This Evening Secy. Root Speaks on Our Commercial Relations With South America.

Kansas City, Nov. 20.—When the Transmississippi commercial convention convened in Seventeenth annual session here this morning in Convention hall that vast auditorium was jammed with delegates, guests and spectators. The arena floor had been reserved for delegates, who were arranged by state delegations as in the Democratic national convention held there in 1900. Every state in the Union was represented. John H. Sainsbury.

Who Last Night Fell into the Sleep That Knows No Awakening in Mortality—Funeral Thursday Afternoon.

A sterling young man passed from mortality last evening when John H. Sainsbury breathed his last. He was cut down in the flush of young manhood by the ravages of Bright's disease, from which he suffered for ten weeks, the last three weeks of which he was bed-ridden and suffered intensely. His death was painless and peaceful, and was to him a happy release from illness and distress. He leaves a young wife, who is almost demoralized, two children, aged four and one year, respectively, besides his mother, brothers, sisters and other relatives.

The deceased was born in Minersville, Utah, Feb. 8, 1874, but had lived his life in Salt Lake nearly all his life. For eighteen years and up to the time of his illness, he was employed in the art bazaar of C. R. Savage, and the latter speaks of the young man in the highest possible terms. Mr. Savage stated this morning that nothing too good could be said of "Johnnie" Sainsbury, as he called him. He was honest and faithful, of a gentle and kind disposition, and much beloved by all who knew him. To his mother, who has been a widow for many years, the young man was loving and attentive, deriving the love and support of a dutiful son. His wife, before her marriage, was Miss Gertrude Pagenreiter, and the happy couple lived at 241 South Fifth East street. The funeral will be held Thursday, commencing at 2 o'clock, from the second ward meetinghouse.
