

was at first supposed. A band of policemen going to the depot after the land meeting were stoned by a rioting mob. The police turned and charged the people with bayonets. A man named Mansfield was fatally stabbed and 15 other persons wounded. One man has since died. The people, infuriated at the sight of so many wounded, were about to attack the constabulary, but were restrained by the priests. The rioting continued all day. Over 250 extra police have been dispatched to the scene. There are disquieting reports from every quarter.

The residence of Robert Spaight, J. P. Ennis, was attacked on Friday evening by an armed mob, and shots were fired into it. Spaight was going into his bedroom, when a bullet grazed his head and lodged in the wall. Spaight being a popular man, the only cause of the attack assignable, is his refusal to quit patronizing a boycotted butcher.

Another bold outrage occurred this morning near Ennis. The herdsmen of James Lynch were restoring hay, when a regular fusillade was opened on them from an adjacent hillside. The bullets failed to take effect, but the terrified herdsmen fled into Ennis. Police scouted the country soon after, but found none.

LONDON, 11.—It is reported that a new conspiracy against the life of the Emperor of Russia has been discovered, nihilists in the telegraphic service having on various occasions betrayed to conspirators news concerning the Emperor's intended journeys.

TUNIS, 11.—The French occupation will be restricted to fortified points. Marauders are shooting all persons outside of the city walls. The marauders have stolen 500 horses and 500 sheep belonging to Europeans. The British residents demand immediate restitution. It is stated a scheme is proposed for the surrender of the financial administration to France and the issue of a French loan of 225,000,000 francs, a certain part of the regency to be held as an additional guarantee.

LISBON, 11.—The Portuguese Court goes into four days' mourning for President Garfield.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Sanpete, U.T.,

Editor Deseret News:

In honor of the late President, James A. Garfield, flags were hung at half mast in different parts of the city at an early hour in the morning of the 26th inst. All business establishments remained closed for the day, and quietude and solemnity reigned. The day was devoted to prayer and mourning by the people.

Services were held in the Meeting-house at 2 o'clock p. m., where the people assembled en masse, and were addressed by Elders C. H. Wheelock and Edward Clift. The speakers deeply deplored the spirit of violence and assassination which was abroad in the land, and to which our late President had fallen a victim. They reviewed in eloquent terms the life and deeds of this great man, and expressed the deep sympathy felt by this entire community for his wife and children and his aged mother in the irreparable loss sustained by them as well as the whole nation, who were now mourning the loss of one of its greatest and noblest sons.

Editor Deseret News:

Considerable traveling and preaching has been done in the interest of the spread of Truth, during the months that have intervened since I last wrote to you. Quite a number of individuals have become interested, and many are brave enough to admit that we have the gospel, and that they have heard the true principles expounded for the first time, yet they have not the nerve to face the opposition which would result from such a step.

We meet with considerable opposition now and then, and the ministers use their utmost to increase the prejudice against the Saints. We have been holding meetings at a steam saw mill, six miles from this P. O. My comrade and Brother Price filled an appointment there a short time ago, and at the close they were interrupted by two ministers, who used some very abusive language, and made some very plain scriptural blunders, and the brethren took occasion to correct them, much to their displeasure and chagrin.

An appointment was left, however, and Brother B. and myself went last Sunday to fill the same, the news being spread far and wide that a number of reverends were to meet and vanquish those "Mormon tramps, false teachers," etc. We were there on time, and the people began to assemble, some friends among the number. As the hour drew nigh, a gentleman in black rode up, on a poor old mule that looked like the business end of "hard times," stopped a short time in the road, took in the situation, (for he was one of the Rev's), and with considerable exertion worked himself out of sight. We were left in quiet possession of the field, held two interesting meetings, and bore a strong testimony to the truth of the gospel and its restoration, and of the blessings promised to the obedient. Also warned them of the judgments shortly to be poured out, the fruits of which had already made an appearance in the severe drouth and short crops of this season.

As we returned to Brother Camp Wray, we received the following information: "The slow man with a fast mule," who rode past the mill, finding none of his constituents to assist him in his divine mission, took a path through the woods and worked his way home, a distance of 12 miles, and all in one day, he came in about 15 minutes ahead of us, and we took the usual conveyance.

In this missionary school we meet with many of those mentioned in Scripture as "false teachers," who have built "a wall and daubed it with untempered mortar," and by a brief examination we ascertain that this mortar contains but little if any of the principles of the Gospel in its composition. Still they continue to make the application and the wall is about worn out, but plenty of daubers on hand. There are many who believe that the tempering is all right, until the plain and simple truths of the Gospel are brought to bear upon their shaky edifice, then a loud howl is uttered against God's ministers.

We have baptized two in this section, and are doing our utmost to herald the glad tidings of "peace on earth, good will towards man."

Ever praying for the interest of Zion and the spread of truth,

We remain yours in the covenant,

R. C. CAMP,
GEO. BARTHOLOMEW.
