PRESIDENTIAL PROBABILI-TIES

THE New York Sun is trying to boom Randall into the Presidency of the United States. There is no doubt that Samuel J. Randall would make a most excellent Chief Magistrate, and that he would have a powerful following if nominated as the Democratic candidate. His ability is unquestioned, his hondsty unimpeachable and his standing before the country unsurpassed. But we do not think he is likely to receive the nomination. His protection proclivities make him the leader of a faction in his party and provoke an antagonism which would Now the trouble is in Spain, A fire has be very damaging to his prospects been smouldering there tor a long time tively slow when the go vernor is used, of election.
