AMERICAN.

ALBANY, N. Y., 7.—In the returns received to ten a.m. the Evening Journal claims Carr's election by 13,000. There is a strong possibility that Davenport and Russell are elected; the legislature will be purely republican in both branches.

BOSTON, 7.—Additional returns give the republicans 139 members of the legislature to 92 democrats and one independent, with nine districts to hear from. Robinson's total vote thus far is 159,855; Butler's 150,013; four towns to hear from. The total vote for lieutenant governor gives Ames 13,000 to 14,000 plurality.

Boston, 7.—General Butler has refused to be interviewed, and will make no statements concerning his defeat, which he accepted complacently, although he acknowledges it was unexpected.

Returns in the State are complete with the exception of one town. Robinson's total vote 160,161; Butler 150,074; Almy 1,553. Robinson over Butler 10,087.

Thomas M. Carnegie, of the Edgar Thompson and Pittsburg Bessemer Mills, in an interview, said they could not manufacture rails at that price, and as the orders on hand would not keep the mills running longer than the first of January, they would probably be compelled to shut down by the stopping of the mills at Hamstead and Braddock's. Nearly 5,000 men would thus be thrown out of employment, and the coke trade materially interfered with.

BALTIMORE, 7.—Returns from a number of counties are incomplete, but sufficient is known to insure the election of the entire democratic State ticket. The majority for McLain is estimated at 12,000. The republicans gain three senators. The democrats gained senators in Frederick and Washington counties; this, with five democrats and eight republican senators holding over, will make the senate stand 14 democrats to 11 republicans, with Calvert County yet to be heard from, but probably republican. The house of delegates will be democratic by probably 20 or more.

MASSACHUSETTS.

PITTSBURG, 7.—The Commercial Gazette this evening telegraphed to Gen. B. F. Butler for his views on the result in Massachusetts, and asking for his programme of the future. The following is the reply received:

To the editors of the Pittsburg Commercial Gazette:

Boston, Mass., 7, 9 a. m.—An answer to your question is easy as to the result in Massachusetts. Last year I had 134,000 votes. The largest vote ever polled was in the Garfield election in 1880—Garfield 165,000, Hancock 112,000; total 277,000. This year the vote is 318,000, of which I have 152,000. This enormous increase has been caused by the free use of money, fraud, and corruption of my opponents. More votes have been cast than will be in the next Presidential year. The eight or nine thousand plurality of my opponent was more than lost in the city of Boston. Massachusetts is, therefore, surely democratic if I make another State canvass with a further gain. When a man has increased the democratic vote from 112,000 to 152,000 in three years, is there any need of an answer to your question what my programme will be? I am pleased with the result; had rather have my vote than to be elected by 135,000. In that case it would, be said that though, Massachusetts is a republican State; she has a large reserve vote, which in a Presidential election will come out. Now we have had them all out and measured them, and in the next Presidential election, with a judicial platform and popular nomination, at least we should keep all the republican men and money at home to take care of Butler instead of sending both into Ohio and Indiana to corrupt those States. (Signed) BENJ. F. BUTLER.

MISSISSIPPI.

JACKSON, 7.—In the legislative and county elections there was no opposition to the regular democratic ticket except in a few counties where the republicans and democrats combined on a fusion ticket against the independent, Chalmers. ST. PAUL, 7.—Official returns from six counties, partial returns and estimates from about 50 counties, and five estimates based upon the election two years ago from 10 counties, give Hubbard 14,000 majority, and the rest of the republican ticket about 17,000.
