WATCHES JEWELRY

ABOUT three months ago all the watchmakers in this city agreed and subscribed to certain prices for work in their line, for the purpose of obtaining uniform and Cheap Rates. This agreement, however, has already been broken by several watchmakers, who are undermining their colleagues and thereby proving themselves untrue to their written word. In consequence of which, the undersigned has withdrawn his name from said agreement and established his own prices, cheaper than any other watchmaker's in Salt Lake City.

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

ELECTION NEWS.

The Vote in Ohio.

CINCINNATI, 14.—A Cleveland dispatch says: A large vote is being polled. The republican majority for the State ticket will be about the same as last fall. It is estimated that Foster's majority will be 15,000.

J. H. Taylor, who is claimed to be from Chicago, attempted to vote in the Second Ward and was arrested. Five colored men were lodged in the station house on the charge of suspicion. There were several others arrested for alleged attempts at illegal voting. Voting generally is proceeding peaceably.

Midnight—The vote polled in this city and county was probably the largest in its history. The day was clear and pleasant, and a large number of business men were at the polls during part of the day. Returns are coming in very slowly; not one-fifth of the vote yet being known. If the republican gain in those places reported continues, the majority in the county will be about 3,000. The name of Williams, the colored candidate for the legislature on the republican ticket, has been extensively scratched, but it is not unlikely that Williams and the whole republican ticket are elected.

Cleveland, O., 14.—Throughout northern Ohio the election is progressing quietly. The weather is all that could be desired. A very large vote is being polled. Both parties are out in full force and are hard at work.

Columbus, 14.—The election passed off quietly. An unusually large vote is polled, and at most of the precincts an immense number of vest pocket ticket were voted. The nationals in some of their strongholds abandoned their ticket, and while those who had formerly been republicans voted for Foster, those who had affiliated with the democrats voted for Ewing. C. M. Davenport, who claims to belong in Cincinnati, was arrested, charged with repeating. It will probably be quite late before the result on the State ticket can be known and reliable figures on the legislature need not be expected to-night.

The weather throughout the State was very fine. The indications are that the heaviest vote ever known has been polled. Statements of losses and gains will be based upon the vote for Secretary of State in 1878, when the republicans carried the State by 3,000 majority.

9.30 p. m.—Scattering returns for governor from 75 precincts show a net republican gain of 1,245.

11.50 p. m.—Returns from 380 precincts, wards and townships, show a net republican gain of 5,730.

The republicans claim the legislature on report by 4,000 republican majority. Cincinnati and Hamilton County democrats do not concede this. Four hundred and forty precincts, wards and townships gives a net republican gain of 6,628.

In Iowa.

Chicago, 14.—Returns from 16 voting places in Iowa give Gear, 4,432; Trimble, 1,977; Campbell, 682. Outside of this Gear has in various polling places, 2,149 majority, so far as reported. The republicans have gained in all cases but one, Marshalltown. Franklin County will give Gear an unusually large majority.

Iowa returns from 31 voting places: Republican vote, 6,146; democratic, 3,081; greenback, 1,198; a considerable number of scattering prohibition votes. Besides this, there are other republican majorities aggregating 4,140.

Wapella, Ia., 14.—Returns indicate 500 to 600 republican majority in Louisa County.

Davenport, 14.—Only one ward, which gives Gear a large majority over all.

Council Bluffs, 14.—The county is estimated to go republican by 100 majority. There is much scratching.

Des Moines, 15.—Returns so far indicate Gear's majority in this county at 700.

In this State, no returns on counties will be received till the polls are closed. So the news will arrive late. Comparisons will be made on the vote of 1877, when there were four tickets in the field, as in this year.

To fill the vacancy in the congressional district, Thompson, republican, has 513; Calhoun, democratic and greenback, 199; republican gain, 391; net republican gain in nine precincts in this congressional district, 774.

11.30 p.m.—At this hour the returns received by the republican State committee, and by the State Register, indicate that the republican majority on the State ticket over both democratic and greenback tickets will be at least 20,000. Mr. Runnell, chairman of the republican State committee, estimates that it will be 25,000. This will be a gain of 27,000 over two years ago, and 16,000 over last year. In the Fifth congressional district, Thompson, republican, is undoubtedly elected over Calhoun, fusion. Legislative returns indicate that the republicans will have a majority on joint ballot of 65.

Cedar Rapids, 14.—The indications are that the republican ticket has been elected in this city.

Burlington, 14.—Nothing definite, indications favor the republican ticket.

West Union, 14.—Fayette County has an estimated republican majority of from 300 to 400.

City Vote.

Newark, N.J., 14.—The city election to-day gives nearly 2,500 majority for Fiedler, democrat, over Mackmet, republican, for mayor. The German vote, heretofore republican, was almost solid for Fiedler, the main issue being on a liberal construction of the Sunday law. For the common council the republicans elect eight, the democrats seven. The new common council will stand 18 republicans, 11 democrats and one liberal. The democrats are celebrating the result by a procession and music.

Favoritism.

NEW YORK, 14.—The Sun's Washington special gives the names of the applicants for appointments to vacant second lieutenancies from civil life, who, having failed in examination, have, through influence at Washington, received a new trial. Among them is a son of Col. McCoy, of Sherman's staff. The father is very anxious to get his boy in the army, and re-examination has been ordered, beginning to-morrow at the War Department. Much dissatisfaction is expressed among other applicants who lack influence to obtain a rehearing, at this favoritism in the army.

Gold Excitement.

CHEYENNE, 14.—Ft. McKinney, Wy., Oct. 14.—Great excitement prevails in this vicinity on account of the recent rich discoveries of gold-bearing quartz in the Big Horn mountains, about 75 miles northwest of this post, at the head of Tongue River. Large numbers of miners are passing through this place en route to the mines. Nearly all the citizens of this section are leaving for the mountains. Ore has been assayed with the following results: The lowest $4, the highest $70 per ton.

Railroad Extension.

DENVER, 14.—It is understood that subscriptions to build the extension of the Denver and Rio Grande railway are to be at once utilized. The conflict in relation to the right of way to Leadville through the Grand cañon of the Arkansas will be disposed of this month, as the case is ready for submission to the court. The Rio Grand Company expects to complete the line to Leadville at an early day thereafter.

A Loquacious Jury.

FREDERICK, Md., 14.—The trial of Felix Munchaner for the murder of his cousin, James Wethell, came to a sudden stop to-day. The Judge discharged the jury, who had been permitted to visit a barber shop and had a general discussion of the case with the barber. The trial had been in progress five days.

Work Resumed.

CUMBERLAND, Md., 14.—The Borden Coal Company resumed to-day Several small companies resumed yesterday and to-day, and two more resume to-morrow, all at 50 cents per ton.

WESTERN.

GRANT'S RAMBLES.

His Grand Receptions—First in the Hearts of some of his Countrymen.

SAN FRANCISCO, 13.—A Vancouver dispatch says: The St. Paul arrived at 5.45. At every town on the river Grant was cheered by assembled crowds. Several isolated houses attracted attention with shotguns and waived flags and handkerchiefs. A salute of 21 guns was fired on the dock. The Twenty-first Regiment band played, "See the Conquering hero comes." All the troops and the whole population of Vancouver gathered at the dock on the St. Paul's arrival, 200 citizens bore torches. A delay of an hour occurred before the party make its appearance. At 6.45 Gen. Grant came on deck and was introduced by Gen. Howard to the officers of the post and to Mayor Johns, who said: "I had the pleasure of landing with you here twenty-seven years ago;" and to the committee on reception, General Grant taking the arm of General Morrow, walked to the end of the dock where the soldiers greeted him with cheers. The party then took carriages for General Howard's residence, preceded by the band and soldiers. General Howard's residence, the company barracks and the House of Providence were brilliantly illuminated; bonfires blazed on Main street, and flags were stretched across the street at various points. Shortly after the Grant party arrived at Howard's residence Gov. E. P. Terry, Sec'y. N. Howings, Surveyor Gen. Wm. McMicker, Auditor T. M. Reed, Major J. R. Hayden, Judge John P. Hoyt, Hon. F. H. Cook, president of the council; Hon. Geo. H. Steward, Speaker of the House, and 30 members of the legislature entered the house in a body and took places in the east parlor, Gov. Ferry addressed Gen. Grant as follows:

"The very pleasant duty has devolved upon me of presenting to you this joint resolution unanimously adopted by the council and house of representatives of Washington Territory, inviting you to visit all portions of the Territory, and particularly Olympia the capital. In addition to this expression of representatives, I can assure you that the people of the Territory will be highly complimented and gratified by a visit from you. Should you visit the eastern portion of the Territory you would obtain personal knowledge of a large acreage of agricultural land capable of producing 100,000,000 bushels of wheat annually, and from 25 to 50 bushels per acre. At the present time you would find several thousand tons of wheat awaiting export on account of the inadequacy of transportation. You would also be confirmed in the opinion, which I think you entertain, that it is the duty of government to remove the obstructions to navigation existing in that noble river, a portion of which you traversed to-day, to enable those who inhabit the headwaters to obtain an unobstructed outlet to the sea. Should you visit western Washington, and particularly Puget Sound, you will discover the great commercial and manufacturing facilities of that locality. We cannot promise as grand a demonstration as you have received at many points since your return, but we can promise you heartfelt welcome, and can assure you that the people of no portion of our common country have higher admiration of you as a man, as a soldier and as a statesman, than have the people of Washington Territory."

The general responded as follows:

Governor and Members of the Legislature:

I regret exceedingly that I shall not be able to remain long enough to visit any other portion of the territory. I had expected to spend several weeks on the Pacific coast, but the reunion of the army of the Tennessee, which I commanded during the late unpleasantness, was postponed for my return, and I have promised to meet them. They did not fix the day until I promised to be with them early in November. That, with other appointments, compels me to leave not later than the 17th. You can easily see the impossibility of accepting your invitation. Your statement of the producing quality of the territory surprises and gratifies me. I lived a year on the spot on which I now stand, but never visited that portion of which you speak. I always supposed that while part was productive, the greater share was too unproductive, except of fish and timber, to justify enough population to make a State, unless there should be some mineral developments. From your statement I have no doubt of your soon becoming a State, and we can't have too many in this latitude.

At the reception all officers of the post and their wives, and many prominent citizens of Vancouver, called. Grant will meet the citizens of Vancouver to-morrow morning. He goes to the cascades on Wednesday and Salem on Thursday.

A Portland dispatch says: The streets are crowded to-night with thousands of people, and the city wears a very animated appearance. It is estimated that 10,000 people from various portions of the State and Washington Territory are visiting the city. The steamer St. Paul will leave fort Vancouver to-morrow at 11.30 o'clock for Portland, and will arrive here at 1 p.m. The steamer City of Salem will leave here at 9 a.m. to-morrow for Vancouver with members of the reception to meet General Grant and party. The procession is expected to be ready to move at 2 p.m. A Grant ball to-morrow evening at Mechanics' Pavilion, under the auspices of the C. A. R.; On Wednesday evening a formal reception in the Pavilion, to which the public is invited. General Grant will sail hence on the St. Paul on the morning of the 17th instant.

San Francisco, 14.—A Portland dispatch says: All preparations having been perfected by the citizens' committee, the steamer City of Salem, left this morning at 9 o'clock for Vancouver, having on board the reception committee and members of the press. The steamer arrived at Vancouver about 10.30; at 11.30 the St. Paul started for Portland with Gen. Grant and party, accompanied by the City of Salem. Just before leaving the wharf for Portland, Hon. H. W. Corbett, chairman of the committee on reception, made an address of welcome, to which General Grant replied in a few words, simply expressing his thanks. The steamers reached the city about 2.30, and amid the thunders of artillery, clanging of bells and screaming of whistles, the St. Paul came alongside the dock. At least 20,000 persons had assembled in the vicinity, awaiting the arrival of the distinguished guest. Every housetop and available nook was crowded, and the streets for a large number of blocks were filled with a mass of surging humanity. Gen. Grant was met at the wharf by Mayor Thompson, who said:

"Gen. Grant, as mayor of the city of Portland, in behalf of the citizens of this city, I extend to you a cordial welcome, and tender you the hospitalities of Portland."

Gen. Grant simply replied:

"Mayor Thompson, I thank you."

The party were then escorted to the carriages in waiting, and the procession, under charge of Grand Marshal Col. McCracken, at once formed in the following order:

Grand marshal and aids, Twenty-first Regiment and band, carriage containing Gen. Grant, Mayor D. P. Thompson, Gov. W. W. Thayer and Gen. O. O. Howard. The first division consisted of 40 carriages, containing prominent visitors and officials, federal, state and military. Following these came carriages containing the officials of the municipal government of Portland and East Portland, members of the Washington Territory legislature, and many other invited guests from abroad. The second division was composed of the various military companies, United States troops and four militia companies of this city. The third division consisted of the entire fire department of Portland, five companies, with their steam engines gaily trimmed and decked with flags and ribbods. The fourth division was composed of members of the grand army, civic authorities and citizens.

Leaving Flander's wharf the procession moved up E Street to First. When it arrived opposite the custom house and the Central School building, all the children of the public schools, to the number of 2,000, were ranged along the sidewalk dressed in gay holiday attire. When the carriage containing General Grant came opposite the centre column of the pupils, the procession halted, four little girls, each bearing in her hand a large and eloquent bouquet, stepped forward from the front line and advanced to the carriage in which Grant sat and presented him with the floral offerings. He took the tributes and bowed his thanks, when the quartette withdrew and resumed their places in line. Two thousand childish voices immediately struck up the national anthem "America." At the close of the song the 21st Regiment Band responded and rendered an appropriate air. The procession then resumed its line of march. These exercises were witnessed by many thousands and constituted one of the most pleasing and attractive episodes of the day's demonstration.

Continuing the march the procession moved down Morrison to Front, and down that street to the Clarendon Hotel, where General Grant and party are stopping. The city is attired in gay holiday trappings, and Front and First Streets present to the eye a perfect wilderness of flags and bunting for nearly a mile. The shipping in the port is displaying a profusion of flags and streamers on every hand. The enthusiasm assumes a form quite extravagant. For hours before the procession moved and during the time it was in motion, the streets were jammed for many blocks by eager and enthusiastic thousands.
