

GOV. JOHNSON AND NOMINATION

Would Accept it for Presidency
But Is Making No Personal Campaign.

NOT AFTER THE DELEGATES.

If Democratic Party Feels That He Is Most Available Man, Would Gladly Make Fight.

Chicago, April 8.—Gov. Johnson of Minnesota, who is on his way to the battlefield of Shiloh, Tenn., where a monument is to be dedicated to the Minnesota soldiers killed in the battle, passed through the city today. He discussed the presidential question freely, saying:

"I am a candidate for the presidency in the sense that if I gain the nomination I shall accept it, and make every effort to be elected. I am not making any personal campaign and don't expect to seek instructed delegates. I consider the ambition to be president one of the most laudable aspirations which any man can entertain."

"Any insinuation or assertion," said Gov. Johnson, "that my candidacy is being advanced by James J. Hill and his interests is absolutely false. I have fought him several times and have never received a word of encouragement from him or any similar source."

Gov. Johnson said that he did not care to discuss W. J. Bryan and any differences in policy between himself and Mr. Bryan.

"I have the high regard for Mr. Bryan as a man," said Gov. Johnson, "and I admire his ability and his honesty. We are friends, so far as I know. My position is just this: 'If the members of the Democratic party feel that I would stand more chance of election than would Mr. Bryan or any other man, I will be glad to make the campaign.'

"If I am considered the most available man, there will be no lack of appreciation on my part of the honor conferred on me. It all depends, in my opinion, on the platform and a vigorous campaign. As I view it, the Democratic party has at least an even chance to win this year."

A TWENTY YEAR SENTENCE.

"I have just completed a twenty year health sentence, imposed by Backen's Arnica Salve, which cured me of blood, liver, piles, just twenty years ago."

N. Y. LIFE INS. CO.

Alexander E. Orr, for Many Years a Director, Retires.

New York, April 8.—Alexander E. Orr, who for many years was a director and for a time president of the New York Life Insurance company, retired as a director of the company at the annual meeting today. Mr. Orr gave his advanced age and the state of his health as the reasons for the withdrawal. The resignation of Clarence H. Mackay as a director also was received at the meeting. William H. Lums, of this city and Royland G. Hazard of Peabody, R. I., were elected to fill the vacancies on the board caused by these resignations. There were no so-called independent nominations this year.

RHEUMATISM.

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp weather or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Rubbing Remedy is all that is needed, and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it cures the pain and soreness. Price, 25 cents; large size, 50 cents. Sold by all druggists.

HARRIMAN WILL FURNISH FUNDS FOR THE ERIE.

New York, April 8.—After an offer by Edward H. Harriman to furnish the funds to meet the obligations of the Erie railroad capital by the purchase of a new large issue of notes, J. P. Morgan & Co. announced late today that the holders of the Erie notes, amounting to $5,500,000, which matured today, would either be paid in cash for their notes or given the option of taking a new three-year 6 per cent note and 5 per cent of the new notes in cash. The offer of Mr. Harriman was accepted by the board of directors of the railroad today. What proportion of the maturing notes will be paid in cash has not been made public.

Mr. Harriman's proposal was set forth in the following communication addressed to the Erie directors:

"For the purpose of enabling your company to pay its $5,500,000, notes maturing today, I offer to purchase $5,500,000 of new 6 per cent collateral trust gold notes, payable April 8, 1911, authorized by your board, at the price of 95 cents on the dollar, such price to be paid by men when and as but only when and as the same shall be required for and be applied to the payment of such $5,500,000 notes maturing today, and in consideration of the receipt of the new 6 per cent collateral trust gold notes, secured as heretofore proposed, the maturing and indelible to be substantially as considered and approved by your council.

"Upon your acceptance of these offers, you are to cause announcement to be made to the holders of your said notes maturing today, that they may receive payment thereof at par in cash; or until and including Wednesday, April 15, at their option, they will have the privilege of receiving for their present notes at par, new 6 per cent collateral trust notes at par, and also cash to the amount of 5 per cent of the new notes, less the interest accrued thereon."

"You may cause such payments and deliveries to them to be out of the cash to be provided out of the new notes receivable by me under this offer and its acceptance."

The announcement of J. P. Morgan & Co. follows:

"Referring to the above correspondence, we are now prepared to pay to any noteholder presenting notes, or our receipts for notes already deposited, par for the said notes or at the option of the holder, until and including April 15, 1908, to deliver a new three-year 6 per cent notes and 5 per cent in cash less accrued interest on the notes."

"Pending their preparation of the new notes, temporary certificates will be issued."

ARMOR BELT.

Navy Department Receives Supplemental Report from Admiral Evans.

Washington, April 8.—A supplemental report, dated Magdalena Bay, March 17, a portion of which touches the question of the location of the armor belt for battleships, has been received by the navy department from Admiral Evans. The department today gave out the following brief excerpt from the report:

"Even with smooth seas and practically no wind, the swell at times caused much rolling and pitching as to expose the lower portion of the armor belt at heavy load; hence, the limit of armor should not be raised."

SOUTHERN PACIFIC ELECTION.

Louisville, Ky., April 8.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Pacific railway was held here today at the office of the company. Judge Alexander Humphrey, of this city and Royland G. Hazard of Peabody, R. I., were elected to fill the vacancies on the board caused by these resignations. There were no so-called independent nominations this year.

OCEAN MAIL SUBSIDY BILL.

House Committee on Post Roads Virtually Tables It.

Washington, April 8.—By a vote of 8 to 7, the house committee on post-roads and post roads today virtually tabled the ocean mail subsidy bill.

The bill, as introduced in the house, raised second class mail vessels—carrying United States mails to South America, the Philippines, Japan, China and Australia—to the schedule of pay for first class vessels, an increase of from $2 to $4 per mile. The bill passed by a vote of 10 to 8. Under the rules of the house, the bill would be brought to a vote on the floor. The committee will take no further action on either bill.

S.S.S. THE BLOOD

Bad blood is responsible for most of the ailments of mankind. When from any cause this vital fluid becomes infected with impurities, humors or poisons, disease in some form is sure to follow. Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Boils, Pimples, etc., while they show on the skin, have an underlying cause which is far deeper—an impure, humor-infected blood supply, and until this is corrected, and the blood purified, the distressing itching and burning symptoms will remain. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Blood Poison and all other blood disorders, are the result of a vitiated, polluted circulation, and will continue to grow worse unless the poison is removed from the blood. In all blood and skin diseases S. S. S. has proved itself a perfect remedy. It goes down into the circulation and removes all waste matter, humors or poisons, and makes the blood pure and health-sustaining. Nothing reaches inherited taints and old chronic troubles like S. S. S.; it cures because it purifies the blood and restores lost properties to the impoverished circulation. Not only is S. S. S. a blood purifier of the highest order, but a tonic and appetizer without an equal. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

GOV. HUGHES DISAPPOINTED

Over Defeat of Bills Abolishing
Legal Protection of Race
Track Gambling.

MATTER IS NOT YET SETTLED

Lieut. Gov. Chandler by Casting Tie
Vote Makes It Possible to Bring It Up Again.

Albany, N. Y., April 8.—The vote of Senator Owen Cassidy of Schuyler, Republican, late today caused a tie vote of 25 to 25 and defeated, for the time at least, the two Agnew-Hart bills embodying the recommendation of Gov. Hughes that the legal protection be abolished which since 1895 has protected the public gambling at race tracks, whereas it is a felony elsewhere in the state.

Lieut. Gov. Chandler, in the chair, by casting his vote to break the tie upon a parliamentary motion, which but for him would have resulted in killing the bills, today they may yet pass the house for another vote at the discretion of the introducer, Senator Agnew, at any time when the order of business permits him to call up the matter. The importance of this bit of subsidiary procedure may prove to be very great, and if by any means the friends of the bills can gain a vote from the opposition and at the same time hold the 25 they have today, they may yet pass the bills and send them to the governor.

GOV. HUGHES DISAPPOINTED.

Gov. Hughes made no secret of his disappointment over the result of the day's struggle. He would not intimate what measures he would adopt in the premises, but that he regards the matter as far from settled he made plain by the letter he issued from the executive chamber tonight.

"It is impossible to believe that the people will permit the plain mandate of the constitution to be ignored. The contest has not ended. It has only begun. It will continue until the will of the people has been obeyed."

The vote came at the end of a day as dramatic and eventful as any that have been about the capital for a generation remember nothing like it. Until the vote of Senator Wilcox, the last on the list, was cast against the bills, the result was pretty nearly a draw, although for three days the opposition had expressed confidence that he would vote as he actually did.

PANCHER'S ABSENCE.

The most remarkable feature of the day involved the mysterious absence of Senator Pancher of Chautauque. He was known to intend to support the bills, and his vote was indispensable to their passage. Messengers searched for him all the morning without result, and the charge was freely made by the supporters of the bills that his absence was involuntary and would prove to be the result of a conspiracy. When a recess was taken at 2 o'clock he was still missing.

He appeared at last when the recess was half past with nothing to say for publication, but a story about his absence, told privately, was accepted by the supporters of the bill as the explanation of his absence. He had been called to the city by the death of his father, and as he put it, "I have I am in a hurry to vote for the bills, as I have all along intended to do."

CASSIDY HELD RESPONSIBLE.

Senator Cassidy, whom the supporters of the bills held responsible for their defeat, voted on two previous occasions in their favor, although the friends of the measures admit that he has never promised to support them on final passage.

Until 11 o'clock Senator Grattan of Albany was declared in favor of the bills. At that time, after conferring with leaders of the Albany union, Republican organization, he went to Senator Agnew and announced that he would vote against them.

Senator Knapp, of Clinton, until late in the morning was regarded as practically certain to vote for the bills, but about the same time he also announced that he would vote against them. There was some doubt all day as to the vote of Senator Foelker, of Kings, but when the vote came, he adhered to the position he had all along taken in their favor.

THE OPPOSITION.

Twenty-three Republicans and two Democrats voted for the bills. It Democrats and eight Republicans voting against them. The two Democrats in the affirmative were Fuller, of Kings, and Taylor, of Orange. Of the eight Republicans in the negative were Burr, of Suffolk, Cassidy, of Schuyler, Emerson, of Warren, Gilchrist, of Kings, Grattan, of Albany, Knapp, of Clinton, Weemple, of Schenectady, and Wilcox, of Cayuga.

After the defeat of the bills, Senator Agnew made the usual motion, "that the veto by which the bills were lost be reconsidered and that the motion lie upon the table."

Then, apparently, realizing that the defeat of the motion by the same vote by which had defeated his bills would kill the measures beyond rescue, Senator Agnew withdrew it. Instantly Senator Grady, who is a past master at parliamentary strategy, seized the apparent advantage and renewed the motion.

Senator Raines came quickly to the rescue of the bills, with a motion to table that of Senator Grady. Attention was then called by Senator Armstrong to the fact that in these circumstances the presiding officer would have the deciding vote. Senator Grady urgently appealed to the lieutenant-governor and to his colleagues for support of his motion, but the lieutenant-governor said, while the point at issue was a motion of the minority leader, the question really involved was the right of Senator Agnew to control the time at which the vote upon his own bill should be reconsidered. In support, he said, of the precedent of "senatorial courtesy" he would give Senator Agnew his vote.

SAVED THE BILLS.

This action saved the bills from utter destruction and made possible another contest. Under the rules of the senate, the presiding officer has the deciding vote in case of a tie upon all purely parliamentary questions. He has no vote upon the direct question of the passage of the bills, but for the reason he could not have broken the tie by which the bills were defeated.

There is an incidental question, technical but important, whether in the case of one of the bills the procedure has not left Senator Agnew with only three days in which to move reconsideration. The constitution provides that he must move reconsideration within three days. Whether Gov. Hughes will call an extra session, to begin, perhaps, immediately upon the adjournment of the regular session, to begin consideration of this and perhaps other matters, is the subject of speculation tonight. Not a syllable could be obtained from the executive chamber upon that aspect of the question.

HORSEMEN REJOICE.

New York, April 9.—There was great rejoicing in places where men interested in horse racing congregated in New York last night over the failure of the state senate to pass the bill abolishing betting at race tracks. In several well known resorts, patronized by horsemen, celebrations were held.

James R. Keene, one of the best known breeders and trainers in America, who practically never bets on the races, said:

"I am certainly much pleased, like everyone else interested in racing, that the bill has been defeated. It looks now as if we have a clear field for a brilliant racing season. I hope and believe that the Jockey club will be able to make so many imprudent bets to the sport that enemies of racing will, in the future, find much less to object to."

FAMOUS CONSPIRACY CASE.

The McLeod-Dallas One Will Go to the Jury Friday.

Butte, Mont., April 8.—A Helena special to the Miner says:

The McLeod-Dallas conspiracy case will go to the jury Friday. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the introduction of testimony was concluded and the jury excused until tomorrow, when arguments will be made. Judge Hunt limited each side to two hours and a half. Perhaps the most important evidence for the defense which was offered today was a letter written Oct. 18, 1906, by R. F. Scott, whose name Dallas is alleged to have forged, to Dallas. The letter was in reply to one from Dallas, calling Scott's attention to the fact that he had failed to sign certain field notes. Scott wrote he could not possibly come to Helena to sign them, and continued: "Cannot you sign my name to the affidavit of these field notes? Your help in this matter and at other times, if needed, would be greatly appreciated."

DIED FOR A THEORY.

St. Paul, Minn., April 8.—Knut Ohnstead died today, having literally starved himself to death in an attempt to fast 40 days in order to demonstrate his theory that the mind controls and influences the body. His fast lasted 31 days, according to those who lived in the same house with him.

Ohnstead had been getting weaker for a week and yesterday a fellow boarder notified the police, who found Ohnstead emaciated and weak. He refused to be treated by a physician or to eat.

HE GOT WHAT HE NEEDED.

"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says Mr. C. W. of Mill Creek, Ind. Ter. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got such relief and strength. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at Z. C. M. 1 Drug Dept. store, 50c. 112-114 South Main Street.

ROBT. M. LA FOLLETTE GETS DELEGATES AT LARGE

Milwaukee, April 8.—Delegates at large from Wisconsin, who will support Robert M. La Follette for the presidential nomination at the Republican National convention, were elected by a large majority over the state party by the supporters of William H. Taft. While the returns from the various districts are far from being complete, enough have been received to insure the election of La Follette delegates from nine of the districts. The districts that have not definitely reported are the Eighth and Tenth. In the Eighth one regular and one independent delegate, that one La Follette and one Taft delegate will be returned.

In the Tenth district the returns, so far as received, are favorable to the election of the Taft delegates. It is believed an official count will be necessary to determine the result in the Eighth district. Both factions claim the Tenth district. The Democratic candidates for delegates to the Democratic national convention who were selected in the convention of the party held in this city in February were elected without opposition. All are pledged to vote for William J. Bryan first, last and all the time.
