After commenting on the apparent de-sire of stage prompters to "show off their clocutionary powers to the audience," the Virginia hronicle offers gratis the following suggestion: "Let each actor have a flexible rubber pipe extending from the wings along the stage and running up his pants leg to his ear. Through the pipe the prompter might whisper the lines so as not to be heard by any one except the person to whom the pipe was attached, and then there would be no excuse for an actor backing up against a tree or the sides of the wings and motioning to a prompter to come up and yell the part to him."

WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE?

THE New York Herald has not yet got the better of its fit of insensate wildness in regard to the people of this part of the great republic. In its issue of Sunday, April 15, it concludes a flory article in this way-

"While the world is thrilled with horror at the barbarism of the Turks, and an outcry is raised for their expulsion from the assem-blage of civilized mas, we cannot join our voices in the demand so long as other nations can point to Utah and the Mormons as they do to Bulgaria and the Bashi-Bazouks who reach in willarse filled with the to Bulgaria and the Bashi-Bazouks who revel in villages filled with the slaughtered. Away, then, with this bestial, blasphemous and blood-stained congregation, which insults God in the midst of his grandest works and the noblest and grandest feelings of man under the flag of our Republic. Lat Mormonism be extirpated from the land by the Samson of the law, even if its ad-herents should be buried beneath the ruins of its temples."

It seems to us that the conductors of a great newspaper and the enged writers therefor should have a decent modicum of common sense in their composition, and not give loose to passion with perfect recklessness. Can anybody see any evidence of good sense, of justice, in the above extract? We do not
