The Sewing Girls of Boston.

THEIR PITIFUL LIFE DESCRIBED BY ONE WHO HAS TRIED IT.

BOSTON, April 21.

The following was related to me by a lady of good sense as the result of her personal experience and observation among the sewing girls of one of the large firms in Boston. It seems to me that too much cannot be said on this subject, or the attention of the community too often called to the injustice of employers towards these poor girls. This lady is a widow, and has a daughter and herself to support. She told me her story in these words—

When I first came here to Boston I didn't have quite as much money as I wanted, and so I thought I would just go down to ——, and take my machine and see what I could make at that work. I didn't need to do it particularly, because I could earn more money taking care of the sick, and, besides, I was more used to it; but I went more than half to see how the girls were treated. So I took my machine and started—I had to pay for having it carried up stairs, and had to climb so many flights that when I arrived I was not fit to run a machine for half an hour. Well, I supposed, of course, I could earn as much as a dollar and a half a day—I didn't want to raise my expectations, so put it, as I thought, low—and thought, perhaps, after I got used to it, I should earn more.

They gave me a linen suit to make up, the stitching, bands, ruffles, cuffs and collar, all to be finished complete for sale, and the woman said to me (seeing probably that I looked as if I knew how to sew), "I suppose you can make two of these in a day." I am pretty used to sewing—was a dressmaker when I was first married—but that rather surprised me—two in a day! Well, I thought of course I shall get two dollars or more for them, and that will be doing pretty well. I made that one suit in a day, and how much do you suppose I was paid for it? Seventy cents! And there were seventy-five girls or more in that room, some young and pretty, many with no homes, and with their board to pay out of seventy cents a day! None of them could make much more than that, and many were wholly inexperienced, so made much less. The second day I was there they gave me a white wrapper and tucks and that took me a day and a half, and I had for it ninety cents, while a white suit covered with ruffles and insertion, which took me three days, brought the enormous price of $1.50. Then the forewoman—and it seems as if they were always selected for their hardness of heart—gave the work to the girls merely cut out, no putting to-gether or showing how it should be done.—Cor. Springfield Republican.

CONG. COM. ON MANNERS.—The suggestion in the Tribune correspondence some time ago for the establishment of a Congressional Committee on Manners meets with general approval. We are all glad to recognize the authority of our purest and best in manners of decorum as well as in those of honor and morals, but the variety of examples of deportment set by the Solons on the floor is apt to be confusing to the students in the galleries. It is, for instance, clear that the proper place to carry the feet is on the desk; but there appears to be great divergence of views in regard to the amount of hose which ought to be visible between shoe and trowsers. Of cours,e no member who respects himself will comb his hair anywhere but in full session. Yet there is a lamentable lack of agreement on the point whether it should precede or follow the ceremonious picking of the teeth. The personal intercourse of members also needs some regulation. On main points there is harmony—it is admitted that no gentleman should object to being called a sneak-thief or dog's-meat man in Committee of the Whole—but there are serious doubts whether it is in accordance with strict etiquette to call a member a "drunken scrub" on the second reading of a bill. These are delicate points, and the sooner they are settled the better it will be for the rising generation. A nation is judged to a great extent by the manners of its rulers, and few even of the effete despots of Europe would deny that the manners of our Congressmen are as extraordinary as the growth of Chicago or the fall of Niagara and Pacific Mail.—N. Y. Tribune.

BEING very desirous to dispose of all his fine Jewelry, Watches, Clocks, Field and Opera Glasses, Spectacles, etc., etc., offers a rare chance to the public for investment.

The JEWELRY is selected with the utmost care, both for beauty and excellence. The WATCHES are unsurpassable both for strength and good going.

☞ All goods are warranted.

Appended are testimonials from most reliable gentlemen well known in the Territory:

"The Watch I bought of you in 1873 goes most excellently, never varies a minute; has never had any repairs to it since I got it, although it has been exposed to very hard usage.

A. C. BROWN,
Brakesman U. S. R. R."

"The Watch I bought of you last year has proved to be the best article I ever had, having put it to the test in mining, once at the depth of six feet, besides a great many other hardships, and stands all with perfect ease, being always right to time.

JOHN SANDS, Camp Douglas."

"The Watch I bought from you is all that can be desired. As a timekeeper it beats anything I ever had, and stands the jilting and rough usage without the least variation.

DANIEL G. BRIAN,
Paper Mill, Salt Lake Co."
