Option Cambling.

Adjourned.

NEW YORK, 29 .- The special Sente committee on "corners" and "futures" continued in session to-day. Isaac H. Reed said he could not see why the legislature should interfere in the legitimate business of dealers in options. Any legislation that would limit speculation in corners and futures would result in decrease of the volume of business in the Produce Exchange, unless the members is some way evaded the law. It would effect the pe-cuniary interests of the members. The witness could not see how a law could be framed which would not correct the existing abuses without affecting legitimate speculation.

Coas. Partridge, the next witness, showed that the sales in wheat showed that the sales in wheat alone at the Exchange from July, 1878, to April 20, 1882, for spot cash, amounted to $244,737,000, while the sales at options, puts and calls, futures and straddles, amounted to $1,154,267,000. He was strongly opposed to the latter way of doing business, as it was demoralizing, and in no husiness will so many financial wrecks be found as among the grain speculators. The system was contrary, not only to sound public policy, but to the best interests of the people. He thought there should the people. He thought there should be a law making it a penalty pun-ishable by a fine and imprisonment for any person to engage in the sale of products which they never see and handle. Adjourned.

Here began the system of oppose which has characterized reli which has characterized religion throughout all ages, from that time down to the present. Now this is not to be wondered at. If a man goes into a little village and has a little capital he wishes to invest, he is looked upon with jealousy and opposed upon all sides; and we find it so throughout all humanity, from the savage up and when Christ was made in this principle.

The principles of original Christianity were to love your enemies, return good for evil, and do good to all men. We claim to have received a new dispensation of this Gospel. a new dispensation of this Gospel. We claim that God has revealed these things, and organized the Church anew; that we preach the same principles, and administer the same ordinances as our Savior did. And how is it received by the world? How was Joseph Smith received? He was received precisely as Jesus was received. That Church which He stablished her Church which He established has ocen in the wilderness as it were for many generations, and while it has been these various sects have been organized, and the Gospel of Jesus Christ is no more popular to-day than it was in the days of eur Savior, and if any of the Apostles were to go disguised into any of the sectarian churches to-day and preach the same principles that they preached in ancient days they would be denounced imposters, and followers of Joseph Smith or Brigham Young Then why are we opposed to day: It is because these priests, ministers, etc., have rapital laid out themselves and they are afraid of losing
