BUTTE WILL MOST LIKELY COME IN.

Fans There Raised Upwards of $3,000 for Forming of Ball Team.

THE OUTLOOK IS PROMISING

many Shea Will in all Probability be Manager for Butte and Willmot Will Go to Ogden.

(Special to the "News.") Butte, Mont., March 21.-With the raising of over $3,000 among the business nen of Butte today the formation of a six-team outlaw league, to be known as the Pacific National league, embracing Spokane, Bolse, Salt Lake, Ogden, Helena and Butte is practically assured. Walter Wilmot, manager for Butte last season, goes to Ogden, where it is understood he will manage the club there, Danny Shea, of Lodi, Cal., formerly with St. Louis, is announced unofficially, will be at the head of the Butte team.

In spite of the facts as set forth in the shove dispatch, word has been received from Butte that the magnates there want until Friday to decide definitely whether or not they want a berth in the league, Friday a meeting will be held by the com mittee in charge and the matter will then he settled for all time to come. The outlook is bright for Butte coming in with look is offer teams, and the fermation of a six-club league.

Secretary Shepard of the local club has returned from the Butte meeting. Williams has gone back to Spokane and President Rishel will likely arrive today unless he stops off at Ogden for the purpose of looking into the situation there. If Butte goes back on the deal, then a meeting will be held here within a few days at which a four-club circuit will be erganized. This will include Salt Lake. Ogden, Bolse and Spokane. If Butte sticks, then the league will have six clubs, with Helena completing the organization.

Secretary Shepard says that he believes Butte will be in the league in spite of the fight being waged by Lucas and McCloskey. This pair has had little or ne engouragement on the coast and their only hope is to break things up at Butte and keep that city out of the Pacific National.

CHASE CHANGES HIS MIND. Decides Not to Go Away From the Coast

This Senson.

Les Angeles, March 20.—Harold Chase, first baseman of the Los Angeles team, who was drafted by Clark Griffiths, manager of the New York American league club, has decided to remain on the Pacific coast and today signed a contract to play with the Los Angeles team during the coming season. Chase's case has been causing a great deal of comment in the press, the eastern magnates' being inclined to hinge the entire question of drafting players on this particular player. Manager Morley stated today that he had signed Chase with the understanding that war had been declared between the American league and the Class A minor leagues.

Hanlon is the proudest papa. In his flock of 39 men are 14 boxmen. Collins and Griffith and Tenny own 10 each.

Behind the bat Nichols' quintet is high, and the 'deuces' of Comiskey, Armour and Selee low.

In the infield the 10 of "J. Mugs" Mc. Graw is on top, with the four of Hugh Duffy's at the bottom.

In the outer works McAleer and Selee are the fore with seven, and Fielder Jones, Armour, Collins, Griffith, the extreme end with four each.

Three hunderd and sixty-two players.

Allowing an average of 15 men to a team, that means that cans will decorate 122 "hopefulls" by the time the championship races are under xay.
Pittsburg will have three or four to release. There are nine pitchers on the roll. Holmes, Lindaman and Goodwyn are newcomers. For the outfield position there are two candidates—Clymer and Howard. Both have made excellent necords in minor leagues. For first base Clancy will be tried. McBride is to be tested as short field.

BIG BASKETBALL GAME.

Wheaton St. Louis Champions Are Coming Here Next Monday.

Ing Here Next Monday.

One week from today, unless present plans go wrong, local lovers of basketball will have a chance to see a game between the L. D. S. U. team and the Wheaton St. Louis champions.

For some time it was known that the Wheaton team was coming west, and Athletic instructor Bean of the local team has been in communication with the Wheaton manager. The result is that Bean has been notified that the team would be here next Monday and play the local team. The news was received with joy by the L. D. S. U. boys as they are anxious to meet again the team that defeated them at St. Louis.

The local team will probably be composed of the following:
Christy, guard; O. Lund, forward; McConnell, guard; Taylor, f. Pvard; Smith, center, and Stanton, forward.

Race. Race.

Richmond, Va., March 20.—In the horse show building tonight a limited six-day bleyele race began, the starters being Eddle Root, the long distance champion; Nat Butler, Gus Lawson, Dr. Frank Cadiwell, the five-mile champion; Watter Bardget, Frank Galvin and Ben Munro. The rider making the greater number of miles for fifteen hours—two and a half hours each night—will get the large end of a purse of at least $1,000, on the others to share in the order in which they finish. Bardgett of Buffalo gained the lead in tonight's racing. Eddle Root of New York was second, and Ben Munro of Memphis third. The greatest distance made in the two hours and a half was 57 miles, 1 lap.

It is claimed that a new world's record was made by Munro for an indoor unpaced event of 25% miles in an hour.

Jabez White, Lightweight Champion

New York, March 20.—Among the passengers on the Cedric today was Jabez White, the British puglilist, and his manager, Charles Mitchell. White is matched to fight Jimmy Britt of San Francisco.

White and Mitchell expect to start for San Francisco on Wednesday. White said he had come over to fight Britt for the lightweight championship of the world, and that he was ready to sign articles with him.

"I have wanted to meet Britt since he defeated Young Corbett," said White, "and I hope a match will be made with him promptly. I will fight him at 13 pounds, the lightweight limit. We can weigh in at 2 o'clock or at the ringside, I will be ready to begin training in a few days. If I fight Britt in San Francisco I shall train in California."

Unless White can secure a match with Britt he plans to return to England at once and not to fight any more. Arrives in New York.

FANS DON'T LIKE IT. Would Rather See Nelson Than White Mix With J. Britt.

Mix With J. Britt.

It is more the highhandedness of Britt than anything else that has caused the failing through of the contemplated match between the conceited native son and Battling Nelson.

Of course the former can and undoubtedly will use the excuse that he would rather fight Jabes White, with whom he is now matched, than the battling Dane, but to the 'Frisco fight fans this looks like a badge of fear on the part of James Edward. He has shown bad faith from the very first with Nelson, and clearly shows that he fears his wallops.

It is not thought that the White fight will draw very well, as every one would rather see Nelson and Britt than the Britton, whom they consider an easy proposition for Britt.

The reason given by the Nelson faction for the falling through of the match is that Britt is said not to have deposited his forfeit of $1.500, as agreed to with Nelson. Then, again, the Dane claims Pat Britt demanded and received a promise from Cofroth that he should receive an additional 10 per cent of the receipts from the club for signing the articles.

Nelson, feeling that he was the main drawing card in the match, then declined Ucles.

Nelson, feeling that he was the main drawing card in the match, then declined to fight for the prescribed 55 per cent and demanded that the purse be raised to 65 per cent of the gross receipts.

To this Coffroth would not agree, and hurrledly accepted the overtures of Tom O'Brouke of New York on behalf of Jabez White.

TERRY WON'T FIGHT

Until He Has Met Nelson and Britt or is Refused Match.

Dispatches from 'Frisco to the effect that Young Corbett is on the way east under the management of Al Herford and has issued a challenge for a third fight with Terry McGovern, brought out a statement from Joe Humphries about the intentions of the McGovern camp.

Joe, acting for Sam Harris, says that Terry is willing to fight Corbett again only after he has fought Britt or Nelson or been positively refused a match by them.

Terry is billed right up to the beginning of June with his show, "For Fame and Fortune," and as a consequence would not be able to fight before then. But Just as soon as he is free he will demonstrate to the fight-loving world that he is by no means a dead one despite his two defeats by Young Corbett, "I don't think the public considers Terry as much of a dead one as they do Young Corbett, sid Joe, "and for that reason I believe they would pay more to see Terry isht, Britter Nelson than they would to see the Denver kid scrap either of them again. In other words, Perry's mode of living has inspired more conndence in him than has the high life of Young Corbett, I think we are therefore in a position to dictate. "Corbett treated as rather shabbily when he made his match with Nelson, He had agreed to fight the winner of the McGovern-Hanlon fight in Pimadeph a, but when Harris came cown here from Hartford especially to meet Corbett at the Metropols as he had arranged, he was informed that the kid had articles for the Nelson fight in his pecket and would go out there and fight first. Harris then tried to match him to fight Terry after he Nelson fight him his pecket and would go out there and fight first. Harris then tried to match him to fight Terry after he was through with Nelson, but the kid again refused. "So under the circumstances and because we don't detect any wind clampion the part of the public for another till between Young Corbett and Terry, we prefer to go after the real live ones to see whether or not we still belong in the game. "Personally, I think McGovega will be better than he ever was in his lie when he again enters the ring," concluded Humphries. "His dally boxing stunt with Johnny Burdick as a regular part of his show has kept him in fine fettle, and just because Young Corbett has the Indian sign on him is no reason why he may not be able to beat Britt or Nelson next summer. But if Torry is ever lightweight champion and Yeung Corbett wants a chance at the title, he will surely get it."

MARKHAM-DANFORD MATCH.

The Former is Expected to Arrive Here

Tomorrow Afternoon.

Tomorrow Afternoon.

Tommy Markham, the hard hitting lightweight, who has had several contests in this city, was reached by telephone last night and expressed his willingness to meet Bert Danierd in Sait Lake in a 20-round contest about the 1st of April.

Markham said he would come to Sait Lake within a couple of days, and it is believed he will reach here tomorrow night and at once go into training for the bout. He says that he will make 135 pounds at 3 o'clock on the day of the contest if that is agreeable to Danford, or he will weigh in at 140 ringside. The latter weight would suit Danford better, and they will probably sign articles at that poundage.

According to reports from Robinson, Utah, where Markham has been working in the mines, he is in excellent condution, and will require but a little time to get into perfect shape for the bout. Danford has kept up his training and can be counted upon to get into good shape.

The management declares that the pre-liminaries will be of a high order, and there will be no meal ticket knights of the padded mitts tolerated around. As fast as they show up they will be in formed that there is nothing for them here except the prospects of a few days on the rock pile. A piace for holding the bout has not been selected as yet, but the chances are that it will be in one of the theaters. It will certainly not be held in the Pastime club as the place is not fit for such events.

VALUABLE SUGGESTIONS TO BREEDERS OF POULTRY

To the Editor.

The season for selling eggs and stock of the different breeds of thoroughbred poultry is now on all over the country, and immediately following it will come the time when purchasers will be blaming or praising the seller. Some will get poor hatches from eggs, and some very poor, and the breeder will generally be blamed for the lack of success, and many will say that they would rather have their old common stock than the best thoroughbreds on earth, and just because of a lack of knowledge of the ircumstances leading up to success.

circumstances leading up to success.

When I buy eggs from a person I do so because I am satisfied his stock is superior to my own; and also that he has selected his best fowls to produce such other fowls as he hopes will support his reputation as a breeder of that variety. I also know that to do that he must necessarily keep that flock by themselves. It oftentimes happens, in order to do so that this lot must be quite closely confined, with the result that not enough exercise is received by the fowls to cause the best results to follow, or a lack of certain kinds of food essential to the nature of the birds, or many other little things that are of importance and which set. or many other little things that are of importance, and which not everybody knows are lacking to bring such results as the owner of the fowls would like.

But I am determined to have some of that stock and decide to purchase a sit-ting of eggs. They cost me $5 for 13, I get them and at hatching time only I get them and at hatching time only two or three chicks reward me for my trouble. I am mad all over, and blame the seller of the eggs, without stopping to consider whether the chicks I got are worth the money I put up for them; when, if I should stop to consider the situation, I have more than my money's worth. Some breeders have been accused of dipping eggs in hot water, or picking them with a needle in order to prevent them from hatching. But I do not believe there is one breeder in a not believe there is one breeder in a hundred but who thinks more of his customers and his possible future sales customers and his possible future sales than do such a thing.

The situation is very clearly and briefly summed up in an article contributed to farm poultry by a Mr. F. O. Welcome. Outside of the question of bad breeding, of which I expect to tell you something. I think Mr. Welcome's article puts the buyer and seller of eggs on a basis of justice nearer than anything I have ever seen in print:

From the writer's point of view, the best way to get a foundation of pure less than the server and seller of eggs. best way to get a foundation of pure bred stock is to purchase the stock and then breed from it in all its purity with-out admixture of any kind. But that is not usually the cheapest way to start. The fact that eggs said by pure bred fowls can be bought for a few dollars, and can be sent anywhere at less cost and can be sent anywhere at less cost for transportation, has made that method of obtaining pure blood very convenient and very popular. It is an excellent method, but one that suffers much from the ignorance, greed, and dishonesty of a host of those who buy and some of those who sell. Fertile eggs from pure bred stock are what the seller offers and what the buyer wants. But poultry keeping and breeding is not an exact science. It never can be,

from the very nature of things. Nature never makes an exact reproduction of anything. . . . "Like begets like" to the extent that hens will breed hens, not ducks; a variety of fowls will breed hens, not ducks; a variety of fowls will breed fowls of that variety, and no other; a genuine "strain" will produce off-spring having the general distinguish-ing characteristics of that strain; but the notion that every chick should to or any chick can be, an exact reprodu or any chick can be, an exact reproduc-tion in appearance and tendencies of one of its parents should be forever barred from the mind. It is an ab-solute impossibility that any chick should ever develop into an exact coun-terpart of either parent or any ances-tor. Are endorsed by Salt Lake City peo-terpart of either parent or any ancestor.

No breeder can surely foretell what the results from any mating will be. His is not the skill of the goldsmift who fashions a work of art or utility from an arbitrary model or plan which will permit of exact duplication as often as desired. The breeder of animals or plants it dealing with complex living organism and obscure natural laws that he has hardly begun to understand. No seller can surely know how many of the eggs he sells are fertile, or foretell how many of the fertile eggs will hatch, especially when they are entirely out of his knowledge or control as soon as packed for shipment.

Business men are obliged to take some risks of one kind or another. The more risks there are that are inseparable from a certain line of business the greater the price and profit that must be worked for. Eggs for hatching are sold at very low prices, all things considered, and the buyer takes the risks. He should take them. He is not willing to pay the seller for results. He pays for the chances contained in a certain number of eggs for hatching. He should never send money to a breeder unless he is confident that that breeder will send as good eggs as he er unless he is confident that that breeder will send as good eggs as he can for the sum paid. Having paid the money the sensible buyer will accept the results calmly, whatever they cept the results calmly, whatever they may be. The eggs received should be of good size and shape, and well shelled, otherwise a self-respecting protest is justified. The most fertile eggs will fail to hatch unless all the conditions to which they are subjected after leaving the shipper's hands are sufficiently favorable. The most promising chicks may fail to prove their breeding unless they are properly raised. Not one buyer. they are properly raised. Not one buyer in a thousand knows how to raise them properly, and they nearly all think that they do. Many a buyer has raised one chick that was worth more to him than chick that was worth more to him than the entire setting cost.

In my own experience I once paid $5 for 13 eggs; hatched eight chicks, sold one for $10, one for $5, one for $3.50, one for $2.50, and had the best male and three females left. Again from the same party another $5 worth of eggs produced three chicks, not one of which was worth yard room.

was worth yard room.

But whatever happens, you may be sure that nine of every ten breeders are mating and caring for their fowls to secure the very best results. D. D.
