SEE advertisement of runaway horse.

LIGHTNING last night struck a tree near Regent's Row and split it completely in two.

The Ogden Herald frequently fails to come to hand till two days after the date of issue. What is the matter?

This trial of the Crescent-Wasatch mine suit was again proceeded with in the Third District Court to-day.

C. M. DONELSON & Co. have a special announcement of bargains at their establishment in to-day's issue. Don't fail to read it.

In another column is the advertisement of Mr. Sam Levy, the cigar manufacturer. His goods are pronounced by competent judges to be superior to the imported articles in his line.

We are requested to state that on Sunday evening Rev. L. W. Wood, of the Baptist Church, will speak on the subject, "Evolution—Man or Monkey, which?" All doubters of the Bible are invited.

ADELIAE RANDALL and her company will regale their audience to-night in the "Princess of Trebizond." She made an excellent impression last night and should be greeted with a full house this evening.

A QUARTETTE of "drunks" filled the programme before Justice Fryer to-day. James McKinney, James Crawford, Thomas Bywater and John Bamberg were each assessed to the tune of $5 for their diversion.

We are requested to announce that Rev. S. C. LILL will have charge of the Methodist fourth quarterly meeting, at 10 a. m. to-morrow, and will preach at 11 a. m. on "The Significance of the Sacrament."

The embezzlement case against W. J. Foster, who has accused of appropriating to his own use the proceeds of the sale of four Singer sewing machines, is to be called up before Commissioner McKay some time this afternoon.

THE Salt Lake City Gas Company has made a good business move in securing a controlling interest in the Electric Light Works for the sum of $50,000. The incandescent system of lighting is shortly to be introduced in this city.

We are pleased to state that Bishop Samuel A. Woolley, of the Ninth Ward, has so far recovered from his severe attack of sciatica as to be able to move out of the house again. He has suffered greatly during the past two months and is still under the necessity of using crutches to get around.

A DAY or two ago Mr. Wenzel, the musician, was thrown from his horse and considerably bruised about the face. The injuries were not serious, and he is recovering from their effects, but his animal managed to get away, and has not been seen since. It had on a saddle and bridle.

THERE is a lady residing in the eastern part of town who is very anxious to learn the whereabouts of the festive R. Warnock, who was in the agricultural implement business in this Territory for a number of years. Her name is Mrs. Anna Robinson, and some time since she loaned him $1,000, taking his promissory note. The paper is overdue, and thus far not a cent of principal or interest has come her way.

MANY people in different parts of the city are made to suffer severely by the depredations of hoodlums. Gardens are entered and torn up, trees broken, flowers and shrubs rooted out and stolen, and many similar and detestable acts committed. On Saturday night between 10 p. m. and 1 a. m. the next morning is the usual time when these acts of vandalism are committed. Can anything be done by the officers to put a check on this practice?

Escape of Murderers.

On June 1st two prisoners escaped from jail at Halley, Idaho. One was Wm. Armstrong, murderer of Paul Klumbert, of Sonoma County, last year. The other was Weiman, who attempted to wreck the Oregon Short Line train last month near Shoshone, Altama County. Armstrong was found guilty of murder in the first degree last November, and sentenced to be hanged, but got a new trial, which was the next case to be called up in the Halley court. The escape was assisted by friends.

Debut Performance.

The occasion of the first appearance of Zion's Choral Union, in a public entertainment, next Tuesday evening, in the Tabernacle, will be a notable event. The oratorio "Belshazzar" affords the scope for the talent of those members of that organization who will take part in it, and we have no doubt that the performance will prove a great success. It is an attraction that should draw an immense audience. The large number of singers taking part, their well known ability as such, the capacity of the building in which the performance will take place, the interest attaching to the plot and music of the oratorio itself, the fact that the occasion will be the debut of a home organization, are all reasons that should lead the public to patronize the entertainment with enthusiastic liberality.

GIROFLE-GIROFLA.

The Adelaide Randall Company in Leocoe's Sparkling Opera.

Adelaide Randall and her Bijou Opera Company appeared last evening to a medium-sized house at the Salt Lake Theatre. The company was not helped by a blast of trumpets, nor was a scale of exorbitant prices advertised, which facts may partly account for the light attendance. Those who allowed themselves to suppose, however, that the absence of music was to be inferred from this, went altogether too far in their surmising, and those who attended the performance just to kill time, half expecting to be bored, but willing to endure it in a martyr-like sort of a way, were very agreeably disappointed.

The Randall Company is small, numerically, compared to such troops as Duff's and Carleton's, but it includes several good artists, and the chorus, though few, do able service. The first act is a star of little less magnitude than the celebrated Alice Oates, who first introduced this opera to the local public, and her impersonation of the twin sisters, Girofle and Girofla, has scarcely been excelled here. She does not make so much of the drinking song as Oates did, but this is rather to her credit than otherwise, for it is difficult for anyone, and particularly a woman, to simulate sobriety without being vulgar. Miss Randall avails this, and remembers that she is a lady as well as an actress, callings sometimes thought to be, but not necessarily incompatible. She has a clear, silvery voice, which rings out on the black notes like the carol of a bird. She has also pleasing face, a like and graceful figure, dresses tastefully and acts like the artist she is.

The other principal part worthy of mention are Charles F. Lang, who made a very good Marragun; W. D. Lombard who was very fair as Mourouz; Mr. Peakes, who aided by his "gags," made considerable fun as Bolero; and Mr. Waldo, who was a passable Pedro.

The music of the opera is charming. The action is lively, and in places rather "loud," in a moral sense. The chorus, in a literal sense, for reasons already given, is hardly loud enough. The music of the "Princess of Trebizond," a very charming light opera, will be given. A good performance may be anticipated.

A Narrow Escape.

A few days since, Isaac G. Reese, of this city, while fording White River, between Price and P. V. Junction, had a close call for his life. He had crossed the stream and the mare he was riding was tumbling up to her knees, when by some mischance the saddle turned and the rider went with it under the animal's body, from which position he was unable to extricate himself. Fortunately his traveling companion, Robert Egbert, observed the situation in time and jumped off his horse and swam to the rescue; he cut the straps which bound the saddle to the mare, and thus released Reese, who came to the surface and made for the shore. The mare, no longer having ballast, was taken down the stream by the current and recovered half a mile below. While her rider was in his perilous position, she struck him with her hoofs in the forehead and nose, the marks of which are quite visible yet. He considers that he got off quite cheaply, however, the only actual losses being the saddle and some of his clothes, that he had on having to be discarded and a new one obtained.

C. S. Wilkes, registrar for the fifth precinct, may be found from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. at his office in the Keyser building, during the week.

Railway Chaps.

Hon. John Sharp made a flying visit to Syracuse this forenoon. The work of driving piles for the piers at this new bathing resort has commenced. Vice-President Potter and Speaker Cannon, of the Union Pacific, are reported as intending to take a trip by sea from Portland to Alaska, with a view to putting on a line of steamers to connect with the Union Pacific line. Mr. Callaway will, at his return, go to Europe to stay at least two months.

Sale of Machinery.

Parties who bought agricultural machinery from Mr. R. Warnock when he was in business in this city, will have a good opportunity to obtain extras for their machines by attending the special sale of the remnants of his stock, which is to take place in the premises formerly occupied by Mr. Warnock, but now the place of business of the Burton-Gardner Co., in this city, on Saturday next, June 11th.

Fire at Wanship.

Mr. Wm. Crook, writing from Wanship, Summit County, under date of June 3d, informs us that Robt. Young's barn, a span of horses, four sets of harness, a buggy, two calves, a wagon, also an adjoining barn belonging to Mrs. Stanley, were all burned down that morning at 1 o'clock. Loss $1,000.

The Wind Storm.

Last night the wind blew quite heavily, and along the lake shore at times there was a perfect hurricane. The damage done was, so far as can be learned, comparatively slight. At Garfield a framework on one of the Puget Sound Hospital from an over-dose of morphine. He was suffering with heart disease. Physicians tried to rouse him from the stupor, but in vain.

Habeas Corpus Denied.

In the proceedings for the release on bail of H. H. Martin, taken before Judge Boreman yesterday, the Judge refused to release the prisoner, holding that the presumption was great that the killing of John H. Burton. Martin was remanded to the custody of the officer, and was taken back to jail.

PRIESTHOOD MEETING.

A Variety of Timely Matters Touched Upon.

The regular monthly meeting of the Priesthood of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion convened in the Assembly Hall at 11 a. m. to-day, President A. M. Cannon presiding. The wards of the Stake were all represented in a proper manner excepting the 9th, 12th, 13th, 14th and 20th wards of the city.

President A. M. Cannon made some brief but pointed remarks upon the subject of sabbath-breaking, urging the Bishops and Teachers to do all they could to discountenance and put down this iniquity.

Elder Levi W. Richards made a few observations on the necessity of the Bishops properly recommending those who move away from their wards, so that the clerk of the ward into which they come might secure a full and proper record of the same. President Cannon supplemented Elder Richards' remarks by a few words on the same subject. He also said that some Bishops seemed reluctant to call Elders by their proper title in the recommendations. Making the Melchizedek Priesthood, when they are recommended to the Temple, should be called Elders, not High Priests. Seventies, etc. Every man holding the Melchizedek Priesthood was an Elder and should be so styled.

On the subject of disorder in public assemblies he referred to the improper conduct of some people in the Tabernacle. Some young men, for instance, when the rest of the congregation rise to their feet to sing, will keep their seats, and others will laugh and whisper while the service is going on. They should be kindly corrected, and if they persist in disturbing the meetings, let it be asked of the authorities. President asked that each ward send two good men, each Sunday, to the Tabernacle, to help keep order. Kindness and firmness should be exercised by them, and good, wise men should be chosen and kept at hand to stand a few minutes before the hour of meeting.

Elder George Goddard announced that the annual Old Folks' Excursion would probably take place on the 22nd of June. The anniversary of the birth of the late Presiding Bishop, Edward Hunter, will be observed on the 23d. They were invited, irrespective of creed, color or opinion. The excursion would probably go to Ogden. Full instructions would be given in the papers. The Bishops and those in charge should have their lists of the aged put into the hands of the Old Folks' Committee, at least one day before the date of the excursion, that they might obtain and distribute their tickets in ample time.

A Narrow Escape.

The Park City Call refers to J. E. Morris as "the watermaster of Salt Lake County." He is unknown herabouts.

On Saturday last a little son of Rhoda Snyder came very near shooting his little sister while playing with a pistol. It seems that the boy has been in the habit of carrying a pistol and the ball from the pistol struck her on the left side, just grazing the skin. This of course, scared the child considerably and she began crying which brought the mother and the balance of the household out to see what was the matter, and they were much alarmed when they saw what had happened. It is needless to say that this boy will not be allowed to pack his arms again for some time to come.

Last Saturday evening at the council meeting Marshal Kesell objected to the reappointment of D. A. Clark as patrolman, and said his reason for so doing was that Clark was too lazy to move out of his tracks. Mr. Clark spoke to the marshal about this matter Sunday evening and stated that Kesell had worked for his removal merely because he had not supported the clique to which Kesell belonged in the last election. Kesell then "moved" Kesell out of his tracks" by knocking him down with a stick, and he was taken to the jail. He was standing by, pulled him off the marshal and put him under arrest. The culprit was immediately brought before Marshal Kesell, who released him on his depositing $25 with the marshal for his appearance next morning. Mr. Clark protesting in an appearance next morning. Mr. James declined to try the case and was taken to Justice Cupple's court for trial but was dismissed on Wednesday morning as the plaintiff withdrew the complaint. Mr. Clark feels perfectly satisfied with the outcome and thinks this a very cheap way of detaching a person who was the best man of the two.

"The Great Contest."

There has been issued from the press of this office a pamphlet of nearly a hundred pages. It is called "The Great Contest" and embodies a review of and copious extracts from the speeches made in the House of Representatives in relation to the Tucker Substitute for the Edmunds bill pending last session. R. W. Sloan is the author and compiler, and he gives to the public a very interesting and useful, little and cheap book which ought to be eagerly sought by all who are interested in the struggles through which this community is passing, and the tremendous assaults from powerful sources against which we are struggling. The pamphlet is a very cheap way of getting a fair idea of the character of its contents. We bespeak for it a ready and extensive sale, of which it is worthy. The price is nominal, being only 25 cents at retail, with a liberal reduction to agents.

Sunday School Union.

The regular meeting of the officers and teachers of the Sunday schools of this Stake will be held in the Social Hall on Monday, June 6th, at 7:30 p. m. All superintendents are specially requested to be present.

J. H. PARRY, Secretary.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

—A dispatch dated Tacoma, (W. T.) May 31st, says: John Amos, of New Brunswick, who came here to work in the cannery, died to-night at the Puget Sound Hospital from an over-dose of morphine. He was suffering with heart disease. Physicians tried to rouse him from the stupor, but in vain.

—The communistic colony at Port Angeles, on Puget Sound, W. T., has been gradually reduced to the past few days and the railroads are anticipating washouts. All trains of the coast are delayed by slow running on account of fear of the river.

TURNED LOOSE.

A Confessed Lecher Liberated Without Punishment.

Philip Demarck, the individual referred to in an article copied from the Ogden Herald, was called before the Commissioner at Ogden, yesterday, and that official released him on the ground that the evidence was insufficient to convict. In this connection it will be well to remember that when Demarck was arraigned on the charge of rape he twice pleaded guilty, and was finally induced to change the plea. He is now turned loose on the community.

The following communication from Mr. Beckhart, in charge at Lake Park, gives additional particulars of the position assumed in our article of yesterday, regarding the dangers which untary young people are brought in contact with at such places:

LAKE PARK, June 3d, 1887.

Mr. J. H. Bennett, G. P. A. D. & R. G. W. Ry., Salt Lake City:

Dear Sir:—An article copied from the Ogden Herald, giving an account of an outrage committed upon the person of a young lady while riding on the lake in one of this company's boats on Decoration Day. The couple mentioned in this article are undoubtedly the same that hired a boat from me about four o'clock on the morning of the 29th of May. They remained out until about half-past eleven that evening, at which hour they returned with the boat. The next morning, having left for the day they remained here until the next morning. They came to me again for another boat, and urged me to let them have it. I told them that I could not do so, as I considered the water too rough to be safe. They then said they would stay here until the next morning, but did not do so, but remained here all of that day and went to bed. They then returned to the boat and remained there until the next morning. They were very affectionately kissed and embraced by the young man. Where they remained during the night I do not know. I did not see them until the next morning. I saw them at the train for Ogden, at Farmington, Wednesday morning. Nothing in the manner of the young girl indicated that she felt she had been in any way abused by her companion. I send you the statement to use as you see fit. I imagine the article which calls it truth will tend to cast discredit on our reputation.

Yours truly,
