

THE HERALD SALE FINALLY ANNOUNCED

The Republican Buys the Organ Of the Democracy.

NOW "HERALD-REPUBLICAN"

Herald Says "Senator Clark Was Offered a Price Which Justified Acceptance."

The official announcements regarding the sale of the Herald (the Democratic organ of the state) to the Inter-Mountain Republican (the Republican organ of the state) were made today in the editorial columns of both papers as follows:

The Herald says:

The Herald has been sold to an association of prominent Utah Republicans, and this issue marks its last appearance as a Democratic newspaper.
The purposes and plans of the new owners will be announced when they take possession today.

Concerning the circumstances which led to the sale of The Herald, it may be said simply that Senator W. A.
Clark, the owner of the paper, was offered a price which justified acceptance, and the deal was closed. As a matter of sentiment he would have preferred to see it continued as a Democratic newspaper, but in the absence of other negotiations he saw fit to sell, and no one can properly question his right to do so. He took the property when it was practically a derelict and sustained it at a heavy cost until it was on a paying basis. It was consistently Democratic, though not violently partisan; yet in all the years of his ownership he had no adequate expression of approval from the Democratic leaders. On the contrary, he was not infrequently arraigned most unjustly because his conception of what a newspaper should be did not agree with the idea of men who sought to profit politically by the influence of The Herald.

The Republican says:

This is the last issue of the Inter-Mountain Republican in its present form. Tomorrow patrons will receive the Salt Lake Herald-Republican, instead of the paper with which they have been familiar.

The property and good will of The Republican has been sold to a company which has also secured the Herald. And, in a sense, the paper to be published by the new company will itself be distinctly new.

All past subscriptions to The Republican will of course be filled at the present prices.

For the past several days, Mr. Hale, manager of The Republican, has been "camping" at The Herald business offices going over books, accounts and subscription lists preliminary to the transfer.

STAFF OF MERGED PAPER.

The staff of the Republican Herald throughout will be made up largely of the Inter-Mountain Republican employes, although it was stated this morning that every employee of the Herald who had applied for a position had been retained. The roster of the merged paper is as follows:

George E. Hale, general manager;
A. J. Brown, manager editor; Leo Roy Armstrong, editor; J. M. Kiskaddon, city editor; John J. Tanner, business manager; Rufus Johnson, circulating manager; Frank Sprague, mining editor; Milton Maynard, sporting editor; Mrs. Stevenson, society editor; Sid Hecker, foreman composing room; Edward Wickens, foreman stereotyping department; Will Ferris, foreman press room.

Of the reporter staff but Messrs.
Crane and Fitzgerald remain of the old Herald staff.

HIGH WATER DAMAGES.

Two claims for damages caused by the overflow of water recently were filed yesterday in the city recorder's office to be presented to the city council next week. The claims aggregate $2,000 and unless the city makes a satisfactory settlement, the matter will be taken into court. H. K. North, who lives south of the city, asks for $1,500 for the destruction of a fish pond. The damages were caused by the defective condition of a wooden culvert carrying the water of the Salt Lake and Jordan canal. Harold Van Cott makes a claim of $500 for damages to his property. Ninth South and Fifth East streets. Through the alleged faulty construction of a flume, he says his lawn and property were flooded.

OLDEST VETERAN PRESENT.

The distinction of being the oldest man in the G. A. R. parade is enjoyed by Nelson Bush, of Caliente, Nev.
Comrade Bush is still engaged in active life, and conducts a hotel at Caliente, notwithstanding the fact that he is 96 years of age. He is still vigorous, and says he never expects to get so old that he will want to go "gadding about the country without taking his wife." He has been married 52 years and Mrs.
Bush has accompanied him in all his travels. Comrade Bush enlisted in the Ninety-sixth New York Infantry, and was one of 331 survivors who returned out of a regiment numbering 1,250 men.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT.

Tonight at 7 o'clock sharp, four of the best G. A. R. bands will consolidate under the direction of Messrs. Held and Zimmerman at the Monument and News building and play 15 minutes there, after which they will march to Fourth South on Main street and counter march back to a point between First and Second South where they will render a splendid program, continuing up to the monument, where the hundred and over musicians will conclude the program with a number of selections.

The bands performing are:
Held's (official) band, Union Pacific Ellis (Kansas) band, Lyndonville band, Ladies' G. A. R. band, and Topeka Drum Corps.
They will "make the welkin ring" once more before leaving Salt Lake for their homes in the east. Following is the program: March G. A. R. (official) ...
Selection, "Little Johnny Jones," Cohan
Sextet from "Lucia," Donizetti Overture, "Poet and Peasant," Suppe
March, "Religioso," Chambers Held's official band is composed of 45 men.

OF WAR SURVIVORS NOT HALF ENROLLED

Commander Dodge Deplores This Indifference—Spirited Camplire At Armory Hall.

The Armory hall was the scene of a spirited camplire last evening, at which Department Commander LeVant Dodge of Kentucky presided. The speakers included the chairman of the meeting, and John E. Gilman of Boston, Mass., past adjutant general of the Grand Army, and musical numbers were presented by the Hawaiian Trou-badours, with vocal numbers by Mrs.
Beattie Browning, soprano, and W. R.
Richardson.

Commander Dodge in the course of his remarks said that more than one-half the survivors of the Civil war today are outside the organization of the Grand Army. This, the speaker said, was to be regretted, as one of the objects of the organization was to look out for the rights of the old soldiers into the future, of pension legislation, etc. It was also the aim of the Grand Army to restrain old soldiers from making unreasonable demands on the advice of ill-advised friends, and the action taken at Toledo last year in refusing to put the whole organization on record as endorsing extreme demands of the character referred to was one fraught with much good to the Grand Army.

WHERE VENERATION IS DUE.

"It is our own fault," said the speaker, "if we have not enthusiasm that we should have upon us at the close of the war is not continued until our death. My heart has been filled with enthusiasm and a feeling akin to awe by the men in the United States.
Seven of these were presidents of the United States, and the other was a veteran of the revolutionary war. It is my wish that the coming generation might look upon the survivors of the Civil war with the same feeling of veneration which I experience for the old veterans of the Revolution."

Comrade Gilman of Boston was then introduced. He said that one of the most wonderful transformations of the country ever witnessed was that of the transformation of the American citizen into the American soldier in time of need. "The men of the Grand Army in the days when they left their homes to go into the war not only loved the army and the cause they represented, but they loved their God," the speaker said. "They were thinking men, and knew the consequences which would follow the success of secession."

GILMAN IS COMPLIMENTARY.

In closing Comrade Gilman paid a high tribute to the people of Utah and Salt Lake City. "We will take pleasure in telling our people what kind of people you really are," he said. "The best people, the kindest hosts, the finest men and women we have ever met, are those who have entertained us here in Utah."

Comrade Gilman then responded to the request for a song and rendered "The Sword of Bunker Hill."

Mrs. Beattie Browning sang, "The Flag Without a Stain," and "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean," and the cam-plire was at an end.

OFFICIAL INVITATIONS.

Governor William Spry received a letter yesterday from William L. Saunders, secretary of the Lakes to the Gulf Deep Waterway association, informing him that President Taft had accepted an invitation to go to St. Louis this fall and travel by boat down the Mississippi river to New Orleans to attend the convention to be held there on Oct. 30. A special invitation is given to Governor Spry to make the trip in company with President Taft. The boat will leave St. Louis on Oct. 24.

Another invitation was to attend the two conventions of the International Congress on Hygiene and Demography which will be held in Washington in September.

GALLANT LEADERS FOR ENSUING YEAR

Gov. Van Sant Given Highest Honor by Unanimous Vote.

UTAH GETS SECOND PLACE

J. W. Bostaph, Ogden, Chosen Senior Vice Commander—Other Leading Positions Quickly Filled.

At the business meeting of the national G. A. R. yesterday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Commander-in-chief—Samuel R.
Van Sant of Minnesota.
Senior vice commander—J. W.
Bostaph of Utah.
Junior vice commander—Alfred B.
Beers of Connecticut.
Surgeon general—Dr. W. H. Lemon of Kansas.
Chaplain in chief—Rev. Daniel Ryan of Indianapolis.
Trustee Sinking Fund—E. S. Brice of New York.

Samuel R. Van Sant, twice governor of the state of Minnesota, and once nearly chosen as running mate for President Roosevelt, has finally reached the goal which has been his life ambition. On one occasion he said:
"I would rather lead the G. A. R. than be president."

Amid a storm of applause Gov. Van Sant, upon motion of Judge William A. Ketcham, Indiana's candidate, was unanimously chosen to occupy the honored position of Commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.
He was escorted to the chair by Judge Ketcham and, in a few well chosen words, warmly thanked his comrades for the honor conferred upon him and promised to give his entire time and best efforts to the great organization.

Harmony prevailed throughout the meeting when a nomination for senior vice commander was made. The name of J. W. Bostaph of Ogden, Utah, was presented and opposition arose, not to the candidate, but to the method of the nomination. The name was presented by George B. Squires, but R.
B. Beath, department commander of the Pennsylvania department, made a vigorous protest against the practice of giving the position to a resident of the entertaining state. He said he had nothing but praise for the candidate but declared the precedent was wrong in principle. James Tanner of Washington took the same position, although paying a high tribute to the Ogden man's war record and his service in the organization. These objections fell short of the object, as the Utah man was elected unanimously.
There was no candidate against him.

For junior vice commander there were candidates, A. Beers of Connecticut, John W. Stebbins of Vermont and William H. Hornum of Oklahoma, the first named being elected on the first ballot. Dr. William A. Lemon of Kansas defeated Dr. G. P. Conn of New Hampshire for surgeon general.

There was considerable discussion about voting by proxy, some claiming it was not according to the Grand Army rules. The discussion came up when Dr. Lemon was declared elected, and was continued when Rev.
Daniel Ryan of Indianapolis and Rev.
Thomas Harwood of New Mexico were nominated for chaplain.

CHAUFFEUR INJURED.

While showing a party of friends the city yesterday afternoon, P. F. Nevin, a machinist of the Temple garage, was thrown from his automobile with such force that he was rendered unconscious for a time and sustained several minor injuries. The accident occurred on the Fort Douglas hill. While ascending the hill, the bolt which controls the steering gear fell out, and the lurch of the machine sent Nevin pitching headlong out of the car.
When he recovered consciousness he found the bolt in the roadway and repairing the gear, was able to drive the car back to the city.

BOLD BURGLARS.

Enter House in Broad Daylight and Take $500 Worth of Plunder.

Daylight burglars entered the residence of H. F. Evans, a deputy in the county clerk's office, and residing at 571, west First South street, sometime about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and made a haul approximating $500 in value.

The thieves confined themselves to jewelry and the list of stolen articles includes: One gentleman's gold ring set with quartz stone, two ladies' gold rings set with pearls, one turquoise ring, one Odd Fellows' charm set with diamonds, one gold braided lady's chain, one gold locket, one G. A. R. post commander's badge, one G. A. R. tutton, one lady's bracelet with a diamond setting, one new suit of blue clothing for gentleman, one gold watch, one open-face watch, one gentleman's gold watch, two children's gold watches, one medal (priceless), two gold nuggets, one lady's necklace, one jewel case and one silver bracelet.

Mrs. Evans, who is preparing for an eastern trip, had gone downtown during the afternoon to make some purchases, and had carefully locked the doors, and had put away the jewelry with care, but the burglars found it.
They however, left a clue which may lead to their apprehension.

A private safe may be rented in the fire and burglar-proof vaults of the Salt Lake Security & Trust Co., 32-34
Main street, $2.00 per year.
