BY TELEGRAPH.

WASHINGTON, 7.—The chair appointed Sherman, Pendleton, Dawes, Lapham, Bayard and Morgan, to prepare a memorial on the death of President Garfield.

The chair submitted certain proceedings of the Reformed Episcopal Church Convention, in New York, on polygamy, referred.

Bills introduced: By Ingalls, to enable the people of New Mexico to form a constitution and State government, and for its admission into the Union.

By Allison, authorizing the Postmaster General to compensate the Chicago Burlington & Quincy R. R. for facilitating overland mail transportation, and for the amount due the R. O. R. & N. R. Co. for transportation of United States mail.

Hear's resolution for a special committee to consider all petitions, bills, etc., asking woman suffrage, was referred.

AMERICAN.
WASHINGTON, 7.—Senator Miller, to-day, introduced three bills by request. One directs the accounting officer of the Treasury to examine all unpaid accounts heretofore filed in the departments, of services rendered and supplies furnished under the contract of the Indian Bureau, or its agents, and in cases where such services and supplies are found to have been applied to the benefit of the Indians, to report to Congress the balance equitably due on said account, notwithstanding no sufficient appropriation existed to pay them.

The second bill provides that the fees allowed to registrars and recorders for reducing testimony to writing, shall not be taken into account in determining their maximum compensation, and that such fees deposited in the treasury since July 1st, 1877, shall be re-imbursed to them.

The third bill provides that the President may reinstate Captain Alfred Hedges in the United States army by nomination and confirmation, with his former date of commission, and assign him to the first vacancy in the infantry.

Senator Miller introduced the well known bill for the payment of some five hundred thousand dollars to Ben Holladay for losses sustained by Indian depredations, while pursuing his mail route between the States of Oregon and California.

Senator Grover, to-day, reintroduced his bill of the last Congress to reimburse to the State of Oregon $1,000,000 for expenditure during the war.

The bill introduced by Kellogg in the Senate for the establishment of United States ocean mail service and the revival of foreign commerce in American steamships is a copy of the bill introduced in January last by Secretary Blair.

Presidential Proviso.
In the Senate, to-day, Beck submitted the following:
Whereas, The Constitution of the United States provides that in case of the removal of the President from office or his disability, the duties of said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President, and that Congress may, by law, provide for the case of removal, disability, resignation or inability, both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what officer shall then act as President; and whereas, the President has been removed, or a President shall be elected, and

Whereas, It greatly concerns the peace of the nation and the very existence of government, that laws enacted by Congress in pursuance of that provision of the Constitution should be so complete as to provide for every vacancy that can possibly occur in the office of President, and so clear as to admit of no controversy or any question as to the succession to that high office.

To the end, therefore, that all doubts or defects which may exist in our present laws, on this subject may be remedied and future controversies prevented.

Be it resolved, By the Senate that the committee on Judiciary be instructed to examine into the provisions of the Constitution, and into laws passed by Congress, to carry them into effect, and inquire whether the provisions of said laws are constitutional, proper and valid in all respects to their purpose and end, or whether any further legislation will be necessary or proper, and to report thereon by bill or otherwise.

SENATE.
WASHINGTON, 7.—The Senate, to-day, Blair introduced a bill for the appropriation of $100,000,000 for the establishment and temporary support of common schools, to be expended $10,000,000 yearly to be diminished $1,000,000 yearly until 10 annual appropriations shall have been made; the balance of the appropriation to be divided among the several States and Territories in that proportion which the whole number of persons in each State of 10 years of age and upward, who can read, bears to the whole number of such persons in the United States.

A bill was also introduced by Blair, to establish a large public education and aid in support of the schools of the United States; it appropriates and appropriates $10,000,000 annually, to be expended in the States and Territories according to the number of their resident population over 10 years of age who cannot read, the amount so appropriated to be applied to their education, without distinction of sex or color, the appropriations to continue until January, 1894.

Criticisms of the Message.
As to the President's message, among senators and congressmen all shades of opinion were expressed. It appears to be that it is largely a collection of opinions to the correctness of his conclusions very of course, according to his own views. It is a general agreement that in eloquence of style, dignity of tone and force and freshness of argument, it is a masterpiece. It is a masterpiece of the highest mental and moral qualities, and it is a masterpiece of the highest mental and moral qualities, and it is a masterpiece of the highest mental and moral qualities.

are some disappointments among Pacific Coast residents at the absence of any treaty recommendation for legislation to restrict Chinese immigration, especially as the President takes pains to suggest that the Chinese government should be held responsible for the maintenance of its laws and enforcement of its laws.

On the other hand, it is noted with gratification that the message does say that legislation is necessary to carry the treaty into effect, and that the United States is not to be held responsible for the maintenance of its laws and enforcement of its laws.
