EDITORIAL NOTES.

San Miguel Church, Santa Fe, New Mexico, is the oldest church in America. It was built in 1690.

The army worm, now on the war path in Pennsylvania, is chewing up all the tobacco, for a ton, before he attacks the grain.

A large farm near Stockton, Cal., has been completely cleaned of its crops by millions of little birds no larger than a man's thumb.

On the table lands of southwestern Arizona, at altitudes of 8,000 to 12,000 feet, a species of wild potato grows, which is said to be superior in taste and flavor to the best cultivated potatoes.

The Catholic Herald states that in six weeks the Brooklyn Bridge received $300,000 for tolls. This amounts to over a quarter of a million dollars annually, the largest receipts from a bridge ever known before.

It is still an open question whether there is or is not a planet nearer to the sun than Mercury. The American party at Caroline Island settled this question in the negative, but the French party has reached a different conclusion.

When an Edinburg, (Ill.) man climbed a tree the other night and attempted to enter the second-story window of his house in that manner, his wife naturally mistook him for a burglar, and gave him the contents of a revolver. If he recovers, he will invest in a night key.

It is said that weeds may be destroyed for years by copious watering with a solution of lime and sulphur in boiling hot water. This, if effectual, will be highly important to such as have graveled garden walks, pavements, etc., through which grass and weeds grow up.

Bradstreet's takes rather a hopeful view of the general situation of trade. Business is still under the influence of midsummer dullness, but from western centres comes the report that the demand for money from the country is beginning to be felt and that rates for the using of the same are showing considerable animation. This is regarded as the first sign of the awakening of fall trade.

From a variety of sources the wealth of the members of the United States Supreme Court is thus represented. Judge Blatchford is said to be worth at least $5,000,000, and is childless—nobody but his wife and self. Stanley Matthews is said to be worth $300,000 at the very lowest estimate; while Justice Wood's fortune is stated to be at least $100,000. Chief Justice Waite is said to have at least $150,000; Justice Field $650,000, and Justice Gray, the bachelor of the lot, is said to be worth $160,000. Justice Bradley is said to be worth $500,000, while Justices Miller and Harlan are both poor men. Their only income is said to be their salaries—$10,000 per annum.

PLAYING PARROT.

Is a traveler were to take a flying trip through this great country and on his way should stop twenty-four hours in Montreal as the guest of a Government official, and on the strength of the visit should pretend to know all about Canada, its political situation and necessities, its social system and the extortions needed to regulate its alleged errors, he would be looked upon as an egotistical idiot. But let the same thing be done in relation to Utah, and the utterances of the conceited oracle are paraded in print as the essence of wisdom, and reporters run after the talking tourist to obtain his views for the enlightenment of a wondering world.

There is Governor Crittenden, for instance, dispensing his paucity for the supposed ill of Utah, after a brief call at Salt Lake and obtaining his ideas of "Mormon" affairs from Governor Murray of mathematical fame. The telegraph credited him with a non-essential paragraph when he arrived at Ogden on his way to the west to which little credence was attached, because Ogden is notorious for manufacturing bogus telegrams about Salt Lake affairs. But we see from the Denver News that Governor Crittenden has been talking similar stuff in the Colorado capital. The News states that in reply to a question of its reporter the gentleman said:

"I am confident that the Mormon question cannot be settled by the operations of the Edmunds law. There are 120,000 Mormons to deal with, and it will require something more efficacious to deal with the question than this law. The Gentiles made no opposition to the late election, as it would have been easier for the Mormons to bring able to vote them in to one. The claim is made that a monogamous Legislature was elected, but this will remain to be seen. The commission will await the action of this Legislature before doing anything."

"What would you substitute for the Edmunds law?" "I believe that the President of the United States ought to appoint the Legislature for the Territory. I know of no constitutional objection to a law to this effect. If the Government has the right to interfere in the Southern States, it certainly ought to have much power in the Territories."

"Do you consider this necessary in Utah?" "Yes, undoubtedly. There never was in Southern States, if there was such an organization at all, such a thoroughly organized system of blackmail as exists in Utah against the Gentiles."

"Would not the Mormons let the Gentiles alone if the latter attended to their own business and did not attempt to interfere with their institutions?" "Yes; if let to themselves the Mormons would not allow a Gentile to settle in the Territory. As it is, they will transact no business with the Gentiles and do all in their power to injure them. Let a Gentile take a ranch and he has once more persecuted and interfered with by depriving him of water privileges and other rights that he finds it impossible to succeed in his undertaking. There is one fact which goes to prove that the Mormons will not allow the Gentiles their constitutional rights is that you cannot find a single Gentile in the Territory who does not complain of the Mormon persecution. There are many highly respectable Gentiles, men who are not carried upon, but who are all united in their complaint of the Mormon interference with their rights."

Did you talk any with the Mormons? "Oh, yes, and they are very adroit in their arguments. Of course they have had time to prepare an able defense as possible for their system. There is no system in the world which cannot be supported by argument. We visited the temple and heard Bishop Woodruff speak. He was aware that there were strangers present, however, and was prepared for the occasion, delivering a conservative and adroit sermon. The fact remains, however, there is need of effective governmental interference to protect the citizens in their rights, and know of no better way to do so than to have the President appoint the Legislature."

We are doubtful as to which party should be supplied the palm for sensibility, the Governor of Missouri or the Mayor of Denver. If the gentleman is vain and childish for supposing that a look at Salt Lake City and a talk with a bitter anti-Mormon qualified him to suggest to the country a solution of the "Mormon" problem, the newspaper that hung upon his words was quite as simple and silly, in thinking that he could say anything of the subject that would be of any value because he had sniffed the breezes from our saline lake, and had sat at the table of Utah's executive. Why, he hadn't "gumption" enough to know that the "Mormons" do not hold public service in the Temple—an unfilled building anyhow—and that the speaker he heard is not a Bishop. He had the egotism, however, to think President Woodruff's remarks were framed specially for his ears, while everybody who knows the speaker understands that he does not frame his speeches to please anybody, but always talks that which is prompted at the moment. These are small things, but they show Governor Crittenden's inaccuracy. They would be perfectly pardonable in a stranger making a short visit and unfamiliar with our affairs here, but when they come from one playing Sir Oracle, we have a right to look for some degree of correctness.

Governor Crittenden says whether a monogamous Legislature has been elected will remain to be seen. No one here has ever cast a doubt upon that fact. It is undisputed. But he believes that the President of the United States ought to appoint the Legislature for the Territory. Really, and for what reason? "To protect people and property." Has any one told him that people and property are not protected in Utah? If so, they simply lied to him. There is nothing akin to Ku-Kluxism in Utah, and there is no "Gentile" persecuted in the Territory in regard to water privileges or anything of the kind. We do not doubt that he was told a lot of stuff like that he gave to the Denver reporter, but it was nothing more nor less than lying. A non-Mormon who has been for some time in this city expressed in our hearing, but a few days ago, his surprise on finding out that otherwise respectable men—"Gentiles"—living in Salt Lake City whom he had met and supposed to be gentlemen, when they talked about the "Mormons" would positively lie, as he had proven to his satisfaction. Somebody has evidently been lying to Governor Crittenden, and his blame is in repeating the falsehoods told to him as facts and as if they had come under his own observation.

Just think of the absurdity of the statement that "the Mormons will not allow the Gentiles their constitutional rights!" Whoever heard anything worse than that, unless it was the rubbish that was given for truth to poor General Groves, and which he was silly enough to publicly repeat in this city, where its falsehood and absurdity were known to all men, instead of keeping it like Governor Crittenden's nonsense, for people who do not understand the situation.

Neither Governor Crittenden, Governor Murray nor any other "Gentile" can point his finger at a single right of which he is deprived by "Mormon" influence. There is no such thing. What right enjoyed in any part of the Union is denied to a "Gentile" in Utah? He cannot vote for President of the United States. Is that the fault of the "Mormons"? And his friends cannot shoot men of their own number to local offices. Whose fault is that? They are in the minority and have plotted and schemed and are trying still to take away the political rights of the majority, and have thus strengthened the union of the latter against themselves. Whose fault is that? Then the minority have all the Federal offices, every place worth a cent that is in the gift of the Government, but they want all there is, and therefore cannot be satisfied. If their votes do not count for anything in local elections because they are too few, whose fault is that? If they belonged to the losing party in an election in any part of the country, how much would their votes amount to in the end? Just as much as they do here, and no more.

The statement that "if left to themselves the 'Mormons' would not allow a Gentile to settle in the Territory," is a piece of information that would make Governor Crittenden the laughing stock of the country, if similar falsehoods were not told very frequently. Why, there were "Gentiles" in Utah who made fortunes in merchandise, while the "Mormons" were in complete control of affairs, before the railroad was projected, and while the people here were in a daze. This is nothing in the "Mormon" faith nor in "Mormon" practices that warrants such a notion. And it is nothing but an opinion, not of Governor Crittenden's, for he has not expressed an original thought on the "Mormon" question, but one put into his head from the same source as his other errors. He is only playing parrot.

The truth is that the batch of tom-foolery, gravely repeated by Governor Crittenden and published by the Denver News, was manufactured long ago by the little clique in this city that is working for the appointment of a Legislative Commission to control the Territory, by which they and their friends may gain possession of our local treasury and steal Utah blind. That is the whole story. There is no part of the country where a man or woman of any creed or party, or none at all, is safer, or is better protected in the rights commonly enjoyed than in Utah, and every man in this city, be he Governor, Judge, parson, or editor who says to the contrary, knows that he lies for the purpose of deceiving the country and for nefarious and wicked ends. And those who swallow these stories and repeat them as facts, ought to despise themselves for their folly, and their vain repetitions ought to find no place in the columns of a respectable newspaper.

A Water Famine.

GALVESTON, 17.—This city is on the verge of a water famine. The cisterns are drained, the gardens are dried up and the effect of the drought is plainly seen in the poverty of the vegetable market. For weeks past many persons have been dependent on the liberality of neighbors for water enough to drink, having exhausted the usual supply.

A Business Bail.

SAN FRANCISCO, 17.—The ball tendered to the Knights Templar last evening at the pavilion was largely attended; 7,000 persons being present. Dancing commenced at ten o'clock. The building was handsomely decorated and the floors stretched with canvas. The object of the triennial committee in giving the ball in advance of official proceedings was to raise money to provide for after expenses. The receipts are estimated at $7,500, representing about $4,000 net.

Striking Weavers.

PHILADELPHIA, 17.—The striking tapestry weavers employed by Horace Bros., appointed a committee to induce two men to be held in work to return. The strikers declined to march in a body to the mills yesterday and demand wages remaining unpaid. A meeting of all the tapestry weavers will be held to-day at the falls of the Schuylkill.

Increased Earnings.

NEW YORK, 17.—The approximate gross earnings of the D. & H. G. railroad, including the Utah leased line, for the second week of August are $1,800,000, against $1,120,000 for the corresponding week a year ago. Increased earnings since the first of January $430,000.

Stocks Rising.

Matters in Wall Street have been void of excitement and a much better feeling prevailed. Bar silver 104, Central Pacific 67, Burlington 26, Northwestern 24, Northern Pacific 44, New York Central 104, Pacific Mail 23, Panama S. S. Co. 24, San Francisco 27, bid for Texas Pacific 23, Union Pacific 52, Western Union 74, and Express 24, Western Union 74, and Express 24.

The Wire War.

One of the most prominent striking telegraph operators said to-day: "The strike is practically at an end. He believed in the Brotherhood and stuck by it as long as he could, but they were beaten and might as well give it up first as last. He had signed the iron-clad oath, and would return to work to-morrow. He knew of many other operators who would endeavor to return at once."

Terrible Railroad Disaster.

LEXINGTON, 17.—The Mt. Sterling accommodation, going to Lexington, ran into the rear end of the Kentucky Central at Winchester Crossing, this morning, exploding 400 bags of giant powder. The depot was wrecked and the engineer was killed. The yard master was killed and the conductor fatally wounded.

Battle with Bedouins.

SUEZ, 16.—Two thousand Bedouins attacked the camp at Suez, and were repulsed with a loss of 60 killed. The soldiers defending the place killed seven men, the Bedouins five. Suez is 50 miles from Suez, a town in Nubia, on the Red Sea. The attack was made by the Bedouins. It is reported that Suez is also threatened with attack.

Passengers Killed.

LONDON, 17.—It is reported that an express train between Paris and Amsterdam, met with an accident between Malines and Vilvorde, Belgium, by which several passengers were killed.

Dead.

Belfast, 19.—Rev. Robert Knox, one of the leaders of the Presbyterian Council, is dead.

Peace.

LONDON, 17.—The daily Telegraph states that Waddington, French Ambassador, at his own request, has received more conciliatory instructions relative to the Tarnate affair.

Anarm or War.

Berlin, 17.—The Gross Gazette states that the Chinese have been made by the Chinese Legation at that place that it is beyond doubt a fact that China will go to war rather than relinquish her suzerainty over Anam.

American Riots.

LONDON, 17.—A mob of 600 men attacked the Jewish quarters in the City of Prague on Wednesday night. The rioters were dispersed before being much harm. The frequency of such riots is causing alarm among the authorities of Austria. The police and military officers are ordered to crush out with the utmost energy every outbreak however small. Forty of the rioters and six of the police were wounded in the riot at Prague on Tuesday. The mob subsequently forced the jail and released the rioters.

Anarchy in Spain.

PRIME MINISTER SAGASTA.

PRIME MINISTER SAGASTA has determined to restore the constitutional guarantees before the King starts on his visit to Germany, September 5th. From unofficial sources from France it is certain that there are some scattered bands still causing alarm in the north of Spain.

"NOTHING SUCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS."

The success of the John W. Lowell Wagon Co. in making sales of the J. L. Case Agitator Threshers has been most remarkable. Their traveling agent, Mr. E. A. Keeler leaves for Nepal to-day, for the purpose of making a delivery of Eleven of these famous Machines, destined for Banquet and Sovier Countries. From all parts of Utah, Nevada, Idaho and Montana, orders are being daily received for the Agitator. Although the sales for 1899 were unprecedentedly large, the sales for 1898 show an increase of over thirty per cent, and from present indications an increased sale of fifty per cent. can be looked for ere the season closes. No other threshing machine ever introduced in the Territories has attained such a wonderful popularity as the J. L. Case Agitator.
