SUNDAY SERVICES.

The congregation at the Tabernacle addressed by President Cannon.

Religious services were held in the Tabernacle, Salt Lake City, on Sunday, December 23, 1894, commencing at 10 a. m. Elder Angus M. Cannon, President of the Stake, presided.

The choir and congregation sang the hymn beginning with the first verse: "To the Lord, who created us, we praise thee, O God, who art our Father."

The opening prayer was offered by Elder John Henry Smith.

The choir sang the hymn "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me," and the choir sang the hymn "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me."

President George A. Cannon addressed the congregation. He questioned the fact of the day being the eighty-ninth anniversary of the birth of the Prophet Joseph Smith, and said that to the Latter-day Saints the day would not pass without awakening profound reflections and vivid emotions as they contemplated the work which the Prophet Joseph was the instrument in the hands of the Lord, in instituting the great kingdom of God on earth.

The speaker cited the vast importance of that work, and the exalted position in relation thereto which the Prophet Joseph occupied. He spoke of the testimony which the Latter-day Saints had received regarding the Gospel revelation and the divinity of the mission of the Prophet Joseph, and of the principles which the Latter-day Saints had received through the revelations of the Lord given in latter times. He closed with a powerful testimony regarding the establishment of the Kingdom of God on earth, and the fulfillment of the promises and prophecies made by the power and baptism of the Holy Spirit.

The choir sang the anthem, "Let the mountains shout for joy," after which the congregation arose and joined in singing the hymn "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me."

Resolution was pronounced by President John Smith.

Will Celebrate Jackson's Day. The Taborites of this city are preparing for a grand feast and celebration on January 5th, the anniversary of the birth of Jackson, the patron saint of Democracy. Preliminary arrangements have been made for the occasion, and Friday evening next another meeting will be held to complete the program.

Home Missionaries. The home missionaries of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion will convene in Hotel Hall, Salt Lake City, on Wednesday, Dec. 26, at 7:30 p. m. A full attendance of the brethren is requested. If any are unable to be present at the meeting, a full report in writing of labor for the month past is required from each.

A Rising Utah Musician. A "triple concert" (instrumental) was given on Thursday evening, Dec. 20, in the Price Memorial hall at Ann Arbor, Michigan, by the noted school of music of that famous university. The News is gratified to notice among the names of performers that of John J. McCallahan, of Payson, Utah, who rendered from memory Beethoven's "Etude Op. 10, No. 3."

Welter County Teachers. The Welter county institute convened Saturday, Dec. 22, Superintendent Maslin Hall presided. Prof. Stuart first favored the teachers with a very pleasing recitation.

Prof. Ames then opened the discussion on the second chapter in "Father's Talk on Teaching," which work the teachers are discussing at their regular meetings. The professor spoke briefly upon the selection of geography and geology and showed the dependence of one upon the other.

Prof. Bailey continued the discussion and pointed out the relation of mineralogy to geography.

Prof. Smith spoke upon paleontology and related to geography.

Prof. Thompson showed the relation of physics and chemistry to the sciences above mentioned.

Miss T. Peterson gave a very interesting class exercise in primary arithmetic work and illustrated the fundamental principles of arithmetic with diagrams and objects.

After a general discussion of the "Theory of Concentration," the meeting adjourned for one month.

Beck's Hot Springs Co. The Beck's Hot Springs Company have filed articles of incorporation, the object being to construct a health and pleasure resort, to which and hotels and sanitariums will be erected, the grounds beautiful and adjacent to the hot springs.

The capital stock is placed at $250,000, divided into 2,500 shares of the par value of $100 each. The incorporators are John Beck, president; J. K. Holmes, vice-president; Walter J. Beck, secretary; Frank Kunk, treasurer. These, with Elmer H. Berger, constitute the board of directors of the company.

The property of the company consists of Beck's Hot Springs, ninety acres of land and a half interest in the Hot Springs.

An Order as to Cattle. An order has been issued by Chief Justice Martin directing W. C. Berry, receiver to the care of the State Bank of Utah vs. Patrick Ryan and the Ryan & Ryan Cattle Company, to sell about 2,500 of the defendant's cattle to J. H. Hickman for $7 per head.

Mr. Hickman furnished a bond for $5,000, to guarantee the carrying out of his contract. There were other bidders for the cattle, but Mr. Hickman's bid was the highest.

Wants to See His Child. Martin H. Kern applied to Judge Morris for an order requiring Annie Kern, his wife, to permit him to see their child during the pendency of her divorce suit against him. The court granted the order on condition that the defendant must first pay the attorney due fee under a former order of court.

THE BANKERS' CONVENTION. "So Better Place for Holding It Than Salt Lake," Says the Deseret News.

The bankers and business men of Salt Lake have issued a call for a convention of the bankers of the Pacific and Trans-Missouri states and territories, to be held in that city on or about January 15.

There should be a prompt and cordial response to the invitation on the part of all the states and territories interested, and particularly from this city and state.

The purpose of the convention is to consider the currency situation and to give expression to the views of Western bankers and business men as to legislation now pending in Congress, and the proper course to be pursued in resulting from the action of the financial industrial and commercial world, and which are paralyzing the productive energies and commercial activity of this vast and growing region. Certain no class of men are more interested in the restoration of a sound monetary system than the bankers and business men, for without industrial and commercial prosperity their earnings and profits are reduced to the minimum. When production is depressed from any cause, all other forms of business necessarily suffer.

The volume of business transacted by the banks of the Trans-Missouri states and territories entitles them to to a respectful hearing. A summary of each exchange for six months past will give some adequate basis of their financial importance. From June 1 to November, 1894, the exchanges of value between the Pacific coast cities ranged from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000 monthly. The exchanges of fourteen Trans-Missouri cities (including, however, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Des Moines) ranged from $12,000,000 to $25,000,000 monthly for the same period. In this latter group Denver is included. The average bank exchanges, therefore, of the cities from the Missouri river to the Pacific coast may be set at round numbers at from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 monthly. Men who transact this amount of business in a new and growing region, full of resources and energy and industry and enterprise, are certainly entitled to a respectful hearing at the hands of the Federal Congress.

No better point for the holding of such a convention than Salt Lake could have been suggested. It is centrally located. Its bankers are all progressive men. It possesses ample accommodations for entertaining a large convention, and its citizens are ready and anxious to present a most gratifying reception.

GRATEFUL SETTLERS. Resolutions Adopted by the People of San Juan and Grand Counties.

MONTICELLO, Utah, December 18, 1894. Salt Lake Deseret News.

Citizens of San Juan and Grand counties met in mass meeting to present resolutions of honor to the honorable Governor West and others. President Hammon, chairman, announced that A. F. Stevenson would read resolutions as follows:

Whereas, We the citizens of San Juan and Grand counties, having been trespassing upon the southern title lands, who have come upon us with their flocks and sheep and bands of ponies, destroying our wintergrazes, eating up our resources, forcing our lives in jeopardy by a threatened Indian war, and threatening to compel us to leave our hard-earned homes, and inasmuch as the honorable Gov. W. West, Governor of Utah Territory, having been quietly but earnestly appealed to by his citizens of said counties for relief, has so graciously responded:

Therefore be it resolved—First, That we the citizens of said counties by ourselves and our representatives, in mass meeting assembled, do hereby thank and acknowledge the services of Gov. W. West and Col. E. W. Taylor, our heartfelt thanks for their prompt and efficient aid.

Second—Be it further resolved, That we also offer our thanks to Col. Lawrence for his promptness in responding to our appeal, and to all others who have interested themselves in our behalf.

Third—Be it further resolved, That we tender our thanks to the general government and its different departments thereof for their promptness in coming to our assistance and the peaceable solution of our difficulty.

Fourth—Be it further resolved, That we ensure the person or persons, who ever they are, who have been the cause of the Indian trouble in our subject and of our present trouble, we also positively deny the statement that the Southern Ute have occupied this country for several years as a winter grazing range.

Fifth—Be it further resolved that the thanks of all citizens of Utah Territory be tendered to the Southern Ute for averting an Indian war, thus preserving the lives of the citizens of our fair Territory.

Sixth—Be it further resolved that we hereby assure our honor not to cause any action to be taken against our countrymen who are sojourning in the Indian reservation, and that we may secure titles to our homes, thus relieving us of the uncertainty of our remaining here.

Seventh—Be it further resolved that we cause a copy of these resolutions to be published in the Salt Lake Herald and Tribune and the Deseret News, pointing the resolutions drafted by A. F. Stevenson and J. M. Connelley, and appropriate speeches were made by Governor West, Lieutenant Colonel E. W. Lawrence, Colonel E. W. Taylor, David F. Day, the Indian agent of Uintah, President Hammon, of Hind City, Bishop Peterson, of Moab, J. M. Connelley, of Hot Springs, and others. The Monticello committee rendered the anthem, "O, My Father," Resolutions were served. President Hammon pronounced the benediction.

A Mormon Maori Village. From Deseret News.

The following clipping will be of interest to many of your readers, as it presents a true picture of our Maori village at Porirua, New Zealand.

Wi Neira is an influential chief and first counselor to the president of the branch.

The visiting ladies represented the Branch but found that the ladies of the branch were not needed by latter-day Saints, who understood to govern their lives by the Word of Wisdom.

BRIDGEMAN, Queensland, Australia, October 26, 1894.

A correspondent furnishes the following:—Mrs. Spencer, Medley and Mrs. Lind Henshaw, came on Saturday afternoon among the Maori at Porirua, and held a meeting at Mr. Wi Neira's home. Nearly all present were Maori, and strictly temperance people.

Mr. F. H. Hamilton being the only member of the Church of England, and also the only one who signed the pledge, leaving them to their own devices and to the Maori, they well deserve the name of "Latter-day Maori." Their knowledge of the scriptures is wonderful. They used to their children for prayers every morning at 6:30, and every evening at 8 o'clock. Their houses are splendidly clean. We did not hear of one case of intemperance although they do not condemn it. Mrs. Wi Neira is a handsome, clever woman, and the daughter
