NAMPA, IDAHO Twelve Thousand Dollar Structure To Be Erected This Fall. PUTS SALT LAKE IN SHADE Some of the Reasons Why Utah Metropolis is Left Out in Cold When it Comes to a Station. Nampa, Idaho, is to have the finest depot on the Oregon Short Line system. It is said that the building will cost in the neighborhood of $12,000 when erected. Work on the structure, it is said, will be commenced this fall and Presidents Hughitt and Burt Did will be pushed until it is completed. In the face of this news, Salt Lake City can justly feel that it is being neglected. Both the Oregon Short Line and the Rio Grande Western depots in this the largest city in the intermountain region are not buildings to which the average cltizen points with pride and when the stranger comes to town and passes derogatory remarks regarding the railroad stations here, the Salt Laker has simply to grin and bear it First impressions are generally last-ing, and when the tourist arrives in Salt Lake, one of the first buildings week his eye rests upon is the barnlike wooden structure that does duty for a depot. The reason, according to a prominent railroad man this morning why Salt Lake does not have better de oots than its more fortunate neighbor: that taxation is higher and also that the union depot proposition is still in the pigeon holes of the desks of prominent railroad officials in Salt Lake, Denver and Omaha. "I know what I am talking about," he said, "Salt Lake today might have had a union depot but for the fact that there were strings to the proposition. Give the railroads a franchise the same as other big cities have done, without any of this fiftyyear clause in it and it would not be very many months before the trains of all roads in Utah would be running into a union depot in Salt Lake.' HIGHBALLS ON TAP.

How the Passengers on the O. S. L.

Struck it Rich this Morning. The Oregon Short Line has established a national reputation in the matter of serving lee cream and punch on some of its special excursion trains, but it remained for the Harriman road to have the genuine, Simon pure untamed highball on tap on the Pullman which came in from Butte this morning. Such is the wierd story which was brought to town by passengers on No. 8 from Montana today. They have to be be-lieved because there was no circumstantial evidence forthcoming, unless it might be stated that the faucet had run dry ere the train struck Davis The discovery was made by a gentleman in clerical attire who arose from his berth early in order to view the scenery. He was observed by Hi Dunn

South America by the establishment of a coastwise steamship service. "To do this to the best advantage he must have a southwestern line and not use a northern route, such as the Northern Pacific and Great Northern. He would be at a decided disadvantage trying to handle this traffic by way of Puget Sound ports, "Efforts have been made to associate the Chicago & Northwestern or Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad with Senator Clark's project. What basis there is for such a supposition is not known, but in Wall street it is thought Mr. Clark has certainly reached an understanding with one or more companies to use his road, when pleted, and he has no need to wory. He realizes, it is thought, that there is ample demand for the new oad and he is regarded as too shrewd a man to take up such an enterprise unless he sees his way out." SCOTT DAVIS ILL.

OFFICALS GO EAST.

Not Visit Salt Salt Lake. Presidents Marvin Hughit of the Chicago & Northwestern, and H. G. Burt of the Union Pacific did not visit Salt Lake yesterday afternoon as ex-pected, but went direct east from Ogden after a short stop. General Su-perintendent E. E. Calvin and Division Superintendent J. H.Young of the Short Line were at Ogden to meet the offi-cials. It is stated that the reason of the quick run East is the fact that there has been another meeting called in Chicago for the beginning of next

MILWAUKEE COMING WEST. Making Preparations for Extension of Line Into Montana.

Helana, Mont., Aug. 15 .- The Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad has been making preparations to extend its line into Montana, and now has survey and all necessary information as to traffic available. The lie runs from Evarts south through Wyoming and southeast-ern Montana, the survey being completed to a point on the Yellowstone river between Miles City and Billings. It is expected that construction will begin immediately. Helena, Butte and Great Falls each claim the western terminus of the road. It is though the road will ultimately be extended to the Pacific coast.

San Francisco, Aug. 15 .- It is reported that negotiations are in progress for he sale of a controlling interest in the Market street railway company to an eastern syndicate. The total par value company's stock is $18,617,000 the H. E. Huntington, president of the road, is now in New York and is said to be conferring with the capitalists who desire to purchase the property. The Baltimore capitalists who recently bought the San Francisco and San Mateo Electric Line, and secured op-tions on the Sutier Street and Sutro Electric car lines in this city are redeal. Should they succeed in getting conirol of the Market street system and also close the options on the other lines named they will have a virtual monopoly of the street car traffic of San Francisco.

San Pedro May Connect with the Hill-Morgan System.

The New York Commercial has the following to say regarding the San Pedro road:

"The reason why so great opposition has been aroused against Mr. Clark's project is that he is known to be backed by one or more prominent railroad companies, and the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific are exceedingly anxious to stave off a rival enterprist. which would greatly injure their Pacific

"The Southern and Central Pacific fought hard to prevent the Atchison from building into San Francisco, for meant a division of the business which formerly went exclusively to the Southern and Central Pacific.

Atchison has given assurances that it is not backing Mr. Clark's enerprise and suspicions now point toward the Hill and Morgan roads-the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Burlington-which would find a short route from Ogden to Los Angeles a valuable feeder to the big northern systems

'Mr. Hill recently expressed his opinion in regard to the importance of north and south roads. Mr. Clark's road would tap a very valuable mining and agricultural district in the United States, besides reaching the border of Mexico, from which country other extensive traffice could to drawn. Fur-thermore, Mr. Hill has in mind to handle a large business with Mexico and

A SOLDIER'S FIERY FANCY Imagined That He Was Extinguishing

a Blaze,

A crowd of about 200 persons had condderable fun in front of the Equitable o-op on First South street and Richards street yesterday afternoon. The amusement was occasioned by a soldier of the Spanish-American war. The young fellow had started out early in the day with the determination in mind to drink considerably more than his share of Salt Lake whiskey, but the undertaking proved too much for him, and besides making hom the object of hoots and jeers, came near landing him in the city bastile on the charge of petit larceny. He was walking the street as straight as his unsteady underpining would carry him, but when he reached the Co-op, paused, looked up, and suddenly selzed a roll of hose ying in front of the store and with a Il dashed upstairs dragging the hose with him.

Manager Langton, of the Equitable, saw him, and thinking he was a thief gave chase. He caught the supposed culprit just as he reached the head of the stairs and hauled him back, hose and all. By that time a ble hose and all. By that time a big crowd had collected and the police were sent for. Officer Sperry responded and took charge of the soldier.
