By Telegraph.

SIoux CITY, 10.—At 9.50 yesterday this city was visited by quite a severe shock of earthquake. The people rushed out of doors, and considerable excitement prevailed for a brief period. The shock only lasted about a minute and a half, but the buildings were pretty well shaken. No serious damage to property is reported. At Fort Randall, Dacotah Territory, the shock was severe, and great excitement prevailed. At Yankton the shock was faint but distinct, doing no damage. Reports from other portions of Dakota show that none of the principal points escaped entirely.

YANKTON, D. T., 9.—The delegate election yesterday for this territory was a personal contest, the Republican vote being divided between two candidates—Judge Brookings and Colonel Moody. The returns received up to eight o'clock to-night insure the election of Armstrong, Democrat, by a small majority. Being personally popular he has received the votes of many Republicans. A combined Republican vote would have beaten him nearly two to one.

A London letter says the publication of the ponderous judgment of Sir Alex. Cockburn, dissenting from the award of the Geneva arbitrators, has had the effect to create a belief that the award was flagrantly unjust to England. The language of the Lord Chief Justice is very severe, and he is alike indignant at the British and American governments. The correspondent says also the more the Alabama adjudication is studied, and the better it is understood the less it is liked; and even that thick and thin supporter of the government the Telegraph, finds cause for gloomy forebodings.

AUBURN, N. Y.—Ex-Secretary Seward died at his residence here at 3 p.m.

ST. LOUIS.—The rencontre between J. M. Turner and Geo. B. Wedley, two prominent colored politicians, yesterday morning, seems to have grown out of political jealousies. Turner was anxious to be elected to the Legislature, but Wedley favored C. H. Landy. Both met at the reception given to Turner on Tuesday night when Turner denounced Wedley in strong terms. About 3 o'clock yesterday morning Landy called at Wedley's house, and asked him to get up and to consult about a meeting. Wedley complied, and stepped out on the street and found Turner there, who reproached him for his bad treatment, whereupon Turner knocked him down three times, when Wedley drew a pen knife and thrust it into the lower part of Turner's left lung. Turner lies in a critical condition.

Legal proceedings were promptly instituted in the city court to-day, and a rule issued against the owners of the property, ordering them to show cause why the buildings should not be torn down. Warrants for the murder of Mr. Henry Nolte, who with his wife and two children were killed by the accident, were issued this afternoon against John Andrewartha, the architect, John Hehl, the contractor, and Lawrence Stillman, the foreman. Andrewartha and Hehl were arrested and admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000 each. It is reported Stillman has fled the country. The mortar used in the building was of wretched quality, little better than wet sand.

NEW YORK, 12.—At Jerome park this afternoon, the third race, a dash of a mile and five-eighths, was won by "Ortolan," beating seven horses, time 2:59½. The great interest of the day centered in the four mile dash race between "Harry Bassett" and "Monarchist," and the excitement ran very high. The spectators crowded every available spot and the most intense anxiety was exhibited as the two horses ran neck and neck all the way to the beginning of the fourth mile. "Bassett" played out after the third mile; "Monarchist" worked nobly and won the race by 200 yards, amid enthusiastic cheering. Time 7:33½.

NEW YORK, 13.—The following is an account of the great four-mile race yesterday, at Jerome Park, in which Mr. H. Sandford's "Monarchist," by "Lexington," distanced "Harry Bassett." "Monarchist" went off first with "King Henry" second, "Bassett" trailing, pace very slow. "Bassett" passed "King Henry" and a length or two behind "Monarchist." In this way they ran the first mile. When passing the stand Colonel McDaniels signalled Roe to go on. At the turn "Bassett" was even with "Monarchist," and gradually took the lead, holding it by half a length. As they rounded the bluffs, coming into view they were neck and neck. At three quarters of a mile from the pole "Monarchist" led a trifle, at a furlong nearer the pole and stand "Monarchist" again took the lead. Again McDaniels ordered Roe to go on, and again Jimmy responded, but before reaching the quarter it was evident that "Bassett" could not or would not respond to Roe's call. From that point to the finish "Monarchist" slowly but surely increased the lead, and finally won by two hundred yards, in 7:33½. "Bassett" second, 50 yards in front of "King Henry." Time, first mile 1:52½, second 1:47½, third 1:56½, fourth 1:57.

Troops will arrive before the city tomorrow and combine with the garrison in an attack on the rebels without delay. The Gaceta says the insurgents have seized the steamer Cadiz, a tug boat and several bargues. The citizens seem to look upon the movement with indifference, taking no part. The military governor, the commandant of the post and all the officers are faithful to the government, and, with the troops of the garrison, occupy strategic points. The captain general of Corunna and all his disposable forces have marched for Ferrol. Troops have been despatched thither from Giron, St. Ander and Balbao. An ironclad has sailed from Carthage for the same point. The only place of importance held by the insurgents is the arsenal, from which they will soon be unable to move. As full as an egg is of meat, is a familiar illustration, and an egg is not only proverbially full of meat, but the egg business is an important and growing business, though at first sight it may be thought an humble one. It is a business that deserves study and cultivation, and it is sure to receive patronage while men and women like good living. Many of our citizens have had considerable experience in regard to the various noted breeds of chickens, and should be able to tell the results of that experience, and the comparative value of the various kinds. The public at large, we have no doubt, would be glad to know which breeds are best, first, for eggs; second, for meat; and third, for both eggs and meat. If such information, of a trustworthy kind, could be presented concisely to the public, it would be acceptable, for, as of good butter, so of good eggs, the market is not likely to be overstocked.

Large quantities of animal fat, horse fat, are shipped off regularly to Hamburg, to return made up into what is termed in the trade "bosh butter."
