

DISORDER REIGNS OVER RUSSIA.

News From the Interior Shows
There Has Been Little Improvement in the Situation.

TERRIBLE SCENES IN ODESSA

Story of Massacre Not Fully Known in
St. Petersburg—Political Prisoners
Are Released.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—The news from the interior shows that there has been little improvement in the situation. In some places disorders have been commencing with renewed fury. The horrible story of massacre at Odessa is not fully known here. In the Caucasus the Tartars and Russians are cutting each other's throats and the Armenians are giving themselves up to pillage and incendiarism.

From Bakhmut, Bessarabia, comes an entirely new tale of revolt. A three days' attack on the Jews began Thursday, with every indication of police organization. Jewish students were beaten, the Jewish stores in the markets were sacked during the day and during the night the plunder of residences commenced. Troops arrived on the morning of the following day the work of pillage was resumed before the eyes of the soldiers and police. The prayers of the hunted Jews for mercy were unavailing. Toward noon the torch was applied to stores and houses. The police would not permit the Jews to fight the fire, and the houses were withdrawn. Then the pillage began afresh. It was temporarily stopped Saturday morning through the efforts of the Russian peasants, but the police sused false reports which aroused the mob and there was a renewal of the work of plunder and massacre. The losses are said to be in the millions of dollars. The Jews are terror-stricken and many of them have abandoned their lodgings and are sleeping in the houses of friends.

Many touching scenes were witnessed yesterday when the political prisoners were released under the amnesty decree. At the Schlussburg fortress, up the river, where the most dangerous political prisoners are kept in solitary confinement, a great concourse gathered looking for loved ones who vanished years ago and who whereabouts were known, but only four were released. A disappointed woman waiting for sons, husbands or brothers broke down and wept. A man named Pralenko and a comrade, who said they had spent over 20 years in prison, came out with long white beards. They knew practically nothing about what had occurred during their long imprisonment. Sazonoff, the murderer of Interior Minister Von Plehve, Jeter Kapovetz, the assassin of Minister of Public Instruction Rogachev, the chief of the terrorist conspiracy, and other terrorists were not released. A large body of prisoners released from other prisons later visited various meetings and related their experiences.

PRISON DOORS OPEN.

Moscow, Nov. 6.—The doors of the prisons were opened today and a large number of political prisoners were released. Roughs are levying contributions on persons venturing on the streets, but, though there have been rumors of pillage and attacks on students, the city so far has been comparatively quiet.

Anti-Semitic disturbances are reported from all the outlying districts. The peasants are excited, and are urged on by agitators from Odessa. Troops have been dispatched to the disturbed districts. The president of the board of trade has telegraphed to the minister of finance requesting him to provide the payment of liabilities for six months and to order the state bank not to shorten the credit of merchants and to facilitate the discounting of the bills of private banks and banking companies. The minister has agreed to send a quick answer, as a refusal will entail the greatest commercial disaster.

In view of the entire devastation of almost all the Jewish mills, shops and factories, the trade of Odessa is threatened with complete ruin, and wholesale bankruptcies are feared. Involving the international credit of Russia.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

Three Young Men for That of Samuel Stuzinski.

Lewistown, Mont., Nov. 6.—A Pinkerton detective, aided by local officers, has arrested and lodged in the county jail Edward Taylor and Ray Long, two well known young men, and Albert Heinicke, a printer employed on a Lewistown paper, on the charge of murdering Samuel Stuzinski, an aged pawnbroker, on the night of Aug. 25, and robbing him of $2,000 in gold. Because of the good standing of Taylor and Long their arrest has caused a sensation, and their friends are loath to believe the truth of the charge.

The detective who worked up the case claims to have successfully evaded the accused and to have secured damaging statements from each. Stuzinski was choked and beaten to death and his trunk filled with money and other valuables. He has a brother in San Francisco, said to be a wealthy jeweler and who is charged no expense to ferret out the crime.

ANGLO-JAP ALLIANCE.

Not Intended as a Threat to Other Nations.

London, Nov. 6.—Lord Lansdowne, secretary of foreign affairs, was the guest of the Junior Constitutional club at a dinner given tonight in honor of the signing of the Anglo-Japanese treaty. Lord Ashbourne, lord chancellor of Ireland, presided while among the large number present were Viscount Haysashi, the Japanese minister to Great Britain; Lord Halsbury, Earl Percy and other prominent in party and diplomatic circles.

Lord Ashbourne proposed the health of the guest of the evening, and Lord Lansdowne, replying, took occasion to reiterate that the Anglo-Japanese alliance was not intended as a threat to other nations or as an evidence of a desire to encroach upon their rights. He said that this was not a sinister conspiracy against other people, but that the object of the alliance was the maintenance of peace, the integrity and independence of China and the preservation of the open door, all of which policy was affirmed by all interested powers.

Another object of the alliance, he continued, was mutual defense against unprovoked attack, for which no one could blame either Japan or Great Britain. In the course of his speech Lord Lansdowne paid a tribute to Premier Balfour, saying that no premier had ever shown greater interest or care in foreign affairs. Therefore Lord Lansdowne accepted the compliment as intended for the government rather than personal to himself. He admitted that the government was suffering from lassitude consequent on 10 years of power, but he thought that recent events had put new life into the party and restored the position of its opponents more hopeless.

CITY OF HAVANA.

Its Sanitary Condition Threatens
Epidemic of Yellow Fever.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Senator Cullom of Illinois, chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, today laid before President Roosevelt information received by him from American business men in Cuba to the effect that the sanitary condition of Havana is not what it should be; that nothing has been done to continue the construction of the sewage system planned by American officials and that an epidemic of yellow fever is imminent. The president, it is understood, will have the matter investigated through the state department.

Murdered by Drunken Man.

New York, Nov. 6.—Andrew Ingram, 34 years old, was shot and instantly killed this morning at a tenement house on East 10th street. Ingram, a Polish immigrant, 34 years old was probably fatally wounded. The police have sent out a general alarm for the arrest of Tony Mori, 36 years old, of the same address, who is charged by Joseph Shipley with doing the shooting. Shipley told the police that Mori who had been drinking saw Shipley and the two other men talking, and think-

Attempt to Wreck Train.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Nov. 6.—An attempt was made to wreck the second section of passenger train No. 9, northbound, on the Southern Pacific, about midnight last night at the Los Alamos bridge, six miles beyond Surf and four miles north of Santa Barbara. A stick of dynamite had been placed on the track and when the engine struck it there was a terrific explosion. The pilot and wheels of the engine were blown completely off, but the engine did not leave the track and no damage to the injured. There was no damage to any of the cars.

The railroad officials believed it was an attempt to wreck and perhaps to rob the train, and are depending on that theory to apprehend the guilty person. Sheriff Stewart of Santa Barbara county left for the scene this morning, together with mine detectives and will make a thorough investigation. Meanwhile all trains are being watched for suspicious persons.

Deed Trust Cases.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Atty-Gen. Moody has sent for United States Dist. Atty. C. B. Morrison and Asst. Atty-Gen. O. E. Morgan to go to Washington in regard to the "beef trust" prosecution. The plan of the attorneys is that Commissioner Clifford of the bureau of corporations from prosecution, has taken such an aspect that the attorney general is said to wish a joint interview with the commissioner and Messrs. Morrison and Morgan.

Shoots Wife and Kills Himself.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Washington J. Quiggle, private secretary of Thomas F. Walsh, shot and instantly killed his wife and then shot himself in the heart, dying instantly. Quiggle was from Colorado, and his grandparents live at Ouray, Colo. He has been employed by Mr. Walsh for a year and a half. Mr. Walsh is a capitalist who has his home in New York City, in this city and in Newport, R. I. Mrs. Quiggle, who was a Washington woman, was shot in the breast and in the abdomen. She was employed as a parlour maid for Mr. Walsh at the latter's summer cottage at Newport last summer, and she and Quiggle were secretly married shortly afterwards. The cause of the shooting is not known.

MRS. QUIGGLE MAY RECOVER.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Washington J. Quiggle, wife of the secretary of Thomas F. Walsh, who was shot by her husband last night is somewhat improved today and the surgeons at the emergency hospital express the opinion that she has an even chance for recovery. She was struck by two bullets, but neither lodged in the body. She insists that she knows of no reason why her husband should have attempted to kill himself or attempted to kill herself.

JAMES C. KING'S WILL.

On its Contents Depend an Old
Man's Home and a Contest.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—A home for old men and a possible contest by his widow are dependent on the contents of the will of the late James C. King, a millionaire, who died last Wednesday. The will is to be filed for probate tomorrow. Mr. King, who was 75 years old at his death, felt a great interest in old men. He sympathized with their distress, and he read with interest everything printed regarding the plight of old men, and old age pensions. Not long before his death, commenting on the recent address delivered at the Commercial club by Frank A. Vanderlip, he said: "Somebody ought to provide a home for the old men who have struggled all their lives without being able to make adequate provision for their old age."
Mr. King left an estate valued at about $1,000,000. His will was drawn five years ago. Even at that time he was interested in old men. Whether he changed it so as to provide a home for them is not known definitely, but those who have seen the will say it makes a large provision for some charity in which Mr. King was interested.
Mrs. King is said to have received $300,000 from her elderly husband during her three years of her married life, and if the will does not mention her among the beneficiaries it is believed she will contest it. She declined to talk last night at her residence.

A Patent Medicine Talk

Readers of such leading magazines, as the "Ladies' Home Journal" and "Collier's Weekly" must have noticed recently many articles relative to patent medicines.

The editors of these magazines are seeking to bring about by legislation and agitation, what they choose to call a reform in the patent medicine business. They make the statement that it is not only unsafe, but unwise, and in many cases destructive of health, for people to purchase and consume patent medicines the ingredients of which they have no knowledge.

It is not our purpose to enter into a discussion of the merits or demerits of this agitation or crusade. Thousands of people have used patent medicines and have been benefited by them. At the same time there are undoubtedly evils existing in the ABUSE of some so-called patent medicines. Because you have a thief in your neighborhood you would not say the whole neighborhood is composed of thieves. We know that we have plenty of customers at our counters who tell our clerks what benefit they derive from this or that preparation.

Yet even with this knowledge it is hard for us to say what one among the patent medicines is the "neighborhood black-leg." The unfortunate part of our position is that we do not know the formulas of the patent medicines we sell. We do not believe that the proprietors of patent medicines are dishonest or that they are intentionally misrepresenting their products. If we did we would certainly refuse to sell their goods over our counter.

Our exact position in this patent medicine agitation is this: We are the servants of the public. We sell and will continue to sell patent medicines just the same as the grocer sells you canned corn or potatoes. We want our patrons to find in our stock just what they demand, only we can positively say that at any time we find a medicine is injurious we will throw it out of our store.

Several years ago, a thousand of the leading druggists throughout the United States organized themselves together in a co-operative company to produce remedies which they could back up with their own names and their own reputations.

The first object of this co-operative company was to produce a line of remedies that every druggist would know thoroughly. There were to be no secret formulas; the ingredients of every remedy would be known to every druggist.

Each of these thousand druggists contributed to the organization all that his knowledge and experience had brought to him in the way of advice as to different remedies. The formulas of something like 2,000 or more remedies were sent to the company. A committee of experts was appointed and this committee went over the various formulas conscientiously and earnestly for a long period of time and selected from the entire list about 200 standard remedies, the manufacture of which the company then undertook.

The company in the meantime had erected a perfect laboratory—large, well-appointed, with every appliance known to modern skill. The combined capital of a thousand druggists made it possible for the company to purchase in the largest quantities, the fundamental drugs and herbs, etc., that form the ingredients of the various remedies.
