FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, JUNE 12, 1888.

On a Visit.

Mrs. Mills, of St. Louis, is in the city on a visit. She has a large num-ber of friends in Utab, by whom she can be found at the residence of Mrs. Catherine' Anderson, 667 First West Street.

The Exposition Car. The following dispatch was received last evening by H. W. Lawrence, Esq., from H. L. A. Culmer, in charge of the Utah exposition car:

Council Exposition car: COUNCIL ENDFOR, June 11. The car is a transmodous success. We entertained 8000 visitors at Omaha yesterday and the day before, includ-ing prominent capitalists and the best citizens. We leave here tonight for Cédar Rapids, Eigin and Chicago.

Released from Prison.

Released from Prison. This morning Brother C. L. Thorpe, of Ephraim, Sanpete Co., was released from the pentrentlary, after scring a four month's sentence for unlayful cohabitation. He also paid a fine of $100 and costs. He speaks well of the manner in which Warden Pratt con-ducts the prison. He says that that official is strict, so far as the enforce-ment of the rules is concerned, but the regulations are of a nature that they can be lived up to without diffi-cally, and none of the prisoners are treated unjustly. The strictness that exists is not accompanied by any un-duc harshness.

Probate Court.

Probate Court. Proceedings in the Sait Lake County Probate Court yesterday: Estate and guardianedip of Sarah K. Williamson, an insane person, and Mary A. Carmichael, au incompetent person; order made appointing time and place to hear petition for appoint-ment of guardian. Hooper, a minor; order made appointing time and place for the settling of guardian's account.

city, but is still unconscions, and in a critical condition. His name and ad-dress are unknown, as there was noth-ing found on his body, by which he could be identified.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S UAILY JUNE 13, 1888 Died from his Injuries.

Yesterday afternoon the tramp who was knocked from a train on the D. & B. G. W. on Monday, died at the hos-pital without regaining consciousness. His identity is unknown, as there was nothing on his body that gave any clue to his name, address or relatives.

Another Tramp Hurt.

Another Tramp Hurt. Last evening, as the Utah Central' train was coming through the Nine-teenth Ward, a tramp, who bad besten his way from Kaysville, and was rid ing between the bex cars, jumped off. The train was moving pretty fast, and he was thrown on to the ties and both legs bruised preity badly. He got up a short time after the accident, how-ever, and staggered off. Later he ap-peared at a house in the neighborhood where the people kindly gave him some food and loaned him a blanket and pillow on which to lie down. Ite did not get much sleep, owing to the in-juries, and today was mable to move shout. This afternoon an officer was sent out for him in order that he might receive such attention as his condition required, but some one had moved him.

A ROWDY ELEMENT

That Needs Attention from the Peace Officers.

A case of resisting an officer, which came up before Commissioner Norrell today, developed a state of things in Sugarhouse Ward which shows that a portion of that preciset sadly needs the special attention of an efficient. officer. In the vicinity of the old paper mill are three saloons, each one of which is the rendezvous for large crowds. Many children are among, the number that congregate, to the lasting disgrace of their parents. Night after night the participants in drunken orgies at one place of another "make Rome sow!." This sort of thing has been going on some time, and apparently without any effort to stop it.

stop it. On Saturday night a man appeared at the penitentiary and requested Warden Pratt to give him some assist ance to get his biankets. He said that he had stopped at one of the saloons referred to, where his bedding had been taken from him, and he had been soundly thrashed by drunken men; his appearance indicated that the latter part of his story at least was true. On Monday night, at one of the other sa-loons, it is said a free fight was also indulged in.

said, "I arrest you," at the same time putting his hand on the offender's shoulder. Bowthorpe replied, "if you are an officer, you can't arrest me." "I'll arrest you or kill you," said the officer, who realized that he must act promptly. "That's what you'll have to do," was Bowthofpe's rejoinder, but just then be was quieted by one of his companions laterforing. He then told the officer that he did not mean to resist him. In theimcantime the parties to the fight had escaped, and Mr. Fratt, see-ing that he could make no arrest against such odds, went on to the peri-tentiary. He retarned shortly after-ward, arrested Bowthorpe, and lodged him is the prison over night. These facts were brought out at the trial to-day. Of all the witnesses who were in the crowd when Mr. Pratt drove up, there was not one who would admit that he knew, the names of the two who had the fight. For his action in the premises, Commissioner Norrel innoosed a time of $15 and costs, --nearly $30 in all, on Bowthorpe.

FROM THURSIN T'S DAILY JUNE 7, 1888.

Vation.

ation. The closing exercises of the Eight-eenth District School were conducted yesterday. The institution has been ably manipulated by Gideon M. Mum-ford, one of the most capable teachers in Salt Lake County, competently as-sisted by Miss Merrill. The school, at the close of the term, was in a gratifying condition, the pupils having advanced rapidly. As a teacher of grammar, held by Cobbett to be the fundamental part of scholastic edu-cation, Mr. Mumford shows peculiar aptness. His method, being simple and ingenious, appeals directly to the understanding of the pupil and holds, the latter's attention.

Weber County Democrats.

Weber County Democrats. Last evening, at Ogden, the dem-ocrats of Weber County held a rous-ing ratification of the nomination of Cleveland and Thurman as the stand-ard bearers of the democracy in the coming political campaign. Judge R. K. Williams was elected chairman and E. H. Anderson secretary. The platform adopted by the democratic national convention was endorsed, and enthusiastic speeches were made by Judge R. K. Williams, Hon. C. C. Richards, Hon. J. H. Moyle, Hon. Jos. Barton, H. H. Rolapp, H. D. Johnson and S. A. Kenner. Appropri-ate resolutions were adopted by the mass meeting. mass meeting.

cises at the Deseret University. A brilliant and expectant audience filled the main hall of the University, today,long before the hour for opening arrived. The pleasing attire of those asseubled, the national colors as a canopy over the stand, and a library lining the walls as a fitting suggestion of the mission of the University—sil conjoined to elleit enthesiasm as the the drum of the orchestra began the initial overthre. Tresident Park called the assembly to order at 10:45, when invocation was offered by Regent Edward Benner. Regent S. R. Thurman in choice words delivered the opening address. An essay by Miss Katle B. Young, "Bulwer Lytton and His Most Popular Work," showed skiltul aki scholarly work, and secured an overwhelming stock of bonquets. A song, "The Raft," by Miss Bessie Dean, was rendered in her usual bril-liant style. Then followed the valedictory ad-dress, by George Hic that summons up all tender remembrances of class associations only to be summarily and forever disrupted. Dr. Park, in an address to the gradu-ating class, expressed a hope that those, about to enter upon the duties

ONE MORE SUICIDE.

Au Unknown Man Ends His Life by Poisoning.

Poisoning. About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Dr. J. E. Smith, of Washingtou, D. C., made a ghastly discovery on the monn-tain, about a quarter of a mile west of Ensigu Peak. The doctor came to Salt Lake a lew days ago on a visit, and yesterday afternoon went upou the hills north of the city to enjoy the magnificent view of the Valley there obtainable. About the hour named he was going from the base of Eusign Peak down the mountain side towards the Warm Springs bath house. When about half way between the Peak and "the cave," he observed a pile of red sand, and out of curiosity went to ex-amine it. It was on the brink of an old stone quarry, which the doctor looked into. There he saw the feet of a man protruding from behind a rock. The man was evidently lying down, and and this cansed the doctor to make a further investigation, which revealed to him that a human being LAY DEAD IN THE QUARKY.

LAY DEAD IN THE QUARKY.

The unknown man was lying in an easy position, as though asleep, but the horrible stench left no doubt that the borrible stench left no doubt that the body was in an advanced state of decomposition. At first it was thought that he was a colored man, as the body had turned perfectly black. It had not been disturbed, however, except that the eyes were enten away. Dr. Smith did not long remain in ast week; though by whom was not nown. Inquiry was made at the ba-cel, but no light could be obtained here. It was said that the cards had buly been printed five days, but this ould not be, as it was plain that the ard found had been there a longer Ime tran that. From another source, inter tran that. From another source, inter tran that. From another source, inter tran that been printed more than ten tards had been printed more than ten lays. At the inquest this morning, T. C.

Vol. XXXVII.

Patten, i.H. Horseley and A. Kimball were sworn jurors, and made an ex-amination of the body, in company with Dr. Smith. No injuries of any kind were found on the body. After the preliminaries had been gone through with. Dr. Smith was called as a witness. He stated, how he came to find the body, as al-ready given, and said: We found on the body, at the examination we made this morning, two handkerchiefs, a bunch of keys, a slate pencil, lead pencil, pocket knife, silver watch and chain, pocket knife, silver watch and state deceased in regard to his CONTEMPLATED sulfdide:

CONTEMPLATED SUICIDE; he was evidently a man of re-finement; was five feet ten inches in height, and weighed about 185 or 190 pounds; there wers no injries about his head or body, his hair and mustache were black, he wa; partly bald; was about 40 years old, had a black coat and yeast diagonal pattern, and pants, with black and drab stripes; light brown feit hat; there was no name on anything found on the body, nor anything from which his identity could be learned; his death was evi-dently from poisoning. When I first saw him he was lying on a purpilsh-colored overcoat. City Marshal Solomon testified that between 5 and 6 o'clock last evening Dr. Smith reported havin discovered the body of a man on be mountain east of the Warm Springs bath house, and between the cave and Ensign Peak. I went out to the place and saw the body; it was lying in an easy position; as though ne had laid down to sleep; his hat was on his bead, and his over-coat spread out under him; he was well dressed; was lying in the old stone quarry; his CONTEMPLATED SUICIDE ;

stone quarry; his

EYES WERE PICKED OUT,

EYES WERE PICKED OUT, but his body was otherwise undisturbed; he had possibly been there two or three weeks; no bottle could be found, as he had probably thrown it away among the rocks. The memorandum 'book of the de-ceased was here produced in evidence. It was badly stained with grease. It was bound in paper covers, of a bluish gray tint, and on a few leaves at either end there had evidently been some writing. These leaves were torn ont, but on the pieces that remained letters could be deciphered, but not sufficient to be of any benefit in the investiga-tion. The leaves had evidently been removed so that nothing could be found to indicate the name, address or occupation of the owner, who, fund-ing from the contents of the state-ment, had been contemplating suicide for a considerable length of time. Fol-lowing is THE STATEMENT.

THE STATEMENT .

THE STATEMENT. SAIT LAKE CITY.—I have come here for the purpose of putting an end to my life. No one would blame me lif they knew my reason for it. My reason for coming to a strange place, is so that my identity will not belestavilished. My people are all respectable, but I am the one black sheep of my father's fold. My people are thousands of miles from here, so the best way is to take the $50 which you will find in my overcoat, pocket, make a rough box, and bury my remains. It may be that I will never be found, for. I propose going out into the conntry. If not, it will be all the better. I feel very sad, dying in such a way, but it was brought on by my own dissipation. May God for-give me, and may God bless the ones that may find me and treat me as a human being. Gooti by'e."

A little farther on in the memoran-dum book this was found:

"If my body is found, and the $50 will not defray the expenses, please sell my watch. I don't want to be a burden to anyone."

Then was added the following post-script. It was evidently written just as the poison was beginning to take effect. The first few words were in a steady hand, but soon the writing and towards the close the hand of the writer was decidedly sbaky. [He evi-dently realized what was coming, for the book had been put back in his coat pocket:

"I've taken the laudanum, but I fear "I've taken the laudanum, but I rear it is not going to do the work. I feel bappy and want to die. I have faith in God, and trust He will carry me safe-ly through the valley of death. My people are all Methodists, and if I die, I would like to be buried by the Methodists. At one time I was a member of that church."
