BLAINE IN CONNECTICUT.

His Efforts to Convert the Doubtful State.

NORWICH, Conn., Nov. 1.—An enthusiastic crowd of 25,000 people gathered at Williams Park today to hear James G. Blaine speak on the issues of the campaign. The crowd had come from all the surrounding points, and a large portion of it from Rhode Island. When the orator mounted the stand and presented himself at the rail, he was cheered by thousands who, when he had begun to speak, were too far away to hear him, but cheered vigorously when the others cheered. After discussing the tariff question, Mr. Blaine said:

I have read the speech made by Bayard, Secretary of State. Mr. Bayard is a peculiar gentleman. He is a gentleman of very high sentiments. In fact, there is nobody who speaks the English language, so far as I know, since Joseph Surface who has so fine sentiments as Mr. Bayard. [Laughter.] Mr. Bayard's speech is devoted to the wicked conspiracy of the republicans. They all have taken that word. Mr. Thurman has taken that word. The wicked conspiracy of the republicans that entrapped Lord Sackville into writing the letter, and he calls down the wrath of the country upon those most wicked conspirators that got up that letter that Lord Sackville answered. Now, I must say that Mr. Bayard puts himself in a peculiar position, because if there were a wicked conspiracy of leading republicans to entrap Lord Sackville into writing an imprudent letter these conspirators ought to be punished. But instead he punishes Lord Sackville. He says: "Here is a most unprincipled, monstrous conspiracy against this man and in consequence of this conspiracy of which I cannot get the authors I will send Lord Sackville back home and make him bear the sins of these conspirators." That is a very remarkable statement. They acknowledge that they were not quick to do it, but after ten days and after they had received advices and telegrams from all parts of the country that if they did not start Lord Sackville the Irish vote would start [laughter], then Lord Sackville had to go. It will be an agreeable thing in England for Lord Salisbury, the prime minister, to know that President Cleveland's administration deliberately weighed Lord Sackville against the Irish vote and started him. [Applause.]

We have another paper here, speaking of conspiracies and wicked things. The World, which I believe is counted a good democratic organ, is opposed to Abram Hewitt, and this morning it reproduces the Morey letter (that was forged eight years ago against the lamented President Garfield when he was the republican candidate), and now the World is belaboring Mr. Hewitt because he said it was a true letter and aided in putting the forgery into circulation. That is pretty amusing. [Laughter.] It opposed Hewitt for mayor of New York because Hewitt lent his name as endorser of the rascally scheme of the forged letter against the republican leader. Now, gentlemen, there is a good old adage which I would not wish to quote, about somebody falling out and honest men getting their dues. [Laughter.] But I did not expect to live to see the day when one section of the democratic party would want to swear off the responsibility of the Morey letter upon another. There it stands. The audacious forgery is reproduced. It is a forgery all through, and one of the democrats who gave his high reputation and high character to put it into circulation was Abram Hewitt, and it rises up against him now; not from republicans, but from other democrats, and when the democrats all get to exposing each other [Applause,] that would be a terrible day. If they do that the republicans would not need stump speeches, or mass meetings, or flags, or any other paraphernalia to carry on the election. The election would carry itself.

Speaking of Mr. Bayard's position in regard to Lord Sackville the democratic party never has conducted the affairs of the country with Great Britain with dignity or with advantage to this country. And if you will contrast the administration of General Grant and Abraham Lincoln in their conduct of affairs with Great Britain with what has been done by the democrats you would ask no other issues. We owe to the democratic party and to its bad diplomacy the loss of British Columbia, that vast province on the Pacific Coast, which would give us the entire coast from Behring Strait down to the Gulf of California. To bad diplomacy and the surrender of the democratic party, we owe the reciprocity treaty of 1854, in which we get about one article to forty as compared with the Canadian reciprocity treaty, which was 30 degrees on one side, which was our opponent's, and one degree on our side. We owe that to them. In fact, it is not in the power of the democratic party to point to a single treaty or diplomatic procedure they have made with Great Britain which redounds to the honor of this country.

Now, when General Grant was our President, he had the most embarrassing, the most trying, the most delicate question to settle with Great Britain—the question of the Alabama claim. The democratic party could not have settled these claims, but General Grant's administration settled them with honor to America, with peace to both countries, and the mutual respect of both parties. The democratic party in the first place, has blustered with Great Britain and then surrendered. The republican party never blustered and never had anything to surrender. [Applause.] They have always conducted themselves with dignity. They maintained the honor of the country and have had respect from their opponents. They never sought war with Great Britain that we would submit the claims of the Alabama to arbitration, we not only gained a victory for ourselves but we gained a victory for all humanity, and we did more than any other nation of the nineteenth century to bring to a close what might have proved the bloodiest war of the world. We did more to establish peace and law and rule between the nations, and we did more to add to the great glory of international arbitration and add a chapter to international law, and Great Britain respects us therefor, under republican rule than under the democratic party. [Applause.] All precedents have been in the line of honor, to ourselves, and a fair adjustment with our opponents.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 1.—Mr. Blaine reached the city this evening and after dining with Mr. Bulkley, republican candidate for governor, was escorted to the armory where he spoke briefly to an audience of 5000.

Mining Market.

DENVER, Nov. 1.—Ore sales at the Union Sampling Works, 145 tons. Receipts, 200 tons. Lead ores contain 30 to 40 per cent and 35 cents per unit. Smelting charges on ores, 39 to 40 per cent; 35 cents per unit. Smelting charges on ores, $3.00 to $32.15 per ton; on concentrates, $4.25 to $12.50. Market very strong at fair per cent.

BRITISH PRESS COMMENTS.

How English Papers View Sackville's Dismissal.

The Star, (T. P. O'Connor's paper) says: Bayard puts it pretty strong. The Irishman's vote is so pressing and the desire to satisfy him so urgent that Cleveland cannot wait until Salisbury takes action. The incident furnishes fresh evidence of the paramount influence of the Irish vote in Anglo-American politics.

The Pall Mall Gazette expresses the hope that the ire of the democratic wire pullers is now assuaged. Cleveland could do no more, without throwing Lord Sackville into jail. What a silly business it was all through. The British consolation is that President Cleveland eclipses Lord Sackville's indiscretion. It is one thing to be tricked into making a slip in private, but it is quite a different thing to plunge headlong into the abyss of folly in ill-temper. We owe Cleveland thanks for showing that the silliest man in Washington was not born in England.

The Globe says: Unhappily for America in one sense, happily in another, the proneness of the administration and the journalist to bluster during an election is comprehended by the politicians of the same sort better than ever among the best informed persons here. It is understood as a portion of the great scheme which everybody sees through, but in which, nevertheless, everybody affects to believe. Whichever party scolds England the loudest will win. Lord Salisbury preserved England's dignity by not indulging Mr. Bayard's desire to hurry over what is only a piece of election strategy. As far as England is concerned, the matter is over. Our only cause for shame is that those we call cousins are capable of such short-sighted folly. Both of the leaders chosen work upon whatever anti-English feeling exists, and bid for it by a competition to bluster. If Mr. Cleveland is re-elected it will be as a President whose Secretary of State sent the British minister his passports and snapped his finger in the face of Downing Street. It will be a perilous character he will have earned, because it will have to be maintained.

The Daily News says: The suggestion to retaliate upon Mr. Phelps is both critically illogical and practically foolish. Again, justifying Mr. Cleveland's course, the News maintains that if he had ignored the matter and Harrison happened to be successful in the coming election, he (Harrison) would probably have seized the first chance to intimate that Lord Sackville's room was preferable to his company.

The Daily Chronicle says: With every desire that President Cleveland and Secretary Bayard should enjoy the monopoly of their rudeness, it is impossible to submit to having our representative treated like a Chinese coolie or Irish pauper emigrant. There need be no heat displayed, but if England is to remain a self-respecting nation, her minister must not be slow to resent so deep an insult to national dignity.

The Standard says: Ought we to turn our cheek to the smiter and send another embassador to Washington or to treat Mr. Bayard's letter and Mr. Cleveland's act with contemptuous indifference? We observe a disposition at home to take this line. Continuing in this blustering strain, the Standard hints that the United States would not have ventured to treat Germany, France or Russia in the same manner. "To ask what Palmerston would have done in a similar case would be a waste of breath, for in his day, no English embassador would have been exposed to such scurvy treatment. If the matter is left unnoticed, we believe that England may be insulted with impunity, and this will grow with repeated practice until eventually it will lead to an intolerable affront and an open quarrel. Whether Phelps is left or not, some expedient must be discovered to convey to the government and the people of America our sense of unfr endliness at the unmanneliness of their conduct.

Parnell's Suit in Scotland.

EDINBURGH, Nov. 1.—The case of Parnell against the London Times for libel was again heard in the Court of Sessions today. Council discussed the question of the relevancy of the action brought by Parnell, the defendants contending the court had no jurisdiction. Judge Kinness reserved judgment.

An Asteroid Discovered.

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—A cable message from the European Union of Astronomers announces a discovery of an asteroid (No. 281) of 128 magnitude by Dr. Palliisa of Vienna. The discovery position is as follows: October 31, 5165 Greenwich mean time, right ascension, 2 hours 12 minutes 46 seconds; declination north 58 degrees, right ascension 7 minutes, in declination south 1 minute.

An African Village Bombarded.

ZANZIBAR, Nov. 1.—The German man-of-war Sophia today bombarded Whindi, a village north of Bogomyo, and the commader of the Sophia then landed an armed force and burned a portion of the village. One old negro was killed. It is stated that the villagers supplied the insurgents with reinforcements, arms and munitions.

Ocean Collision.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Capt. Kennedy of the ship Creedmore, from Manila, reports that on Sept. 9 he fell in with the ship Ardenaple, which was in distress, having collided with the ship Earl of Wemyss. The latter sunk, carrying down 16 passengers; the others were rescued and taken aboard the Ardenaple, which was found to be unsafe, and the crews of both vessels were taken on board the Creedmore, except Capt. Guthrie, of the Ardenaple, who decided to stay by his ship. The shipwrecked crews were landed at Barbadoes.

A Cyclone in Iowa.

LAPORTE, Iowa, Nov. 1.—A cyclone struck this place tonight, coming from the northwest. Union Hall was demolished and a large number of houses unroofed and blown down, a section of the building being carried many blocks away. Great loss has been occasioned to the merchants. The residence of Sandere Walker was blown to atoms and the children rolled about on the ground. The mother was seriously hurt. No other injuries are reported. Loss on property is $75,000. Reports of damage are coming from all sections of the country.

Reduction of Wages.

TOPEKA, Nov. 1.—President Strong, of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad, accompanied by Vice President Goddard, arrived here today from Boston to attend a meeting of the officers of that road. It is reported that a reduction of 10 per cent will be made in the wages of all employes of the road receiving more than $60 per month. This includes officers, clerks, conductors, collectors, station agents, etc. This reduction is made to meet the decline in the business of the road and to guard against the discharge of employes at a time when it would be difficult to secure other employment.

Manager Stone.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—H. R. Stone has been appointed second vice-president of the C. B. & Q. system. E. P. Ripley succeeds Mr. Stone as general manager of the C. B. & Q. road east of the Missouri River. The change took effect today.

The Times has the following:

The stand taken by Mr. Stone on the labor question is said to have had nothing to do with bringing about the present changes in his duties, as his course during the strike, whether prudent or imprudent, was sanctioned, and perhaps to some extent directed by persons higher in authority. At the same time it is the belief of many disinterested persons that the change will have the effect of quieting the prejudices that exist in certain quarters on account of the attitude of the management during the strike, and will therefore be beneficial to the company. There is some speculation as to whether Paul Morton will succeed Mr. Ripley in the position of traffic manager, or remain at the head of the freight department. This seems to be a question that is not yet definitely settled.

One Witness Shoots at Another.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—In a tavern opposite the law courts this afternoon J. Cavanaugh fired without effect at Planche Cox. It is reported that both Cavanaugh and Cox had been cited to appear as witnesses before the Parnell commission. Cavanaugh stated to the police he carried a weapon for self defense, as he had been threatened with death for certain disclosures.

A Murderer's Horrible Death.

DENVER, Nov. 1.—Last Monday Jas. Longonette, a bartender, was shot and killed by A. Case in a dispute over drinks. The murderer was promptly jailed. Since his incarceration he has been suffering from nervous prostration, and this morning taking convulsions he died in terrible agony, imagining the murdered man was torturing him.

Chinese in Canada.

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—The Chinese exclusion bill is causing much suffering to the Chinese who are detained at the British Columbia boundary line while on their way back to the United States after visiting China. The Chinese in many instances are penniless but the Canadian authorities insist on the collection of $50 a head from all who remain on British soil.

Lord Roseberry Speaks.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Lord Roseberry addressed a meeting at Dalkeith yesterday. In the course of his speech he read a letter from Gladstone in which the latter said:

"I conceive that the country has indicated a very general desire to retain the Irish members at Westminster. We recognize that desire, and are prepared to give it effect."

Mobbing a Professor.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—A number of medical students, after leaving the theatre last night paraded the streets and stopping in front of Dr. McCully's groaned and hooted. Dr. McCully appeared at the window armed with a revolver. The students pelted him with bricks and stones. Dr. McCully fired amongst them and Harry Oldright, a son of Dr. Oldright, was shot in the leg. Several others are said to be wounded. Dr. McCully, who is a specialist, appeared before the police magistrate today and was remanded.

Students vs. Firemen.

CARLISLE, Pa., Nov. 1.—A serious disturbance occurred on the campus of Dickinson College last night between the students of the college and the fire department of the city. During the evening the students arranged to paint the city red and tear away the paling fence which surrounds the college proper. Placing it in a fire with other rubbish, it caused the entire fire department to respond. When the firemen reached the campus it was discovered that it was Hallow E'en. They so arranged that the hose was turned on the students. Stones were thrown on both sides. About a dozen were injured. Mayor Carman issued warrants and several arrests are to be made.

THE VERDICT UNANIMOUS.

W. D. Sult, druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all the diseases of the Liver, Kidneys and Blood. Only half a dollar a bottle at H. C. Smith & Co's drug store. 2

A WOMAN'S DISCOVERY.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made, and that too by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest test, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night, and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a trial bottle at A. C. Smith & Co's drug store. 2

BUY NORTHERN-GROWN SEEDS. WE ARE THE PRODUCERS OF seed sold by us. They are the best in the world. They are the best for all climates. They are earlier, more hardy, vigorous and productive than those grown in lower altitudes. We keep a large stock of fresh seed and believe that we can give you satisfaction. We unhesitatingly affirm that no better seeds than those we deal in CAN BE PROCURED. Bestowing such assiduous care upon them, we feel justified in saying our seeds are UNSURPASSED in purity and quality. We do not pretend to be the "only house in the west selling NORTHERN-GROWN SEEDS," but we do claim that we have the very best seed to be had anywhere; and that has not been all over the country, for several years, in commission boxes, as we do not send out any commission boxes at all, as so many do. Ask your HOME MERCHANT for our Northern-grown Seeds OUR PACKS are as low as reliable stocks can be sold at and afford a fair renumeration for the expense and labor attending the proper conduct of the seed business. We ask a trial order from all who have not used our seeds. Write for circulars. Address all correspondence to the UTAH NURSERY CO., General Western Agency, Salt Lake City, Utah.
