TROUBLE OVER THE REFEREE

Scorge Siler Did Not Officiate for Reasons Set Forth in This Article-Hes Fought in Rain.

If any one asks you who won the glove est at the Salt Palace last night between Mike Schreck and John Wille, tell the questioner that the decision was giv-Schreck in the tenth round because of a foul blow struck by Wille, and you telling the straight of it. At the me time it is very doubtful, indeed, if schreck can ever become the real fighter that the man is over whom he won. As a hammer and tongs striker Wille is a wonder and no unbiased judge will be-lieve for a moment that Schreck can ever beat him. It is doubtful, too, if he will wer meet him again.

REFEREE BEAN WAS RATTLED.

When the foul was committed in the sixth round. Referee Bean saw it. He or-dered the timeksepere to take out time, Schrock was on the floor at the time, and was evidently suffering from the low blow. When he sufficiently recovered to continued the fight. Bean ordered the context to proceed. Schreck weakened from that time on. It was agreed be-tween the fighters that "NEITHER WANTED TO WIN ON A FOUL, and that technical fouls would be overlooked. Nevertheless, the articles of agreement called for STRAIGHT MARQUIS OF QUEENSBURY RULES. A foul with-out damage could be overlooked by the neferce, the fighters and the seconds. But a foul such as Wille committed could not bistly be passed over. When Schreck was and the floor in the tenth round Reau did not count or ask that time be taken out the wited a few seconds and then sent Schreck to his corner. He next placed his hand on Wille's shoulder and many took the act to indicate Wille as the winner. Bean Then said there was no decision. Next he said that Wille won. Immediate-ly there was a how from Schreck's cor-ner and hundreds of spectators climbed to the platform. Here here the the mer and hundreds of spectators climbed to find the that all bots were off. though they and their managers freely admit that Willard Bean is absolutely honest, and that his intentions were good. But with reference to the selection of Si-ler and his failure to officiate, the facts as the "Nows" gets them from the state-ment made by Siler and the statement made by Bean are as follows : Bean telegraphed Siler asking for his terms to officiate. Siler replied that he would soon be on the ground and would then give his answer. How much the noted referee demanded as compensation is known only to a few. Willard Bean would not state the amount. "I will tell you this much," said Bean, "Siler wanted six times as much as any referee has ever been paid here and I would not give it." When Bean entered the ring has high. The introduced Siler to the crowd, saying that Siler would rather remain a silent spectator than act as referee, because he (Siler) had an option of the referee ion on th const. ellippery, the water and rosin not mixing well. The fight by rounds would be to occupy more space than it is worth. It can be summed by by saying that Schreck proved plainly that he is the more clever of the two. His blows were more accurate, speedice and cleaner. That's all one can say for Schreck. In point of strength and ruggedness and taking punchment. Wile has a big lead over the Dutchman. His blows burt Mike while the latters punches apparently had no effect on Wile. Mike worked for the body in the beginning of the fight and counters, but through to Wile in every clover but ducking. In the seventh Wille hagn forcing mat-ters, and had the better of several fleries rallies. Mike did the better infighting but Wille's essureting told. In the seventh John landed a clean left book to Mike's chin and the latter went down like a log. He took the count and then mixed matters again. This was the only knockdown in the fight. Wille was gradually ferming ahead until the tenth when the foul vame that ended the fight. Scheeck claims if he had continued, and Wille kept up his tac-tics, it would only be a question of a short time until he (Schreck) would have been weakened and knocked out. Wille is the harden game Mike has tackled. It bech wenkened and knecked out. Wille is the hardesi game Mike has tackled. It is doubtful if there is a fighter among Wille's class who can knock him out. Jeff is probably the only man who could turn that trick.
