

EVENING NEWS. Tuesday, August 7, 1918.

FRAGMENTS.
 There are two cases of scarlet fever on Sixth East Street.

The family of James P. Freeze were last night subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury in September.

There was nothing additional developed yesterday afternoon at the inquest over the remains of John P. Thacker, and the jury returned a verdict of suicide.

JOHN DOLAN is having a preliminary examination before Justice Eyer this afternoon on a charge of grand larceny. He is accused of having purloined the worth of watches.

A boy named Thomas McKendrick was before Commissioner Norrell today on a charge of stealing a packet of cards. There was nothing in the case, and he was discharged.

Persons in the city who furnish University students with board, or with board and room, or who have furnished or furnished rooms to rent, without board, to such students, are requested to report the same at once to Dr. Pratt, president of the University, 160 E. First East Street.

D. F. Fetter wishes to correct an error that appeared in the Utah Statesman, regarding the excursion from the south to Garfield. It was stated that the Tabernacle choir would assist at the concert. The words "members of the choir" were omitted, making a difference in the impression conveyed.

Yesterday the purchaser of a sugar-cured ham stepped into this office and exhibited a quantity of calico and paper which constituted the trimmings and trimmings of the aforesaid ham's hind leg. These embellishments that, like the ham, could not be eaten, were over a tenth of the weight of the entire carcass.

Shot and Killed.
 Last Saturday a colored porter was shot and killed on the westbound train soon after leaving Lawrence. He was chatting with the new boy in the smoking car, when, without provocation, a word being passed between them, a shot was fired, hitting the body. The murderer was delivered over to the authorities at the next station. No cause was assigned for the deed. The deceased was on his way to Portland, Oregon.

The August "Forum."
 We have received the Forum for August. This is one of the best magazines of the class published in America. It treats upon live topics, of immediate public interest, and its contributors rank high in the field of literature. The present number will have a stronger and wider local interest than usual, as it contains an article from the pen of Charles W. Penrose on the subject of "Church Rules in Utah." The publication can be purchased from the booksellers of this city.

Police Items.
 Today, in the Police Court, Sallie Davis was fined $10 for drunkenness and profanity.

Irvan Cook, for having been drunk, was assessed $10.

Thomas Tennant forfeited $10 on the accusations of drunkenness and profanity.

J. H. Wright and Charles Marlett were fined $5 each for fighting. Karl Baugard, for creating a disturbance, was assessed $15.

Louis Collins, the boy who stole three pairs of pants from Barton & Co., pleaded guilty to petit larceny and was fined $10. As his fine was not paid he will remain in custody 90 days.

The dishonest fellow will turn him from his dishonest practices.

Boy Thieves.
 Fred Tremayne, Thomas Headlin, Harvey Gilbert and Charles O'Connor are the names of four boys now in jail for larceny. Thomas Croft and two others should be there also, but thus far have eluded the police. The way the quartette who are in prison were captured was this: Last night they and the three who went to Hogney's ice cream parlor and ordered cream. They got it, and while the waiter was attending to other customers, made a dive for the cash drawer, where they secured between $5 and $8. The waiter turned in time to see three of the thieves go out by the door, but the remaining four were taken. Since their incarceration they have confessed to a list of thefts that would make them appear almost incorporeal. They were all committed in the daytime, the boys taking advantage of the salesmen being otherwise engaged, and making off with goods. Among the places they visited were Bill L. Price's, where they got away with some tobacco and cigars; Hannan's shoe store; Z. O. M. L., five pairs of pants; Solomon Bros., three pairs of shoes; E. K. Toom as a package of stockings; Barnes & Davis, two pairs of shoes; Teasdel's, three pairs of shoes; the Beehive store, six pairs of suspenders; and O'Brien's, the pair of shoes.

Notes From Woodruff.
 WOODRUFF, Aug. 6, 1918.

Politics are running high in this county and especially in this precinct. At a recent primary to choose delegates to the county convention, the vote stood 15 to 10. The "Liberals" succeeded in electing all but one representative. The People's Party sawed them (the Liberals) under at the county convention. Today will settle the matter at the polls. There is no doubt that the People's party will gain the election.

The farmers are busy harvesting their hay crops. A cold wave has struck this country, and it is feared "Jack Frost" will soon get in the work. The season has been abnormally and the summer short.

The soldiers from Fort Bridger camped at Evanston last night. They are on their way to Strawberry Valley, where they will be joined by detachments from Fort Douglas and Dugway.

The coal beds at Almy, Wyo., are being developed. No. 3 will resume operations at once. No. 4 new mine has a force of men employed. No. 6 has been very slack the last two months. Quite a number of men have left this camp to seek employment elsewhere.

Several railroad parties are working west of Almy and others east in the vicinity of Twine Creek, presently the Utah Midland forces.

The recent rains have helped the range materially and the ranch men rejoice exceedingly.

Blyth and Fargo are erecting a large store at Big Cotton (So. 2). This firm serves the cattle country and has a good thing for the ranch people when the day comes that the "truck system" comes as it is present. The store has all sorts of goods, and the men of the range and the stockmen are very glad to see it.

Money is very scarce with the stockmen. Cattle have been low in price for the last two years and to some extent the industry. The market appears to show signs of brightening and the cattlemen are more hopeful.

THE ELECTION.

Results of Yesterday's Trial of Strength at the Polls.

The general election for 1918 is over, and the people can now ponder upon the lessons taught and carefully consider the situation that is now presented. That the "Liberals" polled their full strength is beyond doubt, from the stupendous efforts they put forth to bring their voters out, and the fond hopes they had entertained of victory in this city. And that the People's Party did not vote its full strength is also well known, from the fact that it polled nearly 300 votes less than at the last city election, and 100 behind the vote of August, 1917. The following are the returns of yesterday's vote:

Total vote of City.	455	628	443	368	247	2602

It will be seen that the People's candidate for recorder ran behind his ticket 171 votes. Of this number 148 went to his opponent, Mr. Cannon's majority in the city being but 181. His loss in the first precinct was 148, in the second 31, third 20, fourth 35, and fifth 20.

In the city there were 10 votes cast for H. G. McMillan as "Clerk of the County Court," it being claimed by some that there is no such office. "County Clerk" is a title on this theory C. O. Whittemore went to the judges of election in the second precinct last evening and entered a protest.

Against the counting of the votes for John C. Croft, People's candidate, I. M. Waddell, in behalf of Mr. Croft, maintained that the judges of election had nothing to do with the question raised; they were ministerial officers, to count the votes cast and ascertain the result of the election. As to passing upon the question as to whether or not the words on the ticket should have been "clerk of the county court," they had no judicial power to determine. He urged that the law of 1899 had made the title "county clerk," "clerk of the county court," "probate clerk," and "clerk of the probate court," synonymous. Mr. Whittemore's protest was unheeded by the judges, and let to the courts to adjudicate, and the count proceeded with the results given.

The total of votes cast for the People's candidates shows that there was quite a number of that party who did not come out to the polls. In August, 1917, the People in the first precinct cast 304 to 323 in February, 1918, and 281 yesterday; second precinct, in August, 1917, 421, to 449 in February, 1918, and 425 yesterday; third precinct, in August, 1917, 393, to 391 in February, 1918, and 393 yesterday; fourth precinct, in August, 1917, 279, to 304 in February, 1918, and 279 yesterday; fifth precinct, in August, 1917, to 290 in February, 1918, and 214 yesterday. In the fifth precinct George D. Fryer was defeated for justice of the peace, when, with proper management he could have been elected. Of course there were many out of town, which accounts for the falling off from the February figures. In the second precinct one People's Party man traveled forty-five miles by team to vote, and he wasn't a candidate. In the city the county majority for the People's candidates will be considerably augmented, possibly to the amount of the entire "Liberal" vote. At Murray, heretofore a "Liberal" precinct, the People gained the day by a vote of 115 to 70. At Hingham, out of a total registration more than of 420, the "Liberals" cast 146 votes and the People 3. Alta had 41 votes for the "Liberal" ticket to 1 for the People. Sandy cast—People 64; "Liberal," 2. These figures give the People over 300 majority, the Recorder being 349. All of the remaining precincts in the county are largely for the People, and in 1917 gave for that ticket 600 majority. The vote will probably be fairly as large this year, and if so the People will win by nearly 800.

IN WEBER COUNTY
 The People were also well ahead. In Ogden City their majority was $30, while in the county at large it will be increased considerably.

Returns are not available today, owing to a lack of telegraphic communication. The vote at Park City ranged from 600 to 800 for the "Liberals." Joseph M. Cohen, the "Liberal" candidate for county recorder, is probably defeated by John Gordon, and if the People exhibit their full strength in the remainder of the county, E. M. Allison and B. M. Allison, Jr., for sheriff and prosecuting attorney may be elected.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING.

The monthly meeting of Sunday School officers and teachers of the Salt Lake Stake was held Monday evening, August 6.

The meeting was well attended and representatives were present from most of the city and several of the country wards. Excellent singing was supplied by the Fifteenth Ward Sunday School choir, led by Brother F. W. Morgan, and congregational singing, led by Brother Thom McIlvaine.

Brother R. C. Badger, of the Fifteenth Ward school, gave an outline of the manner of conducting the theological class of which he was teacher. His method was to select a strong, brief course of reading of passages bearing upon the first principles of the Gospel, after which an opportunity was offered the student to ask questions and discuss the different points presented in the lesson. He also bore their testimony or make other remarks, as they desired.

A very practical illustration of the manner of instructing the primary class of the Fifteenth Ward Sabbath school was given by the teacher, Sister Marjorie Lufkin. Having some ten or twelve of her class present, they came forward, and she proceeded to go through an exercise in the same manner as when in Sabbath school. "Christ's sermon on the Mount" was chosen for the lesson on the occasion. After questioning them in regard to the lesson, where it was to be found in the Bible, the class repeated in concert a part of the Sermon on the Mount. They were then catechized to test if they understood the lesson and sentences they had learned to repeat.

The answers being given in different forms by the several members of the class showed that they had not merely committed to memory the words of a pattern, but were enabled to formulate answers according to the conception they had of the subject. The exercise was concluded by the teacher relating to the class a simple story, giving an example of the folly of telling falsehoods, and by the class again repeating in concert the text of the lesson.

A recitation, entitled "Daisy's Faith," by Daisy Morgan, a member of the primary class of the Fifteenth Ward school, was a treat that could scarcely be expected from a child so young, and was rendered in a most pleasing manner.

Ella Morgan, of the same class, sang in sweetest tones, "Sing, Little Blue-bird."

Brother J. D. H. McMillan, in a short address, pointed out the differences in character manifested by mankind. While some were zealous for a time in certain pursuits, and soon became weary, others plodded on steadily, and they succeeded in their work.

Brother F. Y. Taylor being called upon, remarked that he knew of young men who, through associating with the people not of us, had partaken of their evil, left the Sabbath school and been threatened with the loss of God's blessing. Parents should see that their children are properly taught, and that they are subjected to influences that will lead them astray. The children should be taught that labor is honest and respectable, and where they exhibit ability in a certain direction they should be encouraged in that pursuit.

The announcement was given that the Sixteenth Ward Sunday school would furnish a part of the exercises for the next monthly meeting, and the pieces entitled "Let the Holy Spirit Guide" and "The Word" would be sung by the congregation.

THE MEXICAN SETTLEMENTS.

An Interesting Correspondence, Embodying Useful Suggestions to Incoming Settlers.

DIAZ COLONY, near La Anenacion, Chihuahua, Mexico, July 24th, 1918.

Dear Sir:—As many of your readers and our friends in Utah, desire to visit this country, and in some cases to colonize and make homes, we would recommend to the former, when they can, to come by rail to Deming, New Mexico, which is about 100 miles from the coast, and where teams can be met or hired to come here. William C. Spence of your city, is the best to consult with as to route and to give information of the coast.

In coming into Mexico you need not give heed to half you may hear from persons outside, but go direct to the custom house and receive your papers, either at La Anenacion or Paso del Norte. When your baggage is examined and proper papers are given, you can come into this colony, or wherever you may have occasion to travel. Those who desire to come as colonists and make homes ought to bring with them, besides their money, good harness and wagons. Also plows and all kinds of implements, and mechanical tools, which may be admitted free of duty under our colony contract, providing the intending colonists will from one to two months previous to the date of their reaching this country, furnish with the number of family, number and kind of animals, wagons, tools, etc. In reply we say that climate and soil are good; water is not so abundant as in the north, but we have compensation in the wheat. Grain is worth 13 cents per pound, and grass for stock much.

As to location and society, that is much as people choose to make it for themselves in the free land, by his own ability and strictly conforming to the requirements of the law. Persons may become colonists, and they may buy land, or make homes where they may best suit them. We think it preferable for all who have any doubts, to come and examine for themselves, and those who come and reside here, and who are "Mormons," or who profess to represent us, have for their help and country as they find them.

Where the Tourists Come From.

Some pains have been taken of late years by statisticians and parties interested to ascertain approximately how many tourists annually enter Switzerland. While the figures are found to vary somewhat from year to year, owing to the uncertainty of the political uncertainties of the existence of temporary attractions, such as the French exposition, the Victoria jubilee, etc., elsewhere, yet it is pretty accurately determined that the yearly number of pilgrims who come to Switzerland is about a quarter of a million. Of this enormous army of tourists, a large ratio come from Germany, the United States, France and Italy. England and the United States are the two countries proportionately in their order as given.

About thirteen in every hundred are from the United States, which considering the long journey across the Atlantic, is a large ratio as compared with the ten in every hundred sent by the railway companies to the Swiss percentage of American tourist travel in Switzerland has grown of late years as evidenced by the fact that in 1911, the United States was tenth on the list of countries represented in 1871 it was in 1881 the fourth, and now, as above stated, the third, and a close second; Germany and England are the only competitors in excess. It is also of interest to know that in every thousand summer tourists who pass through Switzerland, far off Australia is represented by ten, Africa by eight and Asia by five. But John Bull is largely in the majority everywhere. On the quays at Zurich, Lucerne or Geneva, along the dizzy footpaths of the Jungfrau or the Matterhorn, on the steamer docks at Vevey or Thun, the railway porter will find everywhere he jostles you at very turn, and challenges your mute admiration by the variety of his dress, with good broad knickerbockers, and then crows red in the face with rage that they don't understand him.

No, I won't. I'm a silent partner in the firm of Painter & Glazier, dealers in window glass, etc.
