HOUSE. Washington, 28.—Deuster, rising to a question of privilege, sent to the clerk's desk and had read a resolution adopted by the executive committee of the liberal union of the German Parliament, expressing its appreciation of the action of the House of Representa-tives in adopting the resolution as to Herr Edward Lasker.

The speaker stated that the question was not one of privilege but by appro-

The speaker stated that the question was not one of privilege but by unanimous consent Deuster was permitted to continue. He said the executive committee of the liberal union expressed the sentiments of the people of Germany. The spectacle now presented was peculiar as seen through American eyes. Prime Bismarck, the autocrat of the German Empire, was the embodiment of an idea antagonistic to American institutions. He had returned the Lasker resolution. This might stand to prejudice the German people, but the resolution of the liberal union contradicted that assumption from a cis-Atiantic standpoint. Death broke down all political feeling and in the

Germany, and that the action of Prince Bismarck would not rise above the dignity of a matter of personal vexation, in no way affecting the friendly relations now existing between the two nations. It might be promature now to criticise the action of Prince Bismarck, but when official information thereof was in possession of the House he would endeavor to show that the Lasker resolution was kind and proper

New York, 28.—The snow storm this morning has interfered seriously with telegraphy. In Boston the telephone and wires of the fire alarm system were wrecked, and falling on the wires of the Western Union system bothered their working badly. By request of the mayor, the electric light company did not charge its wires remaining up in order that linemen might repair the wires. A sixty foot pole, bearing forty wires, fell with a crash at the Columbus Avenue station. In Outario trains are being delayed and abandoned, owing to the severity of the snowstorm. In Nova Scotla a storm flercely rages.

A REMARKABLE ALMENT. OGDEN CITY, Utah, Feb. 28, 1884.

New York, 28.—The american committee of the Independent Republican conference met this afternoon at General Barlow's office and appointed two sub-committees, one on organization, the other for the purpose of securing headquarters in this city and Chicago.

Toronto, 28.—The court to-day refused to continue the injunction restraining the city council from passing a by-law abolishing liquor licenses. The council meets to-morrow to pass a by-law. The Dominion license commissioners to-day decided that nothing in the McCarthy act, passed last session, prevented them from granting licenses to grocers who are licensed at passens.

The President gave a state dinner at the White House to-night, at which a number of prominent guests were present.

Shreveport, La., 28.—The water is on a stand. Nearly all-the river pisntations for 100 miles above the city the flooded district extends 100 miles on the west side, and jall except a few elevated places are covered. On the east side, the banks being higher, the country is not so badily overnlowed, though several plantations are under water. It is impossible to approximate the loss to planters to houses, fences, and stock. The waters spread out like a sea to the swamps and highlunds. There is much suffering among the colored people.

SUFFERING FROM HERNIA.

Mr. James Martin, of Harrisville, is suffering severely from the effects of hernia. Several years since he met with an accident which caused a bad rupture in the bowels. A tumor formed which has never been thoroughy healed. He is now in a dangerous condition. Surgical aid has been called in to assist him, and there has been some talk of the patient having to undergo an operation, swheih has been some talk of the patient having to undergo an operation, swhich would be delicate to perform and would render his condition very critical. In the meantime, all that can be done will be done for him. It is hoped that fever and inflammation may be kept down and that a cure may be effected without any resort to the use of the scales!

-COWARDICE AND CONFUSION.

Full datalls are given of the disastrous defeat of Baker Pasha, brisfly reported by cable. It appears that on Sunday evening, February 3, Baker's force, 3,600 strong, encamped two miles from Trinkitat. The night passed off quickly, and before daybreak on Monday morning, at half-past seven, 300 baggage camels were laden and ready to move forward. The guns moved in advance of the column, the infantry following them, and the greater part of the cavalry were scattered round in a elrole of skirmishers, a half mile or so from the column, thus effectively protecting it from any sudden attack. The Turkish cavalry were in reserve. tecting it from any sudden attack. The Turkish cavalry were in reserve. "Shortly after eight o'clock," says the special correspondent of the London Standard, "parties of the enemy were sighted. These retired slowly upon the approach of cavalry skirmishers, but showed more and more thickly as we advanced. At half-past eight the column haited. A Krupp gun was brought forward and unlimbered, and a few rounds of shell were fired. It was hardly to be expected that any execution would be done upon the scattered parties of the enemy, but the effect was to cause them again to fall back.

"About nine o'clock the enemy again approached, this time in considerable numbers. The guns of the attacking party opened fire, and the force was ordered to advance. When the cavalry skirmishers came up with the enemy they were soon hotly engaged. Presently about a dozen Arabs, riding barebacked on wiry little horses, appeared from behind a hillock and coolly gallopped round our right flank within 300 yards of our cavalry on that side, running the gauntlet of the latter's fire. They passed scatheless, and as they still kept along parallell to our column, with the evident intention of gauging its strength and disposition, the General ordered the Turkish cavalry to charge them and cut them off. After a hot chase the enemy escaped, but as hot chase the enemy escaped, but as the Turks rode back again toward the column they again appeared, and this time galopped across our front and round to the left. A SURPRISE. commotion arose in the midst of our cavalry skirmishers on our left flank. The enemy must for some time have been lying concealed close to them, and they now sprang to their feet, and with wild cries charged the Egyptian horsemen. These at once turned reis and came gallopping in in a wild and very disorderly fashion. The order was then given for the infantry to form square—a manœuvre in which they had been daily drilled for weeks. At this crisis, however, the but half disciplined mass failed to accompilsh it. Three sides were formed after a fashion, but on the fourth side two companies of the Alexandria regiment, seeing the enemy coming on leaping and trandishing their spears, stood like a panie stricken flock of sheep, and nothing could get them to move into their place.

Egyptians, they succeeded in breaking out and in cutting their way through the enemy.

A CHAOTIC RETREAT. "It now became a total rout, the shaftered column streaming across the plain toward Trinkitat, preceded by the flying cavalry, the enemy pressing hotly on the rear of the infantry and slaughtering at will. All mounted men unable to ride well were dismounted by the rush of the flying horsenen and killed. When last seen Dr. Leelic, Morice Bev and Captain Walker, with drawn swords and pistols, were standing in a group surrounded by the enemy, close to the guns in the front face of the square. There also the Turkish battalion and thirty-six Italian policemen were annihilated, scarcely one escaping. So for five miles the flight and pursuit "It now became a total rout, the were annihilated, scarcely one escaping. So for five miles the flight and pursuit were kept up. The Massowah black battalion behaved well, and for a portion of the distance retired steadily, delay calleys into the enemy. Zobshe's firing velleys into the enemy. Zobshr's blacks were undrilled and hardly able to fire their rifles, not having arrived long enough before the advance to enable the officers to get them into any shape. They therefore bolted as promptly as did the Egyptians.

A PREBLE STAND.

"When the earthwork was reached, where we had encamped the might before, the General made great efforts to protect the rear of the flying figilives by a charge of the Turkish cavalry with a few Egyptian horsenen, whose flight had been stopped by the officers, but nothing would induce them to charge. Half a regiment of Indian cavalry would have swept the plain of the scattered enemy with the greatest case. However, although the General could not induce the Turks to charge, he got them to form in line at the earthwork and to halt facing the enemy, doubtless, being afraid of the dre of the ships; but, in fact, no gunboat was in the harbor, the Admiral having ordered away the Decoy on the previous day. When the pursuit ceased the weary fugitives, horse and foot, with man rideriess horses here and there among them, made their way across the two intervening miles of deep mud to "When the earthwork was reached them, made their way across the two intervening miles of deep mud to Trinkitat. On reaching the shore they would have crowded into the few boats there and swamped them had not the English officers, revolver in hand, kept them back. Then they stood huddled together on the beach like a flock of sheep, and had the enemy come on the whole would have been butchered as easily and with as little resistance as so many sheep might have been. Gradually, as it was found that the enemy had really ceased in their pursuit, the panic subsided.—N. Y. Herald.

In conversing lately with one of our reporters, Mr. Clarence D. Gregory, 29l'Broadway, New York, told of his terrible experience with sciatic rheumatism and lumbago. He used St. Jacobs Oll and soon was as well as ever.—Brooklyn Eagle.
