KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

The most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister.

READ PROOF BELOW from

Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with 'Kendall's Spavin Cure' has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse again. When I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than half of the bottle cured him so that he is now, to all appearance, free from lameness. Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavin, ringbone, curbs, callouses, splints, sweellings, any lameness and all derangements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for family ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success in our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All Druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.

Judge Peebles and the Tanner.

About 30 yerrs ago Judge Cincinnatus Peebles found it necessary to order a tanner out of his law office in Hall County. The tanner was a poor shiftless fellow named Wilson, and shortly after drifted to Atlanta, where he secured work at 50 cents a day. In 1868 Judge Peebles went to New York on important financial business for the State. He was disturbed to the great banking house of R. T. Wilson & Co. He sent in his card, and after waiting a while was ushered into an elegant office. A fine looking man introduced himself as Wils on, and reminded the Judge that he was the poor tanner he had ordered out of his office many years ago. Judge Peebles, thoroughly astonished, never dreamed that this ex-tanner was the head of the bank, but thought he was probably related to the proprietor and had secured a clerkship.

Mr. Wilson invited the Judge to dine with him, and at 5 o'clock the Judge found himself in one of the finest houses on Fifth Avenue. While awaiting his host a superb lady entertained him, and Judge Peebles was overwhelmed with the consciousness that the day laborer had really become the great banker. He then became uneasy for fear he should drop some allusion to the humble origin of the husband of the splendid lady to whom he was talking. At length she said: "Judge Peebles, where do you think I spent the two happiest years of my life?" The Judge thought of Paris, Saratoga and Venice, but was hesitating, when Mrs. Wilson said: "Why, at Papa Wilson's log cabin in Hall county, where my husband took me when we were first married."—Atlanta Constitution.

Utilizing Carcasses.

A cheap lot of manure may be made of an old carcass of a horse or cow, etc., which is often drawn away to the woods, to pollute the atmosphere. Do not do this, but put down four or five loads of muck or sod, roll the carcass over it, and sprinkle it over with quick-lime, covering over immediately with sod or mold sufficient to make, with that already beneath, twenty good sized wagon loads, and you will have $25 worth of the best of fertilizers in less than a year, and no fears need be felt in applying to any crop. One beauty of this plan is, the animals need not be moved far away, there not being the least stench. All animals which you are unfortunate enough to loose, can be utilized in this way, and be made to go a great way towards replacing them. Smaller animals, such a sheep, calves, dogs and cats, can be treated in the same manner, with about the average amount of sod or muck proportionate to their size. When possible, place three or four in one pile, and the labor of covering would be proportionately less; but it is not much work to make a heap of any animal, however large or small.—Turf Field and Farm.

His Old Trick.

On St. Louis Avenue recently a large bay horse in a swill wagon fell down in the street. A crowd of people soon collected, the animal was stripped of his harness, water thrown over him and his head diligently rubbed with a large lump of ice obtained from a neighboring saloon by a sympathising onlooker. Time passed, and the driver, after placing a lot of loose hay around the prostrate animal, obtained another horse and took the load home. The ministrations of the bystanders ceased somewhat after the departure of the driver. Much to their surprise, a moment after, the animal suddenly recovered and began eating the hay. In a few minutes he was upon his feet, enjoying his meal with a relish. It was afterwards learned that the milkman to whom the horse belonged had but recently purchased the animal from one who had parted with him solely because he had the trick of lying down whenever he became hungry.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

TRUE FAITH.—One day a Kaffir girl in South Africa went to a missionary and dropped four sixpences into his hand, saying: "This is your money." "You don't owe me anything replied the teacher." "I do," she answered, "and I will tell you how. At the public examination you promised a sixpence to any one in the class I was in who would write the best specimen on a slate. I gave in my slate and got the sixpence; but you did not know then that another person wrote that specimen for me. Yesterday you were reading in the church about Zaccheus, who said: 'If I have taken anything from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold.' I took from you one sixpence, and I bring you back four."

MIXED SPICE.

A Kansas farmer took home a seventy-five cent dog to please his wife, and in one night the animal killed $90 worth of sheep to please himself.

"Some other folk would deceive you about these goods, but I have been in the business 20 years and never told a lie," said the gulleless draper. "And why do you begin now?" asked the gentle fair one in front of the counter, as she gathered her draperies together and glided away.

It is related of Siebenkees, an eminent German scholar, that having finished reading one of his beautiful imaginings to his wife, who appeared to be listening with bated breath and eyelids cast down, he closed the book with inward satisfaction at the completion of his labors, only to hear the sharer of his joys exclaim: "My dear, pray don't put on your left stocking to-morrow—I see there is a big hole in it."—Chamber's Journal.

The following story has recently gone the round of the German papers: On the morning of the recent eclipse Captain von S—— of the —— Fusileers, sent the following verbal order to his company through the sergeant major, to be communicated to them after forenoon parade: "This afternoon a solar eclipse will take place. At 3 o'cook the whole company will parade in the barrack yard. Fatigue jackets and caps. I shall explain the eclipse to them. Should it rain, they will assemble in the drill shed." The sergeant major, having set down his commanding officer's instructions in writing, as he had understood them, formed the company into hollow square at the conclusion of the morning's drill and read his version of the order to them, thus: "This afternoon a solar eclipse will take place in the barrack yard by order of the captain, and will be attended by the whole company in fatigue jackets and caps. The captain will conduct the solar eclipse in person. Should it rain, the eclipse will take place in the drill shed.

Basuto Rantzani, a nephew of the Chief Mosheth, after leading for years the life of an educated, luxurious Kaffir dandy, suddenly relapsed into the pagan barbarism of his youth at the very moment when he was delivering an eloquent harangue in favor of civilization, education, and peace. Rantzani, dressed in the pink of fashion was discoursing to an assembled palaver, summoned to decide on a question of peace or war with the Free State, on the importance of peace. He began well, but his paper caller chafed his neck. In trying to smooth it he broke the buttonhole, and in attempting to keep it in its place he lost patience, wrenched it off altogether, and immediately after an eloquent eulogy of "the regular life of the school, the happy, happy quietude of a district won to the regularity of church and labor," he burst out: "I am tired of this imposture. A something arises within me; it springs on me now; it tells me I am talking nonsense—playing a part I was never fit for. These clothes (which, as he spoke, he tore off and flung on the ground) confine free limbs once unfettered by any of the trammels of this civilized life that I have been trying to praise, but cannot endure. Away with this spurious civilization! Away with the chains we lay upon ourselves! Let those who will have Meshesh and freedom follow me. Liberty is worth more than a blanket, and the name of a warrior better worth than this." After this apathetic peroration the renegade, now standing naked before his people, set fire to the schoolhouse, burned down all the appliances of civilization in the village and disappeared among the hills. He fought bravely in the war, but after it was over he never returned to his former life.

"Suffering with [rheumatic pains I was Didymus as to remedies. I read of St. Jacobs Oil and said here goes for a half dollar trial. I bought a bottle and before it was half used the screw-wrench pains had gone—and they trouble me no longer," says Earnest King Esq., editor of the Fall River, (Mass.) Sun.

WIN HONESTLY OR NOT AT ALL.

Editor Deseret News:

Through the columns of your widely circulated paper I desire to call the attention of all candid, fair-minded people to what appears to me to be the dishonorable methods resorted to by the D. M. Osborne & Co.'s agent in this city as exhibited in his advertisement in your columns. He has so worded one article that almost every one who reads it is led to believe that he claims that the Osborne Twine Binder had a field trial with the McCormick at Alpine, Utah County, and beat the McCormick; sold some machines in place of the McCormick, which he represents as not working well, etc.; every word of which is false, as the Osborne agent knows. The Osborne has never had a trial with the McCormick at Alpine, the only trial it ever had with the McCormick in this Territory was at Payson last year, when the Osborne was the challenging party and was beaten badly according to the unanimous decision of the committee. The attention of the agent of the Osborne Co. was called to this matter a week ago, but as he has failed to correct the misrepresentation in his advertisement, I feel compelled to expose the matter in justice to the McCormick and myself. Your's very truly,

JOHN W. LOWELL.

NOTICE.

TERRITORY OF UTAH, } ss
Salt Lake County, }

In the Probate Court in and for Salt Lake County, Territory of Utah.

In the matter of the Estate of ELIZABETH ANN WHITNEY, Deceased.

IT APPEARING TO THE JUDGE OF SAID Court, by the petition this day presented and filed by Joseph C. Kingsbury, the administrator of the Estate of Elizabeth Ann Whitney, deceased, praying for an order of sale of real estate, that it is necessary to sell the whole or some portion of the real estate, to pay the debts outstanding against the deceased, and the debts, expenses and charges of administration. It is therefore Ordered by the Judge of said Court, that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, appear before the said Probate Court on Monday the twenty-first day of August, A. D., 1882, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the court room of said Probate Court, at the County Court House in said City and County of Salt Lake, to show cause why an order should not be granted to the said administrator to sell so much of the real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary.

And that a copy of this order be published at least ten successive days in the Daily EVENING NEWS, a newspaper printed and published in said county.

E. SMITH, Judge of Probate.

Salt Lake City, August 8, 1882.

J. D. Bockholt, Clerk of the Probate Court in and for the County of Salt Lake, in the Territory of Utah, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of an order of said Court appointing time and place for hearing of petition for Order of real estate in the matter of the Estate of Elizabeth Ann Whitney, deceased, as appears of record in my office.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court, this 8th day of August, A. D., 1882.

☞ READ THE VERDICTS: ☜

July 26th, 1882.

We, the undersigned, farmers of Alpine, Utah Co., having this day witnessed the operation of the Osborne Twine Binder, in Wheat and Oats, do affirm that it did the most perfect work we ever saw done by any Self-Binder. The cutting was absolutely clean and the grain was tightly bound.

We do not see that any imperfection exists in this machine.

ALPINE, Utah, July 26, 1882.

We proposed to D. M. Osborne & Co., that if they could, by actual field trial, demonstrate to our entire satisfaction that their Twine Binder would do better work and tighter binding than the Wood or McCormick Binders are doing, then we would purchase an Osborne.

This proposition was readily accepted by D. M. Osborne & Co., and we are pleased to state that their Machine has demonstrated its superiority to our fullest satisfaction and we have purchased an Osborne through L. P. Lund, Agent at Pleasant Grove.

C. M. BECK,
W. T. BROWN,

J. S. BECK.

At the trial above mentioned three Osborne Binders were sold on the field, two of which were purchased by parties who had taken McCormick Binders on their merits, and condemned them on account of the very bad work performed.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH,
July 24th, 1882.

We started our Osborne Twine Binder to-day in heavy oats on the farm of Fredk. Reich, and after testing it thoroughly we find it without a single defect. The cutting is clean, binding tight, and the knot perfect. It does the best work we ever saw.

B. ADAMS,

We witnessed the working of the Osborne Binder above referred to, and freely bear testimony that we never saw its equal. The bundles are tightly bound and every knot perfect.

COLLINSTON, Utah.
July 26, 1882.

We have cut and bound about twelve acres of heavy rye with our Osborne Twine Binder, and during all this time it did not miss a bundle. The cutting, elevating and binding are without defect. Our neighbors who have seen it work say they would have no other machine.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Hidden Humors, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumor and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects invariably show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of everybody, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT.

Notice No. 183.

UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE,
Salt Lake City, Utah, July 12, 1882.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Joseph H. Jennings, Joseph C. Jennings, Horace Lindsley and Wilson Jamieson, whose postoffice address is Salt Lake City, Utah, have made application for a United States patent for the Carrie mining claim situated in Big Cottonwood mining district, Salt Lake County, Utah Territory, consisting of 1,500 linear feet of the lode, its surface ground 600 feet wide, being Lot No. 154, and described in the field notes and plat of the official survey on file in this office with magnetic variation of 17 degrees 45 minutes east, as follows: Commencing at the discovery monument, thence north 64 degs. 58 min., east 1,518 feet to the corner to the north end line of said claim, thence south 28 degs. east 300 feet to post No. 1, thence north 26 degs west 600 feet to post No. 2, thence south 69 degs. 58 min. west 1,518 feet to post No. 3, thence south 28 degs. east 600 feet to post No. 4, thence north 69 degs. 58 min. east 1,500 feet to said post No. 1, the place of beginning, containing an area of 21 and 1000 the amount therein applied for. This claim conflicts with "Little Fred" lode, lot No. 53, and excluding conflict with "Queen Bee" lode, lot No. 54.

And in connection therewith application is made for a United States patent, for the Carrie Mill Site described as follows: Commencing at post No. 1 thence south 51 deg. 45 min. W, 438 feet to post No. 2, thence south 38 deg. 15 min. East 465 feet to post No. 3, thence north 51 deg. 45 min. East 438 feet to post No. 4, thence north 38 deg. 15 min. West 465 feet to said post No. 1, containing an area 4,875-1000 acres.

The said mining claim and mill site is recorded in the office of the recorder of the mining district at Argenta, in Salt Lake County, Utah. The nearest known corner to being the Little Fred mining claim.

I direct that this notice be published in the DESERET NEWS, the newspaper published nearest the said mining claim for the period of sixty days.

H. McMASTER,
Register.
