EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is reported that a considerable deposit of specular iron ore has lately been discovered near Acworth, Georgia. It is said that scientific men pronounce it to be of high grade, free from phosphorus and sulphur, and strongly magnetic, while the bed is well located for treatment of the ore on the premises, as well as con venient for shipment to market.

"Bible Questions and Answers for Children" is the title of a comprehensive little book, by Sister E. R. Snow Smith, just published at the Juvenile Instructor office. It takes in the leading events in Bible history, and conveys a vast fund of information from the Old and New Testaments. It will be found very useful to teachers in conveying instruction to classes.

An instance of the fluctuation of one branch of the fron trade is worth recording. In 18:5 some costly plant places therein, near the river Tees, England. A reverse of fortune threw them on the market and at a forced wale they realized only $105,000. They were then worked profitably, were greatly extended, and were valued six years years ago at $600,000. They have now stood idle for some years, and It is now probable that they may be broken up and the metal sold for

A most unflattering view of New York is taken editorially by the Philadelphia Times, which avers that even New Yorkers "are begin ning to recognize that Manhattan Island is the pocrest apology for s great city to be seen in the civilized world." From the same source it is learned that there is not "among the races of men a more squalid.

Indiana has a very sensible provision in the new code which is about to come into practice in that State. It is that any railroad watchman or conductor, while on duty on a running train, may arrest any person engaged in violating the law and detain him until a legal warrant can be obtained. After notice of an intention to arrest him, all necessary force may be used if he attempts to escape. The practical effect of such a law will be to in-sure the same protection to person and property on a raffway train en route as would be enjoyed in a town or city. The States and Territories traversed by the overland roads, where trains often run for days through virtual deserts, should enact laws of the same important

The Sugg. burner is a recent invention, and its use in London has been successful, is worth its weight in gold. though it is us yet not used except on that single street, where it comer in direct competition with the Brush electric light, Having heard very THE f llowing item is "going the savorably of the lamp, Mr. Socrater Newman, of the St. Louis Gas Company, sent the inventor an order, in answer to which the lamps were received. They are the first ever brought to Americs, and results given by trial were very satisfactory. The lamps are of two sizes, 150 and 100 candle power, the former being about twice the dimensions of an ordinary street lamp. Each contains four turners arranged in a square at a distance of about three inches, one from the others. The light is very brilliant, and Mr. Newman thinks BY TELEGRAPH that with them gas can more than hold its own against electricity.

PARAGRAPHS like the following can be met with very frequently in eastern pappers: "Mrs. Carfield and Mrs. Hayes have done more to dignify woman-hood than all the woman's right-women in the country."

We have not a work to say against either of these eminent ladies, whose example has been excellent, and against whom no word of reproach, we believe, can be truthfully | 'rv. uttered. Their prominent position before the country has made them marks of observation and their modesty, urbanity and wifely devotion are worthy to be extolled and imitated. Mrs. Garfield in particu lar, has shown throughout her hosband's sufferings that patience, faith, hope, fidelity and sympathy, which are the true indications of a wifely spirit. For this she deserves her meed of praise, and hone will grudge
