MURRAY CITIZENS ACTING PROMPTLY

Thoroughly Search the Town For the Ravisher.

REWARD OF $500 IS POSTED

For Information Leading to the Arrest and Conviction of Mrs. Schwan's Assailant.

SHERIFF AND POLICE WORKING.

Officers on Hand at 2 o'clock When Smelter Employes Change Shifts-Austrian is Suspected.

At a meeting of citizens of Murray this morning searching ? committees were organized and . the city portioned off into three districts. The committees commenced a thorough search of every house, irrespective of the standing of the householder. In addition to the citizens,

Sheriff Emery and deputies and two Salt Lake detectives went down to Murray this morning and are working on the case.

At a special meeting of the city council of Murray last night it was decided to offer a reward of $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the assailant of Mrs. Gustave to the arrest and conviction of Schwan.

Bulletin: -2 p. m. The various committees have returned. The committee from the north end of town reports no clews.

The second committee that has been searching through center, west and "Bergertown," came in with a dark cost from which all the buttons have been cut off, also a sult of underwear that had just been washed. The house where the articles were found is now being shadowed.

tee assigned to the south end of town reports finding a number of buitons on coats similar in pattern to the one in the hands of the officers.

The fact that the little girl Myrtle had the marks of sooty fingers on her bare foot and ankle is taken as conclusive evidence that the man wanted is a smelter employe who had come off work just previous to the assault.

BY J. P. CAHOON.

"From what we citizens of Murray could judge last night there wasn't much of a clue obtainable, so this morniss at 8 o'clock we began to telephone each other and decided to hold a mass At that meeting we mantmosaly agreed that regardless of cost and time, we must find this man. We appointed committees to search every home in Murray, whatever its standing. Another committee we appointed to search every smalter employe. I am now hunting for two good detectives. at the request of this mass meeting, and we want them to be on hand when the smelter employes change shifts at 2 and 3 o'clock today. If the man is caught I cannot say what will happen, I hope the law will be allowed to tuke its course, because I am opposed to A reward of $500 has been offered, but the citizens of Murray will not stop at any cost that will help to locate the field we are after."

The citizens of Murray are thoroughly aroused over the atroclous crime of early yesterday morning. At a meeting of representative men held this morning, six citizens and three officers were deputized to thoroughly search the city. It was agreed that so serious was the crime that everybody should willingly submit to search in order to bring the culprit to justice. Accordingly the city was divided into three sections, north Murray, south Murray and central and The first named section was allotted to Deputy Sharp with Chizens Dan Phelan and McHenry. Marshal Mauss has the second with Reynoids Canoon and Charies Etcher, while Deputy Sheriff Bell and Messrs. Wood and Williams will go through the allen shacks and Austrian quarters. At 2 o'clock this afternoon every man

The two city detectives arrived in Murray early this morning and by 10 o'clock were at the Schwan residence listening to the story of the victim and bleking up any possible clews.

In the meantime the officers were keeping a quiet lookout for the fellow. Deputy Graham passed the Schwan home while the man was inside as-saulting the lone, defenseless woman, and he was looking for the mysterious

Marshal Mauss was in the vicinity of the house at the time, in fact he passed Mr. Schwan as he was returning from work and spoke to him. A few minutes later he heard the agonized husband calling him and ran to see what was the matter. The rest of the story was told in last night's "News."

Both Mrs. Schwan and Dr. Jones, who was summoned soon after the crime, are of the opinion that when the man is captured it will develop that he is an Austrian. The doctor affirms that all the Austrians employed at the smelters have a peculiar odor attached to their person that is unmistakable, in fact he says that one can "smell" a low class Austrian if he is in another room. As soon as he entered the house he affirmed that the fiend was one of these aliens employed by the smelter com-

CLEW HELD BY OFFICERS.

The fact also that during the fearful struggle Mrs. Schwan tore a button from the coat of her assallant and which upon examination proved to be of the peculiar corrugated pattern only associated with cheap European clothing that is worn by Austrians at Murray, would indicate that the officers were on the right track.

Yesterday and last night he and his deputies pushed the search. At one place terday Deputy Sharp found a coat that was in all probability a duplicate of the one wanted in every respect save color. The texture of the cloth was the same and the pattern of the button identical in every particular with the exception that they were brown,

DID NOT UTTER A WORD.

The fact that the assailant of Mrs Schwan did not uiter a word during the entire hour he was with her would indicate that he was afraid that his brok en English would furnish a clew. Mrs. Schwan says the man during the sault repeatedly said "hush-h" to the children, who were tearing at him with their little hands in their endeavor to assist their mother in the attempt to beat him off, but he rained blow after blow upon them.

MRS. SCHWAN'S STORY.

Mrs. Schwan, in giving the account of her struggle with the brute to her

"Not a single word came from the man's mouth in answer to my pleas, nor did he utter any exclamation during the entire time except a 'hush' to my little 5-year-old boy, Gilbert. While his breath was heavy with drink, the man was sufficiently sober to understand every word I spoke to my children. When I told Myrtle to grabbed her, throwing her to the floor Then he struck her.

When I felt my strength giving way I called to the children to strike a match. At this time, the fellow had me pinloned to the parlor floor and was using every effort to choke my cries for help.

A silk mask which he wore over his face at first had slipped down onto his neck. While I was unable to see his face in the darkness I could feel that he were a thin moustache. I could tell nothing of his features save that they eared to be regular.

JOHN MORLEY ON THE ELECTION

Thinks Country Would be Just as Great if it Had Gone the Other Way

A TRIBUTE TO THE PRESIDENT.

Believes United States and Great Britain Will Work Together for Progress of the World.

New York, Nov. 15 .- The one hundred and thirty-sixth annual dinner of the New York chamber of commerce was held tonight at Delmonico's. The speakers were Secy, of the Treasury Shaw, Hon, John. Morley, M. P., Richard Olney and Sir James Kiteon, M. P. President Morris K, Jesup presided.

After the healths of President Roosevelt and King Edward had been drunk President Jesup read the following letter from President Roosevelt:

"Will you present to the chamber of commerce my carnest wishes for the success of their dinner and my regret that I am not able to be present. asked the secretary of the treasury to take my place. No body of men in this country is so closely representative of the immense business interests of the country as the chamber of commerce and 'therefore the chamber of commerce has a representative function not merely for the state of New York but for the whole United States. It is not only because of the fact that they are thus, in a peculiar sense, a represenative body but because of my old friendship with and my esteem for so many of the members that I feel a sense of loss at the impossibility of my being present with you on the evening of the banquet."

Mr. Jesup then introduced Secy. Shaw, who responded to the sentiment

Mr. Morley was then introduced. He eclared that the thing that has interested him most during his visit has been the presidential campaign. He been the presidential campaign. He declared that he was as enthusiastic as any one in Chicago on election night, making the tour of the election booths and listening to the returns.

"I confess it greatly impressed my imagination," said Mr. Morley, speaking of watching the returns come in from all over the country is a newspe

Toward the end of his address Mr.

Washington, Nov. 15,-No deeision yet has been reached by the president and other Republican leaders regarding possible action of Congress on the subject of tariff.

It can be said authoritatively that no decision will be reached as to such action either at a regular or at an extraordinary session of the Fifty-ninth Congress until the subject has been considered thoroughly by the president and his cabinet and his political friends in Congress.

The president is not bound by any preconceived views on the subject, and is open to conviction as to the most desirable course to pursue.

He is not inclined to favor an extraordinary session either for the purpose of taking up the I tariff or any other subject; but T It is said to be too early yet even $ to indicate the determination which eventually will be reached.

UTAHNS TO FRONT AT EL PASO, TEXAS.

(Special to the "News.")

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 16 .- The sessions of the National Irrigation congress continue today, with increased and enthusiastic attendance. The congress is divided today, into five sections, to consider various branches of the irrigation work, and both the Opera House, Chopin hall and other convenient places of assembly are being utilized. The sections will unite in general meeting tomorrow in the tocal Opera House, when the results of the sectional work will be reported to the whole body. The executive committee, in accordance with the instructions given at last meeting, reported a number of suggested amendments to the constitution, but none of them are of material moment.

Commander Booth-Tucker of the Salvation Army had prepared a paper on 'Rural Settlements," and the paper has been presented for reading.

An interesting and important feature of yesterday, was the response made by Editor C. W. Penrose of the Deseret Evening News, and representing Utah, to the addresses of welcome on the opry smith also made a rousing speech on Utah, at the evening session. Messrs. Penrose and President Anthony Ivins delivered interesting addresses this morning, at the meeting of the Colonization section. There are about 25 mem-bers of the Utah gelegation to the congress. Maj. R. W. Young of this city is chairman of the committee on creden-tials, and Thomas Maloney of Ogden is also on that committee. Hon. C. W. Penrose is chairman of the committee on resolutions and Roger Farrar of Provo is chairman of the committee on permanent organization. The Utah delegation visited the grave of Apostle Woodruff, where there was manifest agitation and deep feeling over the un-timely death of this promising young churchman. About two-thirds of the Utah delegation is preparing to make a trip to the City of Mexico Saturday morning, and there is every reason fo assurance that the trip will be not only pleasurable but profitable to all who make it. Much attention is being shown the Utah people, and the ties of interest that have hitherio existed between western Texas and Utah are being made stronger and more lasting. El Paso people are also doing everything in their power to entertain the irrigation visitors, and the good citizens of Ciudad Juarez are taking an active

MEN AND GIRLS THROWN INTO PANIC

New York, Nov. 16 .- Three hundred men and girls employed in several manufacturing concerns in a five-story building on the Bowery were thrown into a panie by fire today but by prompt work on the part of the firemen and volunteer rescuers all were taken out in safety. The fire started in the Central Knitting mill on the second floor, probably from defective in-sulation of electrical wires, and within a few minutes the flames were sweeping up through the halls to the floors above. Nearly all the persons in the building were employed in a coat factory on the top floor, and a moment after the smoke and flames poured up through the halls the fire escapes on the Bowery side of the building were choked by crowds of frenzied men and women. Stairways were impassable and the small fire escapes were taxed far beyond their capacity.

Before the firemen arrived the flames were shooting out of the front windows and making a blazing wall to cut off those above the second floor.

The position of the men and women on the fire escapes was becoming more and more desperate every moment when long ladders which cleared the wall of flame below were run up to the rescue. Then under the direction of firemen and volunteers the frightened ones were brought safely to the ground. Many women on the third floor who were out of reach of the ladders were taken across a narrow areaway to an adjoining building on a living chain formed by firemen. A few minutes later the upper part of the building was a sea of fire and before the flames subdued the building was practically destroyed.

BRITISH MINISTERS ANGER RUSSIA

Their Speeches on the North Sea Incident Arouse Great Resentment.

DON'T LIKE ASSUMPTIONS.

Particularly One That it Has Been Agreed to Punish Officers in Advance of Findings.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 16 .- The resentment produced by the speeches of the British ministers on the North sea incident, especially the assumption that Russia has agreed to punish the offieers of the Russian squadron in advance of any finding of the commission, has been further indamed by the speech of Lord Seiborne, first lord of the admiralty, Nov. 14, at Bristol, on the danger of a Russian invasion of India. The Novos Vremya, while philosophically disposed to hold the British Jingoes responsible for this constant provocative attitude, calling attention particularly to Viceroy Curzon's and Lord Kitchen-er's deputations to Persia and Afghanistan and disclaiming any desire of Russia to engage in fight, says that nevertheless Russia always has a chance of evening up British superiori-ty at sea by a move in the direction of India and therefore naturally it is a great comfort to Russia that she has direct rail communication with Tashkend.

The Novosti, on the contrary, makes light of the ghost of a Russian inve-sion of India which British statesmen are constantly trotting out for the benefit of the British public and suggests that it would be better for Great Britain to make sincere overtures to Russia regarding the Indian border instead of taking refuge behind Afghanistan.

SAFE BLOWERS IN OGDEN.

Burglarized Bicycle Store for Tools Then Broke Into Troy Laundry.

(Special to the "News.") Ogden, Nov. 16 .- The bicycle store of H. C. Hansen, situated on Washing-ton avenue, was entered by burgiars about nine o'clock last night, entrance being gained, it is thought, by means of skeleton keys. The place was thoroughly ransacked by the burglars, and they carried away six dozen knives, one dozen razors, one double barrel shot gun, two search lights, and a number of other articles, amounting in all to about $100 in value. They also stole a monkey wrench, drill and hammer, which they used at the Troy Steam Laundry, where they effect an entrance at a later hour in the night through a window. They had knocked the com-bination off the saft and filled the opening with nitroglycerine, to which a fuse was attached and capped ready for operation. About two o'clock this morning Sergeant Chambers and Offi-cer Al Herrick were making their rounds at Wall avenue, near the Troy laundry, when they discovered the window open. It is supposed that their passing by frightened away the bur-glars. They telephoned for Manager Curtis, and when he came they made an examination of the laundry, but found nothing wrong, but at about eight o'clock this morning when the laundry was opened the condition of the safe was discovered.

The matter was reported to Sergeant
