

MANAGER MARRIES INDIAN ACTRESS.

E. L. Barbour of Butte and Princess Chiniquilla Are the Principals.

CEREMONY OCCURRED AT OGDEN

The Indian Princess Appeared Recently at Utahna Park, and Will Now Tour With Her Husband.

A marriage between a theatrical manager and his leading lady is not a rare occurrence, but when the leading lady happens to be a full-blooded Indian, and the theatrical manager in charge of a vaudeville circuit, the marriage is sufficiently unusual to be out of the commonplace. Wednesday last in Ogden, as was announced in the "News," at the time, a full-blooded Indian maiden who appeared at Utahna park theater in Salt Lake three weeks ago, was married to E. L. Barbour, assistant manager of the Butte Grand Opera house, and of the Dick Sutton theatrical enterprises. The Associated Standard contains the following account of the wedding and the plans of the couple:

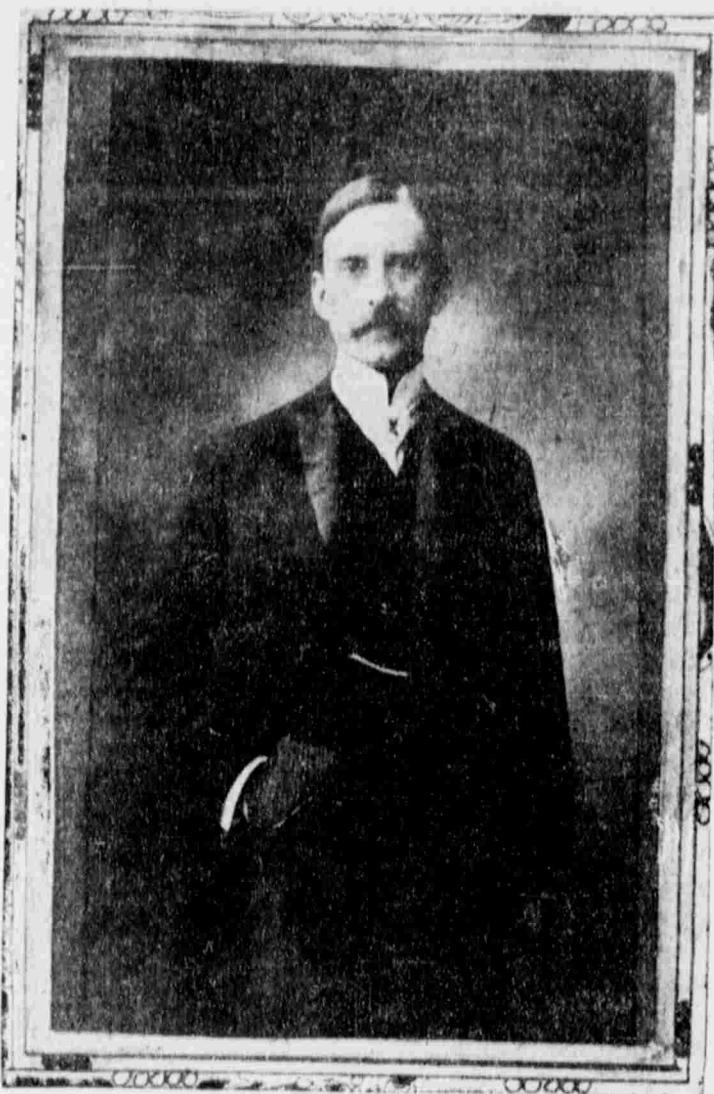

E. L. Barbour, assistant manager of the grand opera house in Butte and of the Dick Sutton theatrical enterprises, was married at noon yesterday at Ogden, Utah, to Princess Chiniquilla, a Cheyenne Indian girl, and the only Indian actress on the American stage. The announcement of the wedding came to Butte in the following telegram sent by Mr. Barbour to a friend:

"Ogden, Utah, April 28.—Forbidden by law to marry any more suitors, 'E. L. BARBOUR'."

Friends of Mr. Barbour and Princess Chiniquilla have known of their engagement for several years, but none of them were aware of the near approaching marriage until Mr. Barbour left for Ogden Tuesday, when he left a few of his friends into the secret. His bride is a full-blooded Cheyenne Indian and is the daughter of Lone Star, a once noted Cheyenne chief, whose name figures prominently in Indian and western history. It was Lone Star who created a sensation during the administration of President Garfield when, at the head of an Indian delegation, he visited Washington and stated his grievances in a public speech delivered from the steps of the Capitol. President Garfield, members of his cabinet and other eminent men being in his audience. After the death of Lone Star, which occurred some years ago, Princess Chiniquilla and her brother, both graduates of Indian schools, joined the company of "Buffalo Bill," but Chiniquilla did not long remain with Cody. Her dramatic talents being recognized by an eastern theatrical manager she was started in an Indian play called "Lull," a translation of "A Savage" in which she met with considerable success. She has been on the stage for ten years, but several years ago she entered upon a vaudeville career. Recently she played an engagement of three weeks at the Grand opera house in Butte, giving Indian songs and dances. Princess Chiniquilla, an actress, her wealth including a herd of cattle and 1,000 acres of land on the Cheyenne reservation. Her only living relative is the brother, Lone Star, who recently sailed for Paris with the Cody show.

Mr. Barbour has been in the profession for a number of years, as a monologist, one of the cleverest in the business. He is the son of a Methodist minister, his father, Rev. H. H. Barbour, being now a resident of Chicago. The family were for many generations prominent in Connecticut. Judge Barbour, grandfather of the actor, being especially well remembered in Hartford, where he occupied a position on the bench for many years.

After leaving Butte recently Princess Chiniquilla continued on the southern vaudeville circuit and was playing at Denver the past two weeks. She met Mr. Barbour at Ogden on her way to

MR. KENNETH C. KERR.
Well Known Newspaperman Goes to the Salt Lake Route as Traveling Passenger Agent.

Kenneth C. Kerr, has resigned as railroad editor of the Salt Lake Tribune to accept the position of traveling passenger agent for the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake, with headquarters in this city under District Freight and Passenger Agent J. L. Moore. J. H. Mauderfield, heretofore both freight and passenger agent, will on and after May 1 confine his work to looking after freight consignments to and from this territory. Mr. Kerr's territory will be Utah, Western Colorado, Idaho and portions of Wyoming and Montana.

Mr. Kerr has had a wide acquaintance among railroadmen during the ten years he has been in newspaper work here. Prior to that time he gained some experience as general agent on the Sanpete Valley road. He is a hustler of resource and undoubtedly will be heard from later in his new vocation. Both sides of the Kerr house are what might be called railroad families, and altogether the Salt Lake Route is to be congratulated upon securing his services.

Under the magic of "Ken's" dulcet tongue it is now in order for Salt Lake society to migrate in numerous and continuous handsome special trains to Terminal Island and other resorts of Southern California, for their usual vacations.

SENOR IRDOZAIN HERE.

Prominent Mexican Negotiating Sale Of Large Tract of Land.

J. B. Sprunt and W. J. Schofield, who have been in Mexico negotiating for a large tract of land, returned from that section last night, accompanied by Senor Enrique Erdozain, one of the owners of the tract sought to be acquired. The property is situated at Morelia, state of Michoacan, and consists of about 30,000 acres, on which are two sugar cane mills turning out 10 tons per day each, and 150 gallons of aquadiente, or white whiskey. The hacienda is said to be one of the most complete properties in the Mexican republic and has an abundance of water for power and other purposes.

This is Senor Erdozain's first trip over the line and naturally he is much delighted with American surroundings. The gentleman was born in the City of Mexico and for 18 years has been a resident of Morelia. He says Salt Lake is one of the most beautiful American towns he has visited.

COUNTRY EDITOR SEES 'SALT LAKE.'

Writes Breezy Letter of Interesting Sights Seen in the Metropolis.

THE "NEWS" GREAT HOE PRESS

How it Turns Out the Greatest Journal Of the West—Gives the "Knockers" a Dig.

It has not been recorded in the ancient annals that a flash of genius ever occurred under a bushel without setting fire to it. And as for the blushing rose that wastes its sweetness in the desert air, there are those who maintain that a homesteader is pretty near always ready to locate in range of the odor. Somewhere off in the oasis in the desert where they print the Fillmore "Progress-Review" somebody came to Salt Lake, and then "broke into print" with an account of his wanderings through the metropolis that is one of the best things of its kind since Bill Nye commented on the early Main street institution that advertised itself as a "drug store and undertaking parlor." The editor of the "Progress-Review" was recently seen in Salt Lake. The narrative of the visit follows:

Of all our periodical visits to that city for over three decades, this last was the most pleasant.

For, everywhere, in every place, we found our friends, both new and old, of whom we were with a smile and gave the glad hand of welcome. We went amongst the "Mormons," and saw evidences of thrift and unity. And all others whom we met appeared just as good and willful as our own countrymen. One president in particular, Ann seeing the oft repeated question: "What's the matter with Salt Lake?" our verdant nature posed around to find out, but in all our rambles, we met with nothing but hopefulness and good cheer. We mused in silence under the shadows of Moroni, and gazed in light from the "Bureau of Information."

We visited many mercantile institutions, also several banks; all appeared busy and intent upon the push.

Progress. One president in particular, seeing our Paul Pry notions, and the alfalfa haze upon our face, acted as informing escort to myself and friend, and thus we saw the most modern and ingenious contrivances for running a successful bank. We looked with wondrous admiration upon those beautiful machinery fittings, glistening upon the walls, and, remembering that a few years ago this same courteous gentleman "struck the town" with his grip and business energy, and in slight thought I said: "There is not much the matter with Salt Lake, good luck to such men!"

Of course I could not escape the morning belch of the Kearns cannon; its eruption, Lydia, flavor afforded amusement as it died away upon the liquid air. Did not hear of any casualties resulting, and if any were hurt, they did not come our way for sympathy. No snicker of calamity, and mock at the result of their own planting. They wisely threw the to-gas on the lepers' backs, and produced a couple of Ex's who by natural law, when warmed, returned to stinging.

We read the "Truth," to which we bow. We love the truth, it shall live forever. And so we trailed our umbrellas upon the asphaltum pavement, our drooping eyes fell upon a mighty thing below, something like a J. I. C. thrasher running out the golden grain, I nudged my wife and said, "Look Sarah." We both looked, and saw that great Hoe printing machine throwing out bushels of the greatest newspapers in the west, the Deseret News, and we agreed to take it and learn something, now we had seen how they were made. When wife rested, our friends took us to see the sights, various of course, and we fed upon the choicest of viands from land and sea, and we asked, "Is this a Yap work, and it seemed to do us good. We saw the shows, and put a penny in the slot.

We saw Eva Fay and Harry Josephs perform; they were very amusing, especially Harry. He seemed so bashful, being enclosed with a lady in a tent. We were marched through Plum Alley, and plucked our noses as we gazed upon his celestial glory. We marched through other parts with queenly names, but there was so much upstairs for us at home, and we have arrived safely, with happy memories of renewed friendships and courtesies shown us in Salt Lake City, and cheerfully resume our calling as a hay seed.

In all, our sluggish eye found little to matter with Salt Lake City," until later we hit our jeans and a faint jink responded, then we reluctantly said: "Sarah, they will be looking for us at home," and we have arrived safely, with happy memories of renewed friendships and courtesies shown us in Salt Lake City, and cheerfully resume our calling as a hay seed.

GOOD WOMAN GONE.

Mrs. McLachlan Dies at Taylorsville After Lingering Illness.

Mrs. Margaret Naismith McLachlan, wife of President William McLachlan of Pioneer stake, passed away yesterday at her home in Taylorsville, after a lingering illness. The deceased was born in Falkirk, Scotland, Dec. 25, 1849, and came to Utah in 1873. Eleven years ago she lost three sons from diphtheria, and was herself so afflicted that she never entirely regained her strength. She was a most estimable woman and a faithful church member. Last-day Saint. Two daughters and one son, the youngest 20 years of age, survive her.

A funeral will be held Monday, May 1, at 2 p. m. from the Taylorsville meeting house. Friends are invited.

PIONEER HISTORY.

Information Wanted Concerning Jedediah M. Grant's Hundred.

Salt Lake City, April 27, 1905.

To the Editor:

Having been, by the Daughters of the Utah Pioneers, commissioned captain of the Jedediah M. Grant hundred, I feel in duty bound to call for historical matter from those who are interested.

It is very important for the historical work we have in hand, that we shall be provided with a sketch of every man, woman and family of the J. M. Grant hundred. I am most anxious to secure some written information from every living pioneer of our hundred but it is also my hope that those of our company who have died will not be forgotten, for their descendants will be interested enough to prepare and send in a sketch of their fathers and mothers, giving date and place of their birth and death, something of their life, especially events and works concerning the help they have given to the pioneer cause in Utah and surrounding territories and states.

It would help us greatly to know in what ten each person traveled, something of their traveling outfit and the service each one performed in the organization of the company.

Address communications to the historian of the Jedediah M. Grant's hundred, Lydia Young Merrill, No. 226 North First West.

WARD ENTERTAINMENTS

Eighteenth Ward—A beautiful audience assembled in the Eighteenth ward chapel last evening in honor of Elder Elliott Clawson, and listened to the brief but in all ways charming program prepared by his friends. Mr. Weihe, accompanied by Mr. McClellan played as he always does, and rendered the divine "Traumerei" for a recall. Mr. Douglass sang the "Forest Song" in splendid fashion, and responded with "The Night has a Thousand Eyes." Mrs. Lonnie Savage Elder sang the "Auf Wiedersehen" with tender feeling and had to respond to a recall. Miss Cecilia Sharp played the difficult "Lucia" selection for left hand in grand fashion and was also recalled. The Utah Ladies' quartette had a big reception and did beautiful work. Miss Julia Jones sang "I Love Thee So" showing off her fine voice to good advantage. Miss Josie Morris gave two most amusing recitations and the Eighteenth ward male quartette sang a number.

Bishop O. F. Whitney then made a feeling address which met with a brief response from Elder Clawson. A purse slightly exceeding $100 was tendered him with the best wishes of his friends.

Fifth Ward—On Thursday and Friday nights, May 4 and 5, the Fifth ward will present the thrilling comedy-drama, "A Loyal Friend," in the ward amusement hall, with the following cast:

Royal Playford C. H. Carlquist
Gilbert Fanshaw L. H. Bywater
Raymond Alvarez H. T. Marcroft
O'Kelley Orson May
Nubbins Roscoe Nuttall
Monte E. C. Reeves
Arthur Fanshaw Ranie May
Mrs. Mily Merryman Kate Crowther
Sylvia Fanshaw Ethel Rich
Mrs. Griggins Emeline Jespersen

Between the acts Master Roscoe Nuttall and S. H. Reeves will render vocal selections, while preceding the drama the laughable farce, "This Paper for Sale," will be presented, the cast being as follows:

Billy Bangs Jay Bywater
Lake Peters Ed Rich
Harry Brown Bert Reeves
Susie Simpers Ada Cowan
Hezekiah Homerun Archibald Buchanan

Eleventh Ward—The popular drama, "Down in Dixie," will be presented in the Eleventh ward meetinghouse on Thursday and Friday nights. The play is for the benefit of the ward and will doubtless draw a large crowd.

Twenty-seventh Ward—The Imperial Minstrels, comprising well known local talent, will give an entertainment in the Twenty-seventh ward meetinghouse on Thursday and Friday nights. The boys have been doing some vigorous practice work, and their enjoyable evening is assured all who attend.

Sixth Ward—The Pioneer Stake Sunday School Dramatic association gave its farewell performance of a successful series in the Sixth ward assembly rooms last night. The house was crowded and the play, "A Celebrated Case," went with a smoothness which won the plaudits of all present.

ONE BOTTLE CURED ECZEMA

AFTER DOCTOR'S FAILURE.

Here is what a well known Salt Lake Railroad man has to say about

D. D. D. Prescription.

D. D. D. Co., Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen—

I purchased a bottle of your medicine, used it, and am entirely well. I have been afflicted with Eczema for the past year, and have tried every remedy, also nearly every doctor in this part of the country. I found no relief until I began using the D. D. D. Remedy. I certainly appreciate what it has done for me.

H. M. CUSHING.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 10, 1904.

Member Legislature, Salt Lake County, and traveling passenger agent of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad.

Now, is it not reasonable to suppose that if D. D. D. cures so many that it will cure you? Is it not good common sense for you to try it, for remember that if it does not cure you, we will refund your money.

Just think of the joy of being freed forever from this curse of "bad skin," and go today and get a $1.00 bottle. You will never make a better investment.

THE WINNING STROKE

If more than ordinary skill in playing brings the honors of the game to the winning player, so exceptional merit in a remedy ensures the commendation of the well informed, and as a reasonable amount of outdoor life and recreation is conducive to the health and strength, so does a perfect laxative tend to one's improvement in cases of constipation, biliousness, headaches, etc. It is all-important, however, in selecting a laxative, to choose one of known quality and excellence, like the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., a laxative which sweetens and cleanses the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects, as it acts naturally and gently on the internal organs, simply assisting nature when nature needs assistance, without gripping, irritating, or debilitating the internal organs in any way, as it contains nothing of an objectionable or injurious nature. As the plants which are combined with the figs in the manufacture of Syrup of Figs are known to physicians to act most beneficially upon the system, the remedy has met with their general approval as a family laxative, a fact well worth considering in making purchases.

It is because of the fact that SYRUP OF FIGS is a remedy of known quality and excellence, and approved by physicians that has led to its use by so many millions of well informed people, who would not use any remedy of uncertain quality or inferior reputation. Every family should have a bottle of the genuine on hand at all times, to use when a laxative remedy is required. Please to remember that the genuine Syrup of Figs is for sale in bottles of one size only, by all reputable druggists and that full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co., is plainly printed on the front of every package. Regular price, 50c per bottle.
