wefena and Butte, Montana, are pracfically cut off from the outside world this morning. Rain is still falling heavily throughout that part of Montana, and traffic on the railroads, already demoralized by washout following a week's almost continuous rain will be tied up for several days. Every little trout stream and brook in central Montana is a raging torrent, while the Big Hole Clark's Fork and Missouri rivers are twice and three times their usual width and are overflowing the lowlands, threatening railroad bridges and causing serious washouts on the and causing serious washouts on the railroads in dozens of places. Both east and west of Helena on the Northern Pacific, north and south of Helena on the Great Northern, and also on the Oregon Short Line north and south of Dillon passenger trains are stalled with no hope of getting through until the waters go down and work of repairing the tracks can be taken up.

Out of Butte both the Northern Pacific and Great Northern are tied up by washouts. The Postal Telegraph had a wire into Butte this morning long enough to learn that the power house supplying the electric lighting and telegraph power was threatened by the floods. The wire falled a moment later and Butte therefore is probably without light or power. All of the Western Union wires failed early this morning north of Dillon Montana, as a result either of the fallure of the power house at Butte or washouts along the Big Hole river. The latter stream is seriously threatening the big bridge a mile and a half north of Dillon, and oregon Short Line passenger trains are tied up on either side, with no prospects of the blockade being broken for at least 24 hours. Hundreds of men are at work dumping rock along the liver banks near the bridge in the hope of saving the structure from destruction, and the railroad officials this railroads in dozens of places. All that is above water of the bridge north of Dillon is the planking; railroad tracks at the north end of the bridge are washed out but not to any great extent. The Northern Pacific and other lines are submerged for stretches of several hun-dred yards in places, and very little train movement is being carried on for where the tracks have not been entirely washed out there is danger from soaked roadbeds and dislodged

One Short Line train is tied up at Butte and another at Dillion. A bridge going out this side of the latter town going out this side of the latter town cut off frain communication to that place from this city, as Dillion was the city farthest north reached by the Oregon Short Line. It is still raining in Dillion and other water soaked cities in Montana. Butte is reported to have had a 10 inch fall of snow this morning. This was the word reached by telephone, at least. Owing to the weather being wet and heavy, electric and telegraph wires went down throwing the city into darkness and robbing it of power, "Butte is experiencing It of power. Butte is experiencing the worst mess it has seen for years," was the way the situation was summed the by the person talking at the other end of the telephone line.

The Southern Pacific is said to be worried over conditions out on the lake.

MONTANA UNDER WATER.

Should Dams Give Way Miles of Farms Would be Flooded.

Missoula, Mont., June 5.—At noon the good situation in western Montana is lore serious than it has been at any me since the 30 day rain began. The more serjous than it has been at any time since the 30 day rain began. The rainfall for the past 24 hours has been the heaviest of the month and thy streams are at the danger point.

Word has come to Missoula that the Mouldon dam above Butte burst this morning and the flood has raised the river at Garrison, 75 miles east of Missoula, four feet at noon. This rush of water is expected at Missoula this afternoon. There are two large dams in the river between Garrison and Missoula and their destruction is threatened. The largest of these is the power dam owned by W. A. Clark. If these so out there will be great injury to the farms in the valley for miles.

The railway situation east of Missoula is serious. The Northern Pacific has not moved a train between Missoulis and there are route since Monday and Miles of the new road bea of the St. Paul road east of here have been swept away and it is estimated that it will require more than a month to repair the damage from this source. The big Blackfoot river, 100 miles long, is at flood stage and there is danger of the destruction of the big dam of the Blackfoot Milling company at Bones.

OUTLOOK AMONG FARMERS.

Tomato Growers Say Crop Will be Good if Warm Weather Comes,

The excess of moisture and the con sequent chilly weather are the causes of much apprehension on the part of of much apprehension on the part of farmers and gardeners as to the probable result upon certain grains and vegetables. Not in many years has the season been as backward as this, and for weeks plant growth has been almost at a standstill. This condition is particularly true of tender vegetables, chief among which, in these parts, is the tomato. Plants set out weeks ago show growth seavesty perweeks ago show growth scarcely per

The opinion is expressed among some tomato raisers that the crop will be an utter failure, while other growers are optimistic in this regard. Manager Stringham of the Wood's Cross Can-optimistic in this regard. Manager Stringham of the Wood's Cross Canning campany said today:

"While the cold and stormy weather has greatly retarded the growth of tomato plants, the outlook is by no means discouraging. They will quickly develop when warm days appear and will show no signs of having been stunted. It is in the fall that the results of the late spring will best be seen, for unless autumn frosts are longer delayed than usual the tomato crop will be very light. The trouble will be in ripening, and not because there will not be a good yield of tomatoes."

John Stringham, of the Benefit Life Insurance company, who is interested in tomato raising and the canning industry, expressed an opinion similar to the foregoing, declaring it to be his opinion that the danger to the tomato crop might be looked for at the end of the season, rather than any considerable harm that will be wrought WATER HERE, TOO.

Reports brought in to this city by travelers a week ago that the Western Pacific roadbed around the southern edge of the lake is washed out in many places have been repeated by travelers arriving today. The lake is so high that the tracks are said to be almost washed completely away in spots, while the roadbed has given way in other places leaving ralls in air. Byways and highways between town and Garfield are also reported under water. Local offices of the Western Pacific and Salt Lake Route say there is no cause for worry or alarm as the water reported over tracks is surface water and any damage it may do will be repaired without trouble when the weather straightens out. Streets and ditches in the western portion of this city are filled to overflowing.

Considerable Significance Attached to Their Approaching Meeting.

St. Petersburg, June 5.—Considerable significance is attached here to an obviously inspired article published in the official Rossia, which, while speaking warmly in favor of the meeting between King Edward and Emperor Nicholas at Reval, declares that the suggestion of any new grouping of the powers at the present time is impossible. SECRET SERVICE OUT AFTER BEAR

Thief of Cattle On Manti Forest Reserve Proves to Be Big Animal.

TRACKS HAVE BEEN LOCATED

And Government Hunters With Invited Guests Will Participate in Bear Drive on Horseback.

The secret service of the United States government, long famous for its clever sleuthing and relentless foilowing of criminals is about to add new laurels to its record, in the unearthing of a dangerous criminal whose ren dezvous is known to be in Manti canyon, in the Sanpete forest reserve.

The criminal's crime consists of the theft of full grown cattle from the government reserve and when the se-cret service went to work on the case the first thing unearthed was that the thief was not an ordinary cattle rustler but a bear of size, dimensions, and age unknown.

The result is a bear hunt, in which Beauregard Kemer, forester, with a station in the Manti reserve, has been put upon the trail with instructions to shoot on sight, and utilize such assistance as offers itself to make up the skirmish line that is to go out after Bruin.

skirmish line that is to go out after Bruin.

A preliminary hunt was undertaken last Sunday when half a dozen men were in the saddle for a whole day without result except to locate a number of good trails showing in what district the animal now ranges. Next Sunday a general "bear roundup" will be undertaken, in which city officials of Manti and a number of invited guests from Salt Lake will participate.

A year ago a bear drive in the same canyon resulted in the rounding up of two bear and the slaughter of one of them. Only men who can be relied upon to keep their trigger linger undercontrol until something really worth shooting at appears, are being allowed to join the hunt. The names of those going from Salt Lake will be announced tomorrow.

Than Sail on 13th of Month.

New York, June 5.—For a fortnight Felix Palmeri, 23 years of age, of Williamsburg, has been telling his friends that they would soon bid him farewell as a week from Saturday he would sail for Naples. He had purchased his steamship ticket and showed it to many acquaintances. One of those who saw it called Palmeri's attention to a point not noticed by him that the date of his sailing was June 13.

"Don't sail on the 13th," counseled the friend, "the ship will sink and you will lose all you have and your life as well."

Palmeri hastened to the office where he had purchased the ticket, made known his fear of sailing on June I3, and requested that the ticket be changed to this Saturday or another date or that his money be refunded.

The clerk refused. The list was completed for this week, he said. It was against the rules of the office there to change the date of a ticket or refund the money.

"Then I'll die anyway." retorted Palmeri "and I'd rather die by a bullet than drowning." and before any hand could restrain him he drew a big pistol from his pocket, in sight of all in the place, and shot himself in the

BRYAN DENIES WORLD'S STORY

That He Was Beneficiary of a Large Campaign Contribution Made by Thos. F. Ryan.

IF PROVEN, RETURN MONEY.

He Opposed Parker's Nomination but No One Gave Him More Loyal Support.

Lincoln, Neb., June 5 .- In a statement given last night to the Associated Press, William J. Bryan replies to an article that appeared a week ago in the New York World, charging that Mr. Bryan was the beneficiary of a campaign contribution made by Thomas F. Ryan. Mr. Bryan declares if Mr. Ryan made the contribution, it was without his knowledge or consent and he repeats his former statement that when it is proven to him that Mr. Ryan did make the contribution, he will see that the money is returned to the donor. Mr. Bryan says:
"I have just read the World's story charging, first, that my brother-in-law, Mr. Allen, chairman of the Democratic table committee, had a conferocratic state committee, had a conference with Mr. Sheehan in 1904 in regard to campaign funds.

"Chairman Allen and Mr. Dahlman, the Nebraska members of the national Democratic committee, have already denied the World's charges and stated that the only money received came from the national committee; but I desire to add the following statement: desire to add the following statement:

either Mr. Sheehan or Mr. Ryan, and I have no reason to doubt his word.
"If Mr. Ryan contributed to the Nebraska campaign, it was not with my knowledge or consent. While I had but a remote personal interest in my knowledge or consent. While I had but a remote personal interest in the Nebraska campaign that year, I am interested in Nebraska politics and am also interested in national politics, and I am not willing to be, in the slightest degree, obligated to any favor seeking corporation. If, therefore, the World will secure either from Mr. Sheehan or Mr. Ryan a statement, or prove in any other way that M. Ryan gave to Mr. Sheehan or to anyone else or to the national committee any sum whatever with the understanding that the sum would be used in the Nebraska campaign, I shall see that the amount is returned to Mr. Ryan. "As to the charge that my support of Judge Parker was purchased, I need only say that I announced my support of Judge Parker immediately after the St. Louis convention and that support was open and unqualified from the convention until the polls closed. I had opposed his nomination, but he had no more loyal supporter during the campaign. I was in correspondence with him and both on the stump and with pen rendered all the assistance I could. LIGHT ON "SLUSH FUND." Omaha, June 5.—Some light is thrown on the disposition of the now famous $15,000 "slush fund" raised in New York in 1904, and spent in the Ne-braska campaign, by a statement given out today by Thomas H. Tibbles, the Populist nominee for vice president in 1904

Bryan's Commoner was printed by the Independent plant.

Bryan's editorial desk was in the Independent office. Mr. Tibbles says:

"I know right where $5,000 of that New York fund went. It went into a special edition of 96,000 coples of the Independent, which was gotten out for the purpose of electing George W. Berge for governor. The entire paper was given up to his candidacy in that edition. The Independent was Populist and Berge was the fusion candidate for governor. This amount was handed us by Tom Allen, James C. Dahlman and Col. John B. Maher and they secured the funds from the Democratic national committee on a trip which they made to New York.

national committee on a trip which they made to New York.

"The day after Bryan returned from the St. Louis convention, he dropped into the Independent office, sat down at his desk, and began writing an editorial. The first words were 'I shall support Parker.' We put that editorial in type and ran it in the Commoner the following week. All that was done long before there was any talk of needing money in the Nebraska election and should dispose of the ridiculous talk about Bryan being paid to support Parker."

BURIED ALIVE IN POST-OFFICE RESERVE VAULT

New York, June 5.—To be buried alive in the reserve vault in the Trenton, N. J., postoffice and to be dug out by fellow workmen because no one could be found who had the combination, is the experience of Conover Thompson, a steam fitter.

Thompson was sent to the reserve vault to make some connections with the new building now being erected. He bored a small hele in the wall and was so intent upon forcing through a pipe that he did not hear the vault door close. He felt suffocated, called through the pipe, and was heard by fellow workmen. The door had been closed by Postmaster Alexander C. Yard, who had been called out of town.

Thompson worked from the inside and fellow workmen from the outside until the hole was large enough for the steam fitter to crawl to freedom.

JUDGE ENDORSES VERDICT IN THE HAYWOOD CASE

Chicago, June 5.-A remarkable in Chicago, June 5.—A remarkable indersement of the jury verdict which acquitted William D. Haywood of compileity in the Steunenberg murder was made last night by Judge William H. Seaman of the United States circuit court of appeals.

In an address delivered before the graduating class of the Chicago-Kent college of law, Judge Seaman cited the Haywood trial as one of the most striking known proofs of the contention that American juries can weigh the evidence in a case without being swayed by public opinion.

"When the Haywood case was tried, said Judge Seaman, "the community where the trial was held, and, indeed, the whole country was aflame with popular clamor. The people and high officials of the people demanded Haywood's punishment and demanded it with a voice that no jury could have failed to hear.

"The verdict rendered in the face of public passion and demand was abso-lutely just. And it was a remarkable vindication of the jury system in America. Whether or not the defendant was guilty will never be absolutely known but it was clear that he was not proved guilty under the law, and the Haywood Jury, uninfluenced by the public clamor, stated this fearlessly."

tion, Baci surrendered early to reason said:

"Oh, the church has got more money than I have, that's all."

He was locked up, charged with burglary.

Appleton, Wis., June 5.—Dist. Atty, Rooney, Dr. Cooney, and Police Officer Baker today searched the home of Mrs. Minnie Grunert, in which her lifeless body was discovered on Wednesday. They found a partly eaten rye bread cheese sandwich which had been hidden in the basement of the house. The bread and cheese seemed quite fresh.

in the basement of the house. The bread and cheese seemed quite fresh. This discovery, the officers believe, shows that some one besides Mrs. Grunert was in the Grunert home on Wednesday. The supposition is that the slayer of the wealthy young widow killed her and then suspended her dead body from a hat rack hook in a little closet to hide the murder and to give the appearannee of suicide. It is said that a vest button was found in the closet, matching the buttons on the vest worn by Paul Krause, a former husband of the woman, and that one button is missing from that vest.

INDIVIDUAL ACT OR NATIONAL PLOT?

Whichever Shooting of Dreyfus Was, French Republican Press Deplores It.

NATIONAL PRESS FURIOUS.

L'Action Francise Appeals to Country to Turn to the Duke Of Orleans.

What We Ask for Dreyfus is Not 6 Balls from a Revolver, but the 12 Bullets of the Execution Squad."

Paris, June 5 .- Whether yesterday's attempt upon the life of Major Dreyfus was but the individual act of a man believing himself to have been an outraged patriot or had behind it an ncipient national plot, the Republican press is unanimous in deploring the incident, and believes it injured rather than aided that cause. Even those pa-pers which doubted the wisdom of burying Emil Zola in the Pantheon think that the shooting of Maj. Dreyfrom that the shooting of Maj. Drey-fus consolidated the Republican senti-ment, and they evidently desire to see the incident die out as quickly as possible. An attempt to reopen the oid Dreyfus issue at the trial of Louis Gregori, the man who shot the major, they point out, would be plainly ex-traneous. traneous.

VIOLENT ANTI-DREYFUS ARTICLE.

On the other hand, the fury of the Nationalist papers is unbounded, L'Action Francaise fires a broadside, which recalls the most exciting days of Dreyfus and Boulanger. At the head of its columns, this newspaper prints a statement by Charles Maurprints a statement by Charles Maurras which, it is likely, the authorities will investigate. In this artele the writer says that on Wednesday night "a resolute patriot" visited M. Daudet and Lieut. Boisfleury and himself offered to kill Dreyfus, but his proposal was rejected. A leading editorial in this paper appeals to the country to turn to the Duke of Orleans for redress and concluded with these words: "Do you desire that Zola's body be ejected from the Pantheon? Do you desire to march Dreyfus to the execution block? If so invoke your king." The decision of the court of cassation to cut off the time for an appeal, the paper says, is illegal and is concludes its article as follows:

"What we ask for Preyfus is not six balls from a revolver, but the 12 bullets of the execution squad."

Other newspapers deciare that Gregorie much crieved at the recent death of the execution squad."

Other newspapers declare that Gregoris, much grieved at the recent death of his mother, has lately manifested signs of mental derangement.

Gregoris' sister said today that her brother latterly had displayed symptoms of melancholia.

The authorities are pursuing their investigation with a view of ascertaining whether there was a plot behind the shooting of yesterday.

The bullet in Maj. Dreyfus' wrist has not been located. The bulletin issued today by the docters says Dreyfus' condition is satisfactory.

ous newspapers see widely different causes for the shooting.

The Gaulois, a paper with which Gregori was connected, blames parliament for re-opening by yesterday's ceremony an era of discord which was beginning to disappear. It also disapproves of Dreyfus who calls himself a soldier, gracing the triumph of the author of the Debacle. Ernest Judet in the Nationalist Eclair writes in a similar vein. He regrets "the culpable diversion which saved the official manifestation from ridicule and odium in which it was foundering," but adds: "Dreyfus is a most uncouth Caesar but Gregori is far from being a Brutus." Government and Socialist organizations stigmatize the attempt which they attribute to the violent campaign carried on by the Nationalist and Royalous newspapers see wi causes for the shooting.

New York, June 5.—Judge Foster has taken the first stept toward revolutionizing the proceedure in connection with the disposition of murder cases where it is alleged that the defendant at the time of the commission of the act was of unsound mind. The case of Mrs. Charlotte Hitchcock, charged with having killed her husband. Robert L.

Charlotte Hitchcock, charged with having killed her husband. Robert 1. Hitchcock, is on trial in Judge Foster's court. Counsel for the woman, who had been indicted for murder in the first degree, entered a plea of insanity.

Judge Foster appointed Drs. Carlos MacDonald, Allan McLane Hamilton and Frank W. Robertson, to examine into the case and if the experts report that in their judgment the woman, was legally insane when she killed her husband, the district attorney will recommend that the indictment be dismissed.
