LOCAL BRIEFS.

The last sesison of the evening Book of Mormon class will be held this evening at 8 o'clock, at the Templeton. All are invited.

The burial of Nelson Gee, the 16-yearold son of Judge W. W. Gee, who passed away yesterday, after having suffered eleven weeks, from the Bright's disease, was held at 11 o'clock this morning, at Mt. Olivet.

John E. Conyingham, a citizen of Salt Lake, succumbed vesterday to a stroke of paralysis. He was 72 years of age, and a native of Ireland. He leaves two sons in Montana and one daughter, Mrs. B. Brown of this city.

Elaborate preparations were being made today by the fire department for the banquet to be given this evening in honor of the present Mayor and Mayor. elect and the outgoing and incoming City Councils. The fire laddles are anxious that the program shall begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Hon. C. E. Allen will open the series Hon. C, E. Allen will open the series of lectures to be delivered at the First M. E, church on sociological and reform subjects, by delivering an address there tonight, on the subject, "Municipal Reform," beginning at 7:45 o'clock. These lectures are to be delivered Monday evenings.

It is expected that there will be large attendance of lawyers at the meeting in the federal court room toght to consider the proposition of establishing a new United States cir-cuit court. It is thought that resolutions setting for the necessity for the circuit will be drawn up and forwarded to Washington.

Swen O. Nielsen of Fairview is in the city. He regrets that there is not a heavier snowfall in his section, of the country, as he fears another drought next year, unless there is a material change in the weather conditions. The people in his part do not seem to be greatly alarmed over the smallpox scare and are inclined to think that some of the reports from there, regarding the spread of the disease, emanated from the imagination. The Twenty-first ward Sunday school polygiot class, representing ten different nations, under the direction of Mrs. nations, under the direction of Mrs. Benjamin Goddard, visited a local photograph gallery today for the purpose of "having its picture taken." The class formed a very unique and interesting group, the members being clad in the costumes of the various countries represented by them. Yesterday and last evening the class took a consplictions part in the commenced. epicuous part in the commemorative exercises of the Twenty-first ward Sun-day school jubilee which was conducted on an elaborate scale.

Two Colorado Missionaries Address the Saints Yesterday.

WORK PROSPERING THERE,

Elders Albert P. Matheson and Brigham Young Also Speak-Mission a Blessing to Young Men.

The services in the Tabernacle yesterday were presided over by Prest. Angus M. Cannon.

The choir rang the opening hymn: "Ye simple souls who stray; Far from the path of peace."

Prayer was offered by Elder Theodore Singing-"Come Thou glorious day of promise."

Elder Carl Badger, a recently returned missionary from Colorado, was the first speaker. It was with pleasure he stood before the people to report the work that was being done in Colorado. It would naturally be thought that in Colorado, our neighboring State, a fair knowledge of our people would be had but the opposite generally obtains, There are about forty Elders in the Colorado mission, and they are traveling without purse or scrip. In the winter time, however, some who are in the cities are allowed to rent rooms. The work in this mission has been very successful. The Elders have met with kindness, especially among those who were not connected with any church, and since the recent agitation the orthodox churchmen are generally very bit-ter, many of them being instrumental in shutting the Elders out of school houses, etc. Elder Badger said he had seen the hand of God revealed and that was his testimony to the people. He knew that in obedience to the Goapel we would find joy, and peace and hap-

Elder Abram Y. Taylor, another missionary recently returned from Colorado, was the next speaker. He had labored in the State of Colorado for twenty-six months. He could endorse what was said by the previous speaker, The mission was in its infancy, being only three years old, but a great work was being done, just as good a work as in the Southern States. He was in-clined to think that according to the number of Elders there were more baptisms being performed in the Colorado nission than in the Southern States, There are a great many infidels in Col-orado, and the Elders were doing much good among them. The greatest trial the Elders have to meet with there is indifference to religion, which the speaker thought was worse than perse. cution. There were a great many peo-ple who joined the churches for social Elder Taylor said he knew prestige. that the Gospel was true, and bore tes-timony to that fact. He had seen the power of God made manifest during his mission. He invoked the blessings

Elder Albert P. Matheson was then called on to speak. He was greatly surprised to be called to the stand, but he desired to have the spirit of the Lord with him. There was no doubt that a mission was a great blessing to young men. He knew that if an Elder did his the spirit of the Lord rest upon him to a would marvelous extent, and a knowledge of the Gospel would develop within him. But before one can receive this spirit he must go through a process of purification. Many of the Elders are illiterate, and they are unable to cope with the intelligence of the world in and of themselves. There is but one way to gain a knowledge of the existence of God and that is revelation, "No man knows the Father but the Son, no man knows the Son but the Father and he to whom the Son will reveal Him." The Latter-day Saints do not wish to be exclusive, they are willing to go out into the world and take this light with them. It is a privilege that all may enjoy, if they will comply with the laws of this Gos-pel. "If any one" shall do His will, he shall know of the Gospel whether it be of God or of man. The speaker was proud to be a Latter-day Saint despite the hatred the world felt for this people. Apostle Brigham Young was the to address the congregation. He desired to say a few words in joining with his brethren, in testifying to things which he did know. If was not by listening to the able men of the world, or by reading books, that we came to a knowledge of God, but it was by revelation. If the battle had been to the strong the Latter-day Saints would have been scattered and destroyed long ago. People are persecuted ac-represent. God will never fail, men may fail, but this Gospel will never be thrown down nor given to another people. Why does not the world receive the Latter-day Faints? God has received them. He has saved them temporarily. The speaker read a few paragraphs from chapter of 21 from the book of Alma in the Book of Mormon. These pussages related to the resurrec-Christ had asked his enemies "For which of these righteous acts do you persecute me?" and the Latter-day Saints can well ask the people of the world. "For which of all our righteous acts do you persecute us?" The speaker spoke further upon the subject of the resurrection, and the judgment of God. He closed by asking the people to seek earnestly the spirit of God, and keep his commandments that they may have peace and happiness throughout eternity. Closing an-them, "Gathered Saints." Benediction pronounced by Patriarch John Smith.

ESPRIT DE CORPS.

A provident plumber, on leaving his home for a holiday with his family, placed a placard just inside the hall door couched in the following language:

"To burglars or those intending to burgle. All my plated jewelry and other valuables are in the Safe Deposit company's vaults. The trunks, cupboards, contain nothing but second-hand clothing and similar matter too bulky to remove, on which you would realize comparatively little. The keys are in the left-hand top drawer of the sideboard—if you doubt my word. Yoy will also find there a check to bearer for five dolars which will remunerate you for the lars, which will remunerate you for the loss of time and disappointment. Please wipe your feet on the mat, and don't spill any candle-grease on the carpet."

-Collier's Weekly. My son has been troubled for years with chronic diarrhoea. Some time ago I persuaded him to take some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After using two bottles of the 25-cent size he was cured. I give this testimonial, hoping some one similarly afflicted may read it and be benefited...-Thomas C. Bower, Glencoe, O.

"The fools are not all dead yet," remarked an officer the other evening after James Crook reported that some females on Commercial street had "touched" him for two tens and a five. He said that his pockets were picked and he wanted every one on Com-mercial street arrested and searched. He says that the police force is no good anyhow.

Mother Martell, a trustie at the city jail, almost created a panic among the officers this morning by rushing into the office and screaning: "Come quick. Oh, come, two men are fighting out there; he can't manage him, Oh!!" De-tective Sheets and Officer Sperry pro-ceeded with due haste to the rear of the old station. There stretched upon his back, lay James Brown, a railroad em-ploye. Above him towered the form of Officer Lincoln in the attitude of the victor. Brown was drunk. The of-ficers proped him up against the jailhouse but it was no use; James couldn't stand, and he was dragged into the room set apart for enebriates.

Septimus Sarney, Gus Lukow, Paul Delman and Fred Henkan were hauled in by the limbs of the law and the patrol wagon yesterday for breaking the Sunday drunk ordinance. The first named person went to the Salvation Army quarters and tried to throw Adjt. Wood through the door. His efforts resulted in a dismal failure and "Sep" was locked up along with the
