

W. H. PARRENT IS RELEASED

Prisoner Who Turned State's Evidence in Sheets' Case Given Liberty.

"HE'LL BE HERE ALL RIGHT."

So Said the County Attorney When Questioned Regarding the Future Of the Case.

Upon motion of County Atty. Hanson, an order was made by Judge Whitaker of the city court this morning releasing William H. Parrent on his own recognizance. Parrent is charged in the city court with robbery and grand larceny for his connection with the McWhirter robbery in this city on Sept. 18 last, and had been placed under bonds by Judge Whitaker in the sum of $5,000. During the recent preliminary hearing of Chief of Police Sheets, Parrent turned state's evidence and told the whole story of the transaction implicating Chief Sheets, and it was upon his testimony that the chief was bound over to the district court.

A similar order will be made in the case by Justice of the Peace Bishop, before whom Parrent is charged with conspiracy. He will then be at liberty as far as all present charges against him are concerned. When asked today by a "News" representative what assurance he had that Parrent would be on hand when the district court takes up the Sheets case, County Atty. Hanson replied: "He'll be here all right when we want him."

MAYOR McDONALD HERE.

Half Million Fruit Trees Planted at Green River This Spring.

Hon. Rod McDonald, mayor of Green River, Utah, and who was recently appointed United States commissioner, is in Salt Lake for a few days on business. He says that the northern of Emery county in which he lives is fast forging to the front. Not only has spring come, but it has been with them right along. They have not had a particle of snow or frost during all of the winter months, and it is the best of the season. The climate in the north is the best of the season. The climate in the north is the best of the season. The climate in the north is the best of the season.

Within a few weeks nearly half a million fruit trees have been planted, 50 percent of which are peaches. These, with those already set out, will soon make Green River famous for the quantity of fruit produced. The trees are of the best quality. The trees are of the best quality. The trees are of the best quality.

LOVEY OBSEQUIES.

Remains of Talented Young Cartoonist Laid to Rest This Afternoon.

Seldom has a young man and a private citizen had a larger funeral than did Alan L. Lovey, and not often has been deeper expressions of sympathy and regret than those manifested by the hundreds who met this afternoon to pay tribute to the memory of one who in life was loved and respected not only by all who had known him, but by many who had never met him face to face.

The two organizations with which the deceased had been most prominently connected—the Elks and the Press Association—had charge of the obsequies. The pallbearers were equally divided between these societies, L. D. Fred, A. J. Davis and S. L. Palmer for the Elks and A. N. McKay, George B. Carpenter and Charles Whittle for the Press club.

The casket was taken from Evans' undertaking parlors, where friends had viewed the remains, to the Episcopal church, and the services, Rev. C. E. Perkins officiating, commenced at 2 o'clock.

The church was crowded to its capacity by friends of Mr. Lovey and his family and the services were of a very impressive character. Bowls of bread and tea-stained eyes bore mute testimony of the sorrow felt at the taking from earth, at a time when life seemed sweetest and best, of the young cartoonist, and the sympathy of all present went out to the bereaved young wife, the mother and other relatives of the deceased. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

The remains of Mr. Lovey were placed in a vault in Mt. Olivet cemetery, where they will repose until a choice shall have been made of a final resting place.

END OF TROUBLE IS NOT IN SIGHT

Miners at Goldfield Still Stirred Up Over Labor Agitation By I. W. W.

VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY.

It Is That John P. Sylva Was Killed By a Gun Shot, But Murder Not Named.

(Special to the "News.")

Goldfield March 11.—The jury chosen to hold an inquest over the remains of John P. Sylva returned a verdict yesterday that the deceased came to his death from a gunshot wound. The names of the jurors were L. G. Williams, J. B. Blake, J. H. Griffin, H. C. Bailey, C. F. Erickson and R. W. Murta. Witnesses who testified were Drs. Calloway and Turner, Constable Truman, O. Nygaard, J. T. Comerford, A. B. Green and others. Inman said that shortly before he died Sylva described his murderer, and from the description given Preston was arrested and charged with the killing. The two physicians corroborated the testimony of the constable as to the dying statement of Sylva.

Nygaard, Comerford and Green saw Preston in the restaurant of deceased about the time of the shooting, and each testified that he could identify the man who fired the fatal shot. The hearing was had before Justice of the Peace Solomon.

Many rumors are afloat in Goldfield, one being to the effect that Preston, the alleged assassin, has made a complete confession and named as accessories leading members of the I. W. W.

Intense excitement continues, and it is feared that the worst is not over. One George Bubard has been arrested, charged with attempted arson. The slaying of the McKenzie building was found to have been saturated with coal oil, and as threats had been made to fire the block and Bubard's actions were suspicious, the arrest followed.

Vincent St. John, a Cripple Creek agitator, is reported to have made threats that Goldfield would be wiped out unless the trouble is adjusted as desired by the I. W. W. Members of the organization are holding meetings daily, and the leaders are strictly in the saddle, outwitting the members at every point. Mounted armed men are on guard day and night, and if violence is resorted to by the I. W. W., the guard will be fierce and bloody.

Most of the mines were running today, and saloons were again open at full blast.

BROKE HER WRIST.

Mrs. Katherine Parsons, Teacher at Lowell School, Meets With Accident.

As Mrs. Katherine Parsons, a teacher in the Lowell school and who resides at 160 Tenth East street, was on her way to her duties in the school room, yesterday, she slipped on the icy sidewalk at a point on South Temple between Ninth and Tenth East, and fell heavily to the pavement. Believing that she had sprained her wrist, Mrs. Parsons called at the office of Dr. Wilcox, and the latter, after examining the injured member, pronounced the bone of the wrist to be broken.

Inquiry at the Parsons' home today elicited the information that while the arm is very painful, the patient is getting along favorably and will suffer no permanent effects, but she will doubtless be kept out of the school room for some time.

A PRINCE EXPLORER.

The Duke of the Abruzzi has recently been lecturing in England with notable success. After his lecture before the Royal Geographical society King Edward congratulated him publicly and made quite a speech. The duke has made a worldwide reputation as an explorer, having been nearer the north pole than anybody except Peary.

Prince Luigi is a real scientist, rich, good looking and still a bachelor. He is reputed, however, to be engaged to Princess Elena of Savoy, niece of the queen of Italy.

MUSICAL WALKING STICKS.

Among the queer instruments in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, are a cane violin and three cane flutes. The former is a peculiar, narrow instrument of small size, but perfect in every detail, made in imitation of a walking stick and furnished with an ornamental knob handle. The strings are held by small iron pins and are tuned with a key. When not in use a small bow slips within the stick, and a round cover, held by metal bands, conceals the clever little instrument. The length of the violin is two feet eleven inches, and its greatest width is one and three-quarters inches. It is a German concert and dates from the nineteenth century. Like the cane violin, the cane flute is also of German make, but it dates from early in the eighteenth century. The flute is in C and is made of a light wood, ornamented with turned bands of the same color and finished with a knob. The lower joint is solid. It has six finger holes and one flat brass key. The instrument is blown at the side like the transverse flute and is an excellent sounder. It is three feet long, and it requires a close inspection to see that the cane contains a flute.

SHEEPHERDERS IN WYOMING

Are Warned to Take Their Flocks And Themselves Out of The Country.

DISOBEDIENCE MEANS DEATH.

They Are Armed and Will Resist the Outcomes if They Make Any Attack on Them.

(Special to the "News.")

Sheridan, Wyo., March 11.—The situation between the cattlemen and sheepmen has reached a crucial point and notices have been posted at all sheep camps in northern Wyoming, warning the herders to take their flocks and get out of the country, on pain of death to both herders and sheep. These notices were posted at camps and crossroads. The movement is so widespread that the notices appeared the same night at points 200 miles from each other. They cover the entire grazing country of northern Wyoming.

The sheepmen say the notices came from the cattlemen who want to drive the flocks out of the country that the cattlemen may have the grass. Sheepmen are armed and will resist any attempt to make them leave the country. A meeting of flockmasters has been called to take measures to protect the flocks.

WHITNEY COMES HERE.

Supt. George Gieger of the Western has resigned March 15, and will be succeeded by W. A. Whitney superintendent of transportation at Denver. Mr. Whitney arrived last evening, with General Supt. Welby.

SAN PEDRO AFFAIRS.

Las Vegas Age Rises to Explain Clark-Harriman Deal.

According to the Las Vegas, Nev., Age, 40 miles of the San Pedro road had been home-bought in Meadow Valley wash north of Caliente. South of Las Vegas, between Ord and Daguerre, the Mojave river has carried away a large section of track. The Age says of the Clark-Harriman deal, "Harriman of the Short Line, was the real cause of Clark's surrender to Harriman. Salt Lake was probably the appointee where Clark capitulated. Harriman's control of all lines east of Salt Lake probably forced the Cooper King to terms. Only by allowing Harriman's control of the Salt Lake could Clark get favorable freight rates. Clark was shrewd enough to let go when he found himself in possession of a stub railroad, with Harriman demanding tribute on all through business. Perhaps it paid him to sell control to the man in the highest. Circumstances indicate the Salt Lake railroad was built economically to sell to the highest bidder."

SPIKE AND RAIL.

J. W. O'Brien, city passenger agent of the Chicago & Northwestern at Milwaukee, is in the city on a short visit.

Asst. General Freight Agent Tuttle of the Short Line has gone on a business trip to San Francisco.

The San Pedro trains are now running to Minto, a station beyond Caliente. The road will be open for operation to Caliente the first of the week.
