FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

The "Mirror of Ireland" is coming. The weather is getting decidedly cold. C. L. Davis as "Alvin Jolson" at the Theatre to-night.

Young Florida, committed to await the action of the grand jury yesterday, executed a telephonic shuffle in the court room after the termination of the proceedings. He is a hard case, though young.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Fined.—In addition to being committed to the grand jury yesterday, John Florida was fined $25 for stealing a scarf and pin from Mr. Haines, of South Cottonwood.

Stole a Ride.—Ed. Hall, a tramp, stole a ride on the Utah Central Railway. Officer Wm. Calder took him in tow at the depot. Judge Pyper fined him $10, to-day. He will work it out.

Improving.—A gentleman who has seen young Edwards, of the 11th Ward, lately, says that the recent statement that he was losing ground was incorrect, and that, on the contrary, he steadily improves. We hope he will recover to complete soundness, but only for his own sake, but for that of his anxious parents, for whom we have the most sincere sympathy.

President Taylor and Party.—By telegram to President Joseph F. Smith, we learn that President Taylor and party purposed leaving St. George on Saturday for Tooe Valley. On Sunday they will be at Virgin, Monday at Rockville, Tuesday and Wednesday at Kanab.

President Cannon left St. George for this city yesterday morning and will probably reach here on Sunday morning.

Immigrants Arrived.—As stated in yesterday's News that they would, the immigrants reached Ogden at 1.30 this morning. At that point a portion of the company remained, while others went north. One hundred and fifty-seven left Ogden this morning, and with the exception of a few that stopped at Centerville and Wood's Cross, reached this city shortly before 1 o'clock.

The company were healthy and had a prosperous journey by sea and land. Elder L. R. Martineau had charge, and was assisted by the other returning Elders.

Atmospheric Strength.—A resident of the southeastern part of the city remarked to us, this morning: "If ever you come down our way I wish you would just go around by the south side of the Old Fort. There is an immense quantity of old cabbage in an advanced state of decomposition, lying on the land, filling the air with a fearful stench." Judging from the emphatic character of this gentleman's utterance we think he is of opinion that the cabbage is strong enough to "hold the fort" against large odds. The source of affliction should be abated. Whose duty it is to abolish this in cipient souerkrout?

Capsized.—This morning as a well known bicyclist was rolling up Main Street to the locality of his daily vocation, a team suddenly crossed the way and the rider was unavoidably diverted from his course into a water course which being bridged over a few feet proved impassable to the cyclist. For further particulars, inquire of those who witnessed the new and graceful method of dismounting over the handlebars. The rider consoles himself with the reflection that his steed is uninjured and that it is the first fall of the kind in a distance of 2,000 miles. Fortunately for him he was not riding a mule or the consequences might have been terrible.

Bad Gunshot Wound.—On Monday about 3 o'clock a young man by the name of James Jakeman, of Glenwood, Sevier Co., accidentally shot himself through the hand and wrist with a shot-gun loaded with duck-shot. He had started to go out to shoot ducks and stopped at the co-op store, placing the gun against the steps at the door. Afterwards while standing on the steps he reached down taking the gun by the muzzle, he drew it up and the hammer caught against a step, causing it to be discharged, the entire load passing in at the palm of the hand and coming out through the upper part of the wrist. The wound was dressed by Brother E. Payne and afterwards Mr. George Ogilvie, of Richfield, was called in and at present it is thought that no bones were broken and the patient is doing well.

For these particulars we are indebted to Bro. L. W. Pierce.

Theatre To-night.—If the press descriptions of the Alvin Jolson performances are reliable, the audience at the Theatre to-night will have a three hours' indulgence in exuberant hilarity. The Milwaukee Sentinel says about the entertainment: "At the Academy of Music last evening the first representation of 'Alvin Jolson' attracted a large audience. The play is light comedy throughout, and is very funny. The story consists of a Vermont farmer, who visits New York and trusts the problems that come before him. The incidents and combinations of the scenes are very good, and if at times they seem rather exaggerated, the fact detracts nothing from their humor. Mr. Davis, as 'Alvin Jolson' kept the house in convulsions of laughter most of the time, and when the curtain fell at the close of the first act, he was called before the curtain repeatedly. Joe Baxter took perfectly the part of a Bowery rat, young in years, but old in experience, and his slang was invariably the signal for laughter in the galleries. The character of Julia Ford, whose misery furnishes most of the pathos of the story, is well conceived by Miss Barnes. The company is a strong one, and the comedy as full of laughable incidents as it is possible to have. The same will be repeated each night during the remainder of the week."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

A CENTENARIAN DEAD.

ROMANTIC INCIDENTS OF HIS CAREER.

A romantic character breathed his last, in the 13th Ward of this city, at 8.30 last night. We refer to William Falconbridge, a centenarian. He was born October 25th, 1780, at Fritchley, Derbyshire, England, and was consequently turned 101 years of age.

When a young lad he was apprenticed to a stocking maker, in or near his native town. His employer aroused the indignation of the ignorant populace by introducing machinery into his trade, and a furious mob demolished his premises.

After this event the same man bound his apprentice hand and foot and sold him to the English naval press gang, which, in early times, was used to force men into the King's service. He was taken on board the Salvadora, of Lord Cochrane's fleet, and served as cabin boy during a protracted cruise on the coast of Spain.

He was transferred from that vessel to one of the ships composing the fleet of the famous Lord Nelson, and fought under him at the noted battle of Trafalgar, being one of those to whom the heroic words, "England expects this day that every man will do his duty," were directed.

Subsequently, while the fleet lay at Plymouth, Brother Falconbridge saw the great Napoleon, as a prisoner of war, when about to be conveyed to St. Helena, pacing the deck of the Bellerophon.

Returning to England, Brother Falconbridge joined the 43rd Regiment of Infantry, where, in the same regiment, he found his father, from whom he had been separated many years—a very romantic circumstance.

He embraced the gospel and came to this country about twenty years ago, and has always faithfully adhered to the faith he espoused. Like English sailors generally, he was of a lively, jolly disposition, and had a heart flowing over with kindly sympathies.

The funeral services will be conducted at the 13th Ward Assembly Rooms at 11 a. m. on Sunday. All friends generally, and old English tars especially, are invited to attend.

A LAMENTABLE OCCURRENCE.

DORA DURANT DIES FROM THE EFFECTS OF AN ACCIDENT.

Last Sunday night Dora Durant, eleven years of age, died at Rush Valley, Tooele County, under peculiar circumstances. On the 19th of September last she was standing in the doorway of a house which had been vacated by its tenants. While in that position there was a blind flash and smoke, accompanied by a terrific explosion. The unfortunate girl's clothing was set on fire. She retained her presence of mind, however, and managed to reach a spring near by, into which she plunged, and in that way extinguished the flames in which she was enveloped. This brave and self-possessed action was not done in time to save her from being fearfully burned nearly all over her body, but especially in the right side. She lingered in great suffering from the time of the accident until Sunday evening when she finally succumbed to her injuries.

The quantity of gunpowder that exploded is said to have been about thirty pounds, and how it came to explode is a mystery. It is stated that some children had been playing in the building immediately preceding the occurrence, and it is supposed they had been using matches.

The parents of the girl, William Durant and wife, brought the remains of their daughter to this city, and they were buried in the cemetery yesterday.

Dora was an extraordinary child. The family formerly lived in Mill Creek ward, and the girl, when about five months old, created something of a sensation in this city, by her extraordinary size for her age. Her size was so remarkable that hundreds visited her home, to see her. At the time of her death she had gained the ordinary proportions of a young woman, though but eleven years old.

Relics of Antiquity.—The Curator of the Museum sends us the following: "The Morgan County bones alluded to in your columns of yesterday, were some of them sent to the Museum by direction of Brother Little. If I remember correctly they were not left with me, but I named them at the time, as I identified them at first sight. If one tooth could be sent here it would be an acquisition, as we have the Fort Towne elephant, the Provo elephant, the Ogden elephant, the Washington Territory mammoth and the Oregon mammoth.

The elephant remains, as well as those of the horse, are of the highest importance to us, as they are evidences of the existence of other mammals here. By attention, it may be that we shall get the remains of those animals found with human remains. This would be very conclusive evidence of the contemporary existence of those creatures in these valleys with man. Although it is in Central America, or South America, that we may expect to find these relics in the chain of evidence as to the truth of the Book of Mormon statements, it is undeniable, we believe, that large mammals were in this region in great abundance. I am glad your paper has mentioned the Morgan County fossils. It may stir up inquiry. We have a fine collection of elephant remains in our museum. Your notice about 'ain' has brought inquiries here to 'see what the tin stone is like.'

Goose Creek Rem.—We are informed by a person who has just come from that place, that there are about 100 families in Goose Creek Valley, Cassia County, Idaho; that game is very abundant, he having killed thirteen head of deer himself; that the crops the past season, as a general thing, have been very good, and general peace and prosperity prevail.

The little child of Brother Tolman, who was so severely injured by the explosion of gunpowder in the stove, a short time ago, is recovering rapidly from the effects of the accident.

Y. L. M. I. A. Notice.—All officers of the Y. L. M. I. Association, of Salt Lake City, are requested to meet at Sister B. W. Smith's, Historian's Office, to-morrow, 12th inst. at 2 p. m.

MARY A. FREEZE.

Fatal Accident.—We learn from Brother Isaac W. Pierce that last Friday (a week ago to-day) about 12 o'clock, a three year old son of J. W. Jackson, of Glenwood, Sevier Co., fell into the belt of the machine shop and was so badly hurt that he died in a few hours. No blame can be attached to any one, as the little one went to follow his brother who was sent to the shop where the father was working.

Sad Fatality.—About 11 o'clock on November 3rd, Maggie Rebecca, daughter of George and Jane S. Coleman, of Escalante, Iron County, fell at that place, from a wagon, loaded with apples and being driven by the father. The girl was run over by one of the hind wheels, crushing the life out of her. All was done that could be to restore vitality, but to no effect—the spirit had fled. There was a general turn out to the funeral.

We learn these details from Brother E. M. Greene.

Home Again.—We were greatly pleased to receive a call to-day from Elder Lyman R. Martineau, who presided over the company of immigrants that arrived to-day. He left Utah on the 10th of May, 1885, for England, and has there been away about two years and a half. He labored in the ministry, preaching the gospel in the Liverpool Conference during the first half of his mission, and occasionally worked in the business department of the Church office in that city. When Elder Cope was released to return, a year ago, he was placed in charge of the business department, which responsible position he held until he left for home. Being acquainted with his labors and ministry, we say, without hesitation, that they have been in every way highly commendable, and have resulted in much good. He has been the means, in his personal ministry, of bringing quite a number of people into the Church. He returns in good health and spirits, after performing an honorable mission.

HONEY.—Why it is the purest sweet in the world. It is, and has been, used in the healing art, to the satisfaction of thousands, who can say aught of white, beautiful honey, gathered from the choicest flowers, and the splendid flowers that adorn our fields and gardens. Here bound! What mother lives that is not acquainted with its virtues in banishing Coughs and Colds from the family; why it is so well known that every candy shop would lose its custom unless it supplied candy cups, a Honey, and the most prominent position in every show-case. Tar looks black and ladies raise their skirt for fear of getting their clothes soiled; yet it is the regular production of the beautiful pine tree that grows in our southern forests; and by the aid of chemistry it is found to contain medicinal qualities universally admitted by physicians of the highest standing. Its preserving qualities are well understood by every shipowner; and when consumption, disease and death threaten, they fumigate the polluted ship from stem to stern with tar, thus removing the demon of disease and death, insuring the health and life of every passenger on board. Honey, Horehound and Tar, combined together, added by science and the highest chemical skill, form a remedy admitted by the most experienced physicians as the best, most certain and harmless preparation ever made for the rapid and speedy cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Influenza and all Bronchial affections leading to Consumption, from which thousands are suffering. This valuable remedy is known as HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR. Prices 50 cents and $1. Great saving by purchasing large size. For the Coughs and Colds cure in one minute. d & w
