DISTRICT COURT NOTES.

Important Priesthood and Sunday School Meetings-Popular Lectures. Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., May 6.—Suit has been filed in the Fourth district cour-by Lewis S. Robinson, administrator of the estate of Mary Richards, decrased, against Joseph E. Thorne, administra-tor of the estate of Ellen Greenhalgh, deceased. Plaintiff alleges that on Jan-uary 8th, 1901, defendant wroagfully and additionate the state of the and without right came into postession of $5,114 cash, and household goods to the value of $125, which he has re-fused to deliver to plaintiff, who claims that said property belongs to the er-tate of Mary Richards, of which plain tiff was appointed administrator April 6th, 1961. Mrs. Greenhalgh died at Pleasant Grove in January of this year nd left the property in question. Richards, who died later, was a friend of Mrs. Greenhalgh and waited upon her during her sickness. It is under-stood that the plaintiff will claim that at the time Mrs. Richards was attending Mrs. Greenhalph the latter gave Mrs. Richards her keys and told her to look after her (Mrs. Greenhalph's) roperty, which will probably not be lisputed, and also that Mrs. Greenhalgh gave her personal property to Mrs. Richards; and that the suit is brought on the strength of this alleged gift of the property in dispute. That such a gift was made will be disputed by the administrator of the Greenhalgh state Estate of Jos. X. Thomas, deceased;

John P. Smith Crushed Between Two Freight Cars.

Special Correspondence.

Eureka, Juab Co., May 5 .-- Last evening at about 5 o'clock John P. Smith fell between two freight cars on the Rio Grande Western switch near the Centennial Eureka ore house and was almost instantly killed. Mr. Smith was employed by the Centennial Eureka Mining company and it was his duty to fill the cars with ore from the ore house and after they had been filled he would loosen the brakes and let them run slowly down the grade to make room for other empty ones. The railroud company had switched a few cars on to the track above the ore bins and Smith loosened the brakes to let one of the cars down the grade as had been his custom when in some manner the car became unmanageable and run away down the grade past the ore house, and after going about fifty yards beyond bumped into another car

The Chestnut boy and some others were playing marbles on the street, when Ross Collett, about ten years old, son of Mr. R. E. Collett, came into the crowd with the gun. He had been out shooting sparrows. He stood watching the boys and talking to them or a short time, when he spied a spar row, and proceeded to load his gun, using a B B cartridge. While in the act of letting down the hammer, the Chestnut boy moved quickly, striking the gun barrel and causing Collett's thumb to slip from the hammer, explod-

He and his a prominent man of Upton, died at Henefer this morning at 7:40 oclock. Mr. Judd was hauling a load of wool to Echo last Monday, April 29th, and companion were at once taken care of, and isolated in a building some distance from town. Mr. Boyle is quite when crossing the tracks south of that place, fell off the load and struck on his By the fall he was injured in sick at present, but it is thought not the spine and also internally, but it was not thought seriously at first. He was taken into Echo where Dr. French dangerous. The man who is with him has not developed any symptoms as yet.

BOUNTEOUS RAINS.

We are in the midst of a glorious storm of rain and snow, which is a boon to both farmer and stockman. Yesterday, however, was a terribly windy day. It was one of the worst wind storms in the history of Beaver. It is reported that in the west end of the county the ground was so loose and dry that the grain was being blown out of the soil: this magnifi-cent rain will remedy that. Orchards are clothing themselves in their flow erv garb, and prospects for fruit in this city are very promising, if the frost king does not interfere.

DEATH OF A PROMISING BOY.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gentry have the sympathy of the whole communi-ty in the loss of their little son Am-brose Leon, who died April 24th of mebraneous croup, and would have been seven years old on the 30th of the present month. He was a remark-able child, kindly and affectionate in his regard for his parents and ac-quaintances. He had a premonition of his death, as he told his mother on the morning before he died that he was going to die. A peculiar feature of the little fellow's death is the fact that he is the first one to die out of 50 grandchildren of the Hon. W. L. H. Dotson. It is a rare occurrence that so many grandchildren should be born to one grandparent without the ranks being decimated by death.

YOUNG LAWBREAKERS.

Much rowdylsm is manifest in the Much restruction of property and triv-ial thieving in this city at present. Some parties are extremely busy in Some parties are extremely busy in breaking into public and private buildbreaking into public and private build-ings by breaking the lower panels of the doors. The home of Mr. L. E. Farnsworth was visited last Saturday in the absence of the folks, and two panes of glass were removed and the lower panel of the door broken out, the first source of contagion, and no new case has occurred since the 10th of April outside of the eight families quarantined during the two weeks, and three days previous to that date. In every case a neighbor has volunteered to attend to the wants of the family under quarantine, and there must be but as nothing was missed, the mis-creant was probably scared away. Justice Benson had three boys before him standing on the track. Mr. Smith was standing at the front end trying to birth to a beautiful boy and all seemed well, but blood poison set in and notvork the brake and when the cars came withstanding all that medical skill and everything else could do, Sister Han-sen passed away at 6:10 a. m., the 30th allow Smith to fail between and then as they closed together for the second Ter funeral was held May 2nd, ult. time his back was crushed between the drawheads of the two cars. A numand the church was crowded with loving friends and neighbors. She was ber of people living in that neighbor-hood ran to his assistance and his body born at Hyrum, March 14th, 1866, and leaves a sorrowing husband and three was removed from the track, but the accident had been fatal and death was little children. She was loved by all who knew her, not only in her womanalmost instantaneous. The deceased has been a trusted em-ploye of the Centennial Eureka for some time, and leaves a wife and five children. He was about 40 years of age, and he was a member of the Church of od, but from childhood.

The forty-eight hours heavy rain caused our farmers to wear a broad smile of contentment.

Three implement companies have a long string of handsome carriages, bug-gles and wagons strung along the tithing lots and streets offering them on ing lots and streets offering them on any terms; "only sign a note, we will take your old buggy, wagon, etc., as part pay," and thus our grangers are led into debt. The wife and daughters ook with longing eyes on these shining phaetons, and "Pa," poor fellow, suc-cumbs. Thus we are growing so rich that we not only have our family doctor and attorney, but now our family carriage. De Witt's Little Early Risers search the remotest parts of the bowels and removes the impurities speedily with no. Who shall gay the riches of the heavens and the earth are not among u? I think it was Pat Lynch who once was called up in the tabernacle to speak, and said "I came to Utah many years ago poor and ragged, and now look at me fine clothes, brethren and sisters, and thin I'm ten thousand dollars in debt.

STILL CATCHING SUCKERS.

Notwithstanding the Semi-Weekly lews cautioned the people against a bilk that was going through the coun-try having a free concert and a South African sale, who had so openly bit the of Malad and Preston, Idaho, people he called at Hyrum and some of our men who should have known better, were bit very severely. One $22, another $18, and so on. The game is this: The The bunco man comes in town early, floods it with flashy hand bills, gets a few to buy first, then gives them a good ar-ticle or so and their money back. Sings a few songs, then calls out who will give me $10, five or two. Many hands are up. Now you give me this money to keep, etc., and when he has the money crowd fully worked up, he collects the cash, some get a cigar, and the game is so silly and the suckers so raw and green that a small piece of tissue paper brought a ten dollar bill. This man after living like the President on his travels, paid all expenses and calmly took from some of our smartest (we thought) young married men and others $125, and they got nit. When the show is over a carriage is walting for this artful dodger, he is well armed and is rapidly driven away, Laugh the next day, well I should say so! Some solemn people said the rascal ought to have six months in the county jall. Your correspondent said no, but the men who allowed themselves to be so easily taken in and done for, were worthy of penal servitude.
