been obliged to transact official business at a temporary office at his residence. His many friends will be pleased to learn that he has so far recovered as to be able, during the past few days, to resume his post at the official rooms of the county.

An Anti-Tobacco Prize.—The Superintendent of the First Ward Sunday School was presented by Brother C. R. Savage, a short time ago, with an Oxford Sunday School Bible handsomely bound, gilded, and profusely illustrated with maps, references and concordance. It was given as a prize to the oldest scholar belonging to the Sunday School who had never used tobacco in any form. Last Sunday the award was made to Brother Arnold P. Shultless, aged 18 years.

Surprisingly Obtained.—Mr. Hampton, of the 20th Ward, has been annoyed of late by some party paying occasional visits to his barn and relieving him of the necessity of having his cow milked by a member of the family. He would prefer the individual to adopt the more open and honest plan of calling around at seasonable hours with his bucket and getting a reasonable amount of the lactical fluid. If the individual should happen to be caught on one of his night trips he will not be likely to return on the same errand in a hurry.

Death of a Missionary.—We take the following from the Millennial Star of July 2nd:

We are very sorry to have to record the death of one of our missionaries, Elder Shadrach Jones, who departed this life at Swansea on the 24th inst., at 5 p. m. He arrived in England scarcely two months previous to his death, and then appeared to be in his usual health though he had suffered somewhat from seasickness while crossing the Atlantic. He was assigned to the Welsh Conference, and after his arrival in his field of labor displayed considerable energy in seeking to spread the knowledge of the Gospel. He took cold, however, through sleeping in a damp bed, was affected with a very bad cough and soreness of the lungs, and after lingering about three weeks, during which time everything was done to relieve him that kindness could suggest, he finally succumbed to death. He did not feel as if he was going to die until near the last, and made no complaints; indeed, we did not learn of his illness until a week before his death.

His home was in Willard City, Box Elder County, Utah, where his wife survives him, and where he was very much respected. He was fifty years of age; he has lived a most worthy and exemplary life, has devoted much of his time during the past few years to laboring upon the Logan Temple, was a firm adherent to and earnest advocate of the principles of the Gospel and has now gone to meet his reward with a full assurance of his Father's approval.

His last charge to Elder Jenkins, who waited upon him, was that no sectarian should be allowed to speak at his funeral. President Smith, on learning of his death, proceeded to Swansea and made arrangements for his burial, which took place at Forest Fach, about three miles from Swansea, on the 27th inst. The funeral service was held in the Baptist chapel and remarks were made by Presidents J. H. Smith and David Lewis. There were also five other Elders present.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, JULY 19.

Bad Boys.—Last evening four boys, whose ages are from eight to thirteen years, were arrested on a charge of stealing several pairs of shoes from Solomon Brothers. Three pairs of the stolen articles were recovered, but they had been worn by the youthful thieves.

The same lads have also to answer to a charge of having made a practice of wilfully killing a number of chickens belonging to Mr. Samuel Ewing, with flippers.

Carp Fish.—Dr. J. D. M. Crockwell, Clear Lake Fish Farm, Millard Co., sends the following:

Please publish that the Hon. Spencer F. Baird has sent me 25 blank applications for carp. Persons sending me the description of their pond, with post office, and express office addresses and nearest railroad station, I will fill out and forward their applications, or send postal card to the applicant, provided a stamp for postage accompany the letter.

A Capital Idea.—Mayor Jennings has struck upon a capital idea for giving some temporary relief on the water question to a portion of the people residing on the North Bench. The work of boring in the artesian well is necessarily suspended for a time. It contains a considerable body of water, and as the engine, which has been used for boring operations is now idle, his plan is to pump the water out, run it into the upper ditch, and thus utilize this as a partial supply for the time being. The suggestion appears to be excellent, and it is to be hoped it will be put in operation as soon as the required curbing is put into the well.

Northern Nominations.—The County and District Conventions held at Logan on Saturday last, made the following nominations:

Councilor to the Territorial Legislature—J. T. Hammond, Representatives to the Territorial Legislature—Fred Turner, Joseph Howell.

Probate Judge—J. Z. Stewart. Selectmen—Full term, Fred Turner; unexpired term of two years, A. A. Allen, unexpired term of one year, P. T. Morehead.

Assessor and Collector—Lyman R. Martinez.

County Clerk—Willard W. Maughan.

County Recorder—John A. McAlister.

Prosecuting Attorney—Willard W. Maughan.

Superintendent of District Schools—W. H. Apperly.

Coroner—John E. Carlisle.

Sheriff—N. W. Crookston.

Another Sweep.—The railroad "spotter" has been doing some extensive work on the U. & N., and as a result, during the latter part of last week, every passenger conductor on the entire U. & N. division, and every freight conductor except two, received orders to turn over their trains and crews to their successors, and apply to the Superintendent at Eagle Rock for further particulars.

Not one of the passenger conductors was retained and only two freight conductors remain on the road. All were discharged without any opportunity to say a word in self defense, which certainly seems hard. The alleged reason for the wholesale discharge of conductors is dishonesty in appropriating money collected on the train, or "knocking down" as the act is technically called by the punching fraternity.

Of some of the boys with whom we are acquainted we would be very reluctant to believe reports of dishonesty. But the testimony of the spotters seems to be conclusive with the railroad officials.—Utah Journal.

Old Time "Mormons."—We have been enabled to peruse a letter to Brother Andrew Jensen, of this city, from Elder Charles M. Nelson, now laboring as a missionary in Minnesota. He states that he recently visited Girard, Otter Tail County, in that State, in company with Elder Buchanan. They held meeting in a school-house, the larger portion of the congregation being composed of former "Mormons," who left the Church in Nauvoo times and followed Alpheus Cutler. They first settled in Iowa, where Cutler died and another man was appointed in his stead. They next removed to Minnesota, and dwindled so that they decided to give up holding any religious services. The Josephites have tried to convert them to their views, but met with no success. The "Cutlerites," as they are called, appear, according to Brother Nelson, to be a kind and honest people, and were quite hospitable to the Elders.

He also says that the remnant of Sidney Rigdon's following numbers about seven families, who are located about 200 miles from Girard, and have long since ceased to exist as a religious body.

Terrible Accident at Ogden.—A lamentable accident occurred yesterday about one o'clock, at the Ogden depot of the U. C. Ry. The Herald of that town gives the following details:

A fearful accident occurred, this afternoon, at 1 o'clock, at the Utah Central depot. A young man, John Burton, resident of this city, and employed for several years as brakeman on the Utah Central road, while engaged in switching a train, was standing on the end of a car in the act of pulling out a coupling-pin. The train gave a sudden jerk and Burton fell under the car with his right arm over the rail. Three wheels passed over his arm, completely crushing it from the elbow to the shoulder. His head was somewhat bruised in the fall and it is thought he sustained injuries in the back by the brake, but to what extent is not known at present.

The injured man was taken to his residence on Main St. between Second and Third streets. Dr. Richards, the U. C. Surgeon, was immediately dispatched from this city, and he and D. Mitchell, of Ogden, amputated the mutilated arm about one inch below the shoulder joint.

A gentleman who saw the patient this morning states that he passed a very fair night and was feeling comparatively comfortable. He has been working as a railroad hand about ten years, and is generally respected.

Washington Dunn Dead.—Col. Washington Dunn, a prominent railroad contractor, well known throughout the entire West, died suddenly on Monday night, on board a train bound from Portland, Oregon, to Missoula, Montana. As he has many acquaintances in this locality, we give the following from the Butte Miner:

He was found in his berth in a Pullman sleeper, cold in death. The moment of his demise or the exact cause of death are unknown, but he had been long subject to severe attacks of erysipelas, and it is believed that he died of paralysis of the heart superinduced by that disease. During the past seven years Washington Dunn has been one of the most conspicuous figures in the, at first patient and toiling, but latterly gigantic operations which have brought about the railroad era, upon which Montana is just entering. In 1876 he contracted with Jay Gould to build the first 100 miles of the Utah & Northern north of Franklin, Idaho, upon the completion of which he undertook the construction of the line to Silver Bow Junction.

The latter contract was finished in October, 1881, after which he severed his connection with the road, which had in the mean time passed into the control of the Utah & Northern Company, and connected himself with the construction department of the Northern Pacific Railroad, of which he may be said to have graded the entire road bed from Bozeman to the Pond d'Oreille.

The deceased was in the prime of life, being but forty-five years of age.

If you are sick and troubled with dyspepsia, Brown's Iron Bitters will cure you.

A stand fell down with a crash, a number of men it did mash, but the entire ten were soon well again.—St. Jacobs Oil cured every gash.

A baker who lives in Duluth, went crazy one night with a tooth, he rubbed the gum boil, with St. Jacobs Oil, it cured him, and this is the truth.
