PRISONERS DIG FOR LIBERTY

Youthful Gang of Burglars and Robbers Take Advantage of Corridor Privileges.

NEW FIRE STATION, NO. TWO.

Equipped to Fight Flames on East Bench—Fair Association Will Give Exhibit This Year.

Ogden, Jan. 10.—While making his rounds in the county jail yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Barlow Wilson discovered where an attempt had been made by some of the prisoners to dig a hole through the east wall of the jail corridor. It is surmised that the attempt to escape was made by the youthful gang of burglars and robbers who are awaiting trial in the district court. The prisoners have been permitted to walk around in the corridor of the jail every day for exercise, but from now on they will be confined in the cell corridor, with fewer liberties. The boys have been making considerable noise of late during the day, and yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Wilson was notified and examined the walls. In the bath room he found a hole about six inches in diameter where the plaster had been torn off. He was in the cell corridor when he found the hole. It is supposed the boys had only just commenced to dig out when discovered. Sheriff Wilson was locked up in the cell corridor so long as they are kept at the jail. They are about as tough a bunch of youngsters as the officers have ever had to deal with in Ogden.

INTERMOUNTAIN FAIR ASS'N.

Elects Board of Directors—Will Give Exhibition and Races.

Ogden, Jan. 10.—The Intermountain Fair association held its annual stockholders' meeting yesterday afternoon, which was fairly well attended. The reports of the officers were received. The treasurer reported a balance amounting to $3,500.50 with disbursements amounting to about the same. President Nye in his report regretted very much the lack of interest taken by the manufacturers and cattle raisers in the county in the fair given for six days last fall, and felt that the encouragement given the association was not what it should have been. Notwithstanding these conditions, the stockholders agreed to try it again this year and will hold another fair, also horse races at intervals throughout the summer. An endeavor will be made to get the canning factories, candy factory, sugar factory and other concerns to put an exhibit in the fair this year. The association was hit hard by the severe wind storm a few months ago, which practically destroyed its buildings, but these will be rebuilt just as soon as the weather will permit. The directors elected are Wm. Glasmann, O. B. Madson, J. C. Nye, O. M. Runyon, Jesse Flowers, Dr. G. W. Baker and Moroni Stone. They will meet in the near future and elect officers.

REAL ESTATE DEALERS.

Meet and Talk up Improvements of Junction City.

Ogden, Jan. 10.—The Ogden Real Estate Men's association held a lengthy meeting yesterday afternoon at the Weber club in discussing various matters for the improvement of Ogden. A matter which came up for considerable discussion was the application of various concerns and individuals for franchises from the city. That the association may be fully advised in the future as to the requests for franchises a committee composed of J. J. Brummitt, E. F. Braiz and W. A. Hickenloper was appointed to investigate all applications for franchises and make a report on the same to the association. A committee to use its influence on behalf of state legislation was appointed. The association offered its support to the smelters should they come to Weber county in helping to bring business their way and to protect them from litigation in any way.

As some of the real estate men have been having trouble in collecting rent from their tenants, and as a matter of protection to the members against "dead beat" renters, the association will keep a record of such people in the future.

The financial report was received, showing the finances to be all right, and the school report that the line will go to the legislature without a deficit. It was decided to have music for all classes in the gymnasium department, as it has been found to be helpful in teaching the children to march and get through the other exercises. Payrolls and expense accounts amounting to $4,000 were ordered paid.

WINNER OF NOBEL.

POET'S PRIZE.

The Nobel poet's prize has been won this time by Giosue Carducci. The whole of the civilized world will certainly greet most cordially the aged poet, the pride of Italian poetry, who celebrated this year in the summer his seventieth birthday. Today he is already quite a historical personage. The time is now far distant when, as an ardent champion of the future independence of Italy, he sang in honor of Mazzini as the most steadfast of patriots who knew no truth save his ideal, when with bitterness he described Italy, by means of a foreign help, creeping shyly and secretly into Rome, conjuring the geese of the capital to remain silent. Today he is numbered among those who, in modern Italy, set by their wisdom and hopes in the main fulfilled. In the realm of poetry also Carducci may take to himself the assurance that he has succeeded in his mission. When he first made his appearance as a poet he was the principal antagonist of the Italian Romanticism which had become old and enfeebled. A Tuscan through and through, filled with the spirit of the Italian humanism, which he had studied most deeply, he celebrated the sun and disregarded the pale, exhausted moon; he extolled and represented the classical rigor and independence of form as against the arbitrary looseness of rhythm and the free meters which had been long played out. He introduced into Italian poetry, as is well known, the "Old Bards," for the first time the meter of classic antiquity, after the example of the German poet, August von Platten. Enthusiasm and realist satirist and writer of lyrics all in one, he is like a crystal which reflects many-colored rays. Once more, then, the whole world will joyously accord this honor to the pride of the modern biologists.—Continental Correspondence.

CHEYENNE, WYO.

MEETING OF LEGISLATURE.

Senator Warren Vindicated and Will Be Re-elected to Succeed Himself.

Special Correspondence.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 8.—The ninth Wyoming legislature convened at noon today, meeting in joint session in the hall of the house. After prayer and temporary organization, Governor Bryant B. Brooks was escorted to the chamber and delivered his second message to a Wyoming legislature. The message was an exhaustive and interesting story of the state's progress, work of state officers, state boards and commissions, conduct of state institutions, and a series of recommendations for bettering conditions.

Hon. O. H. Brown, hold-over senator from Uinta county, was selected as president of the upper house, with George W. Perry, a banker of Sheridan county, as chief clerk.

Hon. Scott K. Sutcliffe of Sheridan county was elected speaker of the house. Charles Aeghesheimer of Larimer county was named as chief clerk.

The present week will be devoted to appointing committees, introducing bills and getting organized. Next week the regular junketing trip to the state institutions along the Union Pacific will probably be taken. This junket will probably be arranged so that members and others can attend the annual convention of the Wyoming Wool Growers' association, which meets in Rock Springs on the 15th and 16th.

SENATOR WARREN VINDICATED.

If there was any doubts in the minds of the people of Wyoming as to the attitude of the state legislature toward United States Senator Francis E. Warren with reference to the yellow journal charges against the senator, these doubts were dispelled this morning when the Republican members of the senate and house, and they constitute an overwhelming majority of the legislature, in caucus selected the senator as the party nominee to succeed himself, by a unanimous vote. And in so doing the senators not only endorsed the senator, but they showed their disbelief in the charges that have been made against Mr. Warren. Indeed, the action of the legislature may be regarded as a vindication of the Wyoming senator.

BLOOD POISON

CURE YOURSELF AT HOME

Most persons who are afflicted with Contagious Blood Poison hesitate to go to a physician for several reasons. In the first place the expense is heavy, and they know that the inevitable treatment will be mercury and potash, strong minerals that act with disastrous effects on the delicate parts of the system, and which do not, after all, really cure the disease. What they want is a safe, reliable treatment that can be taken at home and a perfect cure made of this loathsome disorder without unnecessary exposure or expense. Such a remedy is S. S. S.—it is the only medicine that goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and drives out the last trace of the poison so that there are never any signs of its return. It does not contain a particle of mineral in any form, and after removing the disease from the circulation builds up every part of the system by its fine vegetable tonic properties.

S. S. S. attacks the trouble at its head and not only permanently cures the disease for the one afflicted, but so purifies the blood that future offspring is insured against infection. S. S. S. may be taken in the privacy of your home and a perfect cure made of this hateful and loathsome trouble. For the assistance of those who are curing themselves with S. S. S.

we have prepared a special book on Contagious Blood Poison which contains instructions of great value to all blood poison sufferers. We will be glad to send a copy of this book free, and if additional instructions or advice is wanted, our physicians will furnish it without charge.
