This extension will be of great convenience to the Saints settled in that section of the country.

On Charity Mission.—Grand Exalted Ruler Robert W. Brown of the Elks from Louisville, Ky., passed through Ogden yesterday, en route to San Francisco to relieve Elks in distress. Wister's New Book.—The many western admirers of the writings of Owen Wister, author of "The Virginian," will be interested to know that his new book "Lady Baltimore," is now on sale in Salt Lake. The "Deseret News" book store has received the first consignment, and they are going like the proverbial hot cakes.

Legislators Agree.—Letters received by Gov. Cutler from a majority of the holdover senators and also a majority of the other members of the Legislature have assured the governor that they favor the appropriation of $25,000 by the state for the aid of the California sufferers and will vote to approve the appropriation.

A Folding Bed.—There was a tourist at the Wilson yesterday, who had a singular experience in the San Francisco disaster. He was in a folding bed at the Palace hotel, and when the earthquake came the shock folded up the bed, and had the man not been of unusual strength he would have been held a prisoner and smothered. As it was, he had hard work to escape.

Delegates Appointed.—Prof. J. E. Talmage of the University of Utah, and Mrs. Young, probation officer of the juvenile court, have been appointed by Gov. Cutler as delegates to the National Convention of Churches and Corrections to be held in Philadelphia from May 16 to 19. The governor has appointed Dr. P. S. Bascom as a member of the state board of health.

Second Avenue Club.—The Second Avenue club continues to grow, and its members are out on the war path after a still larger membership. There is in the city council a petition from the residents on Military avenue, asking for the continuation of Second street on through the avenue, as this will make of Second street (the future Second avenue) a finer thoroughfare than ever.

Private Dining Room.—The Burlington road has introduced the private dining room system on its cars, and claims to be the first to do this. The private dining rooms are at either end of the car with two tables, one seating four and the other two persons. The seats are high and stationary, being built in the car, and are upholstered in leather harmonizing with the woodwork.

Art. Lippman Returns.—United States Dist. Atty. Joseph Lippman returned yesterday from Los Angeles, accompanied by the western states. Lippman had been visiting in Berkeley and left for the south two days before the terrible catastrophe. In Los Angeles the young lady felt the shock of earthquake that occurred there, though Mr. Lippman did not know of the shaking by actual experience.

Appointment Approved.—Word has been received by State Supt. of Schools Nelson from the Oread Institute at Oread, Md., that the appointment of Lester Anderson of Logan to a free scholarship in the school has been approved. The communication also states that, on account of the failure of some of the western states to appoint students for the scholarship, Utah may receive two more appointments.

Order of Washington.—The concert given last evening in Labor hall, under the auspices of the Order of Washington, in aid of the San Francisco sufferers, was well attended and enjoyed, and after the program, there was dancing. The singing of "Annie laure" by the Euterpe Ladies' quartet was a fine effort, and the baby song by Little Katy Fordyce and Gabriel Anderson, with dolls in their arms, was the feature of the evening.

Ill Away From Home.—Word comes to Salt Lake of the serious illness of Mrs. E. J. Stevenson at Emery, Emery county, where she had gone on Relief society business. The cause of her trouble is pneumonia and there is much concern as to the outcome of her case, though a telegram from Dr. C. F. Wilcox, her son-in-law, who is attending her, says her condition has improved. Mrs. Wilcox, her daughter, is also at her bedside.

Cohn Bros'. Generosity.—Among other contributions which will be gratefully received by the San Francisco sufferers was a shipment made by Cohn's Dry Goods store of this city, of two full cases of ladies' wearing apparel, carefully selected from the Cohn stock. Nothing can be more timely than such an offering in the face of the stories of destitution of the army of homeless women who are still being cared for in the stricken city.

Soldiers Were Brutal.—James Winnehan of San Francisco is visiting with his sister, Mrs. J. E. Cahn, here, and, according to his narrative, was struck by an excited militiaman with the butt of a gun and severely injured, because he could not get out of way quick enough to satisfy the soldier. The state soldiery were needless, excited, even more so than the people were, and kicked, beat and bayoneted people without cause or reason. But after Mr. Winnehan had got on board the cars en route east, it was one continual picnic.

Banks Must Agree.—Local banking officials say that the San Francisco banks will from the nature of things, find it necessary to agree upon a plan when all shall resume business together. As for the savings banks, they will have a hard time of it on account of having loaned out so much money on local real estate which has now shrunk so in value as to be barely appreciable to the approximate value. Moreover, when the banks do open, the depositors, having lost their property, will want their money right away, and the savings banks will be heavily drawn upon immediately.

Plumber Burned.—While pumping water from the basement of the Union hotel, 443 West Second street, Frank Torkelson, a plumber, was seriously burned yesterday afternoon. A five-gallon can of gasoline was upset, and later he was carried in a wheelbarrow to the cellar, which was flooded to the water, ignited, and in the blaze that followed Torkelson was severely burned. After receiving the attention of a physician, the injured man was taken to his home, 2437 Locust street. It is believed that the blaze was extinguished by the fire department, but little loss to the premises.

Accused of Assault.—A man named Clarence Berry was arrested last night by Officer Jim Williams on the charge of having made an assault upon the person of Eliza Gunderson. The parties were attending a dance at the Utahna park, and it was at the rear of those premises that the offense was alleged to have been committed. Berry is a married man, and his wife was looking on at the dance at the time of the occurrence. The screams of Miss Gunderson were heard by Jesse Risser, who was near by, and Officer Williams was immediately summoned. When taken to the police station, Berry made various pleas in extenuation of his wrong-doing, but he was locked up in the South city jail, charged by his bride of four months, who extended her forgiveness and sympathy to her husband. Berry will have a hearing in the criminal division of the city court.
