BARN AND STOCK BURNED.

William Lund Suffers a Severe Loss—Dwelling Saved by Heroic Efforts of Firemen.

Death of Mrs. J. E. Davenport—Verdict for $450 for Mrs. Parker—Child Run Over.

A disastrous fire broke out yesterday morning at about 7:30 at the place of William Lund, No. 30, North Washington street, his barn was totally destroyed, also some animals, wagon, harness, agricultural implements, etc.

Lund awoke at about the time mentioned and looking out of his bedroom window observed flames gushing out of his barn, he did not stop to dress, but in his night robe rushed for the barn, opened the door and cut loose several of his cows and horses, and got them out of the barn, and would have saved all of his animals had the flames not made such rapid headway and the heat become so intense that he could not get beyond the gate against, so one cow and another were burned to death, and another young cow burned so badly that it was found necessary to put her down.

The fire first broke out in the barn, and spread to the dwelling, and the firemen arrived at about 8:00, and it is understood that the loss is not insured.

LAYTON.
Will Vote for New School House—Smallpox Situation.

Special Correspondence.
Layton, Davis Co., April 1.—A meeting of the tax-payers in the eighth school district is called for Wednesday, April 2nd, at 2 p. m., in the Farmer's Union hall. It is decided that the part of the district embracing the greater portion of Layton shall have a school house, a tax will be voted. A meeting will be held this Monday evening in which the needs of this locality, in the way of school facilities, will be discussed.

The smallpox situation here does not seem so grave as it first appeared. There are only three families afflicted, and all are getting better.

Mrs. Nettie Stevenson, whom Dr. Rich operated upon for appendicitis, is practically well again.

RESERVOIR IN GOOD SHAPE.
E. P. Ellison, president of the Davis and Weber Counties Canal company, returned from the big reservoir in East Canyon last Saturday, where he had been to inspect the recent improvements. He reports very favorably of the water, and incidentally talks of a "Nebraska blizzard" encountered that made it extremely uncomfortable for animal life.

Spring coughs are especially dangerous and unless cured at once, serious results often follow. One Minute Cure acts like magic. It is not a common mixture, but is a high grade remedy. A. C. Schramm.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and a bottle of BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP used in time is worth a staff of physicians with a drug store or two included. Price, 25 and 50 cents at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

SPRINGVILLE.
Impressive Funeral Services Over Remains of Mrs. Eliza C. Deal.

Special Correspondence.
Springville, Utah Co., March 29.—The funeral services over the remains of Sister Eliza C. Deal were held today at 2 o'clock in the Latter-day Saints' meeting house. Bishop Geo. R. Hill presided over the services. The choir rendered the opening song. Prayer was offered by O. M. Mover. Boshard and Fry brothers' quartet sang. Improvised hymns were sung by the choir.

At the Priesthood meeting of the Utah Stake of Zion held Saturday, and evening was addressed by deacons of the Stake, seven members of the High Council, two Patriarchs, twelve Bishops and other representatives from fifteen wards and branches.

President John explained the relationship of a bishop to a ward, and that the officers of the ward should help the branch until it was strong enough to be organized into a ward. The desirability for a more general attendance of Seventies and Elders at Priesthood meetings was also mentioned.

HOLDEN.
Stockmen Looking to Canada for Relief—Birthdays Anniversary.

Special Correspondence.
Holden, Millard Co., March 27.—Mr. D. R. Stevens, a prominent citizen and stockman of this place, with four of his sons, have gone to Canada, to look at the country, with the expectation of settling there if the country suits them. They have taken a bottle of cod liver oil, and are taking it every day.

The speakers were Elders Edwin Teasdale, Henry Christensen, Henry Shandrew, Henry Teasdale, A. M. Nielson and Bishop Lars Sorenson, who spoke comforting words to the bereaved ones. A large cortege followed the remains to the cemetery, headed by the pall bearers.

COWLEY, WYOMING.
WITH THE BIG HORN COLONIES.
Encouraging Conditions for the Homesteaders—Good Schools.

Special Correspondence.
Coyote Railroad Camp, Bowler P. O., Montana, March 25.—Apostle A. O. Woodruff is at present giving us a most pleasant visit. He has given the railroad contractors for the colony people, from one end to the other, has visited the people in their camps giving valuable and encouraging counsel.

Saturday we experienced the severest storm of the winter, about eight inches of the beautiful. That is, here in the Prior mountains on the railroad grade, Montana. No snow at Cowley.

Several of the railroad contractors have recently finished the work on the canal. Others will soon finish to go on the land and put in crops.

On March 14 the Relief Society had a double session, being up to the celebration of their annual day and a reception to Bro. Woodruff.

HIGGINS-LEINSEY NUPTIALS.
Miss Annie Higgins, formerly of Farmington, and Alfred D. Leinsey, formerly of Bennington, Bear Lake, Idaho, were married at Cowley, Wyo., March 20. Pres. Byron Sessions performed the ceremony.

The Burlington & Missouri River Railroad company expects to begin laying track in a short time, beginning at Talcum, Montana, where the branch line starts.

SCHOOL WELL ATTENDED.
Since November we have had a school in Cowley with an enrollment of fifty-six children. Part of the school attends in the morning and the others in the afternoon. When the school was started it was to be kept up by tuition. Since then the State has given $200 for the support of the school and also ordered books for it. The State will also furnish the material for a school house to be built in Byron, the two new towns, have postoffices, with a daily mail, except Sundays. The health of the people is good.

CLIMATIC CONDITIONS.
The writer has been here since September last, and has camped in a tent all winter, working on the railroad line which runs the Burlington & Missouri River line at Talcum, Mont., and it is expected it will be completed by July, down to a point six miles from Cowley.

The winters do not seem to be any more severe than in the past, but the climate here would be preferable to that of Salt Lake. But the wind is not worse than on the west side of the Jordan.

Cattle have done well all winter on the range around here, and where there is a trace of snow has fallen all winter. Those who had milk cows to keep, bought good lucern hay to feed at the corral, so that the animals would not wander away, but the cows will likely touch the lucern, when brought up at night, preferring the "salt sage," and thriving entirely on that.

While it was cold enough this winter to freeze over the Shoshone river, we expect to raise peaches here some day.

Cowley, Big Horn Co., Wyo., March 27.—The entertainment given by Miss Birdie Graham, and the Misses Rebecca, Nettie and Pauline Taggart, Monday evening was a grand success.

Among those present were: Wm. O. Woodruff and C. A. Welch. Amusements of every description were indulged in and at 12 o'clock p. m. supper was served. The table looked beautiful. The refreshments could not have been better, there being no cream, oranges, lemons, etc. After supper Brother Woodruff made a few encouraging remarks.

Quite a number of the brethren of the Stake have begun work on the canal. They expect to have the water out on the Byron bench so a crop can be raised this summer.

CARDSTON, CANADA.
Thrift and Prosperity Manifest on Every Hand—Some Room Left.

Special Correspondence.
Cardston, Alberta, Canada, March 25.—We never saw a country where the conditions were more conducive to health, wealth and prosperity through plenty of work, unlimited fresh air and water, than in this far northern colony. Unlike many other localities winters months are our busy days in truth. It is during winter that our roads are in best condition for transportation purposes. The roads are in the best condition now. Lands prepared last fall are being seeded now.

Much building is being done. Old and familiar land marks are disappearing, or being covered up, added to or remodeled so that they are not recognizable.

The recent influx of cattle men from Utah and Idaho fills our predictions formerly expressed and three townships of land were sold to as many parties in the winter. What is needed is more ranchers and farmers than these large cattle companies, although there is still room for all who can buy land at three to five dollars per acre adjoining the new villages and plenty of range for small farmers for a few years to come.

As the season advances it will see new enterprises springing up as we make progress. Our pioneer mining company is in a fair way to incorporate for forty-nine thousand dollars.

Your correspondent has had the privilege of taking a trip to Winnipeg, Manitoba and the east, and by comparison can assure all your readers that southern Alberta is certainly a grand spot. While at "home" all evidences were that spring was on with all its beauties, further east snow and ice reign supreme. Cattle have to be fed and the settler is impatient for release from the grip of winter. In Alberta cattle are wintered out and horses taken off the range are in good condition for work.

Recently settlers from Nebraska have purchased irrigable lands under the canal near Lethbridge, and it is only a matter of a few years when all the once dreary road from thence to Cardston will be a continuous farm. Sterling and Magrath are growing villages; some room is yet available near the two places, but the old rule holds good, "First come, first served."

which he refused to do, on which the driver reached around and gave the boy a tap with his whip and made him get out. The boy jumped up some rocks and commenced to throw at the crowd, no doubt intending to hit the driver, but instead hit the little girl just above the eye, and cut a long gash across the brow.

You will waste time if you try to cure indigestion or dyspepsia by starving yourself. That only makes it worse when you do eat heartily. You need plenty of good food properly digested. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the result of years of scientific research for something that would digest not only some elements of food but every kind. And it is the one remedy that will do it. F. C.
