MINING STOCK MARKET.

Activity, Heavy Deals, Confidence and Plenty of Money.

Butler-Rock Christmas Gift Provided of $25,000 Today Making a Total for the Year of $450,000.

James A. Fulton in his weekly Mining Share Market Letter under date of today, December 20, says:

Despite the near approach of the holidays the best mining stock market was active during the past week, the dealings being especially heavy in several of the old time favorites, which are now coming to the front with such rapid strides. Investors seem to have plenty of money with which to buy stocks even though they will be expected to make the annual purchase of Christmas presents. Then again, the fact of the year draws on apace and with it the time for annual and semi-annual liquidation. During these periods there is considerable trading in the market, a very different strength.

One of the most important developments in the mining way of the week was the agreement between the Atlantic and the Silver King for a friendly survey of each other's properties. There has been much talk of late regarding probable trouble between the two companies but it now looks as though each had had anything to worry over. No developments occurred in the Atlantic and Silver King properties. The latter company is now working on a large scale for the better in a new way, the stock somewhat, although there are few stockholders in the same old time. Also was the security. Good amounts of first grade ore continue from the property. It is doing nothing. Another condition in the same old time. A limited amount of the stock came out at prices below the $5 mark, but taken were not numerous. The stock should be a good buy at even advanced quotations.

In the dispute between the stockholders of the Biggs, the minority holders won a signal victory in the courts, getting every point in contest. The court declared that the minority holders of shares by the Biggs had been disbarred and the stock should not have been issued. As was predicted would be the case, the Butler-Rock stock is a stocker and a chiller.
