

DON'T'S, FOR SPEAKERS AND WRITERS.

(Written for the Saturday News BY EDWARD B. WARMAN, A. M. Author of "Practical Orthography and Critique," "The Voice," "How to Train It," "How to Care for It," etc.)

(Copyright, 1905, by Joseph B. Bowles.)
 Author's Note.—It is one thing to record errors, quite another to avoid them. He who waits for the faultless one to cast the first critical stone waits in vain; therefore, as one of the many working for the betterment of the English language, I shall be pleased to receive kindly criticism, if, perchance, I, too, have erred.

Don't say "above" for "beyond."
 Example: "It was above his strength." "It was above his expectations." "It was beyond his strength." "It was beyond his expectations."

Don't say "above" for "foregoing."
 Example: "The above reason is sufficient." "The foregoing paragraph is correct." "The foregoing paragraph is sufficient." "The foregoing paragraph is correct."

Don't say "above" for "more than."
 Example: "It was above the average attendance." "It was more than the average attendance."

Don't say "abundance" for "plenty."
 Example: "I have abundance." "I have plenty."

REPORT ON FREE KINDERGARTEN.

Outlook as Submitted by the Secretary of the Association To Directors.

TWO EVENTS OF IMPORTANCE.

Opening of a West Side School for Little Ones and a Successful Entertainment.

The annual report of the free kindergarten as submitted to the directors by the secretary shows a very satisfactory outlook. In full it is as follows:

The board of directors of the Salt Lake City Free Kindergarten association has held 18 meetings during the year with an average attendance of eight, showing a well sustained interest in the work on the part of the members.

It was a matter of great satisfaction to all concerned that at the beginning of the year the question of what was the Utah Free Kindergarten association for furniture and materials had been decided by the payment of $2, which made the furniture and materials the property of this association.

There have been two events of prime importance in the year. The first being the play given at the Grand on May 29, the net profits of which was $100. The other, the opening of a west side kindergarten by the board of education on Jan. 20, a direct result of the work of this association.

Contributions from clubs have been generous and the committee have been so liberal that it has been necessary to buy fuel only once. Numerous donations of clothing have been sent, and the little ones have been kept in their kind in supplying the needy ones with shoes. To the National Biscuit company are indebted for the children's daily lunch, and to the street railway company for car tickets when the little ones have enjoyed an outing.

In the death of Mr. Pinney the kindergarten was deprived of a faithful friend, but in only this one respect has the year been other than prosperous. The change of kindergarten necessitated by the release of Miss Lane from the work on the west side, has been fraught with no disaster, but on the contrary, everything has continued to go on in a most orderly and satisfactory fashion under Miss Lane. She calls upon and has meetings with the mothers every month.

We have an enrollment of about 50, and with money in the treasury; and with unabated enthusiasm on the part of the board of trustees, the future work of useful work is to be anticipated.

BRIGHAM YOUNG COLLEGE.

Logan, June 8.—Nearly all of the college students have returned to their homes for the summer vacation, after a most pleasant and successful year in school. The work of the college for the year has been of a high order, the discipline has been excellent, and there has been a peaceful, loyal, united spirit in all departments, which has made a good impression on those in attendance.

It is pleasing to know that many of the large graduating classes are contemplating returning next year to do in all departments, and that the college has reason to be proud of this class, individually and collectively, and will welcome their return.

The janitor and his assistants are already at work preparing for next year, making changes in the facilities for the accommodation of students.

President Linford returned last night from Provo, where he attended the annual meeting of the Deseret summer institute and read a paper on "Manual Training in Church Schools." President Linford is eminently qualified to discuss the question of making the manual training of high school students practical, not thought is strengthened by the additional letter.

THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.

The matter in this column is edited and prepared by ladies of Ogden interested in temperance work.

THE HONEST POLICY.

Governor Hanly of Indiana is putting himself uncompromisingly on record as to his purpose to uphold the law. Many governors have done this—officials are required to take such oath. But the world has often winked and laughed after oaths of office have been administered, because it knew in what the upholding would end and would not resist.

It is coming to be better understood by men of affairs that the principle of honesty is the only one that will stand the test of time. "Honesty is the best policy," circles out for beyond the horizon of mere abstinence from money that "that old serpent," whose business it is to throw dust in our eyes so that we shall miss the straight path, has hitherto used men's ears that the business world would run to ruin if a certain amount of winking were not done. But men are lifting their heads beyond reach of the serpent's hiss and listening to the higher law. They are hearing that an honest policy does not leave one alone and vanquished, even in a material sense, but wins confidence, honor and opportunity to pursue the policy further.

Governor Hanly proposes to punish violations of the law, whether slot machines go down, wineries are closed when they most wish to open, or foreign-American citizens are opposed.

The law, he says, shall be kept. If Governor Hanly will stand on this rock of elvish righteousness straight through his term of office he will find himself a winner in other ways than he now dreams.

A SAFE RULE FOR PARENTS.

A group of boys lined up along the curb of a street, some with hands in pockets, some with caps perched on back of the head, all intensely self-conscious, all grinning with exaggerated self-importance—such was the photograph reproduced in one of the Chicago dailies in connection with the labor troubles now distracting the city of Chicago. The picture hardly required explanation for one saw at a glance that the faces of the boys—weak, excitable, self-willed—belonged to strikers' leaders.

It seems incredible that the school children should leave their studies to plunge rashly into the swirling maelstrom of a strike, the key to which they cannot understand or do anything to settle right. And it seems still more incredible that parents should actually applaud and abet the truancy and partisanship of their offspring. It is alarming to think to what lengths the disorders in the public schools would have gone had not the board of education provided a quick way to stop them by having some of the ringleaders hauled before the juvenile court. The position taken by the board of education is that the school shall stay a school and not become a place for the breeding of disorder. There is no doubt why children should be permitted to take part in such problems as labor strikes. They have no part in children's lives.

This is the almost unanimous expression of public opinion; and now let parents also learn the lesson that the home should be the center, not of rebellion, but of right, order, authority and obedience. Let parents study the foundation principles of social well-being; let them remember that the family is the basis of the state, and as such must stand firm and aloof from the contentions, vagaries and selfish schemes of men. When parents side with law, good order and righteousness they not only strengthen the home, but gain immeasurably in the dignity and decency of their appeal to their children to live tractable and obedient lives.

A Grand Exhibit of the Celebrated

McDougall Kitchen Cabinets

WILL BE HELD IN OUR STORE THROUGHOUT ALL NEXT WEEK.

The Model Kitchen Display

in our window is in itself well worth coming to see, portraying as it does the efficiency toward real economy that may be attained through our new department of Kitchen Furnishings. This is the first showing of the McDougall Kitchen Cabinets in Salt Lake, where they will be sold exclusively by us, and will hereafter be carried in stock regularly. Each lady visiting our store during the week will be presented with a copy of Mrs. Rorer's New Book, entitled Kitchen Economy, a very interesting and helpful accessory to the Housewife's Library.

McDougall Kitchen Cabinets

are intended to make work in the Kitchen easier—and they do it. The idea is to simplify the work by having everything needed within instant reach, without taking a single step.

The McDougall Kitchen Cabinet economizes space and has a place for all the kitchen utensils—pots, kettles, pans; a place for all the food supplies; bins for flour, sugar, coffee, tea, and salt; cans for spices; drawers for knives and forks; cupboards for dishes and in fact a place for everything needed in the conduct of the Kitchen. Inside and out the finish is superb, with every arrangement for convenience, making it not only a most useful but slightly piece of Kitchen Furniture. Be sure you see the show the coming week.

Our Great Picture Sale Commences Monday 25% Reduction On Every Picture In The Store.

This is a week of stock-reducing in our pictures and nothing will be spared. The 25 per cent reduction applies to every picture in the store, and those familiar with the range of our varieties and character of values at regular prices will readily appreciate the meaning of this price destruction.

This is your opportunity to buy appropriate June Wedding,—good ones at that—for very little money. Sale starts Monday.

ACORN RANGES.

Are in a class by themselves, when it comes to the points of cooking, baking, cleanliness and fuel economy. Their superior construction embraces many important features not found in any other make.

The Greatest accomplishment of Modern Range Building is the Acorn Hot Blast Fire Box.

As indicated in the above illustration, the Acorn Hot Blast fire box, passes a current of intensely heated air over the surface of the fire, causing the combustion of gasses and heavy smoke which ordinarily escape unburned, filling the chimney with soot and wasting fuel. It insures economy of fuel and satisfactory results in baking. It is found only in Acorn Ranges.

Be sure you get a copy of Mrs. Rorer's book, Kitchen Economy, given to every lady visiting our store next week.
