The electrical wiring of the administration building at the state prison is now well under way, and is being pushed on the interior as rapidly as possible.

Trustee D. C. Adams of the Agricultural college stated today that the new building has been completed and the roofing is being pushed on the main wing of the college buildings. The management has just got in three families of high blood stock.

Secy. Beatty of the state board of health, has had printed for distribution a large number of circulars relative to restriction and prevention of contagious diseases; also relative to quarantine and disinfection with special reference to anthrax by municipal authorities in such matters.

F. W. Ross of St. Anthony, is at the Manitou. He says the increase of the local population still keeps up, and is now about 1,400. The town is completing its electric light and power plant and waterworks, and has prepared for a city of 2,500—a limit that, it is believed, will be reached inside of three years.

J. D. Wood has returned from a trip through California, and says that the winter part of the state is even at this early day sadly in need of water. There is very little snow in the mountains and people are apprehensive of the coming summer, and an instructor turned up. But in St. Francis, Mr. Wood found it raining.

Arthur Provost, ex-chef of the Bond restaurant, says the allegation of the proprietor relative to the disappearance of eatables from the kitchen by the waiter of the nearest saloon is untrue, and promises to make things warm for Mrs. Bond if a retraction is not forthcoming. The restaurant has been declared "unfair" by the walking delegate.

Five deaths in two days from diphtheria in the vicinity of Wallburg. Secy. Beatty holds that as long as people imagine they know more than the doctors, there will be trouble.

Local bulletins are out for the second annual convention of the American Cattlegrowers' association, to be held in Denver March 4 and 5. The land leasing question will be the main topic and the expense of Washington is a legend attached to the announcement. A finely colored view of a bunch of Colorado Herefords in the range adorns the top of the bulletin.

Mrs. F. R. Elliott, drawing supervisor of the public schools, held a meeting this afternoon with the teachers of the seventh and eighth grades. The session took place at the city and county building, and an instructor turned up. But in St. Francis, Mr. Wood found it raining.

L. company of the Eighteenth infantry will not go to Arizona after all, as it has been found that so many men will be discharged before July that the command will be rejuvenated by that time, and it would not pay to go to the expense of the transportation south for so short a time. So the company will remain at Fort Douglas until the men are all discharged, and the new company organization will be sent to Arizona.

The Veteran Volunteer firemen will hold forth at their new home, 271 Canyon road, on the 22nd of this month. The affair will partake both of the nature of a celebration of Washington's birthday, and a house warming. The veterans will be prepared to entertain their friends throughout the day and in the evening a fine entertainment will be given, including refreshments. Invitations to the affair are being sent out by a committee composed of G.

M. Ottlinger, C. H. Banks, J. D. Hawkes and R. H. Hardy.

Westminster college, under its new name and new administration, is beginning to make a very gratifying showing. The institution is about to become the happy recipient of a big donation, and while the exact nature of the gift and the name of the large-hearted donor have not yet been given out by "recognized authority," it is understood that the gift is $50,000 and the donor is Mr. Pearson of Chicago. There are some stipulations connected with the gift, which it is believed will be settled shortly, and then the details can be officially given out.

IRRIGATION MEETING.

Subjects That Will be Discussed at Coming Convention.

The irrigation convention which is called for Feb. 26 in Assembly Hall has aroused so much interest among the irrigators of the state that it has been decided to hold a three days' session instead of one. The county commissioners throughout the state have been very prompt in the appointment of delegates, the six counties already heard from have appointed 24 delegates and a very large attendance is expected.

The railroads have decided upon a rate of half the regular fare from all points in the state. The Utah and State Engineer Doremus has prepared a draft of the program and topics to be discussed which is as follows:

- (1)—Existing Confusion—Its Cause and Remedy.
- (2)—The Larger and Smaller River Systems—The Causes Which They Afford for Confusion and Future Convention Compared.
- (3)—The Ideal Irrigation System—Its Subdivisions, Functions, Control and Attainments.
- (4)—Operating an Irrigation System—The Most Effective Organization for (a)—The Irrigable and Non-Irrigable Areas—Their Relation, How They Can be Most Profitably and Effectively Utilized in the Interests of the State and Irrigation.
- (5)—Government Aid in the Reclamation of Arid Land—As Related to Utah.
- (6)—Forest Reservations—Is Their Extension Desirable and for the Best Interests of Irrigation and of the State?
- (7)—State Legislation—What, If Any, is Necessary in Aid of Irrigation, and When?
- (8)—National Legislation—What, If Any, is Needed in the Interests of Irrigation?
- (9)—The Irrigator in State and National Legislation—Should His Power and Influence be Used in Shaping Legislation, and to What Extent and How?
- (10)—Organization of Irrigation Interests—Is it Necessary or Desirable, and What shall be the Nature and Function of the Organization?
- (11)—Such other subjects as the convention shall see fit to consider.

TRIED TO KISS HER.

H. E. Cantabery Faced Judge Diehl On Serious Charge.

H. E. Cantabery pleaded not guilty in Judge Diehl's court yesterday afternoon to the charge of battery upon the person of Mrs. Ada Feldman. The lady testified that the accused had been looking at her place and that he tried to kiss her. She said further that when she went to bed Cantabery forced his way into her room and tried to kiss her, but for some reason the county charge and said the only trouble there had was that the woman tried to take a letter away from him. Mrs. Feldman said she saw Cantabery in the morning. The woman's little 5-year-old son said he saw the defendant strike his mamma. The man was found guilty and Judge Diehl fined him $50.

SCHOOL BUT NO TEACHER.

Wyoming Man Talks Reminiscently Of The Notorious Butch Cassidy.

J. H. Nelson of Cumberland, Wyoming, is in town for a visit of a few days. He says that the U. P. Coal company has erected a very good school house in that coal mining town and that there are some hundreds of coal miners' children waiting and ready to go to school, but for some reason the county has failed to employ a teacher and the little ones are left without schooling. "I knew Butch Cassidy before he was ever arrested," continued Mr. Nelson, "and was a 'coveyncher' along with him when we were both young. He was a good fellow, but was very strong minded. To his friends he was always roughly 'square' and had not got started wrong might have made a good man. I remember at one time he saw a big fellow named a little boy, Butch shot at as long as he could and then he quietly asked the boy to leave the place alone. The big man, however, thought he could care for himself, and kept up his abuse of the youngster. The first thing he knew Butch floored him with a straight punch and then gave him the worst 'licking' he ever had in his life."

DAVENPORT ALIAS DELANEY.

This worthy is only one and not two men as published in a morning paper. He is now in the Colorado state reformatory, and it does not cost over 14 as he is a legend attached to the announcement. A finely colored view of a bunch of Colorado Herefords in the range adorns the top of the bulletin.

Mrs. F. R. Elliott, drawing supervisor of the public schools, held a meeting this afternoon with the teachers of the seventh and eighth grades. The session took place at the city and county building, and an instructor turned up. But in St. Francis, Mr. Wood found it raining.

REAPPOINTMENT OF GEORGE A. SMITH.

GEORGE A. SMITH.

George A. Smith, who has just been honored by a reappointment to the position of receiver of public moneys for the district of Utah, was today receiving the congratulations of his friends. He was first appointed to the office by President McKinley, on Jan. 12, 1898, and since that time he has applied himself with great care and diligence to the duties of his office, was here, that when Binger Herman, commissioner of the general land office, was here, he declared that Mr. Smith's record was not surpassed by that of any receiver in the country. And thus, chiefly on the merits of his work in the office, together with his energetic labors for the Republican party, he retained his position without an effort. Senator Kearns and Congressman Sutherland both assured him, before they went to Washington that if he wanted the position again they would see that he would have no difficulty in securing it. The fact that there was some delay in acting in the matter was due entirely to the pressure of presidential business and not to any opposition.

Mr. Smith is 32 years old and was born and raised in Utah. He has been an enthusiastic worker in the Republican party ever since the division on party lines in this state. He is a son of Apostle John Henry Smith, and for twelve years prior to his appointment to the position of receiver, was employed at the Z. C. M. I.

FINE INTERIOR DECORATIONS.

Those Put in Cunningham Residence Vie With Artistic Work in Kearns and McCune Mansions.

The recently remodeled diningroom in the First street residence of James A. Cunningham is one of the finest illustrations of interior decorations in the west, and a colored photo-lithograph of this room might well appear in the art journals. The combination of design, style and taste is in the highest degree artistic, and the effects in coloring, light and shade evidence not only intelligent discrimination in selections, but also the extent to which the art of interior decoration has been developed in American residences. And the fact that while in the Kearns and McCune mansions the interior work is being done by St. Louis and Chicago firms, the interior of Mr. Cunningham's residence is the work of Salt Lake talent, and critics say that the diningroom in particular by no means suffers in comparison.

The entire interior of Mr. Cunningham's residence has been handsomely remodeled at considerable expense until it is a model of the furnisher and decorator's art. But it is the diningroom that compels special admiration. The general style is composite decoration, with the ceiling in oil and fresco, with special suggestions in grays and pinks, and with the background of a blended sky. Summer swallows add life to the field of color and produce pleasing variation. There is quite a wide coving between ceiling and wall of a rich and genuine mosaic of a conventionalized and costly pattern particularly adapted for a diningroom. This includes birds, festoons of leaves and flowers—connected in running scroll work in harmonizing colors very pleasing to the eye, and an embodiment of graceful design.

The walk away of dark lake relieved with decorative festoons, and there is a heavy oaken moulding on the ceiling and ceiling studded with electric light fixtures. These produce a charming effect and show off the surrounding decorations. The woodwork is in finished oak and mahogany, with high wainscoting of parquetry pattern. The floor is of the same material, and the furniture is in the same style. The diningroom is a masterpiece of art and taste, and it is a model of the furnisher and decorator's art.

LOOKS LIKE KING WILL GO FREE.

Lynch Admits That Strange and Davenport "Were in" the Murderous Raid Made on the Sheep Ranch—Colonel Prowse's Dying Words Were That Lynch Fired Fatal Shot.

Ever since the attempted hold-up of the Sheep Ranch gambling house, there has been a great deal of speculation as to the identity of the pals of James Lynch. In John Mac's affidavit it is set forth that Strange was one, Davenport another, and that there was a fourth man whose name Mac could not recall.

A mistake has been made in the statement that Davenport and Delaney are the two men wanted and that they are now in Colorado. The fact is that Davenport is also Delaney, and is known by both names. He is now in the Colorado state reformatory, and is described by Lynch, by Mac and Strange as being much larger than any of the others. He left the crowd at Ogden and went west. The supposition is that he is now somewhere in California, and efforts will be made to bring him here.

Strange and Davenport were arrested at the same time and for the same offense in Colorado, and were given the same sentence, only Strange was sent to canyon City and Davenport or Delaney to Buena Vista.

Another important link in the chain of evidence that is being forged to fasten the responsibility of the crime on Strange and Davenport and liberate King, came to light yesterday afternoon when Attorney Wantless went out to the state prison to interview King and Lynch. The three talked the situation over at some length and influence was brought to bear upon Lynch to tell all he knows about the affair. Lynch declined to mention the names of all who were implicated in the attempted robbery and escape, but he did say that he was not sufficient proof that some of the men had "peached," and if the affidavit was brought out to him so that he could read it for himself.

There is a class of people who are injured by the use of coffee. Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called GRAIN-O, made of pure grains, that takes the place of coffee. The poet delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost over 14 as he is a legend attached to the announcement. A finely colored view of a bunch of Colorado Herefords in the range adorns the top of the bulletin.

GROWTH OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Interesting Union Meeting of Salt Lake Stake.

STATISTICAL REPORT, 1901.

New Concert Recitations—Stake Sunday School Conference in August—Nickel Fund Report.

Although the night was a very unpleasant one as a result of the afternoon storm, the union meeting of the Salt Lake Stake Sunday schools was exceptionally well attended last evening. Every school of the Stake except North Point were represented.

The Seventeenth ward did themselves proud with a representation of 34, the Fifteenth with 26, and the Twenty-seventh with 14.

The musical portion of the program was most creditably rendered by the Fifteenth ward choir, assisted by the congregation, Elder W. S. Burton conducting and Sister Eva Burton at the organ.

"Rock of my refuge" was the opening hymn, after which Supt. Henry Gardner of the Twenty-second ward offered the prayer.

"Nearer, my Savior, to Thee" was next sung.

Asst. Supt. W. C. Burton briefly reported the organization of a new school, the Twenty-seventh ward, effected Feb. 9, with Elder William T. Atkin as superintendent, and Elders Scott W. Anderson and Alfred E. H. Cardwell as assistants. Also reminded those present of the growing evil of profanity and smoking, which should be wholly repressed by efforts of the Sunday school.

Supt. Burrows called attention to Sunday, the 23rd, as having been designated a humane day and suggested appropriate talks on this subject in the schools throughout the Stake. He announced also that it had been decided to hold the Twenty-second ward union meetings and named the officers and teachers of the Second ward to lead in the recitation "O My Father," at the March meeting. This hymn and the recitation "Word of Wisdom" will be made prominent features in a Stake Sunday school conference to be held about the latter part of August.

SUMMARY OF ANNUAL REPORT.

For the information of the meeting the following summary was made from the annual statistical and financial report for 1901, and report of nickel fund:

Officers and teachers enrolled, 869; average attendance, 625; increase over 1900, 100; Pupils enrolled, 8,262; average attendance, 5,619; increase over 1900 enrollment, 314. Total enrollment, officers, teachers and pupils, 9,131, and the total attendance, 6,244. Five highest enrollments are:

Twenty-second ward, 693; Sixteenth ward, 591; Twenty-first, 566; Tenth, 547; and Eleventh, 501.

The most remarkable reports of cash collected by schools of the Stake comes from the Seventeenth ward and is $187.26. The Twenty-second collected $37.26, and the Tenth $216.41.

Thirty schools answering the question show $313.43 per cent of officers, teachers and pupils as observing the Word of Wisdom and throughout the Stake 953, per cent of officers and teachers pay their tithing.

The nickel fund report shows 20 schools exceeding their proportion while 13 fall below. Five of the former deserve special mention being Ninth ward, Seventh Cannon, North Point and Eighteenth, having exceeded their proportion by amounts ranging from 67 down to 38 per cent.

The auditors then retired for the usual department work.

In the superintendent's department Brother Burrows announced the reorganization of the Twenty-first and 25th wards, Feb. 2. Elders Geo. H. Wallace, Joseph A. Williams and Alex. Lynch being called to be held about the latter part of August.

Also called attention to the table of class totals in the list of these registers, requesting that it be used as designed. Urged prompt returns from the sale of Jubilee histories and also reminded superintendents of the Stake conference to be held about the latter part of August.

The first of a series of local or district conferences to be held during the summer was announced for the latter part of the month. The first of these will be held about the latter part of the month.

On reassembling a most beautiful song, "May Morning," was rendered by Sister Beatrice Crismon.

The Sixteenth ward was requested to furnish the music for the March meeting, and adjournment was taken for one month.

Benediction by Supt. William T. Atkin of the Twenty-seventh ward.

Something That Will Do You Good.

We know of no way in which we can be of more service to our readers than to tell them of something that will do you real good to them. For this reason we want to acquaint them with what we consider one of the very best remedies on the market for coughs, colds and that alarming complaint, croup. We refer to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it with such good results in our family so many times that it has become a household necessity. By its prompt use we haven't any doubt but that it has time and again prevented the most serious complications.

On reassembling a most beautiful song, "May Morning," was rendered by Sister Beatrice Crismon.

The Sixteenth ward was requested to furnish the music for the March meeting, and adjournment was taken for one month.

Benediction by Supt. William T. Atkin of the Twenty-seventh ward.
