

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, - OCT. 1, 1894.

First District Court.

On Saturday morning the jury in the case of The People vs. Peter Henshaw et al. were charged and retired to deliberate.

The next case tried was that of Samuel Vickers, et al., charged with larceny of the water of the Utah creek, a tributary of the Snake. It was charged that the defendant allowed a pile of sawlogs to lie in such a situation as to allow escape from it to flow into the Utah creek. The defense alleged that such escape could not take place and that the alleged material had been removed as soon as objection had been made thereon. The case went to the jury in the forenoon.

Certificates of citizenship were issued to the following aliens: Wm. Frank, Provo; Henry Kaler, Meno; Andrew Barkley, Huntington; Sam H. H. Henshaw, Provo; Thomas Johnson, Lodi; John Kirkwood, John Wooten and Henry P. Nyak, Provo. The first three have been in the Territory since they were children, and have exercised the rights of citizens since they became adults. The last three were admitted through the naturalization of their fathers. The question had been raised and submitted to the registration officers, who have ruled that they were not citizens.

Notes.

Howe & Tait of this city received the first car of sugar sent out by the Utah Sugar factory on Friday. The sugar was still warm when it arrived.

Alfred J. Matton and H. H. McGraw of this city, have bought the drug business of McElroy and Lander Taylor, judgment by default was taken for $500.00, $50 attorney's fees and costs.

The jury in the W. E. Davis case stood eight for guilty of manslaughter and four for acquittal on the first trial, and the case continued to stand that way till a short time before the verdict was reached, when a compromise was made and the verdict of guilty of involuntary manslaughter returned.

The Democratic county convention will be held in the county court house Monday, October 1st.

In the case of Payson Exchange & Savings Bank vs. Mellick and Lander Taylor, judgment by default was taken for $500.00, $50 attorney's fees and costs.

Open session of Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Thurman, the forfeiture of the bonds of Charles E. Dacey was set aside. Dacey was indicted for grand larceny and failed to appear for trial when his case was called. He is reported to be drowned, which may account for his disappearance.

The case of J. H. Emery vs. the U. P. R. Co. was set for Tuesday, October 1st.

PARK CITY.

PARK CITY, UTAH, - OCT. 1, 1894.

NOTES FROM THE GREAT CAMP.

Business, Weather, Football, Railway and Agricultural News.

We have been treated to a variety of weather during the past week, ending with a heavy snowstorm—the third of the season. It will not be long now before snowstorms are of daily occurrence.

Business among the merchants has been somewhat better this week than in some time past, and from now on until Christmas they will look for a splendid trade.

Travel to and from Park City is picking up, and the arrivals at the hotels indicate that people from many parts of the country are getting very much interested in Utah and Park City. During the past week two parties from New York have been here to gain information in regard to several promising but undeveloped mines, and their impressions, if favorable, will ensure the starting of a new mine works during the coming spring.

The workmen on the new water system have reached the reservoir with the intention, and next week will see the main line of pipes in position and ready to turn the water into them for a test. The first line of pipes will be finished just as soon as possible.

Registration of voters for the coming election has been going on at a lively rate during the week, and many new names have been added to the list. During the week over sixty men went into Salt Lake to get their naturalization papers, and those men will cast their first vote at the coming election. Wednesday night the Republicans of Park City held their ward convention to nominate delegates to the county convention, also to nominate delegates to select the delegates to the constitutional convention. The turnout to these ward meetings was very large. It was expected that before this week would be reached, but now it is said that it will be fully ten days before the work is through. With the completion of this undertaking will be one of the best jobs of the year that ever has been done in the western country.

A large party of surveyors with a big supply of provisions, etc., with them, passed through the town Thursday morning for the Utah reservation. They were very quiet as to their survey, but it is thought that they have been sent out by the Utah and Western Railway company.

One and a half million have been very light this week, but with the improvement completed at the river being made, the one million will increase very rapidly.

Much interest is taken by the people here in the fair to be held in Salt Lake, and a large number of people will go from here.

The proclamation of President Cleveland as received here with much interest, and expressions were heard on all sides that it was the proper course to take.

Mr. J. J. Day has been in the camp nearly all week, and is busy looking around for a proper place for his new mill, which he intends to erect during the coming spring. The Day-West mine has now reached the stage in mining when it will be a splendid investment to extract ore when found in large bodies as it is in this mine.

Come, Road, agent for the H. Kimball estate, has been in town for several days this week, paying off the large number of men employed by the estate, and looking after the work of the Day mine, of which he is chief bookkeeper.

Dr. Fowler was a visitor to this camp on Tuesday. Mining business brought him up.

More at the Alliance tunnel has started up with a small amount of men. The summer will be increased within a short time.

The boys' football team are all busy at present in taking hay, which will be all shipped to Salt Lake, where a good price is expected from the sale. The hay in this part is considered as being equal to any in the country and is always in demand.

Willie, who appeared in the market, and although the law does not allow the killing of ducks before October 1st, some people have been engaged in the business.

PLEASANT GROVE.

PLEASANT GROVE, - OCT. 1, 1894.

Schools and Teachers.

The most corps of school teachers from this town have gone out to other sections.

Prof. John E. Drayton left last Friday for Preston, Idaho, to take charge of the Oregon State Academy.

Frank H. Drayton left yesterday to resume his position as head teacher in the school in the Utah section for the year, Salt Lake City.

Miss Helen Winters has gone to receive her diploma from the University of Idaho.

Quite a number of young ladies from this place have gone to Salt Lake City to attend the high school there.

John L. Newman and Newton K. Ballou are attending the Idaho Normal university in California. They will also do some missionary service while absent.

The district school for this town opens today, Oct. 1st.

Notes.

The weather is very stormy.

The health of the people is generally good.

The older mills are kept busy working up the apples.

The old-fashioned millstone mills have put in their appearance.

C. E. Lucas, of Provo, has presented each member of the Naughton team with a pair of shoes with a new sole is also here.

Home Hygieneville and Ballou men have made up a set of two of horses from the same place and will then the animals to England to sell.

Compelled by Circumstances.

THAT IS what the makers of bicycles write when they say that their new wheels will be lighter for '95. The "circumstances" mean just this: "The STEARNS, that superb road wheel, that strong wheel with lines of beauty and grace in every detail: the wheel that has passed the experimental stage and demonstrated to the wheel world that no maker at heart knows how to give us a 32 pound wheel, has compelled the other makers to write their trade that they will have 32 pound road wheels for '95." Only one year behind the STEARNS with their promise. Can they do it? Nonsense, can they make a road wheel at 32 pounds that will stand up? They said it couldn't be done. That they couldn't do it, and poor-poor-the STEARNS, saying it wouldn't stand up, but it did. Now, we don't think conditions have changed with them. We believe they will fail. We don't think they know how to so handle their materials so as to make the light wheels that will stand road work, and we believe their promise will be a barren one, just as their statements that their wheels were 32 pounds this year were not true, their so-called 32 pound wheels actually weighing 30 pounds.

A Lady said to the writer: "I have been riding a wheel, built like a witch, and what do you think it weighs? I was told it weighed 26 pounds and it actually weighed on the scale at the Salt Lake Hardware Co.'s store 33 pounds. What do you think of that?" We didn't dare to think. Our think machine had stopped running.

TRY THE STEARNS. TRY THE GENDRON. We have a sample of the '95 ORIENT, BOSTON, U. S.
